PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/700. Appearances at the inquiry; evidence.

700. Appearances at the inquiry; evidence.

Rules have been made¹ in relation to appearances at or participation in, and evidence in relation to, local inquiries² held in England or Wales by an inspector³ before he determines a relevant enforcement or other appeal⁴. Those rules make provision with regard to:

- 2855 (1) the persons entitled to appear at or participate in such an inquiry⁵;
- 2856 (2) information to be provided by all parties⁶;
- 2857 (3) the availability of representatives of government departments and other authorities at the inquiry⁷;
- 2858 (4) proofs of evidence⁸;
- 2859 (5) preparation of a statement of common ground⁹;
- 2860 (6) the provision of additional copies of documents and information¹⁰.

1 See PARA 695 ante.

2 In a local inquiry to which the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685 (as amended), or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270 (as amended), apply: see PARA 695 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'inspector' see PARA 695 notes 2, 12 ante.

4 See the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, rr 11-13, 15-16, 23 (as amended); the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, rr 11-13, 15-16, 23 (as amended); and the text and notes 5-10 infra. The appeal referred to in the text is such an appeal as is described in PARA 695 ante.

5 In relation to England, the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry are (1) the appellant; (2) the local planning authority; (3) any of the following bodies if the land is situated in their area and the body is not the local planning authority: (a) a county or a district council; (b) an enterprise zone authority designated under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 32 (as amended) (see PARA 1491 et seq post); (c) the Broads Authority, within the meaning of the Norfolk and Suffolk Broads Act 1988; (d) a housing action trust specified in an order made under the Housing Act 1988 s 67(1) (as amended) (see HOUSING vol 22 (2006 Reissue) PARA 332); (4) where the land is in an area previously designated as a new town, the Commission for the New Towns; (5) in the case of an enforcement appeal, any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served; (6) in the case of an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 195 (as amended) (see PARAS 613-614 ante), any person having an interest in the land; (7) the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England (commonly known as 'English Heritage') where (a) the inquiry relates to an enforcement notice under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 38 (as amended) (see PARA 1146 post); (b) the listed building is in Greater London; and (c) if an application for listed building consent had been made for the works set out in the enforcement notice, the Commission would have been notified of the application under a direction given under s 15(5) (see PARA 1119 post); (8) any other person who has served a statement of case in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 6(6) (see PARA 698 ante); r 11(1). Nothing in r 11(1) prevents the inspector from permitting any other person to appear at an inquiry and such permission must not be unreasonably withheld: r 11(2).

In relation to Wales, the persons entitled to take part in the inquiry are (i) the appellant; (ii) the local planning authority; (iii) any of the following bodies if the land is situated in the body's area and it is not the local planning authority: (A) a county or county borough council; (B) an enterprise zone authority designated under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 32 (as amended); (C) a housing action trust specified in an order made under the Housing Act 1988 s 67(1) (as amended); (D) where the land is in an area previously designated as a new town, the Commission for the New Towns; (E) in the case of an enforcement appeal, any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served; (F) in the case of an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 195 (as amended), any person having an interest in the land; (G) where the inquiry relates to an enforcement notice under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 38 (as amended) and, where an application for listed building consent had been made for the works set out in the enforcement notice, the National Assembly for Wales would have been notified of the application pursuant to a direction given under s 15(5), Cadw; (H) any other person who has served a statement of case in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 6(6): r 11(1). Nothing in r 11(1) precludes the inspector from permitting any other person to take part in an inquiry; and such permission is not to be unreasonably withheld: r 11(2).

Any person entitled or permitted to appear at or take part in an inquiry may do so on his own behalf or be represented by any other person: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors)

(Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 11(3); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 11(3).

For the meanings of 'local planning authority', 'enforcement appeal', 'enforcement notice' and 'land' for these purposes see PARA 696 note 5 ante; and for the meaning of 'inspector' see PARA 695 notes 2, 12 ante. As to the Broads Authority see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 101 (2009) PARA 734; as to the Commission for the New Towns see PARA 1383 et seq post; and as to English Heritage see PARA 1058 post. As to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29; and as to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

6 Any person entitled or permitted to appear at or take part in the inquiry who proposes to give, or call another person to give, evidence at the inquiry, must send in writing to the Secretary of State (if the inquiry is held in England) or to the National Assembly for Wales (if the inquiry is held in Wales), no later than four weeks before the inquiry (1) an estimate of the time required to present all his evidence; and (2) the number of witnesses that he intends to call to give evidence: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 12; Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 12. As to the extension of time limits see PARA 696 note 5 ante; and as to the use of electronic communications see PARA 696 note 12 ante. As to the Secretary of State and the Assembly see PARAS 19-20 ante.

7 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 13. Where the Secretary of State or any other Minister of the Crown or any government department has expressed in writing to the local planning authority a view on an appeal and the authority refers to that view in a statement prepared pursuant to r 6(1) (see PARA 698 ante), the appellant may, not later than four weeks before the date of an inquiry, apply in writing to the Secretary of State for a representative of the Secretary of State or of the other minister or department concerned to be made available at the inquiry: r 13(1). Where an application is so made, the Secretary of State must make a representative available to attend the inquiry or, as the case may be, send the application to the other minister or department concerned, who must make a representative available to attend the inquiry: r 13(2). A person attending an inquiry as a representative pursuant to r 13 must state the reasons for the expressed view and must give evidence and is to be subject to cross-examination to the same extent as any other witness (r 13(3)); but nothing in r 13(3) requires a representative of a minister or government department to answer any question which in the opinion of the inspector is directed to the merits of government policy (r 13(4)).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 13. Where the Assembly, any Minister of the Crown or any government department has expressed in writing to the local planning authority a view on an appeal and the authority refers to that view in a statement prepared pursuant to r 6(1) (see PARA 698 ante), the appellant may apply in writing, so as to be received no later than four weeks before the date of the inquiry, to the Assembly for a representative of the Assembly or of the minister or department concerned to be made available at the inquiry: r 13(1). Where an application is so made, the Assembly must make a representative available to attend the inquiry or, as the case may be, send the application to the minister or government department concerned, who must make a representative available to attend the inquiry: r 13(2). A person attending an inquiry as a representative pursuant to r 13 must state the reasons for the expressed view and must give evidence and is to be subject to cross-examination to the same extent as any other witness (r 13(3)); but nothing in r 13(3) requires a representative of the Assembly to answer any questions which, in the opinion of the inspector, are directed to the merits of Assembly policy or requires a representative of a minister or government department to answer any questions which, in the opinion of the inspector, are directed to the merits of government policy (r 13(4)).

8 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 15 (as amended). Any person entitled to appear at an inquiry who proposes to give, or to call another person to give, evidence at the inquiry by reading a proof of evidence must (1) subject to r 15(2), send two copies, in the case of the local planning authority and the appellant, or three copies in the case of any other person, of the proof of evidence together with a written summary to the Secretary of State; and (2) in the case of an enforcement appeal, simultaneously send copies of these to any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served; and the Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of each proof of evidence together with any summary to the local planning authority and the appellant: r 15(1). No written summary is, however, to be required where the proof of evidence proposed to be read contains no more than 1,500 words: r 15(2). As to the number of copies to be sent where electronic communications are used see PARA 696 note 12 ante.

The proof of evidence and any summary must be sent to the Secretary of State no later than (a) four weeks before the date fixed for the holding of the inquiry; or (b) where a timetable has been prepared pursuant to r 8 (see PARA 696 note 9 ante) which specifies a date by which the proof of evidence and any summary is to be sent to the Secretary of State, that date: r 15(3). The Secretary of State must send to the inspector, as soon as practicable after receipt, any proof of evidence together with any summary sent to him in accordance with r 15 (as amended) within the relevant period specified in that rule: r 15(4). Where a written summary is provided in accordance with r 15(1), only that summary is to be read at the inquiry, unless the inspector permits or requires otherwise: r 15(5). Any person required by r 15 (as amended) to send copies of a proof of evidence to the Secretary of State, or any other person, must send with them the same number of copies of the whole, or the relevant part, of any document referred to in the proof of evidence, unless a copy of the document or part of the document in question is already available for inspection pursuant to r 6(13) (see PARA 698 ante): r 15(6). The local planning authority must give any person who so requests a reasonable opportunity to inspect and, where practicable, take copies of any document sent to or by them in accordance with r 15 (as amended). For these purposes, an opportunity is to be taken to have been given to a person where the person is notified of (i) publication of the relevant document on a website; (ii) the address of the website; (iii) the place on the website where the document may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: r 15(8) (added by SI 2003/956).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 15(1)-(8) (amended by SI 2004/3172) which refers to written statements of evidence rather than to proofs of evidence and to the Assembly rather than to the Secretary of State.

9 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 16 (as amended). The local planning authority and the appellant must together prepare an agreed statement of common ground and must send it to (1) the Secretary of State; and (2) in the case of an enforcement appeal, any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served, not less than four weeks before the date fixed for the holding of the inquiry: r 16(1). 'Statement of common ground' means a written statement prepared jointly by the local planning authority and the appellant, which contains agreed factual information about the development, breach of condition or works which are the subject of the appeal: r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956). The local planning authority must give any person who asks a reasonable opportunity to inspect, and where practicable, take copies of the statement of common ground sent to the Secretary of State: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 16(2). For these purposes an opportunity is to be taken to have been given to a person where the person is notified of (a) publication of the statement of common ground on a website; (b) the address of the website; (c) the place on the website where the document may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: r 16(3) (added by SI 2003/956).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 16(1)-(3) (amended by SI 2004/3172) which refers to the Assembly rather than to the Secretary of State and specifies that the statement must be sent so as to be received within four weeks of the relevant date. For the relevant definition see the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3172).

10 The Secretary of State may at any time before the close of an inquiry held in England, request from any person entitled to appear additional copies of the following: (1) a statement of case sent in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 6 (as amended) (see PARA 698 ante); (2) a proof of evidence sent in accordance with r 15 (as amended) (see note 8 supra); (3) any other document or information sent to the Secretary of State before or during an inquiry; and may specify the time within which such copies should be sent to him: r 23(1). Any person so requested must send the copies to the Secretary of State within the period specified: r 23(2). The inspector may act in place of the Secretary of State for the purposes of r 23: see PARA 696 note 5 ante. For the meaning of 'document' see PARA 696 note 11 ante.

Similarly, the Assembly may at any time before the close of an inquiry held in Wales request from any person entitled to take part in an inquiry additional copies of the following: (a) a statement of case sent in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 6 (as amended) (see PARA 698 ante); (b) a written statement of evidence sent in accordance with r 15 (as amended) (see note 8 supra); (c) any other document or information sent to the Assembly before or during an inquiry; and may specify the time within which such copies should be sent to it: r 23(1). Any person so requested must send the copies to the Assembly within the period specified: r 23(2). The inspector may act in place of the Assembly for the purposes of r 23: see PARA 696 note 5 ante.

NOTE 5--SI 2002/2685 r 11(1) amended: SI 2008/2831.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/701. Procedure at the inquiry; site inspections.

701. Procedure at the inquiry; site inspections.

Except as otherwise provided in the relevant rules¹, the inspector² must determine the procedure at an inquiry³ to be held in England or Wales before the determination of certain enforcement or other appeals⁴. At the start of the inquiry the inspector must identify what are, in his opinion, the main issues to be considered at the inquiry and any matters on which he requires further explanation from the persons entitled or permitted to appear or to take part⁵ in the inquiry⁶; but nothing in this requirement precludes any person so entitled or permitted from referring to issues which that person considers relevant to the consideration of the appeal but which were not issues so identified by the inspector⁷.

Unless the inspector otherwise determines, the appellant is to begin and to have the right of final reply; and the other persons entitled or permitted to appear or to take part are to be heard in such order as the inspector may determine⁸. A person entitled to appear at or take part in an inquiry is to be entitled to call evidence and the appellant, the local planning authority⁹ and, in the case of an enforcement appeal¹⁰, any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice¹¹ has been served is to be entitled to cross-examine persons giving evidence, but, subject to that and to the specific rules set out below¹², the calling of evidence and the cross-examination of persons giving evidence is otherwise to be at the discretion of the inspector¹³.

The inspector may refuse to permit the:

- 2861 (1) giving or production of evidence;
- 2862 (2) cross-examination of persons giving evidence; or
- 2863 (3) presentation of any matter, which he considers to be irrelevant or repetitious; but where he refuses to permit the giving of oral evidence, the person wishing to give the evidence may submit to him any evidence or other matter in writing¹⁴ before the close of the inquiry¹⁵.

Where a person gives evidence at an inquiry by reading a summary of his proof of evidence¹⁶:

- 2864 (a) the proof of evidence¹⁷ is to be treated as tendered in evidence, unless the person required to provide the summary notifies the inspector that he now wishes to rely on the contents of that summary alone; and
- 2865 (b) the person whose evidence the proof contains is then to be subject to cross-examination on it to the same extent as if it were evidence he had given orally¹⁸.

The inspector may direct that facilities are to be made available to any person appearing at an inquiry to take or obtain copies of documentary evidence open to public inspection¹⁹.

The inspector may require any person appearing or present at an inquiry who, in his opinion, is behaving in a disruptive manner to leave²⁰ and may refuse to permit that person to return²¹ or may permit him to return only on such conditions as the inspector may specify²²; but any such person may submit to him any evidence or other matter in writing before the close of the inquiry²³. The inspector may proceed with an inquiry in the absence of any person entitled to appear at or take part in it²⁴.

The inspector may allow any person to alter or add to a statement of case²⁵ so far as may be necessary for the purposes of the inquiry; but he must, if necessary by adjourning the inquiry, give every other person entitled to appear who is appearing at the inquiry an adequate opportunity of considering any fresh matter or document²⁶. He may take into account any written representation or evidence or other document received by him from any person before an inquiry opens or during the inquiry provided that he discloses it at the inquiry²⁷.

The inspector may from time to time adjourn an inquiry and, if the date, time and place of the adjourned inquiry are announced at the inquiry before the adjournment, no further notice is to be required²⁸.

Where the Secretary of State²⁹ expects an inquiry to be held in England to last for four days or more, or where the National Assembly for Wales³⁰ expects an inquiry to be held in Wales to last for that period or more, any person who appears at the inquiry and makes closing submissions must before the close of the inquiry provide the inspector with a copy of that person's closing submissions in writing³¹.

The inspector may make an unaccompanied inspection of the land³² before or during an inquiry without giving notice of his intention to the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry³³. During an inquiry or after its close, the inspector:

- 2866 (i) may inspect the land in the company of the appellant, the local planning authority, any person with an interest in the land and, in the case of an enforcement appeal, any other person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served; and
- 2867 (ii) must make such an inspection if so requested by the appellant or the local planning authority before or during an inquiry³⁴.

In all cases where the inspector intends to make an accompanied site inspection he must announce during the inquiry the date and time at which he proposes to make it³⁵; but he is not bound to defer an inspection of the kind referred to in heads (i) and (ii) above where any person mentioned in those heads is not present at the time appointed³⁶.

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/702. Procedure after the inquiry.

702. Procedure after the inquiry.

Where an assessor¹ has been appointed, he may, after the close of the relevant local inquiry², make a report in writing³ to the inspector⁴ in respect of the matters on which he was appointed to advise, and where he does so the inspector must state in his notification of his decision⁵ that such a report was made⁶.

When making his decision the inspector may disregard any written representations or evidence or any other document⁷ received after the close of the inquiry⁸.

If, after the close of the inquiry, an inspector proposes to take into consideration any new evidence or any new matter of fact, not being a matter of government policy if the inquiry is held in England, or of National Assembly for Wales⁹ policy, if the inquiry is held in Wales, which was not raised at the inquiry and which he considers to be material to his decision, he may not come to a decision without first:

- 2868 (1) notifying the persons entitled to appear at or take part in the inquiry¹⁰ who appeared at it of the matter in question; and
- 2869 (2) giving them an opportunity of making written representations to him or of asking for the reopening of the inquiry; and they must send such written representations or request to reopen the inquiry either:

- 2870 (a) to the Secretary of State¹¹ within three weeks¹² of the date of the notification, if the inquiry was held in England¹³; or
- 2871 (b) so as to be received by the Assembly within three weeks of the date of the notification, if the inquiry was held in Wales¹⁴.

An inspector may, as he thinks fit, cause an inquiry to be reopened, and he must do so if asked by the appellant or the local planning authority¹⁵ in the circumstances and within the period mentioned in heads (1) and (2) or (a) and (b) above¹⁶. Where an inquiry is reopened the inspector must send to the persons entitled to appear at or take part in the inquiry who appeared at it a written statement of the matters with respect to which further evidence is invited¹⁷.

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/703. Notification of decision; procedure if appeal is subsequently remitted for rehearing and redetermination.

703. Notification of decision; procedure if appeal is subsequently remitted for rehearing and redetermination.

The inspector¹ must, as soon as practicable after reaching his decision, notify his decision on a relevant enforcement or other appeal², and his reasons for it in writing³, to:

- 2872 (1) the appellant and the local planning authority⁴;
- 2873 (2) all other persons entitled to appear at or take part in the inquiry⁵ who did appear; and
- 2874 (3) any other person who, having appeared at the inquiry, has asked to be notified of the decision⁶.

Any person so entitled to be notified of the inspector's decision may apply to the Secretary of State, if the inquiry was held in England, or to the National Assembly for Wales, if the inquiry was held in Wales, in writing⁷ for an opportunity to inspect any documents⁸ listed in the notification and any report made by an assessor and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must give him that opportunity⁹. Any application so made must be sent to the Secretary of State or the Assembly within six weeks¹⁰ of the date of the decision¹¹.

Where a decision of an inspector on an appeal for which a relevant inquiry¹² has been held is remitted by any court to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly for rehearing and redetermination¹³, the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 2875 (a) must send to the persons entitled to appear at or take part in the inquiry who appeared at or took part in it a written statement of the matters on which further representations are invited in order for him or the Assembly to consider the appeal further;
- 2876 (b) must give those persons the opportunity of making written representations to him or to the Assembly about those matters or asking for the reopening of the inquiry¹⁴; and
- 2877 (c) may, as he or the Assembly thinks fit, cause the inquiry to be reopened, whether by the same or a different inspector¹⁵.

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(2) PLANNING INQUIRY COMMISSIONS/704. Power to refer certain planning questions to a commission.

(2) PLANNING INQUIRY COMMISSIONS

704. Power to refer certain planning questions to a commission.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may constitute a planning inquiry commission to inquire into and report on any matter referred to it under heads (a) to (d) below if it appears expedient to the responsible minister or ministers³ that the question whether the proposed development⁴ should be permitted to be carried out should be the subject of a special inquiry on either or both of the following grounds:

- 2878 (1) that there are considerations of national or regional importance which are relevant to the determination of that question and require evaluation, but a proper evaluation of them cannot be made unless there is a special inquiry for the purpose;
- 2879 (2) that the technical or scientific aspects of the proposed development are of so unfamiliar a character as to jeopardise a proper determination of that question unless there is a special inquiry for the purpose⁵.

The matters which may be so referred to a planning inquiry commission are:

- 2880 (a) an application for planning permission⁶ which the Secretary of State or the Assembly has directed⁷ to be referred to him or to it instead of being dealt with by a local planning authority⁸;
- 2881 (b) an appeal against planning decisions and failure to take such decisions⁹;
- 2882 (c) a proposal that a government department¹⁰ shall give a direction¹¹ that planning permission shall be deemed to be granted for development by a local authority¹² or National Park authority¹³ or by statutory undertakers¹⁴ which is required by any enactment¹⁵ to be authorised by that department;
- 2883 (d) a proposal that development should be carried out by or on behalf of a government department¹⁶.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 101 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 For these purposes, the references to 'the responsible minister or ministers' are to be construed in accordance with the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 101(4), Sch 8 Pt II (paras 6, 7): s 101(4).

In relation to the matters specified in Sch 8 para 7 Table, col 1, which are matters mentioned in s 101(2)(a), (b), (c) or (d) (as amended) (see heads (a)-(d) in the text) as matters which may be referred to a planning inquiry commission under s 101 (as amended), 'the responsible minister or ministers' for the purposes of s 101 (as amended) and s 101(4), Sch 8 (as amended) (see PARA 705 et seq post): (1) in the case of a matter affecting England only, are those specified opposite in Sch 8 para 7 Table, col 2; (2) in the case of a matter affecting Wales only, are those specified opposite in Sch 8 para 7 Table, col 3; and (3) in the case of a matter affecting both England and Wales, are those specified opposite in Sch 8 para 7 Table, col 4 (Sch 8 para 6); and, where an entry in Sch 8 para 7 col 2, col 3 or col 4 specifies two or more ministers, that entry is to be construed as referring to those ministers acting jointly (Sch 8 para 7). All functions of the Secretary of State for Wales under Sch 8 (as amended) are, in so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, transferred to the National Assembly for Wales: see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and PARA 20 ante.

The referred matters and the responsible minister or ministers are as follows:

- 48 (1) application for planning permission or appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (as amended) (see PARA 598 ante) relating to land to which s 266(1) applies (see PARA 1013 post):
51. (a) affecting England only, the Secretary of State for the time being having general responsibility in planning matters in relation to England and the appropriate minister (if different);
51
52. (b) affecting Wales only, the Assembly and the appropriate minister (if different);
52
53. (c) affecting both England and Wales, the Secretary of State for the time being having general responsibility in planning matters in relation to England and the Assembly and the appropriate minister (if different);
53
- 49 (2) application for planning permission or appeal under s 78 (as amended) relating to land to which s 266(1) does not apply:
54. (a) affecting England only, the Secretary of State for the time being having general responsibility in planning matters in relation to England;
55. (b) affecting Wales only, the Assembly;
55
56. (c) affecting both England and Wales, the Secretary of State for the time being having general responsibility in planning matters in relation to England and the Assembly;
56
- 50 (3) proposal that a government department should give a direction under s 90(1) (as amended) (see PARA 238 ante) or that development should be carried out by or on behalf of a government department:
57. (a) affecting England only, the Secretary of State for the time being having general responsibility in planning matters in relation to England and the minister (if different) in charge of the government department concerned;
58. (b) affecting Wales only, the Assembly and the minister (if different) in charge of the government department concerned;
58
59. (c) affecting both England and Wales, the Secretary of State for the time being having general responsibility in planning matters in relation to England and the Assembly and the minister (if different) in charge of the government department concerned.

705. Constitution of commission.

A planning inquiry commission must consist of a chairman and not less than two nor more than four other members appointed by the Secretary of State¹ in relation to England, by the National Assembly for Wales in relation to Wales² or, in relation to any matter affecting both England and Wales, by the Secretary of State and the Assembly acting jointly³.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly⁴ may:

- 2884 (1) pay to the members of any such commission such remuneration and allowances as he or the Assembly may with the consent of the Treasury determine; and
- 2885 (2) provide for each such commission such officers or servants, and such accommodation, as appears to him or to the Assembly expedient to provide for the purpose of assisting the commission in the discharge of its functions⁵.

The validity of any proceedings of any such commission is not affected by any vacancy among the members of the commission or by any defect in the appointment of any member⁶.

- 2 As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State for Wales under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 101(4), Sch 8 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.
- 3 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 101(4), Sch 8 para 1(1), (4)(a); and see note 2 supra.
Members of a planning inquiry commission are disqualified for membership of the House of Commons: see the House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975 s 1(1)(f), Sch 1 Pt II (as amended) and PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 908.

4 In relation to any matter affecting both England and Wales, functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 8 para 1(2) (see heads (1)-(2) in the text) must be exercised by one of (1) the Secretary of State; and (2) the Assembly, authorised by the other to act on behalf of both of them for those purposes: Sch 8 para 1(4)(b); and see note 2 supra.

706. Reference to commission.

Two or more of the specified matters¹ may be referred to the same planning inquiry commission if it appears to the responsible minister or ministers² that they relate to proposals to carry out development³ for similar purposes on different sites⁴.

Where a matter referred to a commission relates to a proposal to carry out development for any purpose at a particular site, the responsible minister or ministers may also refer to the commission the question whether development for that purpose should instead be carried out at an alternative site⁵.

On referring a matter to a commission, the responsible minister or ministers:

- 2886 (1) must state in the reference the reasons for the reference; and
- 2887 (2) may draw the attention of the commission to any points which seem to him or them to be relevant to its inquiry⁶.

707. Functions of commission on reference.

A planning inquiry commission inquiring into a matter referred¹ to it must:

- 2888 (1) identify and investigate the considerations relevant to, or the technical or scientific aspects of, that matter which in its opinion are relevant to the question whether the proposed development² should be permitted to be carried out; and
- 2889 (2) assess the importance to be attached to those considerations or aspects³.

If in specified cases⁴ the applicant or in any case the local planning authority⁵ so wishes, the commission must give to each of them and, in specified cases⁶, also to any person who has made representations relating to the subject matter of the application or appeal which the authority is required to take into account⁷, an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, one or more members of the commission⁸. The commission must then report to the responsible minister or ministers⁹ on the matter referred to it¹⁰.

A commission may, with the approval of and at the expense of:

- 2890 (a) in relation to England, the Secretary of State¹¹;
- 2891 (b) in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹²;
- 2892 (c) in relation to any matter affecting both England and Wales, either the Secretary of State or the Assembly acting, by arrangements between the two of them, on behalf of both, arrange for the carrying out, whether by the commission itself or by others, of research of any kind appearing to the commission to be relevant to a matter referred to it for inquiry and report¹³.

PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(2) PLANNING INQUIRY COMMISSIONS/708. Procedure on reference to commission.

708. Procedure on reference to commission.

A reference to a planning inquiry commission of a proposal that development¹ should be carried out by or on behalf of a government department² may be made at any time³. A reference of any other specified matter⁴ may be made at any time before, but not after, the determination of the relevant application referred⁵ to the Secretary of State⁶ (or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁷) or the relevant appeal⁸ or, as the case may be, the giving⁹ of the relevant direction¹⁰.

The fact that an inquiry or other hearing has been held into a proposal by a person appointed by any minister¹¹ for the purpose does not prevent a reference of the proposal to a planning inquiry commission¹².

Notice of the making of a reference to any such commission must be published in the London Gazette and in at least one newspaper circulating in the locality, or in each locality, where there are more than one, in which it is proposed that the relevant development will be carried out¹³. A copy of the notice must be served on the local planning authority¹⁴ for the area in which it is proposed that the relevant development will be carried out and:

2893 (1) in the case of an application for planning permission¹⁵ referred¹⁶ to the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or an appeal¹⁷, on the applicant and any person who has made representations relating to the subject matter of the application or appeal which the authority is required¹⁸ to take into account;

2894 (2) in the case of a proposal that a direction should be given¹⁹ with respect to any development, on the local authority²⁰ or statutory undertakers²¹ applying for authorisation to carry out that development²².

A commission has power²³ to regulate its own procedure²⁴.

709. Local inquiries held by commission.

A planning inquiry commission must hold a local inquiry for the specified purposes¹; and may hold such an inquiry if it thinks it necessary for the proper discharge of its functions², notwithstanding that neither the applicant nor the local planning authority³ wants an opportunity to appear and be heard⁴.

Where a commission is to hold such a local inquiry in connection with a matter referred to it, and it appears to the responsible minister or ministers, in the case of some other matter falling to be determined by a Minister of the Crown and required or authorised by an enactment⁵ to be the subject of a local inquiry, that the two matters are so far cognate that they should be considered together, he or, as the case may be, they may direct that the two inquiries be held concurrently or combined as one inquiry⁶.

At any such inquiry oral evidence must be heard in public and documentary evidence must be open for public inspection⁷. If, however, the Secretary of State⁸ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁹ is satisfied in the case of any such inquiry:

- 2895 (1) that the giving of evidence of a particular description or, as the case may be, making it available for inspection would be likely to result in the disclosure of information as to national security or the measures taken or to be taken to ensure the security of any premises or property; and
- 2896 (2) that the public disclosure of that information would be contrary to the national interest,

he or the Assembly may direct that evidence of the description indicated in the direction shall only be heard or, as the case may be, be open to inspection at that inquiry by such persons or persons of such descriptions as he or it may specify in the direction¹⁰. The appointment of a person to represent the interests of any person who will be prevented from hearing or inspecting any evidence at a local inquiry if such a direction is given has already been discussed¹¹.

The Local Government Act 1972 s 250(2)-(5) (as amended) (evidence and costs at local inquiries: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 105) applies to an inquiry held under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 8 para 5(1) as it applies in relation to an inquiry caused to be held by a minister under the Local Government Act 1972 s 250(1), with the substitution for references to the minister causing the inquiry to be held, other than the first reference in s 250(4) (as amended), of references to the responsible minister or ministers: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 8 para 5(4). NOTE 4--An inquiry held by a commission under the 1990 Act Sch 8 para 5 will be a statutory inquiry for the purposes of the Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007 Sch 7 (functions etc of Administrative Justice and Tribunals Council): 1990 Act Sch 8 para 5(3A) (added by 2007 Act Sch 8 para 12).

8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT

(1) MINERAL WORKING

(i) Notification of Mineral Applications

710. In general.

Where notice has been given¹ to a mineral planning authority² as respects land which is in the authority's area and specified in the notice:

- 2897 (1) by the British Coal Authority³ that the land contains coal⁴;
- 2898 (2) by the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry that it contains gas or oil;
- or
- 2899 (3) by the Crown Estate Commissioners⁵ that it contains silver or gold, the mineral planning authority may not determine any application for planning permission⁶ to win and work any mineral on that land, without first notifying the body or person who gave the notice that an application has been made⁷.

² For the meaning of 'mineral planning authority' see PARA 29 ante.

³ As to the British Coal Authority see MINES, MINERALS AND QUARRIES vol 31 (2003 Reissue) PARA 52.

⁴ For these purposes, 'coal' means coal other than that (1) won or worked during the course of operations which are carried on exclusively for the purpose of exploring for coal; or (2) which it is necessary to dig or carry away in the course of activities carried on for purposes which do not include the getting of coal or any product of coal: Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 16(2).

⁵ As to the Crown Estate Commissioners see CROWN PROPERTY vol 12(1) (Reissue) PARA 280.

WORKING/(ii) Conditions Imposed on Grant of Planning Permission/711. Duration of development.

(ii) Conditions Imposed on Grant of Planning Permission

711. Duration of development.

Every planning permission¹ for development² consisting of the winning and working of minerals³ or involving the depositing of mineral waste⁴ must be subject to a condition as to the duration of the development⁵.

The condition in the case of planning permission granted or deemed to be granted:

2900 (1) after 22 February 1982 is that the winning and working of minerals or the depositing of mineral waste must cease not later than the expiration of the period of 60 years⁶ beginning with the date of the permission⁷; but an authority granting planning permission after that date or directing after that date that planning permission shall be deemed to be granted may specify a longer or shorter period than 60 years⁸ and, if the authority does so, the condition is that the winning and working of minerals or the depositing of mineral waste must cease not later than the expiration of a period of the specified length beginning with the date of the permission⁹;

2901 (2) before 22 February 1982 is that the winning and working of minerals or the depositing of mineral waste must cease not later than the expiration of the period of 60 years beginning with that date¹⁰.

5 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 72(5), Sch 5 para 1(1) (s 72(5), Sch 5 amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 ss 21, 84(6), Sch 1 paras 1, 2, 14, Sch 19). A condition to which planning permission for development is so subject (1) is not to be regarded for the purposes of the planning Acts as a condition such as is mentioned in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 72(1)(b) (see PARA 522 ante); but (2) is to be regarded for the purposes of s 78 (as amended) (see PARA 598 ante) and s 79 (as amended) (see PARA 601 ante) as a condition imposed by a decision of the local planning authority, and may accordingly be the subject of an appeal under s 78 (as amended): Sch 5 para 1(6) (as so amended). For the meaning of 'the planning Acts' see PARA 2 ante.

In the case of applications for planning permission for development to which the Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 3 (see PARA 893 post) applies, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 5 (as amended) has effect with the omission of Sch 5 para 1(6)(b) (as so amended) (see head (2) supra): Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 5(1)(c), Sch 1.

6 A longer or shorter period than 60 years may be prescribed for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 5 para 1(2) or (3) (as amended): Sch 5 para 1(4). See also note 5 supra. For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 16 note 5 ante. At the date at which this title states the law, no such period had been prescribed.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/(ii) Conditions Imposed on Grant of Planning Permission/712. Power to impose aftercare conditions.

712. Power to impose aftercare conditions.

Where planning permission¹ for development² consisting of the winning and working of minerals³ or involving the depositing of refuse or waste materials⁴ is granted, and the permission is subject to a condition ('a restoration condition') requiring that, after the winning and working is completed or the depositing has ceased, the site is to be restored by the use of any or all of the following, namely subsoil, topsoil and soil-making material, it may be granted subject also to any such condition ('an aftercare condition') as the mineral planning authority⁵ thinks fit requiring that such steps shall be taken as may be necessary to bring the land⁶ to the required standard⁷ for whichever of the following uses is specified in the condition, namely:

- 2902 (1) use for agriculture⁸;
- 2903 (2) use for forestry⁹; or
- 2904 (3) use for amenity¹⁰.

An aftercare condition may either specify the steps to be taken or require that the steps be taken in accordance with a scheme ('an aftercare scheme') approved by the mineral planning authority¹¹. A mineral planning authority may approve an aftercare scheme in the form in which it is submitted to the authority or may modify the scheme and approve it as modified¹².

The steps that may be specified in an aftercare condition or an aftercare scheme may consist of planting, cultivating, fertilising, watering, draining or otherwise treating the land¹³ and, where a step is specified in a condition or scheme, the period during which it is to be taken may also be specified, but no step may be required to be taken after the expiry of the aftercare period¹⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'the winning and working of minerals' see PARA 16 note 2 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'depositing of refuse or waste materials' see PARA 522 note 8 ante.

5 For these purposes, any reference to a mineral planning authority is to be construed, in relation to the exercise of functions with respect to the depositing of refuse or waste materials, other than mineral waste, as a reference to the authority entitled to discharge such functions: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 72(5), Sch 5 para 9 (added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 21, Sch 1 paras 1, 14(7)). For the meaning of 'mineral planning authority' generally see PARA 29 ante; for the meaning of 'depositing of mineral waste' see PARA 16 note 3 ante; and for the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 2 note 1 ante.

As to the application of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 5 (as amended) in the case of applications for planning permission for development to which the Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 3 (see PARA 893 post) applies see PARA 711 note 5 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'required standard' see PARA 713 post.

8 For the meaning of 'agriculture' see PARA 16 note 6 ante.

9 For these purposes, 'forestry' means the growing of a utilisable crop of timber: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 5 para 2(9).

10 Ibid Sch 5 para 2(1), (2) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 1 paras 1, 14(4)). See also note 5 supra. As to the meaning of 'amenity' see PARA 158 note 8 ante.

11 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 336(1), Sch 5 para 2(3). See also note 5 supra.

12 Ibid Sch 5 para 2(4). See also note 5 supra.

13 Ibid Sch 5 para 2(5). See also note 5 supra.

14 Ibid Sch 5 para 2(6). See also note 5 supra. For these purposes, 'the aftercare period' means a period of five years from compliance with the restoration condition or such other maximum period after compliance with that condition as may be prescribed; and in respect of any part of a site the aftercare period commences on compliance with the restoration condition in respect of that part: Sch 5 para 2(7). The power so to prescribe maximum periods includes power to prescribe maximum periods differing according to the use specified: Sch 5 para 2(8). At the date at which this title states the law, no period had been so prescribed.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/(ii) Conditions Imposed on Grant of Planning Permission/713. Meaning of 'required standard'.

713. Meaning of 'required standard'.

The land is brought to the required standard, in a case where:

- 2905 (1) the use specified in an aftercare condition¹ is a use for agriculture²; and
- 2906 (2) the land³ was in use⁴ for agriculture at the time of the grant of the planning permission⁵ or had previously been used for that purpose and had not at the time of the grant been used for any authorised⁶ purpose since its use for agriculture ceased; and
- 2907 (3) the Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁸ has notified the mineral planning authority⁹ of the physical characteristics of the land when it was last used for agriculture, when its physical characteristics are restored, so far as it is practicable to do so, to what they were when it was last used for agriculture¹⁰.

In any other case where the use specified in an aftercare condition is a use for agriculture, the land is brought to the required standard when it is reasonably fit for that use¹¹.

Where the use specified in an aftercare condition is:

- 2908 (a) a use for forestry¹², the land is brought to the required standard when it is reasonably fit for that use¹³;
- 2909 (b) a use for amenity¹⁴, the land is brought to the required standard when it is suitable for sustaining trees, shrubs or other plants¹⁵.

714. Consultations.

Before imposing an aftercare condition¹, the mineral planning authority² must consult³:

- 2910 (1) the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁵, where the authority proposes that the use⁶ specified in the condition shall be a use for agriculture⁷; and
- 2911 (2) the Forestry Commission⁸, where the authority proposes that the use so specified shall be a use for forestry⁹, as to whether it is appropriate to specify that use¹⁰.

Where, after the consultations so required, the mineral planning authority is satisfied that the use that it ought to specify is a use for agriculture or for forestry, it must consult:

- 2912 (a) where it is for agriculture, the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and
- 2913 (b) where it is for forestry, the Forestry Commission, with regard to whether the steps to be taken should be specified in the aftercare condition or in an aftercare scheme¹¹.

The mineral planning authority must also consult the Secretary of State or the Assembly or, as the case may be, the Forestry Commission:

- 2914 (i) as to the steps to be specified in an aftercare condition which specifies a use for agriculture or for forestry; and
- 2915 (ii) before approving an aftercare scheme submitted in accordance with an aftercare condition which specifies such a use¹².

The mineral planning authority must also, from time to time as it considers expedient, consult the Secretary of State or the Assembly or the Commission, as the case may be, as to whether the steps specified in an aftercare condition or an aftercare scheme are being taken¹³.

Without prejudice to the application of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 5 para 4 (as amended) in relation to consultation with the Forestry Commission, where the Secretary of State or the Assembly is consulted pursuant to any provision of Sch 5 para 4 (as amended): (1) he or it is not required to inspect any land or to express a view on any matter or question; and (2) he or it is not precluded from responding in general terms or otherwise in terms which are not specific to the land in question: Sch 5 para 4(4A) (added by the Environment Act 1995 s 120(1), Sch 22 para 43). An order revoking or modifying planning permission¹ may, in relation to planning permission for development² consisting of the winning and working of minerals³ or involving the depositing of refuse or waste materials⁴, include such aftercare condition⁵ as the mineral planning authority⁶ thinks fit if:

- 2916 (1) it also includes a restoration condition⁷; or
- 2917 (2) a restoration condition has previously been imposed⁸ in relation to the land⁹.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/(iv) Old Mining and Mineral Planning Permissions/A. OLD MINING PERMISSIONS GRANTED UNDER INTERIM DEVELOPMENT ORDERS BETWEEN 1943 AND 1948/718. Effect of old mining permissions.

(iv) Old Mining and Mineral Planning Permissions

A. OLD MINING PERMISSIONS GRANTED UNDER INTERIM DEVELOPMENT ORDERS BETWEEN 1943 AND 1948

718. Effect of old mining permissions.

The Planning and Compensation Act 1991 makes provision with regard to old mining permissions, that is, any planning permission¹ for development² consisting of the winning and working of minerals or involving the depositing of mineral waste which was deemed to be granted under Part III of the Town and Country Planning Act 1947³ under a provision of that Act⁴ which authorised development carried out under interim development orders after 21 July 1943⁵. Such an old mining permission now has effect, if an application⁶ to determine the conditions to which the permission was to be subject has been finally determined⁷, as from the final determination as if granted on the terms required to be registered⁸.

If no such development had, at any time in the period of two years ending with 1 May 1991, been carried out to any substantial extent anywhere in, on or under the land⁹ to which an old mining permission relates, that permission does not authorise any such development to be carried out at any time after 25 September 1991 unless the permission has effect as described above and the development is carried out after such an application has been finally determined¹⁰. An environmental impact assessment may be required and if the question whether such assessment is needed has not been considered either at the stage of determining new conditions or at the stage of approving matters reserved by the new conditions, the courts may determine whether it is possible for a consent already granted to be revoked or suspended in order to carry out that assessment¹¹.

An old mining permission ceased to have effect:

2918 (1) if no application for the registration of the permission was made¹², on the day following the last date on which such an application might be made and, if such an application was refused, on the day following the date on which the application was finally determined¹³;

2919 (2) if such an application¹⁴ was granted but an application to determine the conditions to which the permission was to be subject was required to be served before the end of any period and was not so served, on the day following the last date on which the application to determine those conditions might be served¹⁵.

7 For these purposes, an application is finally determined when the following conditions are met: (1) the proceedings on the application, including any proceedings on or in consequence of an application under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 288 (as amended) (see PARA 47 ante), have been determined; and (2) any time for appealing under the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 2 para 5 (see PARA 724 post), or applying or further applying under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 288 (as amended), where there is a right to do so, has expired: Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 2 para 10(2).

8 Ibid s 22(2). Subject to s 22(3) (see the text and notes 9-10 infra), s 22 does not affect (1) any development carried out under an old mining permission before an application under Sch 2 to determine the conditions to which the planning permission was to be subject has been finally determined or, as the case may be, the date on which the permission ceased to have effect; and (2) any order made or having effect as if made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 102 (as amended) or s 102(8), Sch 9 (as amended) (discontinuance of mineral working: see PARA 757 et seq post): Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 22(6). Section 22(2), (6) does not prohibit as a matter of law the imposition of conditions where no further act of development has taken place: Morland v Secretary of State for the Environment [1999] JPL 622, CA.

The Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 22, Sch 2 and the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 have effect as if the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 22 and Sch 2 were included in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt III (ss 55-106B) (as amended) (see PARA 217 et seq ante): Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 22(7).

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/(iv) Old Mining and Mineral Planning Permissions/A. OLD MINING PERMISSIONS GRANTED UNDER INTERIM DEVELOPMENT ORDERS BETWEEN 1943 AND 1948/719. Application for registration; in general.

719. Application for registration; in general.

Any person who was an owner¹ of any land² to which an old mining permission³ related, or was entitled to an interest in a mineral⁴ to which such a permission related, might apply to the mineral planning authority⁵ for the permission to be registered⁶.

The application had:

- 2920 (1) to specify the development⁷ which the applicant claimed was authorised by the permission, including the land to which the permission related, and the conditions, if any, to which the permission was subject⁸; and
- 2921 (2) to be served on the mineral planning authority before the end of the period of six months beginning with 25 September 1991⁹.

On such an application the mineral planning authority had:

- 2922 (a) if satisfied that¹⁰ the permission authorised development consisting of the winning and working of minerals¹¹ or involving the depositing of mineral waste¹², ascertain the area of land to which the permission related and the conditions, if any, to which the permission was subject, and grant the application; and
- 2923 (b) in any other case, refuse the application¹³.

Where application had been so made but the mineral planning authority had not given the applicant notice of its determination within the period of three months beginning with the service of notice of the application, or within such extended period as might at any time be agreed upon in writing between the applicant and the authority, the application was to be treated¹⁴ as having been refused by the authority¹⁵.

1 For these purposes, 'owner', in relation to any land, means any person who (1) is the estate owner in respect of the fee simple; or (2) is entitled to a tenancy granted or extended for a term of years certain of which not less than seven years remain unexpired: Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 22, Sch 2 para 10(1).

2 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'old mining permission' see PARA 718 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'minerals' see PARA 16 note 2 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'mineral planning authority' see PARA 29 ante.

6 Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 2 para 1(1). Subject to Sch 2 para 3 (see PARA 721 post), the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 69 (as amended and as prospectively substituted) (see PARA 466 ante), and any provision of a development order made by virtue of s 69 (as amended), have effect with any necessary modifications as if references to applications for planning permission included applications under the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 2 para 1 or Sch 2 para 2 (see PARA 720 post): Sch 2 para 9(1). Where the mineral planning authority is not the authority required to keep the register under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 69 (as so amended and substituted), the mineral planning authority must provide the authority required to keep the register with such information and documents as that authority requires to comply with the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 2 para 3 and with the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 69 (as so amended and substituted) as applied by these provisions: Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 2 para 9(2).

The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 284 (as amended) (see PARA 43 ante) and s 288 (as amended) (see PARA 47 ante) have effect as if the action mentioned in s 284(3) (as amended) included any decision of the Secretary of State on an application referred to him under the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 2 para 7 (see PARA 722 post): Sch 2 para 9(3).

An application under Sch 2 para 1 or Sch 2 para 2 (see PARA 720 post) is an application which is made on an official form and accompanied by an appropriate certificate: Sch 2 para 4(1). The applicant must, so far as reasonably practicable, give the information required by the form: Sch 2 para 4(2). Where the mineral planning authority receives such an application, it must as soon as reasonably practicable give to the applicant a written acknowledgment of the application: Sch 2 para 4(3). Where a person has served an application in respect of an old mining permission: (1) he may not serve any further application in respect of the same permission; and (2) if the application has been determined, whether or not it has been finally determined, no other person may serve such an application in respect of the same permission: Sch 2 para 8(1). Where (a) a person has served an application in respect of an old mining permission; and (b) another person duly serves an application in respect of the same permission, then, for the purposes of the determination of the applications and any appeal against such a determination, the statutory provisions relating to old mining permissions have effect as if the applications were a single application served on the date on which the later application was served; and references to the applicant are to be read as references to either or any of the applicants: Sch 2 para 8(2). For these purposes, 'official form' means, in relation to an application or appeal, a document supplied by or on behalf of the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales for use for the purpose in question: Sch 2 para 10(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante; as to the transfer of functions under Sch 2, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

An appropriate certificate is such a certificate (i) as would be required under the provisions mentioned in the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 2 para 4(6) or, as the case may be, Sch 2 para 4(7) to accompany the application if it were an application for planning permission for development consisting of the winning and working of minerals or, as the case may be, involving the depositing of mineral waste; but (ii) with such modifications as are required for the purposes of Sch 2: Sch 2 para 4(5). For the purposes of Sch 2 para 1, the provisions referred to in Sch 2 para 4(5) are any provision corresponding to the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 ss 66-68 (repealed), of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 65 (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 468 ante) and of a development order made by virtue thereof: Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 2 para 4(6). For the purposes of Sch 2 para 2 (see PARA 720 post), the provisions referred to in Sch 2 para 4(5) are the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 65 (as substituted) and any provision of a development order made by virtue thereof: Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 2 para 4(7). The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 65(5) [sic] (as substituted) (offences) also has effect in relation to any certificate purporting to be an appropriate certificate: Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 2 para 4(8). It is apprehended that the reference to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 65(5) (as substituted) is a drafting error and that the reference should be to s 65(6) (as substituted). The conditions to which an old mining permission¹ is to be subject:

- 2924 (1) may include any conditions which may be imposed on a grant of planning permission² for development³ consisting of the winning and working of minerals⁴ or involving the depositing of mineral waste⁵;
- 2925 (2) may be imposed in addition to, or in substitution for, any conditions ascertained by the mineral planning authority⁶; and
- 2926 (3) must include a condition that the winning and working of minerals or depositing of mineral waste must cease not later than 21 February 2042⁷.

Where an application for the registration of an old mining permission has been granted, any person who is an owner⁸ of any land⁹ to which the permission relates, or is entitled to an interest in a mineral to which the permission relates, may apply to the mineral planning authority to determine the conditions to which the permission is to be subject¹⁰; and the application must set out proposed conditions¹¹.

The application must be served on the mineral planning authority:

- 2927 (a) after the date on which the application for registration was granted by the mineral planning authority, if no appeal was made to the Secretary of State¹² and, in any other case, the date on which the application for registration was finally determined¹³; and
- 2928 (b) before the end of the period of 12 months beginning with that date or such extended period as may at any time be agreed upon in writing between the applicant and the authority¹⁴.

On such an application:

- 2929 (i) the mineral planning authority must determine the conditions to which the permission is to be subject; and
- 2930 (ii) if, within the period of three months beginning with the service of notice of the application, or within such extended period as may at any time be agreed upon in writing between the applicant and the authority, the authority has not given the applicant notice of its determination, the authority is treated¹⁵ as having determined that the permission is to be subject to the conditions set out in the application¹⁶;

but if an assessment of environmental impact may be required¹⁷ the deeming provision set out in head (ii) above does not have effect to treat the authority as having determined the conditions to which any relevant planning permission is to be subject unless either the mineral planning authority has adopted a screening opinion¹⁸ or the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁹ has made a screening direction²⁰ to the effect that the ROMP development²¹ in question is not EIA development²².

721. Determination of application and registration of permission.

Where the mineral planning authority¹ determines an application for registration of an old mining permission² or for the determination of conditions³, it must as soon as reasonably practicable give written notice of its determination to the applicant⁴.

Where an application for the registration of an old mining permission is granted, the permission must be entered in the appropriate part of the register⁵ and the entry must specify the area of land⁶ ascertained⁷; and, where an application to determine the conditions to which an old mining permission is to be subject is finally determined, the conditions must be entered in the appropriate part of that register⁸.

The matters required to be so entered in the register must be entered as soon as reasonably practicable⁹.

722. Reference of applications to the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may give directions requiring applications for the registration of old mining permissions³ or the determination of conditions⁴ to any mineral planning authority⁵ to be referred to him or to the Assembly for determination instead of being dealt with by the authority⁶. The direction may relate either to a particular application or to applications of a class specified in the direction⁷.

Where an application is so referred to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, before determining the application, he or the Assembly must, if either the applicant or the mineral planning authority so wishes, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose⁸.

The decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on the application is final⁹.

Where an application is so referred to the Secretary of State, then, subject to the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 2 para 7(3)(b) (see the text and note 8 infra) and Sch 2 para 7(4), the provisions of Sch 2 para 1(1)-(4) (see PARA 719 ante), Sch 2 para 2(1)-(6)(a), (7), (8) (see PARA 720 ante), Sch 2 para 3 (see PARA 721 ante) and Sch 2 para 4 (see PARA 719 note 6 ante), Sch 2 para 8 (see PARA 719 note 6 ante), Sch 2 para 9 (see PARA 719 ante) and Sch 2 para 10 (interpretation) apply, with any necessary modifications, as they apply to applications which fall to be determined by the mineral planning authority: Sch 2 para 7(3)(a).

Where an application under Sch 2 para 1 (see PARA 719 ante) is so referred to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, Sch 2 para 2(5) (see PARA 720 ante) applies as if for Sch 2 para 2(5)(a), (b) there were substituted 'the date on which the application for registration is finally determined': Sch 2 para 7(4).

As from a day to be appointed¹, the provisions set out in the previous paragraphs² apply, with modifications, to an old mining permission³ which relates to land which is Crown land⁴. If the permission has not been registered⁵, then if no relevant development⁶ had, at any time in the period of two years ending with the appointed day⁷, been carried out to any substantial extent anywhere in, on or under that land, that permission does not authorise any such development to be carried out⁸ unless the permission has effect as described above⁹ and the development is carried out after such an application has been finally determined¹⁰.

An application for registration may be served on the mineral planning authority before the end of the period of six months beginning with the appointed day¹¹.

OLD MINING PERMISSIONS GRANTED UNDER INTERIM DEVELOPMENT ORDERS BETWEEN 1943 AND 1948/724. Right of appeal.

724. Right of appeal.

The applicant may appeal to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² under the Planning and Compensation Act 1991:

2931 (1) where the mineral planning authority³:

244. (a) refuses an application for registration of an old mining permission⁴;
or

245. (b) in granting such an application, ascertains an area of land⁵, or conditions, which differ from those specified in the application⁶;

2932 (2) where on an application for the determination of conditions⁷, the mineral planning authority determines conditions that differ in any respect from the conditions set out in the application⁸.

Any such appeal must be made by giving notice of appeal⁹ to the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁰. In the case of an appeal under head (1) above, the notice must be given to the Secretary of State or the Assembly before the end of the period of three months beginning with the determination or, in the case of an application treated¹¹ as refused, beginning at the end of the specified¹² period or extended period¹³; and, in the case of an appeal under head (2) above, the notice must be given to the Secretary of State or the Assembly before the end of the period of six months beginning with the determination¹⁴.

OLD MINING PERMISSIONS GRANTED UNDER INTERIM DEVELOPMENT ORDERS BETWEEN 1943 AND 1948/725. Determination of appeal.

725. Determination of appeal.

On an appeal relating to an old mining permission¹ the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ may:

- 2933 (1) allow or dismiss the appeal; or
- 2934 (2) reverse or vary any part of the decision of the mineral planning authority⁴, whether the appeal relates to that part of it or not, and may deal with the application as if it had been made to him or to it in the first instance⁵.

Before determining such an appeal, however, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, if either the appellant or the mineral planning authority so wishes, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by it for the purpose⁶.

If, at any time before or during the determination of such an appeal, it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly that the appellant is responsible for undue delay in the progress of the appeal, he or it may:

- 2935 (a) give the appellant notice that the appeal will be dismissed unless the appellant takes, within the period specified in the notice, such steps as are specified in the notice for the expedition of the appeal; and 2936 (b) if the appellant fails to take those steps within that period, dismiss the appeal accordingly⁷.

The decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on such an appeal is final⁸.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/(iv) Old Mining and Mineral Planning Permissions/B. OLD MINERAL PLANNING PERMISSIONS GRANTED BETWEEN 1948 AND 1982/726. Introduction.

B. OLD MINERAL PLANNING PERMISSIONS GRANTED BETWEEN 1948 AND 1982

726. Introduction.

The Environment Act 1995 makes provision in relation to mineral sites where permission for minerals development was granted after 30 June 1948 and before 21 February 1982¹. For these purposes, 'mineral site' means:

- 2937 (1) in a case where it appears to the mineral planning authority² to be expedient to treat as a single site the aggregate of the land³ to which any two or more relevant planning permissions⁴ relate⁵, the aggregate of the land to which those permissions relate; and
- 2938 (2) in any other case, the land to which a relevant planning permission relates⁶.

1 See the Environment Act 1995 s 96(1), Sch 13 (paras 1-16) (as amended); and PARA 727 et seq post. Section 96, Sch 13 (as amended) and the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 have effect as if the Environment Act 1995 s 96, Sch 13 (as amended) were included in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt

III (ss 55-106B) (as amended) (see PARA 217 et seq ante): Environment Act 1995 s 96(2) (amended by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) (Scotland) Act 1997 s 3, Sch 1 Pt III).

2 For the meaning of 'mineral planning authority' see PARA 29 ante (definition applied by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 13 para 1(1) (amended for this purpose by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) (Scotland) Act 1997 Sch 1 Pt III)).

3 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante (definition applied by virtue of the Environment Act 1995 s 96(2) (as amended)).

4 For these purposes, 'relevant planning permission' means any planning permission, other than an old mining permission or a planning permission granted by a development order, granted after 30 June 1948 for minerals development (ibid Sch 13 para 1(1)); but does not include a planning permission that is no longer extant (Payne v Caerphilly County Borough Council [2002] EWHC 866 (Admin), [2003] JPL 106; affd [2003] All ER (D) 75 (Jan), CA). As to whether a planning permission has lapsed see eg R (on the application of Hart Aggregates Ltd) v Hartlepool Borough Council [2005] EWHC 840 (Admin), [2005] All ER (D) 358 (Apr). 'Old mining permission' has the meaning given by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 22(1) (see PARA 718 ante): Environment Act 1995 Sch 13 para 1(1) (definition amended by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) (Scotland) Act 1997 Sch 1 Pt III). Any reference, however expressed, in the Environment Act 1995 Sch 13 (as amended) to an old mining permission or a relevant planning permission relating to a mineral site is a reference to the mineral site, or some part of it, being the land to which the permission relates; and where any such permission authorises the carrying out of development consisting of the winning and working of minerals but only in respect of any particular mineral or minerals, that permission is not taken, for these purposes, as relating to any other mineral in, on or under the land to which the permission relates: Sch 13 para 1(4). For the meaning of 'winning and working of minerals' see PARA 16 note 2 ante; and for the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante (definitions as applied: see note 3 supra).

5 In determining whether it appears to the authority to be expedient to treat as a single site the aggregate of the land to which two or more relevant planning permissions relate, a mineral planning authority must have regard to any guidance issued for the purpose by the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales: ibid Sch 13 para 1(3). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante; as to the transfer of functions under the Environment Act 1995 Sch 13 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

6 Environment Act 1995 Sch 13 para 1(1), (2). For policy guidance on Sch 13 (as amended) see MPG14--Environment Act 1995: Review of Mineral Planning Permissions; and as to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/(iv) Old Mining and Mineral Planning Permissions/B. OLD MINERAL PLANNING PERMISSIONS GRANTED BETWEEN 1948 AND 1982/727. Meanings of 'Phase I site', 'Phase II site' and 'dormant site'.

727. Meanings of 'Phase I site', 'Phase II site' and 'dormant site'.

For the purposes of the provisions relating to old mineral planning permissions¹, 'dormant site' means a Phase I or Phase II site in, on or under which no minerals development² had been carried out to any substantial extent at any time in the period beginning on 22 February 1982 and ending with 6 June 1995 otherwise than by virtue of a planning permission³ which is not a relevant planning permission⁴ relating to the site⁵.

The following provisions have effect for the purposes of determining which mineral sites⁶ are Phase I sites, which are Phase II sites, and which are neither Phase I nor Phase II sites⁷. A mineral site is neither a Phase I site nor a Phase II site where:

2939 (1) all the relevant planning permissions which relate to the site have been granted after 21 February 1982; or

- 2940 (2) some only of the relevant planning permissions which relate to the site have been granted after 21 February 1982, and the parts of the site to which those permissions relate constitute the greater part⁸ of that site⁹.

With the exception of those mineral sites which, by virtue of heads (1) and (2) above, are neither Phase I nor Phase II sites, every mineral site is either a Phase I site or a Phase II site¹⁰.

Subject to heads (1) and (2) above, where any part of a mineral site is situated within:

- 2941 (a) a National Park¹¹;
 2942 (b) a site of special scientific interest¹²; or 2943 (c) an area designated¹³ as an area of outstanding natural beauty, that site is a Phase I site¹⁴. Subject to that, where:

- 2944 (i) all the relevant planning permissions which relate to a mineral site, and which were not granted after 21 February 1982, were granted after 31 March 1969¹⁵; or 2945 (ii) the parts of a mineral site to which relate such of the relevant planning permissions relating to the site as were granted after 31 March 1969 but before 22 February 1982 constitute a greater part of the site¹⁶ than is constituted by those parts of the site to which no such relevant planning permission relates but to which a relevant planning permission granted on or before 31 March 1969 does relate, the mineral site is a Phase II site¹⁷.

Every other mineral site, that is to say any mineral site other than one:

- 2946 (A) which is, by virtue of heads (1) and (2) above, neither a Phase I nor a Phase II site; or 2947 (B) which is a Phase I site by virtue of the above provisions¹⁸; or 2948 (C) which is a Phase II site by virtue of the above provisions¹⁹, is a Phase I site²⁰.

Preparation of the first list of mineral sites.

728. Preparation of the first list of mineral sites.

A mineral planning authority¹ was required, in accordance with the following provisions, to prepare a list of mineral sites² in its area ('the first list')³, the preparation of which was to be completed before 1 February 1996⁴. A site must, but must only, be included in the first list if it is a mineral site in the area of the mineral planning authority and is either:

- 2949 (1) an active Phase I site⁵;
- 2950 (2) an active Phase II site; or
- 2951 (3) a dormant site⁶.

In respect of each site included in the first list, the list must indicate whether the site is an active Phase I site, an active Phase II site or a dormant site⁷; and in respect of each active Phase I site included in the first list, that list must specify the date by which an application is to be made⁸ to the mineral planning authority to determine the conditions to which the relevant planning permissions relating to that site are to be subject⁹. Any date so specified must be a date:

- 2952 (a) not earlier than the date upon which expires the period of 12 months from the date on which the first list is first advertised¹⁰; and
- 2953 (b) not later than the date upon which expired the period of three years from 1 November 1995¹¹.

4 See ibid Sch 13 para 1(6), which provides that preparation of the first list must be completed before the day upon which it is first advertised in accordance with Sch 13 para 5 (see PARA 730 post), ie before the day upon which expires the period of three months from the date upon which Sch 13 (as amended) came into force (Sch 13 para 5(4)(a)). Schedule 13 (as amended) came into force on 1 November 1995: see the Environment Act 1995 (Commencement No 3) Order 1995, SI 1995/2765. 729. Preparation of the second list.

A mineral planning authority¹ must, in accordance with the following provisions, prepare a list of the active² Phase II sites³ in its area ('the second list')⁴. The preparation of the second list was to be completed before 31 October 1998 but that period may be extended⁵.

The second list must include each mineral site⁶ in the mineral planning authority's area which is an active Phase II site⁷. In respect of each site included in the second list, that list must indicate the date by which an application is to be made⁸ to the mineral planning authority to determine the conditions to which the relevant planning permissions relating to that site are to be subject⁹. Any date so specified must¹⁰ be a date:

- 2954 (1) not earlier than the date upon which expires the period of 12 months from the date on which the second list is first advertised¹¹; and

2955 (2) not later than the date upon which expired the period of six years from 1 November 1995¹²,

but the Secretary of State¹³ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁴ may by order provide that head (2) above is to have effect as if for the period of six years referred to in that head there were substituted such longer period specified in the order¹⁵.

Advertisement of the first and second lists.

730. Advertisement of the first and second lists.

Provision for the advertisement of the first and second lists¹ prepared by a mineral planning authority² is made as follows³. The mineral planning authority must advertise each of the first and second lists by causing to be published, in each of two successive weeks, in one or more newspapers circulating in its area, notice of the list having been prepared⁴. In respect of each of those lists, such notice must:

- 2956 (1) state that the list has been prepared by the authority; and
- 2957 (2) specify one or more places within the area of the authority at which the list may be inspected, and in respect of each such place specify the times, which must be reasonable times, during which facilities for inspection of the list will be afforded⁵.

In respect of the first list, such notice:

- 2958 (a) was to be first published no later than the day upon which expired the period of three months from 1 November 1995⁶;
 - 2959 (b) must explain the general effect of a mineral site being classified as a dormant site⁷ or, as the case may be, as an active⁸ Phase I site or an active Phase II site⁹;
 - 2960 (c) must explain the consequences which will occur if no application is made¹⁰ in respect of an active Phase I site included in the list by the date specified in the list for that site;
 - 2961 (d) must explain the effects for any dormant or active Phase I or Phase II site not included in the list of its not being included in the list and:
- 267
- 246. (i) set out the right to make an application to the authority for that site to be included in the list;
 - 247. (ii) set out the date by which such an application must be made; and
 - 248. (iii) state that the owner¹¹ of such a site has a right of appeal against any decision of the authority upon such an application; and
- 268
- 2962 (e) explain that the owner of an active Phase I site has a right to apply for postponement of the date specified in the list for the making of an application¹² and set out the date by which an application for such postponement must be made¹³.

In respect of the second list, such notice:

- 2963 (A) was to be first published no later than the day upon which expired the period of three years, or such longer period as the Secretary of State¹⁴ or, now, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁵, may by order specify, from 1 November 1995; and
- 2964 (B) must explain the consequences which will occur if no application is made¹⁶ in respect of an active Phase II site included in the list by the date specified in the list for that site¹⁷.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/(iv) Old Mining and Mineral Planning Permissions/B. OLD MINERAL PLANNING PERMISSIONS GRANTED BETWEEN 1948 AND 1982/731. Applications for inclusion in first list of sites not originally included.

731. Applications for inclusion in first list of sites not originally included.

Any person who is the owner¹ of any land², or is entitled to an interest in a mineral, may, if that land or interest is not a mineral site³ included in the first list⁴ and does not form part of any mineral site included in that list, apply to the mineral planning authority⁵ for that land or interest to be included in that list⁶. Such an application was, however, to be made no later than the day upon which expired the period of three months from the day when the first list was first advertised⁷.

Where the mineral planning authority considers that the land or interest is, or forms part of, any dormant⁸ or active⁹ Phase I or Phase II site¹⁰, it must accede to the application¹¹. Where it considers that part only of the land or interest is, or forms part of, any dormant or active Phase I or Phase II site, it must accede to the application so far as it relates to that part of the land or interest¹². Otherwise it must refuse the application¹³.

On acceding, whether in whole or in part, to an application so made, the mineral planning authority must amend the first list as follows:

- 2965 (1) where it considers that the land or interest, or any part of the land or interest, is a dormant site or an active Phase I or II site, it must add the mineral site consisting of the land or interest or, as the case may be, that part, to the first list and must cause the list to indicate whether the site is an active Phase I site, an active Phase II site or a dormant site;

- 2966 (2) where it considers that the land or interest, or any part of the land or interest, forms part of any mineral site included in the first list, it must amend the entry in the first list for that site accordingly¹⁴.

Where the mineral planning authority amends the first list in accordance with heads (1) and (2) above, it must also:

- 2967 (a) in a case where an active Phase I site is added to the first list pursuant to head (1) above, cause that list to specify, in respect of that site, the date by which an application¹⁵ is to be made to the mineral planning authority¹⁶;
- 2968 (b) in a case where the entry for an active Phase I site included in the first list is amended pursuant to head (2) above, and the date specified in that list in respect of that site as the date by which an application is to be made to the mineral planning authority¹⁷ is a date falling less than 12 months after the date upon which the authority makes its decision upon the application in question, cause that date to be amended so as to specify instead the date upon which expires the period of 12 months from the date on which the applicant is notified¹⁸ of the authority's decision upon his application¹⁹.

On acceding, whether in whole or in part, to an application made under the above provisions, the mineral planning authority must, if the second list has been first advertised²⁰ prior to the time at which it makes its decision on the application, amend the second list as follows²¹. Where it considers that the land or interest, or any part of the land or interest, is an active Phase II site, it must add the mineral site consisting of the land or interest or, as the case may be, that part, to the second list²². Where it considers that the land or interest, or any part of the land or interest, forms part of any active Phase II site included in the second list, it must amend the entry in that list for that site accordingly²³. Where the mineral planning authority amends the second list in accordance with these provisions, it must also:

- 2969 (i) in a case where an active Phase II site is added to the second list²⁴, cause that list to specify, in respect of that site, the date by which an application is to be made²⁵ to the authority²⁶;
- 2970 (ii) in a case where the entry for an active Phase II site included in the second list is amended²⁷ and the date specified in that list in respect of that site as the date by which an application is to be made to the authority²⁸ is a date falling less than 12 months after the date upon which the authority makes its decision upon the application in question, cause that date to be amended so as to specify instead the date upon which expires the period of 12 months from the date on which the applicant is notified²⁹ of the authority's decision upon his application³⁰.

When a mineral planning authority determines an application made under these provisions it must notify the applicant in writing of its decision and, in a case where it has acceded to the application, whether in whole or in part, must supply the applicant with details of any amendment to be made³¹ to the first or second list³².

Where a mineral planning authority refuses an application so made or accedes to such an application only so far as it relates to part of the land or interest in respect of which it was made, the applicant may by notice appeal to the Secretary of State³³ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales³⁴. A person who has made such an application may also appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly if the mineral planning authority has not given notice to the applicant of its decision on the application within eight weeks of its having received the application or within such extended period as may at any time be agreed upon in writing between the applicant and the authority³⁵.

Note, however, that there is no similar statutory mechanism for challenging the inclusion of a site as a 'dormant' rather than an 'active' site; any such challenge must be made by way of judicial review and a later attempt to mount such a challenge in a private law claim for declaratory relief amounts, in effect, to an abuse of process: see Stancliffe Stone Co Ltd v Peak District National Park Authority [2005] EWCA Civ 747, [2005] All ER (D) 172 (Jun).

An applicant may give notice that he is no longer to be taken to have agreed to the use of electronic communications for the purposes mentioned in head (1) supra: Environment Act 1995 Sch 13 para 1(9) (as so added). Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/(iv) Old Mining and Mineral Planning Permissions/B. OLD MINERAL PLANNING PERMISSIONS GRANTED BETWEEN 1948 AND 1982/732. Postponement of date specified for review of permissions relating to Phase I or Phase II site where existing conditions satisfactory.

732. Postponement of date specified for review of permissions relating to Phase I or Phase II site where existing conditions satisfactory.

Any person who is the owner¹ of any land², or of any interest in any mineral, comprised in an active Phase I site³ included in the first list⁴ or an active Phase II site⁵ included in the second list⁶ may apply to the mineral planning authority⁷ for the postponement of the date specified in that list in respect of that site as the date by which an application for the approval of conditions is to be made⁸ to the authority ('the specified date')⁹. Such an application was, however, to be made no later than the day upon which expired the period of three months from the day when the relevant list¹⁰ was first¹¹ advertised¹²; but in the case of:

- 2971 (1) an active Phase I site added to the first list¹³ or in respect of which the entry in the first list was amended¹⁴; or
- 2972 (2) an active Phase II site added to the second list¹⁵ or in respect of which the entry in the second list was amended¹⁶, such an application must be made no later than the day upon which expires the period of three months from the day on which notice was given¹⁷ of the mineral planning authority's decision to add the site to or, as the case may be, so to amend the list in question¹⁸.

An application under these provisions must be in writing¹⁹ and must:

- 2973 (a) set out the conditions to which each relevant planning permission²⁰ relating to the site is subject;
- 2974 (b) set out the applicant's reasons for considering those conditions to be satisfactory;
- 2975 (c) set out the date which the applicant wishes to be substituted for the specified date; and
- 2976 (d) be accompanied by the appropriate certificate²¹.

Where the mineral planning authority receives an application so made, if it considers the conditions referred to in head (a) above to be satisfactory it must agree to the specified date being postponed in which event it must determine the date to be substituted for that date²². In any other case it must refuse the application²³. Where the mineral planning authority agrees to the specified date being postponed it must cause the first or, as the case may be, the second list to be amended accordingly²⁴.

When a mineral planning authority determines an application so made, it must notify the applicant in writing of its decision and, in a case where it has agreed to the postponement of the specified date, must notify the applicant of the date which it has determined should be substituted for the specified date²⁵. Where, within three months of the mineral planning authority having received such an application, or within such extended period as may at any time be agreed upon in writing between the applicant and the authority, the authority has not so given notice to the applicant of its decision upon the application, the authority is treated as having agreed to the specified date being postponed and having determined that the date referred to in head (c) above be substituted for the specified date²⁶.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/(iv) Old Mining and Mineral Planning Permissions/B. OLD MINERAL PLANNING PERMISSIONS GRANTED BETWEEN 1948 AND 1982/733. Service on owners etc of notice of preparation of the first and second lists.

733. Service on owners etc of notice of preparation of the first and second lists.

Subject to a statutory exception where the person whose identity or address for service is not known and cannot reasonably be ascertained¹, the mineral planning authority² must, no later than the date upon which the first list³ is first advertised⁴, serve notice in writing of the first list having been prepared on each person appearing to the authority to be the owner⁵ of any land⁶, or entitled to an interest in any mineral, included within a mineral site⁷ included in the first list⁸. A notice so required to be served must:

2977 (1) indicate whether the mineral site in question is a dormant site⁹ or an active¹⁰ Phase I or Phase II site¹¹; and 2978 (2) where that site is an active Phase I site:

249. (a) indicate the date specified in the first list in relation to that site as the date by which an application is to be made¹² to the mineral planning authority;

250. (b) explain the consequences which will occur if such an application is not made by the date so specified; and

251. (c) explain the right to apply to have that date postponed, and indicate the date by which such an application must be made¹³.

Where, in relation to any land or mineral included in an active Phase I site, the mineral planning authority has served notice on any person under the above provisions and has received no application¹⁴ from that person by the date falling eight weeks before the date specified in the first list as the date by which such applications should be made in respect of the site in question, the authority must serve a written reminder on that person¹⁵.

Subject to the statutory exception previously mentioned¹⁶, the mineral planning authority must, no later than the date upon which the second list¹⁷ is first advertised¹⁸, serve notice in writing of the second list having been prepared on each person appearing to the authority to be the owner of any land, or entitled to an interest in any mineral, included within an active Phase II site included in the second list¹⁹. A notice so required to be served must:

2979 (i) indicate that the mineral site in question is an active Phase II site; and 2980 (ii) indicate the date specified in the second list in relation to that site as the date by which an application is to be made²⁰ to the mineral planning authority;

2981 (iii) explain the consequences which will occur if such an application is not made by the date so specified; and 2982 (iv) explain the right to apply to have that date postponed, and indicate the date by which such an application must be made²¹.

Where, in relation to any land or mineral included in an active Phase II site, the mineral planning authority has so served notice on any person and has received no application²² from that person by the date falling eight weeks before the date specified in the second list as the date by which such applications should be made in respect of the site in question, the authority must serve a written reminder on that person²³.

Where the mineral planning authority, being required either to serve a written reminder²⁴ on any person or to cause a copy of such a reminder to be displayed²⁵, fails to comply with that requirement by the date specified for the purpose, it may at any later time serve or, as the case may be, cause to be displayed, such a written reminder and, in any such case, the date by which an application in relation to the mineral site in question is to be made²⁶ is the date upon which expires the period of three months from the date when the reminder was served or posted in accordance with these²⁷ provisions²⁸.

1 The Environment Act 1995 s 96(1), Sch 13 para 8(1) or (4) (see the text and notes 2-8, 16-19 infra) does not require the mineral planning authority to serve notice under that provision upon any person whose identity or address for service is not known to and cannot practicably, after reasonable inquiry, be ascertained by the authority, but in any such case the authority must cause to be firmly affixed, to each of one or more conspicuous objects on the land or, as the case may be, on the surface of the land above the interest in question, a copy of the notice it would otherwise have had to serve under that provision on the owner of that land or interest: Sch 13 para 8(7). If, in a case where Sch 13 para 8(7) applies, no person makes an application to the authority under Sch 13 para 8(9) in respect of the active Phase I or II site which includes the land or interest in question by the date falling eight weeks before the date specified in the first or, as the case may be, the second list as the date by which such applications should be made in respect of that site, the authority must cause to be firmly affixed, to each of one or more conspicuous objects on the land or, as the case may be, on the surface of the land above the interest in question, a copy of the written reminder that would, in a case not falling within Sch 13 para 8(7), have been served under Sch 13 para 8(3) or (6) (see the text and notes 14-15, 22-23 infra): Sch 13 para 8(8). Where by Sch 13 para 8(7) or (8) a copy of any notice is required to be affixed to an object on any land that copy must (1) be displayed in such a way as to be easily visible and legible; (2) be first displayed (a) in a case where the requirement arises under Sch 13 para 8(7), no later than the date upon which the first or, as the case may be, the second list is first advertised in accordance with Sch 13 para 5 (see PARA 730 ante); or (b) in a case where the requirement arises under Sch 13 para 8(8), no later than the date falling four weeks before the date specified in the first or, as the case may be, the second list in respect of the site in question as the date by which an application is to be made to the authority under Sch 13 para 9 (see PARA 734 post); and (3) be left in position for at least the period of 21 days from the date when it is first displayed, but where the notice is, without fault or intention of the authority, removed, obscured or defaced before that period has elapsed, that requirement is treated as having been complied with if the authority has taken reasonable steps for protection of the notice and, if need be, its replacement: Sch 13 para 8(9). For these purposes, any reference to a conspicuous object on any land includes, in a case where the person serving a notice considers that there are no or insufficient such objects on the land, a reference to a post driven into or erected upon the land by the person serving the notice for the purpose of having affixed to it the notice in question: Sch 13 para 8(10).

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/(iv) Old Mining and Mineral Planning Permissions/B. OLD MINERAL PLANNING PERMISSIONS GRANTED BETWEEN 1948 AND 1982/734. Applications for approval of conditions.

734. Applications for approval of conditions.

Any person who is the owner¹ of any land², or who is entitled to an interest in a mineral, may, if that land or mineral is or forms part of a dormant site³ or an active⁴ Phase I or II Phase site⁵, apply to the mineral planning authority⁶ to determine the conditions to which the relevant planning permissions⁷ relating to that site are to be subject⁸. Such an application must be in writing⁹ and must

- 2983 (1) identify the mineral site¹⁰ to which the application relates;
- 2984 (2) specify the land or minerals comprised in the site of which the applicant is the owner or, as the case may be, in which the applicant is entitled to an interest;
- 2985 (3) identify any relevant planning permissions relating to the site;
- 2986 (4) identify, and give an address (which must be a postal address)¹¹ for, each other person that the applicant knows or, after reasonable inquiry, has cause to believe to be an owner of any land, or entitled to any interest in any mineral, comprised in the site;
- 2987 (5) set out the conditions to which the applicant proposes the permissions referred to in head (3) above should be subject; and
- 2988 (6) be accompanied by the appropriate certificate¹².

Where the mineral planning authority receives an application under these provisions in relation to a dormant site or an active Phase I or Phase II site it must determine the conditions to which each relevant planning permission relating to the site is to be subject; and any such permission has effect, from the date when the conditions to which it is to be subject are finally determined¹³, subject to the conditions which are determined¹⁴ as being the conditions to which it is to be subject¹⁵. The conditions imposed by virtue of such a determination may include any conditions which may be imposed on a grant of planning permission¹⁶ for minerals development¹⁷ and may be in addition to, or in substitution for, any existing conditions to which the permission in question is subject¹⁸. In determining that a relevant planning permission is to be subject to any condition relating to development for which planning permission is granted by a development order¹⁹, the mineral planning authority must have regard to any guidance issued for the purpose by the Secretary of State²⁰ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales²¹.

Where, within the period of three months from the mineral planning authority having received an application under these provisions, or within such extended period as may at any time be agreed upon in writing between the applicant and the authority, the authority has not given notice to the applicant of its decision upon the application, the authority is treated as having at the end of that period or, as the case may be, that extended period, determined that the conditions to which any relevant planning permission to which the application relates is to be subject are those specified in the application as being proposed in relation to that permission; and any such permission has effect from that time subject to those conditions²². Where, however, a mineral planning authority, having received an application under these provisions, is of the opinion that it is unable to determine the application unless further details are supplied to the authority, it must within the period of one month from having received the application give notice to the applicant stating that it is of such opinion and specifying the further details which it requires²³. Where the authority so serves such a notice the period of three months referred to above runs not from the authority having received the application but from the time when the authority has received all the further details specified in the notice²⁴.

Where the mineral planning authority determines, on an application under the above provisions, conditions that differ in any respect from the proposed conditions set out in the application, the person who made the application may appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly²⁵. Such an appeal must be made by giving notice of appeal to him or to the Assembly before the end of the period of six months beginning with the date on which the authority gives notice to the applicant of its determination²⁶.

If an assessment of environmental impact may be required²⁷ the deeming provision set out above²⁸ does not have effect to treat the authority as having determined the conditions to which any relevant planning permission is to be subject unless either the mineral planning authority has adopted a screening opinion²⁹ or the Secretary of State or the Assembly has made a screening direction³⁰ to the effect that the ROMP development³¹ in question is not EIA development³².

The following provisions apply in a case where:

- 2989 (1) on an application made¹ to the mineral planning authority² in respect of an active³ Phase I or Phase II site⁴ the authority determines⁵ the conditions to which the relevant planning permissions⁶ relating to the site are to be subject;
- 2990 (2) those conditions differ in any respect from the proposed conditions set out in the application; and
- 2991 (3) the effect of the conditions, other than any restoration or aftercare conditions, so determined by the authority, as compared with the effect of the conditions, other than any restoration or aftercare conditions⁷, to which the relevant planning permissions in question were subject immediately prior to the authority making the determination, is to restrict working rights⁸ in respect of the site⁹.

In such a case, the mineral planning authority must, upon giving to the applicant¹⁰ notice of the conditions determined by the authority¹¹, also give to the applicant notice:

- 2992 (a) stating that the conditions determined by the authority differ in some respect from the proposed conditions set out in the application;
- 2993 (b) stating that the effect of the conditions, other than any restoration or aftercare conditions, determined by the authority, as compared with the effect of the conditions, other than any restoration or aftercare conditions, to which the relevant planning permissions relating to the site in question were subject immediately prior to the making of the authority's determination, is to restrict working rights in respect of the site;
- 2994 (c) identifying the working rights so restricted; and
- 2995 (d) stating whether, in the opinion of the authority, the effect of that restriction of working rights would be such as to prejudice adversely to an unreasonable degree:

252. (i) the economic viability of operating the site; or

253. (ii) the asset value of the site¹².

Where the mineral planning authority gives notice under head (d) above stating that in its opinion the restriction of working rights in question would not be such as to prejudice adversely to an unreasonable degree either of the matters referred to in heads (i) and (ii) of head (d) above, the person who made the application may appeal to the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹³. Such an appeal must be made by giving notice of appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly before the end of the period of six months beginning with the date on which the authority gives notice to the applicant stating its opinion¹⁴.

8 For these purposes, working rights are restricted in respect of a mineral site if any of: (1) the size of the area which may be used for the winning and working of minerals or the depositing of mineral waste; (2) the depth to which operations for the winning and working of minerals may extend; (3) the height of any deposit of mineral waste; (4) the rate at which any particular mineral may be extracted; (5) the rate at which any particular mineral waste may be deposited; (6) the period at the expiry of which any winning or working of minerals or depositing of mineral waste is to cease; or (7) the total quantity of minerals which may be extracted from, or of mineral waste which may be deposited on, the site, is restricted or reduced in respect of the mineral site in question: ibid Sch 13 para 1(6). Subject to the following provision, no relevant planning permission which relates to a dormant site¹² has effect to authorise the carrying out of minerals development¹³ unless an application has been made¹⁴ in respect of that site and that permission has effect¹⁵ accordingly¹⁶. A relevant planning permission which relates to a Phase I or Phase II site not included in the first list ceases to have effect, except in so far as it imposes any restoration or aftercare condition, on the day following the last date on which an application for inclusion in that list¹⁷ may be made in respect of that site unless such an application has been made by that date in which event, unless the site is added to that list, such a permission ceases to have effect when the following conditions are met:

- 2996 (1) the proceedings on that application¹⁸ have been determined; and
- 2997 (2) any time for appealing¹⁹ or for applying or further applying²⁰, where there is a right to do so, has expired²¹.

Reference of applications to the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

737. Reference of applications to the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may give directions requiring applications with regard to old mineral planning permissions³ to any mineral planning authority⁴ to be referred to him or to the Assembly for determination instead of being dealt with by the authority⁵. Any such direction may relate either to a particular application or to applications of a class specified in the direction⁶.

Where an application is referred to the Secretary of State or the Assembly in accordance with such a direction, the specified statutory provisions⁷ apply, with any necessary modifications, as they apply to applications which fall to be determined by the mineral planning authority⁸. Before, however, determining the application the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, if either the applicant or the mineral planning authority so wishes, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before and being heard by a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose⁹. The decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on the application is final¹⁰.

amended) included any decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on an application so referred to him or to it: Environment Act 1995 Sch 13 para 9(4)(b). As to calling in planning applications generally see the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77 (as amended); and PARA 483 ante.

Where a mineral planning authority¹ has received from any person a duly made application for postponement of the specified date for review of old mineral planning permissions or for the determination of conditions², that person may not make any further application under the provision in question in respect of the same site and, if the application has been determined, whether or not in the case of an application for the determination of conditions³ it has been finally determined⁴, no other person may make an application under the provision in question in respect of the same site⁵.

Where a mineral planning authority has received from any person in respect of a mineral site⁶ a duly made application such as is mentioned above⁷ and the authority receives from another person a duly made application under the provision in question in respect of the same site, then for the purpose of the determination of the applications and any appeal against such a determination, the relevant statutory provisions⁸ have effect as if the applications were a single application received by the authority on the date on which the later application was received by the authority and references to the applicant are to be read as references to either or any of the applicants⁹.

739. Compensation.

These provisions apply in a case where an application made¹ in respect of an active² Phase I or Phase II site³ is finally determined⁴ and either the first or the second requirements set out below are satisfied⁵. The first requirements are that:

- 2998 (1) the conditions to which the relevant planning permissions⁶ relating to the site are to be subject were determined by the mineral planning authority⁷;
- 2999 (2) no appeal was made⁸ in respect of that determination or any such appeal was withdrawn or dismissed; and
- 3000 (3) the authority gave notice containing additional information⁹ and either:
 - 273 254. (a) that notice stated that, in the authority's opinion, the restriction of working rights in question would be such as to prejudice adversely to an unreasonable degree either the economic value of operating the site or the asset value of the site¹⁰; or
 - 255. (b) that notice stated that, in the authority's opinion, the restriction in question would not be such as would so prejudice either of those matters but an appeal¹¹ in respect of the giving of the notice has been allowed¹².

The second requirements are that the conditions to which the relevant planning permissions are to be subject were determined¹³ by the Secretary of State¹⁴ or by the National Assembly for Wales¹⁵ and:

- 3001 (i) in a case where those conditions were determined upon an appeal¹⁶ either:
 - 275 256. (A) the mineral planning authority gave notice¹⁷ stating that, in its opinion, the restriction of working rights in question would be such as to prejudice adversely to an unreasonable degree either the economic value of operating the site or the asset value of the site¹⁸; or
 - 257. (B) the authority gave a notice¹⁹ stating that, in its opinion, the restriction in question would not be such as would so prejudice either of those matters but an appeal²⁰ in respect of the giving of that notice has been allowed; or

- 3002 (ii) in a case where those conditions were determined upon a reference²¹ to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, he or it gave notice²² stating that, in his or its opinion, the restriction of working rights in question would be such as to prejudice adversely to an unreasonable degree either the economic value of operating the site or the asset value of the site²³.

In such a case, the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 relating to compensation²⁴ and statutory undertakers²⁵ have effect as if an order revoking or modifying planning permission²⁶ had been confirmed²⁷ by the Secretary of State or the Assembly at the time when the application in question was finally determined and, as so confirmed, had effect to modify those permissions to the specified²⁸ extent²⁹. For these purposes, the order which is so treated as having been made under the 1990 Act³⁰ is one whose only effect adverse to the interests of any person having an interest in the land or minerals comprised in the mineral site is to restrict working rights³¹ in respect of the site to the same extent as the relevant restriction³².

740. Rights of appeal and determination of appeals.

Under the Environment Act 1995, there is a right of appeal to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales²:

- 3003 (1) against the refusal by a mineral planning authority³ of an application for inclusion in the first list of mineral sites in its area⁴;
- 3004 (2) against a mineral planning authority's determination of conditions to which the relevant planning permissions relating to certain mineral sites are to be subject⁵;
- 3005 (3) against a mineral planning authority's determination of the conditions to which the mineral permissions⁶ relating to a mining site⁷ are to be subject, as discussed below⁸.

Notice of appeal in respect of any such appeal must be given on a form supplied by or on behalf of the Secretary of State or the Assembly for use for that purpose, and giving, so far as reasonably practicable, the information required by that form⁹.

The appeal is to be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 governing appeals in connection with old mining permissions¹⁰.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/(iv) Old Mining and Mineral Planning Permissions/C. ASSESSMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT/741. In general.

C. ASSESSMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT

741. In general.

For the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999¹, a 'ROMP application' means an application to a relevant mineral planning authority² to determine the conditions to which a planning permission³ is to be subject under:

- 3006 (1) the provisions of the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 relating to registration of old mining permissions⁴, which have already been discussed⁵;
- 3007 (2) the provisions of the Environment Act 1995 relating to review of old mineral planning permissions⁶, which have already been discussed⁷; or
- 3008 (3) the provisions of the 1995 Act relating to periodic review of mineral planning permissions⁸, which are included in the discussion of the control of existing uses⁹ below¹⁰; and 'ROMP development' means development¹¹ which has yet to be carried out and which is authorised by a planning permission in respect of which a ROMP application has been or is to be made¹².

The 1999 Regulations apply to:

- 3009 (a) a ROMP application as they apply to an application for planning permission;
- 3010 (b) ROMP development as they apply to development in respect of which an application for planning permission is, has been or is to be made;
- 3011 (c) a relevant mineral planning authority as they apply to a relevant planning authority¹³;
- 3012 (d) a person making a ROMP application as they apply to an applicant for planning permission; and
- 3013 (e) the determination of a ROMP application as they apply to the granting of a planning permission, subject to prescribed modifications and additions¹⁴.

NOTE 12--SI 1999/293 reg 26A(15) substituted in relation to England: SI 2008/2093.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/(iv) Old Mining and Mineral Planning Permissions/C. ASSESSMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT/742. Prohibition on granting planning permission without consideration of environmental information.

742. Prohibition on granting planning permission without consideration of environmental information.

The relevant mineral planning authority¹, or the Secretary of State² (or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³), or an inspector⁴ must not grant planning permission⁵ pursuant to a ROMP application⁶ to which this provision applies unless it or he has first taken the environmental information⁷ into consideration, and must state in his or its decision that he or it has done so⁸.

This provision applies:

- 3014 (1) to every EIA application⁹ received¹⁰ by the authority with which it is lodged¹¹; and 3015 (2) to every EIA application lodged¹² by an interested planning authority¹³.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly determines a ROMP application in contravention of this provision, the validity of that decision may be challenged on an appeal to the High Court¹⁴.

NOTE 14--SI 1999/293 reg 26A(14) substituted in relation to England: SI 2008/2093.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/(iv) Old Mining and Mineral Planning Permissions/C. ASSESSMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT/743. Suspension of minerals development.

743. Suspension of minerals development.

Where the relevant mineral planning authority¹, the Secretary of State² (or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³) or an inspector⁴ notifies the applicant or appellant, as the case may be, that:

- 3016 (1) the submission of an environmental statement⁵ is required⁶ then such notification must specify the period within which the environmental statement and compliance with the provisions relating to publicity⁷ is required; or
- 3017 (2) a statement should contain additional information⁸ then such notification must specify the period within which that information is to be provided⁹.

The planning permission¹⁰ to which the ROMP application¹¹ relates may not authorise any minerals development¹², unless the Secretary of State or the Assembly has made a screening direction¹³ to the effect that the ROMP development¹⁴ is not EIA development¹⁵, if the applicant or the appellant does not:

- 3018 (a) write to the authority or Secretary of State or Assembly within the six-week or other period agreed¹⁶;
- 3019 (b) submit an environmental statement and comply with the publicity requirements¹⁷ within the period specified by the authority or the Secretary of State or Assembly in accordance with the above provisions or within such extended period as is agreed in writing; or
- 3020 (c) provide additional information within the period specified by the authority, the Secretary of State or Assembly or an inspector in accordance with the above provisions or within such extended period as is agreed in writing¹⁸; and where heads (a) to (c) above apply, the planning permission may not authorise any minerals development from the end of:

- 3021 (i) the relevant six-week or other period agreed in writing as referred to in head (a) above;
- 3022 (ii) the period specified or agreed in writing as referred to in heads (b) and (c) above, ('suspension of minerals development') until the applicant has complied with all of the provisions referred to in heads (a) to (c) above which are relevant to the application or appeal in question¹⁹.

Particulars of the suspension of minerals development and the date when that suspension ends must be entered in the appropriate part of the register²⁰ as soon as reasonably practicable²¹. The suspension of minerals development provided for in heads (a) to (c) above does not, however, affect any minerals development carried out under the planning permission before the date of suspension of minerals development²².

6 le under the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 7(2), reg 8(2) or reg 9(4): see PARAS 495-496, 618 ante.

The provisions relating to the preparation, publicity and procedures on the submission of environmental statements are modified as follows by reg 26A(8), (9), (11) (12) (as added: see note 9 infra):

51 (1) in regs 10(9), 11(6) (see PARAS 498-499 ante) for the words 'an application for planning permission for' there are substituted the words 'a ROMP application which relates to another planning permission which authorises' (reg 26A(8) (as so added));

52 (2) where an applicant submits an environmental statement to the authority in accordance with reg 13(1) (see PARA 501 ante), the provisions of the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 8, Sch 3 (as amended) (publicity for applications for planning permission: see PARA 471 ante) apply to a ROMP application under the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 22, Sch 2 para 2(2) (see PARA 720 ante) and the Environment Act 1995 s 96(1), Sch 14 para 6(1) (see PARA 750 post) as they apply to a planning application falling within the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 8(2) (as amended) except that for the references in the notice in Sch 3 to 'planning permission' there is substituted 'determination of the conditions to which a planning permission is to be subject' and that notice must refer to the relevant provisions of the 1991 or 1995 Act pursuant to which the application is made (Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 13(3A) (added by reg 26A(9) (as so added)));

53 (3) in reg 15 (provision of copies of environmental statements and further information for the Secretary of State or the Assembly on referral or appeal: see PARA 503 ante), in reg 15(a) for the reference to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77 (as amended) there is substituted a reference to the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 2 para 7(1) (see PARA 722 ante), the Environment Act 1995 Sch 13 para 13(1) (see PARA 737 ante) or Sch 14 para 8(1) (see PARA 752 post) (Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 26A(11) (as so added));

54 (4) in reg 17 (availability of copies of environmental statements: see PARA 505 ante) after the reference to the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 8 (as amended) there is inserted 'as applied by the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 13(3A) (as added) or by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 13 para 9(5) (Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 26A(12) (as so added)).

See also notes 7-8 infra.

7 le compliance with ibid reg 14(5): see PARA 502 ante. Regulation 14 (see PARA 502 ante) is modified by reg 26A(10) (as added: see note 9 infra) as follows: (1) the applicant must publish in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the land is situated a notice stating his name, that he has applied for determination of the conditions to which a planning permission is to be subject, the relevant provisions of the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 or the Environment Act 1995 pursuant to which the application is made and the name and address of the relevant planning authority (Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 14(2)(a) (as so modified)); (2) where an applicant indicates that he proposes to provide such a statement and in such circumstances as are mentioned in reg 14(1), the relevant planning authority, the Secretary of State or the Assembly, or the inspector, as the case may be, must suspend consideration of the application or appeal until the date specified by the authority or the Secretary of State or Assembly for submission of the environmental statement and compliance with reg 14(5) and may not determine it during the period of 21 days beginning with the date of receipt of the statement and the other documents mentioned in reg 14(5) (reg 14(6) (as so modified)).

8 Ie under ibid reg 19(1): see PARA 506 ante. Regulation 19 is modified by reg 26A(13) (as added: see note 9 infra) as follows: (1) the recipient of further information pursuant to reg 19(1) must publish in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the land is situated a notice stating the name of the person who has applied for or who has appealed in relation to the determination of the conditions to which the planning permission is to be subject, the relevant provisions of the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 or the Environment Act 1995 pursuant to which the application is made and the name and address of the relevant planning authority (Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 19(3)(a) (as so modified)); (2) where information is so requested, the relevant planning authority, the Secretary of State or the Assembly, or the inspector, as the case may be, must suspend determination of the application or appeal until the date specified by it or by him for submission of the further information, and may not determine it before the expiry of 14 days after the date on which the further information was sent to all persons to whom the statement to which it relates was sent or the expiry of 21 days after the date that notice of it was published in a local newspaper, whichever is the later (reg 19(7) (as so modified)).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/(iv) Old Mining and Mineral Planning Permissions/C. ASSESSMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT/744. Determination of conditions and right of appeal on non-determination.

744. Determination of conditions and right of appeal on non-determination.

Where it falls to a mineral planning authority¹ to determine a Schedule 1² or a Schedule 2 application³, the deeming provisions regarding old mining or old mineral planning permissions⁴ do not have effect to treat the authority as having determined the conditions to which any relevant planning permission⁵ is to be subject unless either the mineral planning authority has adopted a screening opinion⁶ or the Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁸ has made a screening direction⁹ to the effect that the ROMP development¹⁰ in question is not EIA development¹¹.

Where it falls to a mineral planning authority or to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to determine a Schedule 1 or a Schedule 2 application:

- 3023 (1) the statutory provisions relating to the register of applications etc¹² have effect with any necessary amendments as if references to applications for planning permission¹³ included certain ROMP applications¹⁴; and
- 3024 (2) where the relevant mineral planning authority¹⁵ is not the authority required to keep the register¹⁶, the relevant mineral planning authority must provide the authority required to keep it with such information and documents as that authority requires to comply¹⁷ with the relevant statutory provisions¹⁸.

Where it falls to the mineral planning authority or to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to determine an EIA application¹⁹ which is made under the provisions relating to determination of the conditions to which an old mining provision is to be subject²⁰, the provisions requiring the authority to give written notice of the determination as soon as practicable²¹ do not apply²². Where it falls to the mineral planning authority to determine an EIA application, the authority must give written notice of its determination of the ROMP application within 16 weeks beginning with the date of receipt by the authority of the ROMP application²³ or such extended period as may be agreed in writing between the applicant and the authority²⁴. In determining for the specified purposes²⁵ the time which has elapsed without the mineral planning authority giving the applicant written notice of its determination in a case where the authority has notified an applicant²⁶ that the submission of an environmental statement²⁷ is required and the Secretary of State or the Assembly has given a screening direction in relation to the ROMP development in question, no account is to be taken of any period before the issue of the direction²⁸.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/(iv) Old Mining and Mineral Planning Permissions/C. ASSESSMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT/745. ROMP application by a mineral planning authority.

745. ROMP application by a mineral planning authority.

Where a mineral planning authority¹ proposes to make or makes a ROMP application² to the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁴ which is a Schedule 1⁵ or a Schedule 2 application⁶ or proposed application, the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999⁷ apply to that application or proposed application as they apply to a ROMP application referred⁸ to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, subject to the prescribed modifications⁹.

A mineral planning authority which is minded to make a ROMP application¹⁰ to the Secretary of State or the Assembly may request him or the Assembly in writing to make a screening direction¹¹. Such a request must be accompanied by:

- 3025 (1) a plan sufficient to identify the land¹²;
- 3026 (2) a brief description of the nature and purpose of the ROMP development¹³ and of its possible effects on the environment; and
- 3027 (3) such other information as the authority may wish to provide or make¹⁴.

An authority making such a request must send to the Secretary of State or the Assembly any additional information he or it may request in writing to enable him or it to make a direction¹⁵.

The prescribed modifications are set out in the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 26A(28)(a)-(h) (as so added) as follows:

55 (1) subject to reg 26A(29) (as added and modified) (see the text and notes 10-11 infra), regs 5, 6, 7, 9, 10, 11, 13 (save for the purposes of regs 16(3), (4)) and regs 15, 21(1) (see PARAS 494 et seq ante) do not apply;

56 (2) in reg 4 (general provisions relating to screening: see PARA 492 ante), in reg 4(4) the words 'and shall send a copy of such direction to the relevant planning authority' are omitted, as is reg 4(9);

57 (3) in reg 8(2) (application referred to the Secretary of State or the Assembly without an environmental statement: see PARA 496 ante), the words 'and shall send a copy of that notification to the relevant planning authority' are omitted;

58 (4) in reg 12 (procedure to facilitate preparation of environmental statements: see PARA 500 ante), for the words '7(4)(a), or 8(4) or 9(5)' in reg 12(3)(b) there is substituted '8(4)' and in reg 12(4) the words 'the relevant planning authority and' are omitted;

59 (5) in reg 14(2) (publicity where an environmental statement is submitted after the planning application: see PARA 502 ante), in reg 14(2)(a) the words 'and the name and address of the relevant planning authority' are omitted; and for reg 14(2)(b) there is substituted: '(b) the date on which the application was made and that it has been made to the Secretary of State or the Assembly under the Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 11 (as amended)';

60 (6) in the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 16 (procedure where an environmental statement is submitted to the Secretary of State or the Assembly: see PARA 504 ante), in reg 16(2) the words 'who shall send one copy to the relevant planning authority' are omitted;

- 61 (7) in reg 19(3) (further information and evidence respecting environmental statements: see PARA 506 ante), in reg 19(3)(a) the words 'and the name and address of the relevant planning authority' are omitted and for reg 19(3)(b) there is substituted '(b) the date on which the application was made and that it has been made to the Secretary of State or the Assembly under the Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 11 (as amended)';
- 62 (8) reg 20 (availability of opinions, directions etc for inspection: see PARA 507 ante) and reg 21(2) (duties to inform the public and the Secretary of State or the Assembly of final decisions: see PARA 508 ante) apply as if the references to a 'relevant planning authority' were references to a mineral planning authority.

745 ROMP application by a mineral planning authority

NOTE 9--SI 1999/293 reg 12(3)(b) amended in relation to England: SI 2008/2093. SI 1999/293 reg 26A(28) amended in relation to Wales: SI 2008/2335.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/ (v) Control of Uses relating to Minerals/A. PERIODIC REVIEWS BY MINERAL PLANNING AUTHORITIES/746. Duty to carry out periodic reviews.

(v) Control of Uses relating to Minerals

A. PERIODIC REVIEWS BY MINERAL PLANNING AUTHORITIES

746. Duty to carry out periodic reviews.

The mineral planning authority¹ must² cause periodic reviews to be carried out of the mineral permissions³ relating to a mining site⁴. For these purposes, 'mining site' means:

- 3028 (1) in a case where it appears to the mineral planning authority to be expedient to treat as a single site the aggregate of the land⁵ to which any two or more mineral permissions relate, the aggregate of the land to which those permissions relate⁶; and
- 3029 (2) in any other case, the land to which a mineral permission relates⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'mineral planning authority' see PARA 29 ante (definition applied by the Environment Act 1995 s 96(1), Sch 14 para 2(1) (amended by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) (Scotland) Act 1997 s 3, Sch 1 Pt III)).

2 In accordance with the provisions of the Environment Act 1995 s 96(1), Sch 14 (as amended): see PARA 747 et seq post.

3 For these purposes, 'mineral permission' means any planning permission, other than a planning permission granted by a development order, for minerals development: ibid Sch 14 para 2(1). For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante; and for the meaning of 'development order' see PARA 252 ante.

4 Ibid Sch 14 para 1.

5 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante (definition applied by virtue of ibid s 96(2) (as amended)).

6 In determining whether it appears to the authority to be expedient to treat as a single site the aggregate of the land to which two or more mineral permissions relate, a mineral planning authority must have regard to any guidance issued for the purpose by the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales: ibid Sch 14 para 2(2). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante; as to the transfer of functions under the Environment Act 1995 Sch 14 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

Any reference (however expressed) in the Environment Act 1995 Sch 14 (as amended) to a mining site being a site to which relates (1) an old mining permission; or (2) a mineral permission, is a reference to the mining site, or some part of it, being the land to which the permission relates: Sch 14 para 2(3). 'Old mining permission' has the meaning given by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 22(1) (see PARA 718 ante): Environment Act 1995 Sch 14 para 2(1) (as amended: see note 1 supra).

7 Ibid Sch 14 para 2(1). For policy guidance on periodic reviews see MPG14--Environment Act 1995, Review of Mineral Planning Permissions; as to the use of modification and discontinuance orders to update the conditions in a mineral permission between periodic reviews see MPG4--Revocation, Modification, Discontinuance, Prohibition and Suspension Orders; and as to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante. As to discontinuance orders etc see PARA 756 et seq post; and as to compensation see PARA 925 et seq post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/ (v) Control of Uses relating to Minerals/A. PERIODIC REVIEWS BY MINERAL PLANNING AUTHORITIES/747. The first review date.

747. The first review date.

The 'first review date' in relation to a mining site¹ is, subject to the specified exceptions², to be ascertained in accordance with the following provisions³. In a case where the mineral permissions⁴ relating to a mining site include an old mining permission⁵, the first review date means⁶:

- 3030 (1) the date falling 15 years after the date upon which, pursuant to an application made⁷ under the relevant provisions of the Planning and Compensation Act 1991⁸, the conditions to which that old mining permission is to be subject are finally determined⁹; or
- 3031 (2) where there are two or more old mining permissions relating to that site, and the date upon which those conditions are finally determined is not the same date for each of those permissions, the date falling 15 years after the date upon which was made the last such final determination to be so made in respect of any of those permissions¹⁰.

In the case of a mining site which is a Phase I or II Phase II site¹¹, the first review date means¹² the date falling 15 years after the date upon which, pursuant to an application made under the relevant provisions of the Environment Act 1995¹³, there is determined¹⁴ the conditions to which the relevant planning permissions¹⁵ relating to the site are to be subject¹⁶.

Subject to the following provisions¹⁷, in the case of a mining site which is not a Phase I or Phase II site and to which no old mining permission relates, the first review date is the date falling 15 years after the date upon which was granted the most recent mineral permission which relates to the site¹⁸; but where, in the case of such a mining site, the most recent mineral permission relating to that site relates, or the most recent such permissions, whether or not granted on the same date, between them relate, to part only of the site, and in the opinion of the mineral planning authority it is expedient, for the purpose of ascertaining¹⁹ the first review date in respect of that site, to treat that permission or those permissions as having been granted at the same time as the last of the other mineral permissions relating to the site²⁰, the first review date for that site is to be ascertained accordingly²¹.

In the case of a mining site:

- 3032 (a) to which relates a mineral permission in respect of which an order has been made revoking or modifying planning permission²²; or
- 3033 (b) in respect of which, or any part of which, a discontinuance order²³ has been made, the first review date is the date falling 15 years after the date upon which the order took effect or, in a case where there is more than one such order, upon which the last of those orders to take effect took effect²⁴.

In the case of a mining site for which the above provisions have effect to specify two or more different dates as the first review date, the first review date is the latest of those dates²⁵.

The Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales may by order²⁶ specify a first review date different from the first review date found in pursuance of heads (1) and (2) above²⁷ or in pursuance of the provisions relating to Phase I or II Phase II sites²⁸ set out above²⁹. Further, if no first review date is found in pursuance of those heads or of those provisions³⁰, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may by order³¹ specify a first review date³².

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/ (v) Control of Uses relating to Minerals/A. PERIODIC REVIEWS BY MINERAL PLANNING AUTHORITIES/748. Service of notice of first periodic review.

748. Service of notice of first periodic review.

The mineral planning authority¹ must, in connection with the first periodic review of the mineral permissions² relating to a mining site³, no later than 12 months before the first review date⁴, serve notice upon each person appearing to the authority to be the owner⁵ of any land⁶, or entitled to an interest in any mineral, included in that site⁷. A notice so required to be served must:

- 3034 (1) specify the mining site to which it relates;
- 3035 (2) identify the mineral permissions relating to that site;
- 3036 (3) state the first review date;
- 3037 (4) state that the first review date is the date by which an application must be made for approval of the conditions to which the mineral permissions relating to the site are to be subject and explain the consequences which will occur if no such application is made by that date; and
- 3038 (5) explain the right to apply for postponement of the first review date and give the date by which such an application has to be made⁸.

Where, in relation to any land or mineral included in a mining site, the mineral planning authority has so served notice on any person and has received no application⁹ from that person by the date falling eight weeks before the first review date, the authority must serve a written reminder on that person¹⁰. A reminder so required to be served must:

- 3039 (a) indicate that the land or mineral in question is included in a mining site;
- 3040 (b) comply with the requirements of heads (1) to (4) above; and
- 3041 (c) be served on the person in question on or before the date falling four weeks before the first review date¹¹.

The requirement to service notice set out above does not require the mineral planning authority to serve such notice upon any person whose identity or address for service is not known to and cannot practicably, after reasonable inquiry, be ascertained by the authority, but in any such case the authority must cause to be firmly affixed, to each of one or more conspicuous objects on the land¹² or, as the case may be, on the surface of the land above the interest in question, a copy of the notice which it would otherwise have had to serve on the owner of that land or interest¹³. If, in such a case, no person makes an application¹⁴ to the authority in respect of the mining site which includes the land or interest in question by the date falling eight weeks before the first review date, the authority must cause to be firmly affixed, to each of one or more conspicuous objects on the land or, as the case may be, on the surface of the land above the interest in question, a copy of the written reminder that would otherwise have been served¹⁵.

2 For the meaning of 'mineral permission' see PARA 746 note 3 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'mining site' see PARA 746 ante; and as to the construction of references to a mining site being a site to which an old mining permission or a mineral permission relates see PARA 746 note 6 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'first review date' see PARA 747 ante.

5 For these purposes, 'owner', in relation to any land, means any person who is the estate owner in respect of the fee simple, or is entitled to a tenancy granted or extended for a term of years certain of which not less than seven years remains unexpired: Environment Act 1995 s 96(1), Sch 14 para 2(1) (definition amended by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) (Scotland) Act 1997 s 3, Sch 1 Pt III).

10 Ibid Sch 14 para 4(3).

11 Ibid Sch 14 para 4(4).

12 In ibid Sch 14 para 4(5), (6), any reference to a conspicuous object on any land includes, in a case where the person serving a notice considers that there are no or insufficient such objects on the land, a reference to a post driven into or erected upon the land by the person serving the notice for the purpose of having affixed to it a copy of the notice in question: Sch 14 para 4(8).

13 Ibid Sch 14 para 4(5). Where by Sch 14 para 4(5) or (6) a copy of any notice is required to be affixed to an object on any land that copy must: (1) be displayed in such a way as to be easily visible and legible; (2) be first displayed (a) in a case where the requirement arises under Sch 14 para 4(5), no later than 12 months before the first review date; or (b) in a case where the requirement arises under Sch 14 para 4(6), no later than the date falling four weeks before the first review date; and (3) be left in position for at least the period of 21 days from the date when it is first displayed, but where the notice is, without fault or intention of the authority, removed, obscured or defaced before that period has elapsed, that requirement is to be treated as having been complied with if the authority has taken reasonable steps for protection of the notice and, if need be, its replacement: Sch 14 para 4(7).

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/ (v) Control of Uses relating to Minerals/A. PERIODIC REVIEWS BY MINERAL PLANNING AUTHORITIES/749. Application for postponement of the first review date.

749. Application for postponement of the first review date.

Any person who is the owner¹ of any land², or of any interest in any mineral, comprised in a mining site³ may, no later than the day upon which expires the period of three months from the day upon which notice was served upon him of the first periodic review⁴, apply to the mineral planning authority⁵ for the postponement of the first review date⁶. Such an application must be in writing⁷ and must set out:

3042 (1) the conditions to which each mineral permission⁸ relating to the site⁹ is subject;

3043 (2) the applicant's reasons for considering those conditions to be satisfactory; and 3044 (3) the date which the applicant wishes to have substituted for the first review date¹⁰.

Where the mineral planning authority receives an application so made it must, if it considers the conditions referred to in head (1) above to be satisfactory, agree to the first review date being postponed in which event it must determine the date to be substituted for that date¹¹. In any other case it must refuse the application¹².

When a mineral planning authority determines such an application, it must notify the applicant in writing¹³ of its decision and, in a case where it has agreed to the postponement of the first review date, must notify the applicant of the date which it has determined should be substituted for the first review date¹⁴. Where, within the period of three months of the mineral planning authority having received such an application, or within such extended period as may at any time be agreed upon in writing¹⁵ between the applicant and the authority, the authority has not given notice under the above provision to the applicant of its decision upon the application, the authority is treated as having, at the end of that period or, as the case may be, that extended period:

- 3045 (a) agreed to the first review date being postponed; and
- 3046 (b) determined that the date referred to in head (3) above be substituted for the first review date¹⁶.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/ (v) Control of Uses relating to Minerals/A. PERIODIC REVIEWS BY MINERAL PLANNING AUTHORITIES/750. Application to determine conditions to which mineral permissions relating to a mining site are to be subject.

750. Application to determine conditions to which mineral permissions relating to a mining site are to be subject.

Any person who is the owner¹ of any land², or who is entitled to an interest in a mineral, may, if that land or mineral is or forms part of a mining site³, apply to the mineral planning authority⁴ to determine the conditions to which the mineral permissions relating to that site⁵ are to be subject⁶. Such an application must be in writing⁷ and must:

- 3047 (1) identify the mining site in respect of which the application is made and state that the application is made in connection with the first periodic review of the mineral permissions relating to that site;
- 3048 (2) specify the land or minerals comprised in the site of which the applicant is the owner or, as the case may be, in which the applicant is entitled to an interest;
- 3049 (3) identify the mineral permissions relating to the site;
- 3050 (4) identify, and give an address (which must be a postal address)⁸ for, each other person that the applicant knows or, after reasonable inquiry, has cause to believe to be an owner of any land, or entitled to any interest in any mineral, comprised in the site;
- 3051 (5) set out the conditions to which the applicant proposes the permissions referred to in head (3) above should be subject; and
- 3052 (6) be accompanied by the appropriate certificate⁹.

Where the mineral planning authority receives such an application in relation to a mining site it must determine the conditions to which each mineral permission relating to the site is to be subject¹⁰. The conditions imposed by virtue of such a determination:

- 3053 (a) may include any conditions which may be imposed on a grant of planning permission¹¹ for minerals development¹²;
- 3054 (b) may be in addition to, or in substitution for, any existing conditions to which the permission in question is subject¹³.

Where, within the period of three months of the mineral planning authority having received an application under these provisions, or within such extended period as may at any time be agreed upon in writing¹⁴ between the applicant and the authority, the authority has not given notice to the applicant of its decision upon the application, the authority is to be treated as having at the end of that period or, as the case may be, that extended period, determined that the conditions to which any mineral permission to which the application relates is to be subject are those specified in the application as being proposed in relation to that permission; and any such permission has effect, from that time, effect subject to those conditions¹⁵. Where, however, a mineral planning authority, having received such an application, is of the opinion that it is unable to determine the application unless further details are supplied to it, it must within the period of one month from having received the application give notice to the applicant stating that it is of such opinion and specifying the further details which it requires¹⁶. Where the authority so serves such a notice the period of three months referred to above runs not from the authority having received the application but from the time when the authority has received all the further details specified in the notice¹⁷.

Where on an application under the above provisions the mineral planning authority determines conditions that differ in any respect from the proposed conditions set out in the application, the applicant may appeal to the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁸. Such an appeal must be made by giving notice of appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, before the end of the period of six months beginning with the determination, on a form supplied by or on behalf of him or of it for use for that purpose, and giving, so far as reasonably practicable, the information required by that form¹⁹.

If an assessment of environmental impact may be required²⁰ the deeming provision set out above²¹ does not have effect to treat the authority as having determined the conditions to which any relevant planning permission is to be subject unless either the mineral planning authority has adopted a screening opinion²² or the Secretary of State or the Assembly has made a screening direction²³ to the effect that the ROMP development²⁴ in question is not EIA development²⁵.

Where an application has been made under the above provisions in respect of a mining site, each of the mineral permissions relating to the site has effect, from the time when the application is finally determined²⁶, subject to the conditions to which it is determined²⁷ that that permission is to be subject²⁸.

752. Reference of applications to the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may give directions requiring applications to determine the conditions to which mineral permissions relating to a mining site are to be subject³ made to any mineral planning authority⁴ to be referred to him or to the Assembly for determination instead of being dealt with by the authority⁵. Such a direction may relate either to a particular application or to applications of a class specified in the direction⁶.

Where an application is referred to the Secretary of State or the Assembly in accordance with such a direction, the relevant statutory provisions⁷ apply, with any necessary modifications, to his or its determination of the application as they apply to the determination of applications by the mineral planning authority⁸; but before determining the application the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, if either the applicant or the mineral planning authority so wishes, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before and being heard by a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose⁹. The decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on the application is final¹⁰.

Where a mineral planning authority¹ has received from any person a duly made application for postponement of the first review date or for determination of the conditions to which mineral permissions relating to a mining site are to be subject², that person may not make any further application under the provision in question in respect of the same site and, if the application has been determined, whether or not in the case of an application for determination of conditions it has been finally determined³, no other person may make an application under the provision in question in respect of the same site⁴.

Where a mineral planning authority has received from any person in respect of a mineral site a duly made application such as is referred to above⁵ and the authority receives from another person a duly made application under the provision in question in respect of the same site, then for the purpose of the determination of the applications and any appeal against such a determination, the relevant statutory provisions⁶ have effect as if the applications were a single application received by the authority on the date on which the later application was received by the authority and references to the applicant are to be read as references to either or any of the applicants⁷.

For these purposes, in relation to a mining site, but subject to the right to apply for its postponement⁸, 'review date' means:

- 3055 (1) in the case of the second periodic review, the date falling 15 years after the date upon which an application for the determination of conditions⁹ was finally determined¹⁰ in respect of the site; and
- 3056 (2) in the case of subsequent periodic reviews, the date falling 15 years after the date upon which there was last finally determined¹¹ such an application made in respect of that site¹² as is referred to above¹³.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/ (v) Control of Uses relating to Minerals/A. PERIODIC REVIEWS BY MINERAL PLANNING AUTHORITIES/755. Compensation.

755. Compensation.

The following provisions apply where:

- 3057 (1) an application made¹ in respect of a mining site² is finally determined³; and
- 3058 (2) the conditions to which the mineral permissions⁴ relating to the site⁵ are to be subject, as determined under the relevant statutory provisions⁶, differ in any respect from the proposed conditions set out in the application; and
- 3059 (3) the effect of the new conditions⁷, except in so far as they are restoration or aftercare conditions⁸, as compared with the effect of the existing conditions⁹, except in so far as they were restoration or aftercare conditions, is to restrict working rights in respect of the site¹⁰.

In such a case, the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 relating to compensation¹¹ and statutory undertakers¹² have effect¹³ as if an order revoking or modifying planning permission¹⁴ had been confirmed¹⁵ by the Secretary of State¹⁶ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales¹⁷ at the time when the application in question was finally determined and, as so confirmed, had effect to modify those permissions to the specified¹⁸ extent¹⁹. For these purposes, the order which is so treated as having been made under the 1990 Act²⁰ is one whose only effect adverse to the interests of any person having an interest in the land or minerals comprised in the mineral site is to restrict working rights in respect of the site to the same extent as the relevant restriction²¹.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(1) MINERAL WORKING/ (v) Control of Uses relating to Minerals/B. DISCONTINUANCE ORDERS/757. Orders requiring discontinuance of mineral working etc.

757. Orders requiring discontinuance of mineral working etc.

If, having regard to the development plan¹ and to any other material considerations, it appears to a mineral planning authority² that it is expedient in the interests of the proper planning of its area, including the interests of amenity³:

- 3060 (1) that any use⁴ of land⁵ for development⁶ consisting of the winning and working of minerals⁷ or the depositing of refuse or waste materials should be discontinued or that any conditions should be imposed on the continuance of the winning and working or the depositing;
- 3061 (2) that any building or works⁸ on land so used should be altered or removed; or
- 3062 (3) that any plant or machinery used for the winning and working or the depositing should be altered or removed, the mineral planning authority may by order require the discontinuance of that use, or impose such conditions as may be specified in the order on the continuance of it or, as the case may be, require such steps as may be so specified to be taken for the alteration or removal of the buildings or works or plant or machinery⁹.

Such an order may impose a restoration condition¹⁰; and, if such an order includes a restoration condition, or a restoration condition has previously been imposed in relation to the land¹¹, the order may also include any such aftercare condition¹² as the mineral planning authority thinks fit¹³.

In a case where:

- 3063 (a) the use specified in the aftercare condition is a use for agriculture¹⁴;
- 3064 (b) the land was in use for agriculture before the development began, or had previously been used for agriculture and had not been used for any authorised purpose since its use for agriculture ceased; and
- 3065 (c) the Secretary of State¹⁵ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁶ has notified the mineral planning authority of the physical characteristics of the land when it was last used for agriculture, the land is brought to the required standard when its physical characteristics are restored, so far as it is practicable to do so, to what they were when it was last used for agriculture¹⁷; and, in any other case, where the use specified in the aftercare condition is a use for agriculture, the land is brought to the required standard when it is reasonably fit for that use¹⁸.

2 For these purposes, any reference to a mineral planning authority is to be construed, in relation to the exercise of functions with respect to the depositing of refuse or waste materials, other than mineral waste, as a reference to the authority entitled to discharge such functions: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 102(8) (as amended), Sch 9 para 12 (added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 21, Sch 1 paras 1, 15(14)).

C. PROHIBITION ORDERS

759. Prohibition of resumption of mineral working etc.

Where it appears to the mineral planning authority¹ that development² of land³ consisting of the winning and working of minerals⁴ or involving the depositing of mineral waste⁵ has occurred, but the winning and working or depositing has permanently ceased⁶, the mineral planning authority may by order:

- 3066 (1) prohibit the resumption of the winning and working or the depositing; and
- 3067 (2) impose, in relation to the site, any specified⁷ requirement⁸.

The specified requirements are:

- 3068 (a) a requirement to alter or remove plant or machinery which was used for the purpose of the winning and working or the depositing or for any purpose ancillary to that purpose;
- 3069 (b) a requirement to take such steps as may be specified in the order, within such period as may be so specified, for the purpose of removing or alleviating any injury to amenity⁹ which has been caused by the winning and working or depositing, other than injury due to subsidence caused by underground mining operations;
- 3070 (c) a requirement that any condition subject to which planning permission¹⁰ for the development was granted or which has been imposed¹¹ shall be complied with; and
- 3071 (d) a restoration condition¹².

If such an order includes a restoration condition, or a restoration condition has previously been imposed¹³ in relation to the site, the order may include any such aftercare condition¹⁴ as the mineral planning authority thinks fit¹⁵.

760. Procedure for making orders; objections.

Where a mineral planning authority¹ submits a prohibition order² to the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁴ for his or its confirmation⁵, it must serve notice of the order on:

- 3072 (1) any person who is an owner⁶ or occupier of any of the land⁷ to which the order relates; and
- 3073 (2) any other person who in the opinion of the authority will be affected by the order⁸.

The notice must specify the period, not being less than 28 days from the service of the order, within which any person on whom it is served may require the Secretary of State or the Assembly to give him an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose⁹; and, if within that period such a person so requires, before the Secretary of State or the Assembly confirms the order he or it must give such an opportunity both to that person and to the mineral planning authority¹⁰.

Where such an order has been confirmed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, the mineral planning authority⁵ must serve a copy of the order on every person who was entitled⁶ to be served with notice of its submission to the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁷.

Where such an order takes effect, any planning permission⁸ for the development⁹ to which the order relates ceases to have effect¹⁰; but this provision is without prejudice to the power of the mineral planning authority, on revoking the order, to make a further grant of planning permission for development consisting of the winning and working of minerals¹¹ or involving the depositing of mineral waste¹².

762. Suspension orders.

Where it appears to the mineral planning authority¹ that development² of land³ consisting of the winning and working of minerals⁴ or involving the depositing of mineral waste⁵ has occurred, but the winning and working or depositing has been temporarily suspended⁶, the mineral planning authority may by order (a 'suspension order') require that steps be taken for the protection of the environment⁷.

A suspension order must specify a period, commencing with the date on which it is to take effect, within which any required step for the protection of the environment is to be taken and may specify different periods for the taking of different steps⁸.

For these purposes, 'steps for the protection of the environment' means steps for the purpose (1) of preserving the amenities of the area in which the land in, on or under which the development was carried out is situated during the period while the winning and working or the depositing is suspended; (2) of protecting that area from damage during that period; or (3) of preventing any deterioration in the condition of the land during that period: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 9 para 5(4) (substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 1 paras 1, 15(9)). 764. Confirmation, coming into effect and registration of orders.

A suspension order¹ or a supplementary suspension order² does not take effect unless it is confirmed by the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁴ either without modification or subject to such modifications as he or it considers expedient⁵; and the statutory provisions relating to notice and objections⁶ have effect in relation to such an order submitted to the Secretary of State or the Assembly for confirmation as they have effect in relation to a prohibition order⁷ so submitted⁸ to him or to it⁹. A supplementary suspension order revoking a suspension order or a previous supplementary suspension order and not requiring that any fresh step be taken for the protection of the environment¹⁰ takes effect without confirmation¹¹.

Where a suspension order or supplementary suspension order has been confirmed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, the mineral planning authority¹² must serve a copy of the order on every person who was entitled¹³ to be served with notice of the order¹⁴.

765. Review of suspension orders and supplementary suspension orders.

It is the duty of a mineral planning authority¹:

- 3076 (1) to undertake, in accordance with the following provisions, reviews of suspension orders² and supplementary suspension orders³ which are in operation in its area; and 3077 (2) to determine whether the authority should make, in relation to any land⁴ to which a suspension order or supplementary suspension order applies, a prohibition order⁵ or a supplementary suspension order⁶.

The first review of a suspension order must be undertaken not more than five years from the date on which the order takes effect⁷; and each subsequent review must be undertaken not more than five years after the previous review⁸. If a supplementary suspension order is in operation for any part of the area for which a suspension order is in operation, they must be reviewed together⁹.

If a mineral planning authority has made a supplementary suspension order which requires the taking of steps for the protection of the environment¹⁰ in substitution for all the steps required to be taken by a previous suspension order or supplementary suspension order, the authority must undertake reviews of the supplementary suspension order in accordance with the following provisions¹¹:

3078 (a) the first review must be undertaken not more than five years from the date on which the order takes effect¹²; and 3079 (b) each subsequent review must be undertaken not more than five years after the previous review¹³.

The duties so imposed to undertake reviews are in addition to, and not in substitution for, the duties otherwise¹⁴ imposed¹⁵.

Nothing in a suspension order¹ or a supplementary suspension order² prevents the recommencement of development³ consisting of the winning and working of minerals⁴ or involving the depositing of mineral waste⁵ at the site in relation to which the order has effect⁶; but no person may recommence such development without first giving the mineral planning authority⁷ notice of his intention to do so⁸. A notice so given must specify the date on which the person giving the notice intends to recommence the development⁹.

The mineral planning authority must revoke the order if the winning and working of minerals or the depositing of mineral waste has recommenced to a substantial extent at the site in relation to which the order has effect¹⁰; and, if the authority does not revoke the order before the end of the period of two months from the date specified in the notice¹¹, the person who gave that notice may apply to the Secretary of State¹² or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹³ for the revocation of the order¹⁴.

If he or it is required to do so by the person who gave the notice or by the mineral planning authority, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, before deciding whether to revoke the order, give him and the mineral planning authority an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose¹⁵.

If the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied that the winning and working of minerals or the depositing of mineral waste has recommenced to a substantial extent at the site in relation to which the order has effect, he or it must revoke the order¹⁶; and, if he or the Assembly so revokes an order, he or the Assembly must give notice of its revocation to the person who applied to him or to the Assembly for the revocation and to the mineral planning authority¹⁷.

Default powers of the Secretary of State or the Assembly in relation to discontinuance, prohibition and suspension orders.

E. DEFAULT POWERS

767. Default powers of the Secretary of State or the Assembly in relation to discontinuance, prohibition and suspension orders.

If it appears to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² to be expedient that any discontinuance order³, prohibition order⁴, suspension order⁵ or supplementary suspension order⁶ should be made, he or it may himself or itself make such an order⁷; and such an order which is so made has the same effect as if it had been made by the mineral planning authority⁸ and confirmed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁹. The Secretary of State or Assembly may not, however, make such an order without consulting¹⁰ the mineral planning authority¹¹.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly proposes to make a discontinuance order¹², he or it must serve a notice of the proposal on the mineral planning authority¹³. The notice must specify the period, not being less than 28 days from the date of its service, within which the authority may require an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose¹⁴; and, if within that period the authority so requires, before the Secretary of State or the Assembly makes the order, he or it must give the authority such an opportunity¹⁵.

The statutory provisions¹⁶ relating to the procedure to be followed in connection with the submission by the mineral planning authority of any order¹⁷, its confirmation by the Secretary of State or the Assembly and the service of copies of it as confirmed have effect, subject to any necessary modifications, in relation to any proposal by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to make such an order, its making and the service of copies of it¹⁸.

F. ENFORCEMENT

768. Enforcement of discontinuance, prohibition and suspension orders; in general.

A person who contravenes a discontinuance, prohibition or suspension order¹ is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction on indictment to a fine or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum².

Where steps required by such an order have not been taken within the specified period, the mineral planning authority³ may enter the land⁴ and take the required step⁵.

These provisions have already been discussed in more detail in the general context of enforcement⁶.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/(i) In general/769. Regulations controlling display of advertisements.

(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS

(i) In general

769. Regulations controlling display of advertisements.

Regulations¹ must make provision for restricting or regulating the display of advertisements² so far as it appears to the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁴ to be expedient in the interests of amenity⁵ or public safety⁶. Without prejudice to the generality of the above, any such regulations may provide for:

- 3080 (1) regulating the dimensions, appearance and position of advertisements which may be displayed, the sites on which advertisements may be displayed and the manner in which they are to be affixed to the land⁷;
- 3081 (2) requiring the consent of the local planning authority to be obtained for the display of advertisements, or of advertisements of any class specified in the regulations;
- 3082 (3) applying, in relation to any such consent and to applications for such consent, any of the specified provisions⁸, subject to such adaptations and modifications as may be specified in the regulations;
- 3083 (4) the constitution, for the purposes of the regulations, of such advisory committees as may be prescribed⁹ by the regulations, and for determining the manner in which the expenses of any such committee are to be defrayed¹⁰.

The regulations may also make provision as to:

- 3084 (a) the form and manner in which an application for consent must be made;
- 3085 (b) particulars of such matters as are to be included in the application;
- 3086 (c) any documents or other materials which must accompany the application¹¹.

Regulations made for these purposes may¹² provide that any appeal from the decision of the local planning authority, on an application for its consent under the regulations, shall be to an independent tribunal constituted in accordance with the regulations, instead of being an appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹³. If any tribunal is so constituted, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may pay to the chairman and members of the tribunal such remuneration, whether by way of salaries or by way of fees, and such reasonable allowances in respect of expenses properly incurred in the performance of their duties, as he may with the consent of the Treasury, or as the Assembly may, determine¹⁴.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 220(1). In exercise of the power so conferred, and prior to the transfer of functions in Wales to the Assembly, the Secretary of State made the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666 (as amended) (see PARA 770 et seq post), which came into force on 6 April 1992: reg 1. Despite the existence of a parallel regulatory regime for granting consent for the display of advertisements under the 1992 Regulations, signage of premises is also a relevant consideration in determining an application for planning permission under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt III (ss 55-106B) (as amended): see Entertainu Ltd v First Secretary of State (No 2) [2004] EWHC 2566 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 362 (Oct).

In England, the functions of local planning authorities under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 220 (as amended) are exercisable by district planning authorities: s 1(5)(c) (as amended), Sch 1 para 14. Schedule 1 para 14 does not, however, apply in Greater London: Sch 1 para 21(1). Nor does it apply if the application relates to land in a National Park: see Sch 1 para 4(2) (as amended); and PARA 39 ante. For the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 2 note 1 ante; as to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante; and as to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29. 7 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

8 The provisions so specified are: (1) the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt III (ss 55-106B) (as amended) (see PARA 217 et seq ante) relating to planning permission and to applications for planning permission, except s 56 (as amended) (see PARA 221 ante), s 65 (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 468 ante), s 69(3), (4) (as substituted) (see PARA 466 ante), s 71 (as amended) (see PARA 473 ante), ss 91-96 (as amended) (see PARAS 519, 537 et seq ante), s 100 (as amended) (see PARA 544 ante), s 101 (as amended) (see PARA 704 ante) and s 101(4), Sch 8 (as amended) (see PARA 705 et seq post); (2) ss 137-141 (as amended) (see PARA 966 et seq post), s 143 (see PARA 974 post), s 144 (as amended) (see PARA 977 post), except so far as they relate to purchase notices served in consequence of such orders as are mentioned in s 137(1)(b), (c) (see PARA 966 post); (3) s 316 (as substituted) (see PARA 891 post): s 220(3) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 ss 31, 32, 84(6), Sch 6 paras 8, 21, Sch 7 paras 8, 37, Sch 19 Pts I, II). Until a day to be appointed under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 121, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 62 (as prospectively substituted) (see PARA 448 ante) is also included in the exceptions listed in head (1) supra: s 220(3)(a) (as so amended; further amended by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 120, Sch 9, partly as from a day to be appointed: see PARA 4 ante). 770. Meaning of 'advertisement'.

'Advertisement' means¹, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, any word², letter, model, sign³, placard, board, notice, awning, blind, device or representation, whether illuminated or not, in the nature of, and employed wholly or partly for the purposes of, advertisement, announcement or direction⁴. This includes⁵ any hoarding or similar structure⁶ used or designed, or adapted for use and anything else principally used, or designed or adapted principally for use, for the display of advertisements, and references to the display of advertisements are to be construed accordingly⁷. For the purposes of the relevant regulations⁸, however, 'advertisement' does not include anything employed wholly as a memorial or as a railway signal⁹.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/(i) In general/771. Power to make different advertisement regulations for different areas.

771. Power to make different advertisement regulations for different areas.

Regulations controlling the display of advertisements¹ may make different provision with respect to different areas, and in particular may make special provision with respect to:

- 3087 (1) conservation areas²;
- 3088 (2) areas defined for the purposes of the regulations as experimental areas³,
and
- 3089 (3) areas defined for the purposes of the regulations as areas of special control⁴.

The regulations may⁵ prohibit the display in an area of special control of all advertisements except advertisements of such classes, if any, as may be prescribed⁶.

1 The regulations made for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 220 (as amended): see PARA 769 ante. For the meaning of 'advertisement' see PARA 770 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'conservation area' see PARA 1169 post. 3 An area may be so defined as an experimental area for a prescribed period for the purpose of assessing the effect on amenity or public safety of advertisements of a prescribed description: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 221(2). For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 16 note 5 ante; and as to the meaning of 'amenity' for these purposes see PARA 769 note 5 ante.

4 Ibid s 221(1). An area may be so defined as an area of special control if it is (1) a rural area; or (2) an area which appears to the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales to require special protection on grounds of amenity: s 221(3). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante; as to the transfer of functions under s 221 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. In exercise of the power so conferred, and prior to the transfer of functions in Wales to the Assembly, the Secretary of State made the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, regs 18, 19, Sch 5: see PARAS 826-828 post. As to the making of regulations generally see PARA 3 ante.

In England, the functions of local planning authorities under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 221 (as amended) are exercisable by district planning authorities: see s 1(5)(c) (as amended), Sch 1 para 14. Schedule 1 para 14 does not, however, apply in Greater London: Sch 1 para 21(1). For the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 2 note 1 ante; as to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante; and as to Greater London see LONDON

6 Ibid s 221(4). Areas of special control for the purposes of regulations under s 221 (as amended) may be defined by means of orders made or approved by the Secretary of State or the Assembly in accordance with the provisions of the regulations: s 221(5). Except in so far as may be provided by s 288 (as amended) (see PARA 47 ante), the validity of any order made in pursuance of s 221(5) may not be questioned in any legal proceedings whatsoever: see s 284(1)(e), (2)(d); and PARA 43 ante.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly is authorised by the regulations to make or approve any such order, the regulations must provide for (1) the publication of notice of the proposed order in such manner as may be prescribed; (2) the consideration of objections duly made to it; and (3) the holding of such inquiries or other hearings as may be prescribed, before the order is made or approved: s 221(6).

(ii) Control of Display

A. IN GENERAL

774. Application of control regulations.

The Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992¹ apply to the display on any site² in England or Wales of any advertisement³.

The provisions relating to deemed consent⁴ and express consent⁵ respectively do not apply to any advertisement falling within Class A to Class J⁶ provided the advertisement complies with any specified conditions and limitations⁷ and:

- 3092 (1) in the case of an advertisement falling within Class G⁸ it complies with certain⁹ of the standard conditions; and
- 3093 (2) in any other case, it complies with all the standard conditions¹⁰.

1 Ie the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666 (as amended): see PARA 770 ante; the text and notes 2-10 infra; and PARA 775 et seq post.

2 For these purposes, 'site' means any land or building, other than an advertisement, on which an advertisement is displayed: ibid reg 2(1). 'Site' means the parcel of land upon which an advertisement is displayed, rather than the specific position within that parcel of land: Barking and Dagenham London Borough Council v Mills & Allen Ltd [1997] 3 PLR 1, DC. For the meaning of 'advertisement' see PARA 770 ante.

775. Standard conditions.

The standard conditions are that:

- 3094 (1) any advertisements¹ displayed, and any site² used for the display of advertisements, must be maintained in a clean and tidy condition to the reasonable satisfaction of the local planning authority³;
- 3095 (2) any structure or hoarding erected or used principally for the purpose of displaying advertisements must be maintained in a safe condition⁴;
- 3096 (3) where an advertisement is required⁵ to be removed, the removal must be carried out to the reasonable satisfaction of the local planning authority⁶;
- 3097 (4) no advertisement may be displayed without the permission of the owner of the site or any other person with an interest in the site entitled to grant permission⁷;
- 3098 (5) no advertisement may be sited or displayed so as to obscure, or hinder the ready interpretation of, any road traffic sign, railway signal or aid to navigation by water or air, or so as otherwise to render hazardous the use of any highway, railway, waterway⁸, or aerodrome, civil or military⁹.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/ (ii) Control of Display/A. IN GENERAL/776. Powers to be exercised in the interests of amenity and public safety.

776. Powers to be exercised in the interests of amenity and public safety.

A local planning authority¹ must exercise its powers² only in the interests of amenity³ and public safety⁴, taking account of any material factors, and in particular:

3099 (1) in the case of amenity, of the general characteristics of the locality, including the presence of any feature of historic, architectural, cultural or similar interest, disregarding, if the authority thinks fit, any advertisement⁵ being displayed there;

3100 (2) in the case of public safety:

258. (a) the safety of any person who may use any road, railway, waterway⁶, dock, harbour or aerodrome;

259. (b) whether any display of advertisements is likely to obscure, or hinder the ready interpretation of, any road traffic sign, railway signal, or aid to navigation by water or air⁷.

In determining an application for consent for the display of advertisements⁸, or considering whether to make an order revoking or modifying a consent⁹, the local planning authority may have regard to any material change in circumstances likely to occur within the period for which the consent is required or granted¹⁰.

Unless it appears to a local planning authority to be required in the interests of amenity or public safety, an express consent¹¹ for the display of advertisements may not contain any limitation or restriction relating to the subject matter, content or design of what is to be displayed¹².

A consent for the display of advertisements takes effect as consent for the use of the site¹³ for the purposes of the display, whether by the erection of structures or otherwise, and for the benefit of any person interested in the site¹⁴.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/ (ii) Control of Display/A. IN GENERAL/777. Requirement for consent.

777. Requirement for consent.

No advertisement¹ may be displayed² without express³ consent or deemed⁴ consent⁵. This requirement for consent does not, however, apply to the display:

- 3101 (1) outside any area of special control⁶, of an advertisement falling within Class A to Class J⁷; or
- 3102 (2) within an area of special control, of such an advertisement as is mentioned in head (1) above, other than one falling within Class A⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'advertisement' see PARA 770 ante.

2 Ie except an advertisement displayed in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 5(2): see the text and notes 6-8 infra.

3 For these purposes, 'express consent' means consent granted by the local planning authority or by the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales on an application in that behalf (see PARA 817 post): ibid regs 2(1), 5(1). For the meaning of 'local planning authority' see PARA 775 note 3 ante; as to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante; as to transfer of town and country planning functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

4 For these purposes, 'deemed consent' means consent granted by the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 6 (see PARA 789 et seq post): regs 2(1), 5(1).

5 Ibid reg 5(1). CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/ (ii) Control of Display/B. EXCEPTIONS/779. Class A: balloons.

B. EXCEPTIONS

779. Class A: balloons.

The display of an advertisement¹ on or consisting of a balloon² not more than 60 metres above ground level does not require³ express consent⁴ or deemed consent⁵ provided that the following conditions and limitations are satisfied:

- 3103 (1) the site⁶ of the advertisement is not within an area of outstanding natural beauty⁷, a conservation area⁸, a National Park⁹, the Broads¹⁰ or an area of special control¹¹;
- 3104 (2) not more than one such advertisement may be displayed on the site at any one time;
- 3105 (3) the site may not be used for the display of advertisements on more than ten days in total in any calendar year¹².

1 For the meaning of 'advertisement' see PARA 770 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'balloon' means a tethered balloon or similar object: Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 2(1).

3 le provided that it complies with any conditions and limitations specified in ibid reg 3(2), Sch 2 (as amended) (see the text and notes 4-12 infra) and all the standard conditions. As to the standard conditions see PARA 775 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'express consent' see PARA 777 note 3 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'deemed consent' see PARA 777 note 4 ante.

6 For these purposes 'the site' means (1) in a case where the advertisement is being displayed by a person, other than the occupier of the land, who is using, or proposing to use, the land to which the balloon is attached for a particular activity, other than the display of advertisements, for a temporary period, the whole of the land used, or to be used, for that activity; or (2) in any other case, the land to which the balloon is attached and all land normally occupied together therewith: Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 3(2), Sch 2, Class A para 4. For the normal meaning of 'site' see PARA 774 note 2 ante.

Any reference to a person displaying an advertisement includes (a) the owner and occupier of the land on which the advertisement is displayed; (b) any person to whose goods, trade, business or other concerns publicity is given by the advertisement; and (c) the person who undertakes or maintains the display of an advertisement: reg 2(3). The normal meaning of references to the land, the building, the site or premises on which the advertisement is displayed does not apply for these purposes: see reg 2(4); and PARA 780 note 2 post.

7 For these purposes, 'area of outstanding natural beauty' means an area designated as such by an order made under the National Parks and Access to the Countryside Act 1949 s 87 (repealed) or the Countryside and Rights of Way Act 2000 s 82 (see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 658): Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 2(1) (definition amended by virtue of the Countryside and Rights of Way Act 2000 s 93, Sch 15 Pt II).

An advertisement¹ displayed on an article² for sale or on the container in, or from which, an article is sold does not require³ express consent⁴ or deemed consent⁵ provided that the following conditions and limitations are satisfied:

- 3106 (1) the advertisement refers only to the article for sale;

- 3107 (2) the advertisement may not be illuminated⁶; and 3108 (3) it may not exceed 0.1 square metre in area⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'advertisement' see PARA 770 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'article' includes a gas or liquid: Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 3(2), Sch 2, Class E para 4.

3 It is provided that it complies with any conditions and limitations specified in ibid Sch 2 (as amended) (see the text and notes 4-7 infra) and all the standard conditions. As to the standard conditions see PARA 775 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'express consent' see PARA 777 note 3 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'deemed consent' see PARA 777 note 4 ante.

6 For these purposes, 'illuminated advertisement' means an advertisement which is designed or adapted to be illuminated by artificial lighting, directly or by reflection, and which is so illuminated: Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 2(1).

790. Meaning of 'business premises' for the purposes of deemed consent.

'Business premises' means¹ any building or part of a building² normally used for the purpose of any professional, commercial or industrial undertaking, or for providing services to members of the public or of any association, and includes a public restaurant, licensed premises and a place of public entertainment, but not:

- 3119 (1) a building used as an institution of a religious, educational, cultural, recreational, or medical or similar character;
- 3120 (2) a building designed for use as one or more separate dwellings, unless it was normally used, immediately before 1 September 1949, for any such purpose or has been adapted for use for any such purpose by the construction of a shop front or the making of a material alteration of a similar kind to its external appearance;
- 3121 (3) any forecourt³ or other land forming part of the curtilage of a building;
- 3122 (4) any fence, wall or similar screen or structure, unless it forms part of the fabric of a building⁴.

1 le for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 6(1), (2), Sch 3 (as amended): see PARA 791 et seq post.

(B) CLASSES OF ADVERTISEMENTS FOR WHICH DEEMED CONSENT GRANTED

791. Class 1A: functional advertisements of local authorities, statutory undertakers and public transport undertakers.

Deemed consent¹ is granted² for an advertisement³ displayed wholly for the purpose of announcement or direction in relation to any of the functions of a local authority, or to the operation of a statutory undertaking⁴ or a public transport undertaking⁵, which:

- 3123 (1) is reasonably required to be displayed for the safe or efficient performance of those functions, or operation of that undertaking; and
- 3124 (2) cannot be displayed by virtue of any other specified Class⁶.

Illumination⁷ is not, however, permitted unless reasonably required for the purpose of the advertisement⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'deemed consent' see PARA 777 note 4 ante.

2 See under the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 6(1); see PARA 789 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'advertisement' see PARA 770 ante.

4 For these purposes, 'statutory undertaker' includes, in addition to any person mentioned in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 262(1) (see PARA 1009 post), the Civil Aviation Authority, a person who holds a licence under the Transport Act 2000 Pt I Ch I (ss 1-40) (as amended) (air traffic services: see AIR LAW vol 2 (2008) PARA 139 et seq), the British Airports Authority, the Coal Authority or any licensed operator within the meaning of the Coal Industry Act 1994 s 65(1), any gas transporter within the meaning of the Gas Act 1986 Pt I (ss 4AA-48) (as amended), any electricity supplier or distributor within the meaning of the Electricity Act 1989 Pt I (ss 3A-64) (as amended), any person who is a licence holder, or who has the benefit of a licence exemption, within the meaning of the Railways Act 1993 Pt I (ss 1-83) (as amended), a universal postal service provider in connection with the provision of a universal postal service, the Environment Agency, any water or sewerage undertaker and any electronic communications code operator; and, subject to the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 2(1A) (as added), statutory undertaking is to be interpreted accordingly: reg 2(1) (definition amended by the Environment Act 1995 s 120, Sch 22 para 233(1); by SI 1994/2351; SI 2001/1149; SI 2001/4050; SI 2003/2155; and by virtue of the Utilities Act 2000 ss 31(1), 76(7)). The undertaking of a universal postal service provider so far as relating to the provision of a universal postal service is to be taken to be his statutory undertaking for these purposes and references to his undertaking are to be construed accordingly: Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 2(1A) (added by SI 2001/1149). For these purposes, a person who holds a licence under the Transport Act 2000 Pt I Ch I (ss 1-40) (as amended) is not to be considered to be a statutory undertaker unless the person is carrying out activities authorised by the licence and the person's undertaking is not to be considered to be a statutory undertaking except to the extent that it is the person's undertaking as licence holder: Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 2(2B) (added by SI 2001/4050).

5 For these purposes, 'public transport undertaking' means an undertaking engaged in the carriage of passengers in a manner similar to that of a statutory undertaking: Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 6(2), Sch 3 Pt II para 1(1).

796. Class 3A: advertisements relating to sale or letting of property.

Deemed consent¹ is granted² for an advertisement³ relating to the sale or letting, for residential, agricultural, industrial or commercial use or for development for such use, of the land or premises on which it is displayed, provided that the following conditions and limitations are satisfied:

3139 (1) not more than one such advertisement, consisting of a single board or two joined boards⁴, is permitted and, where more than one such advertisement is displayed, the first to be displayed is taken to be the one permitted⁵;

3140 (2) no advertisement may be displayed indicating that land or premises have been sold or let, other than by the addition to an existing advertisement of a statement that a sale or letting has been agreed, or that the land or premises have been sold or let, subject to contract;

3141 (3) any such advertisement must be removed within 14 days after the sale is completed or a tenancy is granted;

3142 (4) no such advertisement may exceed in area:

260. (a) where the advertisement relates to residential use or development, 0.5 square metre or, in the case of two joined boards together, 0.6 square metre in aggregate; and

261. (b) where the advertisement relates to any other use or development, 2 square metres or, in the case of two joined boards together, 2.3 square metres in aggregate⁶;

3143 (5) where the advertisement is displayed on a building, the maximum projection permitted from the face of the building is 1 metre;

3144 (6) illumination⁷ is not permitted;

3145 (7) no character or symbol on the advertisement may be more than 0.75 metre in height, or 0.3 metre in an area of special control⁸;

3146 (8) no part of the advertisement may be higher above ground level⁹ than 4.6 metres, or 3.6 metres in an area of special control or, in the case of a sale or letting of part only of a building, the lowest level of that part of the building on which display is reasonably practicable¹⁰.

11 Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, Sch 3 Pt I, Class 4A para (11).

12 As to restrictions in area see PARA 793 note 4 ante.

13 In relation to advertisements within Class 4A or Class 4B (see PARA 803 post), 'halo illumination' means illumination from within built-up boxes comprising characters or symbols where the only source of light is directed through the back of the box onto an otherwise unilluminated backing panel: Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, Sch 3 Pt II para 3 (added by SI 1994/2351).

14 For these purposes, the permitted limits of luminance are for an illuminated area measuring not more than (1) 0.5 square metre, 1,000 candela per square metre; (2) 2 square metres, 800 candela per square metre; (3) 10 square metres, 600 candela per square metre; and (4) for any greater area, 400 candela per square metre; and, for the purposes of calculating the relevant area for the permitted limits (a) each advertisement, or in the case of a double-sided projecting advertisement, each side of the advertisement is to be taken separately; and (b) no unilluminated part of the advertisement is to be taken into account: Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, Sch 3 Pt II para 2(1), (2).

15 For the meaning of 'ground level' see PARA 793 note 7 ante.

803. Class 4B: illuminated advertisements on business premises other than those on premises within a retail park.

Deemed consent¹ is granted² for an illuminated advertisement³ displayed⁴ on business premises⁵ wholly with reference to any or all of the following matters, namely the business carried on, the goods sold or services provided, or the name or qualifications of the person carrying on the business, or supplying the goods or services, on those premises, provided that the following conditions and limitations are satisfied:

- 3194 (1) no such advertisement is permitted within a conservation area⁶, an area of outstanding natural beauty⁷, a National Park⁸, or the Broads⁹, but this does not preclude the continued display of an advertisement being displayed at the date of designation of the relevant area until the expiry of five years from that date¹⁰;
- 3195 (2) in the case of a shop, no such advertisement may be displayed except on a wall containing a shop window;
- 3196 (3) not more than one such advertisement parallel to a wall and one projecting at right angles from such a wall is permitted, and in the case of any projecting advertisement:
 - 289 271. (a) no surface may be greater than 0.75 square metre in area¹¹;
 - 272. (b) the advertisement may not project more than one metre from the wall or two thirds of the width of any footway or pavement below, whichever is the less;
 - 273. (c) it may not be more than 1 metre high; and
 - 274. (d) it may not project over any carriageway;
- 290 3197 (4) illumination may be:
 - 291 275. (a) by halo illumination¹²; or
 - 276. (b) so long as no part of the background of the advertisement is illuminated, by illumination of each character or symbol of the advertisement from within;
- 292 3198 (5) no such advertisement may include any intermittent light source, moving feature, exposed cold cathode tubing or animation;
- 3199 (6) where the method of illumination is that described in head (4)(b) above, the luminance of any such advertisement may not exceed the permitted limits¹³;
- 3200 (7) in the case of any such advertisement consisting of a built-up box containing the light source, the distance between:

277. (a) the face of the advertisement and any wall parallel to which it is displayed, at the point where it is affixed; or
278. (b) the two faces of an advertisement projecting from a wall,
- 294
- 3201 may not exceed 0.25 metre;
- 3202 (8) the lowest part of any such advertisement must be at least 2.5 metres above ground level¹⁴;
- 3203 (9) no surface of any advertisement may exceed one-sixth of the frontage on which it is displayed, measured up to a height of 4.6 metres from ground level or 0.2 of the frontage measured to the top of the advertisement, whichever is the less;
- 3204 (10) no character or symbol on the advertisement may be more than 0.75 metre in height;
- 3205 (11) no part of the advertisement may be higher above ground level than 4.6 metres or the bottom level of any first floor window in the wall on which the advertisement is displayed, whichever is the lower¹⁵.

807. Class 7B: flag advertisement attached to single vertical flagstaff erected on site where planning permission granted for residential development.

Deemed consent¹ is granted² for an advertisement³ in the form of a flag attached to a single vertical flagstaff erected on a site⁴ which forms part of an area of land in respect of which planning permission⁵ has been granted for development⁶ of which the only or principal component is residential development and on which:

- 3217 (1) operations for the construction of houses⁷ are in progress pursuant to that permission; or
- 3218 (2) such operations having been completed, at least one of the houses remains unsold, provided that the following conditions and limitations are satisfied:

- 3219 (a) no such advertisement is permitted within a conservation area⁸, an area of outstanding natural beauty⁹, a National Park¹⁰, the Broads¹¹ or an area of special control¹²;
- 3220 (b) the number of such advertisements on the land concerned¹³ may not exceed:

- 283. (i) where the aggregate number¹⁴ of houses on that land does not exceed 10, one;
- 284. (ii) where the aggregate number of houses on that land exceeds 10 but does not exceed 100, two;
- 285. (iii) where the aggregate number of houses on that land exceeds 100, three;

- 3221 (c) no part of the flagstaff may be more than 4.6 metres above ground level¹⁵;
 3222 (d) no flag may exceed 2 square metres in area¹⁶;
 3223 (e) no such advertisement may be displayed after the expiration of the period of one year commencing on the day on which building operations on the land concerned have been substantially completed¹⁷.

(C) RESTRICTIONS ON AND DISCONTINUANCE OF DEEMED CONSENT

815. Directions restricting deemed consent.

If the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² is satisfied, upon a proposal made to him or to it by the local planning authority³, that the display of advertisements⁴ of any specified class or description⁵ should not be undertaken in any particular area or in any particular case without express consent⁶, he or the Assembly may direct⁷ that the consent granted⁸ for that class or description shall not apply in that area or in that case, for a specified period or indefinitely⁹.

Before making any such direction, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must:

3258 (1) where the proposal relates to a particular area, publish, or cause to be published, in at least one newspaper circulating in the locality, and on the same or a subsequent date in the London Gazette, a notice that such a proposal has been made, naming a place or places in the locality where a map or maps defining the area concerned may be inspected at all reasonable hours; and 3259 (2) where the proposal relates to a particular case, serve, or cause to be served, on the owner and occupier of the land affected and on any other person who, to his knowledge, proposes to display on such land an advertisement of the class or description concerned, a notice that a proposal has been made, specifying the land and the class or description of advertisement in question¹⁰.

In determining whether to make a direction, the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

3260 (a) must take into account any objections made¹¹;

3261 (b) may modify the proposal of the local planning authority if:

292. (i) he or the Assembly has notified, in writing, that authority and any person who has made an objection or representation to him or to the Assembly of his or its intention and the reasons for it and has given them a reasonable opportunity to respond; and

293. (ii) the intended modification does not extend the area of land specified in the proposal¹².

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly makes a direction, he or it must send it to the local planning authority, with a statement of the reasons for making it, and must send a copy of that statement to any person who has made¹³ an objection¹⁴.

Notice of the making of any direction for a particular area must be published by the local planning authority in at least one newspaper circulating in the locality and, unless the Secretary of State or the Assembly otherwise directs, on the same or a subsequent date in the London Gazette, and such a notice must:

3262 (A) contain a full statement of the effect of the direction;

3263 (B) name a place or places in the locality where a copy of the direction and of a map defining the area concerned may be seen at all reasonable hours; and 3264 (C) specify a date when the direction comes into force, at least 14 and not more than 28 days after the first publication of the notice¹⁵.

Notice of the making of any direction for a particular case must be served by the local planning authority on the owner and on any occupier of the land to which the direction relates, and on any other person who, to the knowledge of the authority, proposes to display on such land an advertisement of the class or description affected¹⁶.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF

ADVERTISEMENTS/ (ii) Control of Display/C. DEEMED CONSENT/ (C) Restrictions on and Discontinuance of Deemed Consent/816. Discontinuance of deemed consent.

816. Discontinuance of deemed consent.

The local planning authority¹ may serve a notice requiring the discontinuance of the display of an advertisement², or the use of a site³ for the display⁴ of an advertisement, for which deemed consent is granted⁵ if the authority is satisfied it is necessary to do so to remedy a substantial injury to the amenity of the locality or a danger to members of the public; but, in the case of an advertisement within Class 12⁶, the authority may not do so if the advertisement is also within⁷ Class F or Class G⁸.

A discontinuance notice:

- 3265 (1) must be served on the advertiser and on the owner and occupier of the site on which the advertisement is displayed;
- 3266 (2) may, if the local planning authority thinks fit, also be served on any other person displaying the advertisement⁹;
- 3267 (3) must specify the advertisement or the site to which it relates;
- 3268 (4) must specify a period within which the display or the use of the site, as the case may be, is to be discontinued; and
- 3269 (5) must contain a full statement of the reasons for taking discontinuance action¹⁰.

A discontinuance notice takes effect¹¹ at the end of the period, being at least eight weeks after the date on which it is served, specified in the notice¹².

The local planning authority, by a notice served on the advertiser, may, however, withdraw a discontinuance notice at any time before it takes effect or may, where no appeal to the Secretary of State¹³ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁴ is pending, from time to time vary a discontinuance notice by extending the period specified for the taking effect of the notice¹⁵.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/ (ii) Control of Display/D. EXPRESS CONSENT/817. Application for express consent; in general.

D. EXPRESS CONSENT

817. Application for express consent; in general.

An application for express consent¹ must be made to the local planning authority². Such an application must be made on a form provided by the local planning authority and must give the particulars required by that form; and there must be annexed to the form such plans as the authority requires³. An applicant must provide the local planning authority with two additional copies of the completed form and the annexed plans⁴. A local planning authority may not, however, employ a form or require the submission of plans or information inconsistently with any direction which the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁶ may have given as to the matter⁷.

If it thinks fit, the local planning authority may accept an application notwithstanding that the above requirements⁸ are not complied with, provided that the application is in writing⁹.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may give directions¹⁰ to a local planning authority, either generally or in relation to a particular case or class of case, specifying the kinds of particulars, plans or information to be contained in an application for express consent¹¹.

On receipt of an application for express consent, the local planning authority:

- 3270 (1) must send an acknowledgment in writing to the applicant and, in the case of a county planning authority in England¹², must also send a copy of the application and the accompanying plans to the district planning authority¹³ within whose area any part of the application site¹⁴ is situated;
- 3271 (2) may direct the applicant in writing to provide one of its officers with such evidence as may be reasonably called for to verify any particulars or information given to the authority¹⁵.

An application for the renewal of an express consent may not be made at a date earlier than six months before the expiry of that consent¹⁶.

SI 1992/666 replaced in relation to England by the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) (England) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/783 (amended by SI 2007/1739).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/ (ii) Control of Display/D. EXPRESS CONSENT/818. Fees for applications for express consent.

818. Fees for applications for express consent.

Where an application is made¹ to a local planning authority² for consent for the display of an advertisement³, a fee must be paid to that authority in accordance with the following provisions⁴.

Where the application relates to the display of one advertisement only, the fee payable in respect of the application is the specified amount⁵ for the appropriate category⁶; and, where the application relates to the display of more than one advertisement on the same site⁷, a single fee is payable in respect of all of the advertisements to be displayed on that site and listed in the application and:

- 3272 (1) if all of the advertisements are within the same category, the fee payable is the amount specified for that category;
- 3273 (2) if all of the advertisements are within categories 1 and 2⁸, the fee payable is the amount specified in category 1;
- 3274 (3) if one or more of the advertisements is within category 3⁹, the fee payable is the amount specified for category 3¹⁰.

Where the application relates to the display of advertisements:

- 3275 (a) on parking meters, litter bins, public seating benches or bus shelters within a specified area, the whole of the area to which the application relates is treated as one site for these purposes¹¹;
- 3276 (b) on more than one site, the fee payable in respect of the application is the aggregate of the sums payable in respect of the display of advertisements on each such site¹².

Where the application is made by or on behalf of a parish council¹³ or community council¹⁴, the fee payable in respect of the application is one-half of the amount appropriate to the display of the advertisement to which the application relates¹⁵.

Where all of the prescribed conditions¹⁶ are satisfied, these provisions do not apply to:

- 3277 (i) an application which is made following the withdrawal, before notice of decision was issued, of an application made by or on behalf of the same person; or
- 3278 (ii) an application which is made following the refusal of consent, whether by the local planning authority or by the Secretary of State¹⁷ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁸ on appeal, for the display of advertisements on an application made by or on behalf of the same person¹⁹.

The fee due in respect of an application must be paid to the local planning authority with which the application is lodged and must accompany the application²⁰; but, in the case of an application made in relation to a site within a National Park in England²¹, the amount of the fee must be remitted to the county planning authority²² when the application is forwarded to that authority for determination²³.

Any fee so paid must be refunded if the relevant application is rejected as invalidly made²⁴.

819. Duty to consult.

Before granting an express consent¹, a local planning authority² must consult³:

- 3279 (1) any neighbouring local planning authority, any part of whose area appears likely to be affected;
- 3280 (2) where the application relates to land in a National Park in England⁴ which is land that is not in a metropolitan county⁵, the district planning authority⁶ for the area in which the land is situated;
- 3281 (3) where it considers that a grant of consent may affect the safety of persons using any trunk road⁷ in England, the Secretary of State for Transport;
- 3282 (4) where it considers that a grant of consent may affect the safety of persons using any railway, waterway⁸, dock, harbour or aerodrome, civil or military, the person responsible for the operation thereof, and, in the case of coastal waters, the Corporation of Trinity House⁹.

The local planning authority must give anyone whom it is required to consult at least 14 days' notice that the relevant application is to be considered; and the authority must take into account any representations made by any such person¹⁰.

769-846 Control of Advertisements

SI 1992/666 replaced in relation to England by the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) (England) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/783 (amended by SI 2007/1739).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/ (ii) Control of Display/D. EXPRESS CONSENT/820. Power to deal with application.

820. Power to deal with application.

Where an application for express consent¹ is made to the local planning authority², the authority may³:

- 3283 (1) grant consent, in whole or in part, subject to the standard conditions⁴ and to such additional conditions⁵ as it thinks fit;
- 3284 (2) refuse consent; or
- 3285 (3) decline⁶ to determine the application⁷.

The conditions imposed under head (1) above may in particular include conditions:

- 3286 (a) regulating the display of advertisements⁸ to which the consent relates;
- 3287 (b) regulating the use for the display of advertisements of the site⁹ to which the application relates or any adjacent land under the control of the applicant, or requiring the carrying out of works on any such land;
- 3288 (c) requiring the removal of any advertisement or the discontinuance of any use of land authorised by the consent, at the end of a specified period, and the carrying out of any works then required for the reinstatement of the land¹⁰;

but the local planning authority may not, under head (1) above, impose any conditions in relation to the display of any class of advertisement which may be displayed with deemed consent¹¹ more restrictive than those imposed in relation to that class¹².

An express consent may be:

- 3289 (i) for the display of a particular advertisement or advertisements with or without illumination¹³, as the applicant specifies;
- 3290 (ii) for the use of a particular site for the display of advertisements in a specified manner, whether by reference to the number, siting, size or illumination of the advertisement, or the structures intended for such display, or the design or appearance of any such structure, or otherwise; or
- 3291 (iii) for the retention of any display of advertisements or the continuation of the use of a site begun before the date of the application¹⁴.

An express consent is¹⁵ subject to the condition that it expires at the end of:

- 3292 (A) such period as the local planning authority may specify in granting the consent; or
- 3293 (B) where no period is so specified, a period of five years¹⁶; and a local planning authority may specify a period under head (A) above as a period running from the earlier of the following, namely the date of the commencement of the display or a specified date not later than six months after the date on which the consent is granted¹⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'express consent' see PARA 777 note 3 ante.

6 Ie decline to determine the application in accordance with the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 70A (as substituted, partly as from a day to be appointed in relation to Wales) (see PARA 516 ante). Prior to that substitution being brought into force in Wales, s 70A (as originally added) applies in relation to an application in Wales subject to the modifications specified in the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 13(1)(c), Sch 4 Pt I and set out in Sch 4 Pt II as follows: A local planning authority may decline to determine an application for express consent if (1) within the period of two years ending with the date on which the application is received, the National Assembly for Wales has dismissed an appeal against the refusal of a similar application; and (2) in the opinion of the authority there has been no significant change since the dismissal mentioned in head (1) supra in any material consideration: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 70A(1) (as so modified). For these purposes, an application for express consent is taken to be similar to a later application if the subject matter of the applications and the land to which they relate are in the opinion of the local planning authority the same or substantially the same: s 70A(2) (as so modified).

821. Notification of decision.

The grant or refusal of an express consent¹ by a local planning authority² must be notified in writing to the applicant within a period of eight weeks from the date of the receipt of the application or such longer period as the applicant may, before the expiry of that period, agree in writing³.

The authority must state in writing its reasons for:

- 3294 (1) any refusal of consent in whole or in part;
- 3295 (2) any decision to impose any condition⁴ on a consent, except a specified condition⁵; and
- 3296 (3) any condition whereby the consent expires before the expiry of five years from the date on which it is granted, except when the consent is granted for the period for which it was applied for⁶.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/ (ii) Control of Display/D. EXPRESS CONSENT/822. Register of applications.

822. Register of applications.

Every local planning authority¹ must keep a register containing particulars of:

- 3297 (1) any application made to it for express consent² for the display of an advertisement³, including the name and address of the applicant, the date of the application and the type of advertisement concerned;
- 3298 (2) any direction given⁴ relating to the application;
- 3299 (3) the date and effect of any decision of the local planning authority on the application;

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/ (ii) Control of Display/D. EXPRESS CONSENT/823. Revocation or modification of express consent.

823. Revocation or modification of express consent.

If a local planning authority¹ is satisfied that it is expedient, it may² by order revoke or modify an express consent³; but such an order may not take effect without the approval of the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, of the National Assembly for Wales⁵.

When an authority submits such an order to the Secretary of State or the Assembly for approval, it must serve notice on the person who applied for the express consent, the owner and the occupier of the land affected and any other person who, in the authority's opinion, will be affected by the order, specifying a period of at least 28 days from the service of the notice within which objection may be made⁶.

If, within the period specified in the notice, an objection to the order is received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly from any person on whom notice was served, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, before approving the order, give to that person and to the local planning authority an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by the Assembly⁷.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may approve an order submitted to him or to it under the above provision either without modification or subject to such modifications as he or it considers expedient⁸.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/ (ii) Control of Display/E. AREAS OF SPECIAL CONTROL/826. Area of special control orders.

E. AREAS OF SPECIAL CONTROL

826. Area of special control orders.

Every local planning authority¹ must from time to time consider whether any part or additional part of its area should be designated as an area of special control². An area of special control must be designated by an area of special control order made³ by the local planning authority and approved⁴ by the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁶.

An area of special control order may be revoked or modified by a subsequent order made by the authority and approved by the Secretary of State or the Assembly in accordance with the relevant⁷ statutory provisions⁸.

Before making such an order, a local planning authority must consult⁹:

- 3306 (1) where it appears to the authority that the order will be likely to affect any part of the area of a neighbouring local planning authority, that authority;
- 3307 (2) where the order will relate to any land within a National Park¹⁰ in England which is land that is not in a metropolitan county¹¹, any district planning authority¹² within whose area any of that land is situated¹³.

A local planning authority may not, however, exercise its power under the above provisions in the interests¹⁴ of public safety¹⁵.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/ (ii) Control of Display/E. AREAS OF SPECIAL CONTROL/827. Procedure for making orders.

827. Procedure for making orders.

A local planning authority¹ which proposes to:

- 3308 (1) designate an area of special control²; or
- 3309 (2) modify an area of special control order³, must make an area of special control order designating the area or indicating the modifications by reference to an annexed map⁴. As soon as may be after the making of an area of special control order, the authority must submit it to the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁶ for approval, together with:

- 3310 (a) two certified copies of the order;
- 3311 (b) a full statement of the authority's reasons for making it;
- 3312 (c) in the case of an order modifying an existing order, unless the boundaries of the existing area of special control are indicated on the map annexed to the order, a plan showing both these boundaries and the proposed modifications; and
- 3313 (d) any additional certified copy of any of the material in heads (a) to (c) above, which the Secretary of State or the Assembly requires⁷.

The authority must forthwith publish a notice in the prescribed form⁸ in the London Gazette and, in two successive weeks, in at least one newspaper circulating in the locality⁹.

If any objection is made to an order, in the manner and within the time provided for in the prescribed form, the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 3314 (i) may offer all interested parties an opportunity to make representations to him or to it in writing about any such operation before such date as he or it may specify;
- 3315 (ii) may, and at the request of any interested party must, either provide for a local inquiry¹⁰ to be held or afford to the parties an opportunity of a hearing before a person appointed by him or by the Assembly¹¹.

After considering any representations or objections duly made and not withdrawn and, where applicable, the report of any person holding an inquiry or hearing, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may approve the order with or without modifications¹²; but, if he or the Assembly proposes to make a modification for the inclusion of additional land in an order, he or it must:

- 3316 (A) publish notice of his or its intention to do so;
- 3317 (B) afford an opportunity for the making of objections to, or representations about, the proposed modification; and
- 3318 (C) if he or the Assembly considers it expedient, provide for a further inquiry or hearing to be held¹³.

As soon as may be after the order has been approved, the local planning authority must publish a notice of its approval in the prescribed form¹⁴ in the London Gazette, and in two successive weeks in at least one newspaper circulating in the locality¹⁵.

An area of special control order comes into force on the date on which the notice of its approval is published in the London Gazette¹⁶.

2 For the meaning of 'area of special control' see PARA 777 note 6 ante.

3 Where a local planning authority proposes to make an order revoking an area of special control order, a map showing the existing area must be annexed to the order, and the procedure prescribed in the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 18, Sch 5 paras 2-9 (see the text and notes 4-16 infra) in relation to an order modifying an existing order must be followed, subject to the modification that the prescribed forms of notice under Sch 5 para 4 and Sch 5 para 8 respectively are Sch 5, Forms 3, 4: Sch 5 para 10. Any reference in Sch 5 Pt I (paras 1-11) to a prescribed form is to the form bearing that number in Sch 5 Pt II or a form substantially to the like effect: Sch 5 para 11.

F. ENFORCEMENT

829. Powers of the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may give a direction³ to a local planning authority⁴, or to such authorities generally, requiring it or them to provide him or the Assembly with information required for the purpose of any of his or its functions under the regulations⁵ relating to the control of advertisements⁶.

If it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, after consultation⁷ with the local planning authority, that:

- 3329 (1) a discontinuance notice⁸ should be served⁹; or
- 3330 (2) an area of special control order or a revocation order should be made¹⁰, he or the Assembly may himself or itself serve such a notice or make such an order¹¹.

If the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied that it is necessary to remedy a substantial injury to the amenity of the locality or a danger to members of the public¹², he or the Assembly may serve¹³ a discontinuance notice in relation to an advertisement¹⁴ displayed by an interested planning authority¹⁵.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of town and country planning functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 As to the power to give a direction see generally para 815 note 7 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'local planning authority' for these purposes see PARA 775 note 3 ante.

5 I.e. his or its functions under the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666 (as amended): see PARA 770 et seq ante.

6 Ibid reg 22. Except in so far as may be provided by the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 288 (as amended) (see PARA 47 ante), any direction so given by the Secretary of State or the Assembly may not be questioned in any legal proceedings whatsoever: see s 284(1)(f), (3)(h)(iii); and PARA 43 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'consult' see PARA 2 note 1 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'discontinuance notice' see PARA 816 note 8 ante.

9 le under the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 8: see PARA 816 ante.

10 le under ibid reg 18: see PARA 826 ante. For the meaning of 'area of special control' see PARA 777 note 6 ante.

11 Ibid reg 23(1). Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly proposes to exercise the power under reg 23(1), the provisions of reg 8 (see PARA 816 ante) and reg 15 (appeals: see PARA 833 et seq post) in relation to reg 23(1)(a) (see head (1) in the text), and reg 18 (see PARA 826 ante) and Sch 5 (see PARA 827 ante), in relation to reg 23(1)(b) (see head (2) in the text), apply as they apply to the action of a local planning authority, with such modifications as may be necessary: reg 23(2).

12 See PARA 776 ante.

13 See note 9 supra.

14 For the meaning of 'advertisement' see PARA 770 ante.

15 Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 24(1) (amended by SI 1999/1810). For the meaning of 'interested planning authority' see PARA 891 note 5 post.

The Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 8(2), (5), (6) applies to a discontinuance notice to which reg 24(1) applies as if references to the local planning authority were references to the Secretary of State or the Assembly (reg 24(2)); and reg 15(3) (see PARA 816 note 8 ante) applies to a discontinuance notice to which reg 24(1) (as so amended) applies, with such modifications as may be necessary (reg 24(3)).

769-846 Control of Advertisements

SI 1992/666 replaced in relation to England by the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) (England) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/783 (amended by SI 2007/1739).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/ (ii) Control of Display/F. ENFORCEMENT/830. Enforcement of control; power to make regulations.

830. Enforcement of control; power to make regulations.

Regulations¹ may make provision for enabling the local planning authority² to require:

3331 (1) the removal of any advertisement³ which is displayed in contravention of the regulations;

3332 (2) the discontinuance of the use⁴ for the display of advertisements of any site which is being so used in contravention of the regulations⁵.

Without prejudice to any provisions so included in such regulations, if any person displays⁶ an advertisement in contravention of the regulations, he is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine of such amount as may be prescribed⁷, not exceeding level 4 on the standard scale and, in the case of a continuing offence, one-tenth of level 4 on the standard scale for each day during which the offence continues after conviction⁸.

A person is not, however, guilty of such an offence by reason only:

- 3333 (a) of his being the owner or occupier of the land on which the advertisement is displayed; or
- 3334 (b) of his goods, trade or business or other concerns being given publicity by the advertisement, if he proves that it was displayed without his knowledge or consent⁹.

3 For the meaning of 'advertisement' see PARA 770 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'use' see PARA 221 note 4 ante.

5 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 224(1). For that purpose, the regulations may apply any of the provisions of Pt VII (ss 171A-196C) (as amended) (see PARA 551 et seq ante) with respect to enforcement notices or the provisions of s 186 (as amended) (see PARA 581 ante), subject to such adaptations and modifications as may be specified in the regulations: s 224(2). In exercise of the power so conferred, and prior to the transfer of functions in relation to Wales to the National Assembly for Wales, the Secretary of State made the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 27: see note 8 infra. As to termination of a deemed consent by service of a discontinuance notice see O'Brien v Croydon London Borough Council [1999] JPL 47, DC.

The functions of local planning authorities in England under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 224 (as amended) are exercisable by district planning authorities: see s 1(5) (as amended), Sch 1 para 14. Schedule 1 para 14 does not, however, apply in Greater London: Sch 1 para 21(1). For the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 2 note 1 ante; as to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29; and as to district planning authorities (of which there are none in Wales) see PARA 28 ante.

6 Without prejudice to the generality of ibid s 224(3) (as amended: see note 8 infra), a person is deemed to display an advertisement for these purposes if (1) he is the owner or occupier of the land on which the advertisement is displayed; or (2) the advertisement gives publicity to his goods, trade, business or other concerns: s 224(4). 769-846 Control of Advertisements

SI 1992/666 replaced in relation to England by the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) (England) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/783 (amended by SI 2007/1739).

830 Enforcement of control; power to make regulations

NOTES--Certain functions under provisions mentioned in this paragraph are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3, see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

TEXT AND NOTE 8--See London Local Authorities Act 2007 s 31(1), Sch 2 Pt 1 (modification of enactments in enforcement action zone).

TEXT AND NOTE 9--For 'or consent' read 'or he took all reasonable steps to prevent the display or, after the advertisement had been displayed, to secure its removal': 1990 Act s 224(5), (6) (s 224(5) amended, s 224(6) added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 33).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/ (ii) Control of Display/F. ENFORCEMENT/831. Power to remove or obliterate placards and posters.

831. Power to remove or obliterate placards and posters.

The local planning authority¹ may² remove or obliterate any placard or poster:

- 3335 (1) which is displayed in its area; and
- 3336 (2) which in its opinion, is so displayed in contravention of regulations³ relating to the control of advertisements⁴;

but the above provisions do not authorise the removal or obliteration of a placard or poster displayed within a building⁵ to which there is no public right of access⁶.

Where a placard or poster identifies the person who displayed it or caused it to be displayed, the local planning authority may not exercise any such power⁷ unless it has first given him notice in writing that:

- 3337 (a) in its opinion the placard or poster is displayed in contravention of the regulations relating to the control of advertisements; and
- 3338 (b) the authority intends to remove or obliterate it on the expiry of a period specified⁸ in the notice⁹.

These provisions are modified in relation to London¹⁰.

- 2 Ie subject to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 225(2), (3): see the text and notes 5-9 infra.
- 3 Ie regulations made under ibid s 220 (as amended): see PARA 769 ante.

In England, the functions of local planning authorities under s 225 are exercisable by district planning authorities: see s 1(5) (as amended), Sch 1 para 14. Schedule 1 para 14 does not, however, apply in Greater London: Sch 1 para 21(1). For the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 2 note 1 ante; as to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29; and as to district planning authorities (of which there are none in Wales) see PARA 28 ante. As to London see further the text and note 10 infra.
- 5 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.
- 6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 225(2).
- 7 Ie the power conferred by ibid s 225(1): see the text and notes 1-4 supra.
- 8 The period so specified must be not less than two days from the date of service of the notice: ibid s 225(5). As to the mode of service see PARA 54 ante.
- 9 Ibid s 225(3). Section 225(3) does not, however, apply if:
 - 63 (1) the placard or poster does not give his address (s 225(4)(a)); and
 - 64 (2) the authority does not know the address and is unable to ascertain it after reasonable inquiry (s 225(4)(b)).
- 10 In its application to a participating council, ibid s 225 (power to remove or obliterate placards and posters) has effect as though s 225(3), (4) and (5) were replaced as follows: The council of a London borough may give notice in writing to a person who displays or causes to be displayed a placard or poster in respect of which it may exercise the powers conferred by s 225(1):
 - 65 (1) that in its opinion it is displayed in contravention of regulations made under s 220 (as amended) (s 225(3) (s 225(3)-(9) substituted for these purposes by the London Local Authorities Act 1995 s 10));
 - 66 (2) requiring him to remove or obliterate it before the expiry of a period being not less than two days from the service of the notice, specified in the notice (Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 225(3) (as so substituted)); and
 - 67 (3) that if he does not do so, the council intends to remove or obliterate it after the expiry of the period and recover from him the expenses reasonably incurred by it in so doing: s 225(3) (as so substituted).

Where such a notice has been duly served and the poster or placard to which it relates has not been removed or obliterated before the expiry of the period specified in the notice, the council of the London borough may remove or obliterate it and may recover from the person on whom the notice was served the expenses reasonably incurred by the council in so doing; but in any proceedings for the recovery of such expenses it is for the council to show that the poster or placard was displayed in contravention of regulations made under s 220 (as amended): s 225(4) (as so substituted). If a poster or placard is removed or obliterated pursuant to a notice under this provision and within 28 days thereof another poster or placard is displayed on the same premises, in addition to the power under the foregoing provisions the council of the London borough may serve a notice under s 225(3) (as so substituted) on the owner or occupier of the premises on which the poster or placard is displayed, and s 225(4) (as so substituted) applies to that person, subject to s 225(6) (as so substituted): s 225(5) (as so substituted). In its application to a case in which a notice is served on any person under s 225(5) (as so substituted), s 225(4) (as so substituted) has effect with the omission of the right to recover from that person the expenses of removal or obliteration: s 225(6) (as so substituted). If a poster or placard is removed or obliterated pursuant to such a notice, the council of the London borough may exhibit a notice in the vicinity of the place where the poster or placard was displayed, stating that the display of an advertisement in contravention of regulations made under s 220 (as amended) is a criminal offence punishable by a fine under s 224 (as amended) (see PARA 830 ante): s 225(7) (as so substituted). A notice under s 225(7) (as so substituted) may not be exhibited without the consent of the occupier of the premises, unless he cannot after reasonable inquiry be identified: s 225(8) (as so substituted). Without prejudice to the generality of s 225(3) (as so substituted), a person is deemed to display or cause to be displayed a placard or poster for these purposes if the placard or poster gives publicity to his goods, trade, business or other concerns except when the placard or poster is displayed on a hoarding or other structure designed for the display of advertisements: s 225(9) (as so substituted). 'Participating council' means the common council of the City of London and the council of any London borough; and 'borough' and 'council' are to be construed accordingly: London Local Authorities Act 1995 s 2 (definition amended by the London Local Authorities Act 1996 s 27).

As to the removal of unauthorised advertisement hoardings etc in London see the London Local Authorities Act 1995 s 11, which applies to a hoarding or other structure used, or designed or adapted for use, for the display of advertisements including a movable structure, fitments used to support a hoarding or other structure and a structure which itself is an advertisement, other than such a structure for which deemed or express consent has been granted under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 or regulations made thereunder or for which no such consent for such use is required or which was erected before 1 April 1990: London Local Authorities Act 1995 s 11(1). Where there is in its area a hoarding or structure to which s 11 applies, a participating council may serve notice on any person who appears to the council to be responsible for the erection or maintenance thereof or, if after reasonable inquiry the council has been unable to ascertain the name and address of such person, may affix a notice to the hoarding or structure or exhibit a notice in the vicinity of the place where the hoarding or structure is fixed and serve a copy on the occupier of the land unless after reasonable inquiry he cannot be identified: s 11(2). Such a notice must require the removal of the hoarding or structure to which it relates within a period, being not less than 21 days after the date of the notice, specified in the notice, and must state the effect of s 11(4): s 11(3). If a notice under s 11(2) is not complied with before the expiry of the period specified in the notice, the participating council may: (a) enter on the land; (b) remove the hoarding or structure and its fitments and dispose of them; and (c) recover from the person on whom the notice was served the reasonable expenses incurred by the council in so doing unless he satisfies the council that he was not responsible for the erection, and is not responsible for the maintenance of the hoarding or structure: s 11(4). Nothing in s 11(4), however, authorises entry into a building: s 11(6). Where, in the exercise of a right of entry conferred under s 11(4), damage is caused to land or chattels other than the hoarding or structure and its fitments, compensation may be recovered from the participating council by any person suffering the damage: s 11(5). As to enforcement under s 11 see eg R (on the application of Maiden Outdoor Advertising Ltd) v Lambeth London Borough Council [2003] All ER (D) 117 (May).

UPDATE

769-846 Control of Advertisements

SI 1992/666 replaced in relation to England by the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) (England) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/783 (amended by SI 2007/1739).

831 Power to remove or obliterate placards and posters

TEXT AND NOTES--Where a local planning authority serves a notice on a person under the 1990 Act s 225(3) in relation to a placard or poster, and the person fails to remove or obliterate it within the period specified in the notice, the authority may recover from that person the costs it may reasonably incur in exercising its power under s 225(1): s 225(6) (added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 34(3)).

Where a placard or poster does not identify the person who displayed it or caused it to be displayed, or it does do so, but the 1990 Act s 225(3) does not apply by reason of s 225(4), and the placard or poster publicises the goods, services or concerns of an identifiable person, then s 225(3)-(6) has effect as if the reference in s 225(3) to the person who displayed the placard or poster or caused it to be displayed were a reference to the person whose goods, services or concerns are publicised: s 225(7), (8) (added by the 2005 Act s 34(4)).

Where any damage is caused to land or chattels in the exercise of the power under the 1990 Act s 225(1) in relation to a placard or poster, compensation may be recovered by any person suffering the damage from the local planning authority exercising the power: s 225(9) (s 225(9)-(11) added by the 2005 Act s 34(5)). However, the 1990 Act s 225(9) does not permit the recovery of compensation by the person who displayed the placard or poster or caused it to be displayed: s 225(10) (as so added). The provisions of s 118 (see PARA 931) apply in relation to compensation under s 225(9) as they apply in relation to compensation under Pt 4 (ss 107-118): s 225(10) (as so added).

TEXT AND NOTE 9--Under head (b) the authority must also give notice that it intends to recover from him the costs it may reasonably incur in removing or obliterating the placard or poster: 1990 Act s 225(3) (amended by the 2005 Act s 34(2)).

NOTE 10--1995 Act s 11(1) amended: London Local Authorities Act 2007 s 7(2). The 1995 Act s 11 does not apply to a hoarding or other structure which was erected before 1 April 1990, unless (1) a discontinuance notice has been served in relation to it under regulations made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 220; and (2) either (a) the time for making an appeal in relation to the discontinuance notice under the 1990 Act s 78 (right to appeal against planning decisions and failure to take such decisions) has expired with no such appeal having been made; or (b) an appeal in relation to the discontinuance notice under the 1990 Act s 78 has been made, and the appeal has been discontinued or dismissed: 1995 Act s 11(1A) (added by 2007 Act s 7(3)). As to enforcement under the 1995 Act s 11 see also R (on the application of Blow Up Media UK Ltd) v Lambeth LBC [2008] EWHC 1912 (Admin), [2008] 1 P & CR 187, [2008] All ER (D) 52 (Jul).

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/(iii) Appeals/A. EXPRESS CONSENT/833. Right of appeal.

(iii) Appeals

A. EXPRESS CONSENT

833. Right of appeal.

Where a local planning authority¹ refuses an application for express consent² for the display of an advertisement, or grants it subject to conditions³, the applicant may by notice appeal to the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁵.

A person who has made an application for express consent may also appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly if, within the period of eight weeks from the date when the application was received by the local planning authority, that authority has neither given him notice of its decision on it nor given him notice that it has exercised its power⁶ to decline to determine the application⁷.

Any such appeal must be made by notice served within eight weeks from the date of receipt of the local planning authority's decision or, as the case may be, within eight weeks from the expiry of the specified period⁸ or within such longer period as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may in either case at any time allow⁹. Such a notice must be accompanied by a copy of each of the following documents:

- 3341 (1) the application made to the local planning authority;
- 3342 (2) all relevant plans and particulars submitted to it;
- 3343 (3) any notice of decision; and
- 3344 (4) any other relevant correspondence with the authority¹⁰.

769-846 Control of Advertisements

SI 1992/666 replaced in relation to England by the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) (England) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/783 (amended by SI 2007/1739).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/(iii) Appeals/A. EXPRESS CONSENT/834. Determination of appeal.

834. Determination of appeal.

On an appeal against the refusal of an application for express consent for the display of an advertisement or the grant of consent subject to conditions¹ the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ may:

- 3345 (1) allow or dismiss the appeal; or
- 3346 (2) reverse or vary any part of the decision of the local planning authority⁴, whether the appeal relates to that part of it or not,

and may deal with the application as if it had been made to him or to the Assembly in the first instance⁵.

In granting an express consent, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may specify that its term is to run for such longer or shorter period than five years as he or it considers⁶ expedient⁷.

Before so determining an appeal, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, if either the appellant or the local planning authority so wishes, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by it for the purpose⁸.

If, before or during the determination of such an appeal in respect of an application for express consent, the Secretary of State or the Assembly forms the opinion⁹ that consent:

- 3347 (a) could not have been granted by the local planning authority; or
- 3348 (b) could not have been granted otherwise than subject to the conditions imposed, he or it may decline to determine the appeal or to proceed with the determination¹⁰.

If, at any time before or during the determination of such an appeal¹¹, it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly that the appellant is responsible for undue delay in the progress of the appeal, he or it may:

- 3349 (i) give the appellant notice that the appeal will be dismissed unless the appellant takes, within the period specified in the notice, such steps as are specified in the notice for the expedition of the appeal; and
- 3350 (ii) if the appellant fails to take those steps within that period, dismiss the appeal accordingly¹².

The decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on such an appeal¹³ is final and otherwise has effect as if it were a decision of the local planning authority¹⁴.

Where a discontinuance notice relating to deemed consent for the display of an advertisement has been served¹ on any person by a local planning authority², that person may, if he is aggrieved³ by the notice, appeal by notice to the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁵.

Notice of appeal must be given in writing to the Secretary of State or the Assembly at any time before the date on which the discontinuance notice is due to take effect⁶, taking account, where appropriate, of any extension of time⁷, or such longer period as he or it may allow; and the notice must be accompanied by a copy of each of the following documents:

- 3351 (1) the discontinuance notice;
- 3352 (2) any notice of variation thereof; and
- 3353 (3) any relevant correspondence with the authority⁸.

Where an appeal is so brought, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may require the appellant or the local planning authority to submit to him or to it, within such period as he or it may specify, a statement in writing in respect of such matters relating to the discontinuance notice as he or it may specify; and, if, after considering the grounds of appeal and any such statement, the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied that he or it has sufficient information to enable him or it to determine the appeal, he or the Assembly may, with the agreement in writing of both the appellant and the local planning authority, determine the appeal⁹ without giving either the appellant or the local planning authority an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by the Assembly for the purpose¹⁰.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/(iii) Appeals/B. DISCONTINUANCE NOTICES/836. Determination of appeal.

836. Determination of appeal.

Where an appeal is brought in respect of a discontinuance notice relating to deemed consent for the display of an advertisement¹, the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ may:

- 3354 (1) allow or dismiss the appeal; or
- 3355 (2) reverse or vary any part of the discontinuance notice, whether the appeal relates to that part of it or not, and may deal with the matter as if an application for express consent⁴ had been made and refused for the reasons stated for the taking of discontinuance action⁵.

Before so determining an appeal, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, if either the appellant or the local planning authority⁶ so wishes, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by it for the purpose⁷.

If, at any time before or during the determination of an appeal in respect of a discontinuance notice, it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly that the appellant is responsible for undue delay in the progress of the appeal, he or it may:

- 3356 (a) give the appellant notice that the appeal will be dismissed unless the appellant takes, within the period specified in the notice, such steps as are specified in the notice for the expedition of the appeal; and
- 3357 (b) if the appellant fails to take those steps within that period, dismiss the appeal accordingly⁸.

On the determination of an appeal⁹ the Secretary of State or the Assembly must give such directions as may be necessary for giving effect to his or its determination, including, where appropriate, directions for quashing the discontinuance notice or for varying its terms in favour of the appellant¹⁰.

The decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on such an appeal is final¹¹.

838. Notification of inquiry.

A date, time and place for the holding of the inquiry¹ must be fixed and may be varied by the Secretary of State² or, if it is to be held in Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales³; and he or the Assembly must give not less than 42 days' notice in writing of such date, time and place to the applicant⁴ and to the local planning authority⁵ at the addresses furnished by them; but:

3358 (1) with the consent of the applicant and of the local planning authority, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may give such lesser period of notice as is agreed with the applicant and the local planning authority and in that event he or the Assembly may specify a date for service of the prescribed statements⁶ later than the prescribed date⁷;

3359 (2) where it becomes necessary or advisable to vary the time or place fixed for the inquiry, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must give such notice of the variation as may appear to him or to it to be reasonable in the circumstances⁸.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may require⁹ the local planning authority to take one or more of the following steps:

3360 (a) to publish in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality in which the land¹⁰ is situated such notices of the inquiry as he or it may direct;

3361 (b) to serve notice of the inquiry in such form and on such persons or classes of persons as he or it may specify;

3362 (c) to post such notices of the inquiry as he or it may direct in a conspicuous place or places near to the land¹¹.

Where the land is under the control of the applicant, he must, if so required by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, affix firmly to some object on the land, in such a manner as to be readily visible to and legible by the public, such notice of the inquiry as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may specify; and thereafter for such period before the inquiry as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may specify the appellant may not remove the notice or cause or permit it to be removed¹².

1 For the meaning of 'inquiry' for these purposes see PARA 837 note 4 ante.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

3 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

4 For these purposes, 'applicant' in the case of an appeal, means the appellant: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) Rules 1974, SI 1974/419, r 3(1) (revoked with savings).

5 For these purposes, 'local planning authority' means, if the inquiry is held in England, (1) in relation to an application referred to the Secretary of State, the local planning authority or any local authority or committee acting pursuant to the Local Government Act 1972 s 101 (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 370), which would otherwise have dealt with the application; and (2) in relation to an appeal, the local planning authority or any such local authority or committee which was responsible for dealing with the application: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) Rules 1974, SI 1974/419, r 3(1) (amended by SI 1986/420; revoked with savings). 'Local authority' has the meaning assigned to it by the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 336(1) (as amended) (see PARA 3 note 3 ante): Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) Rules 1974, SI 1974/419, r 3(1) (as so revoked); Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 2. If the inquiry is held in Wales, however, 'local planning authority' means the local planning authority which was responsible for dealing with the relevant application: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) Rules 1974, SI 1974/419, r 3(1) (modified by SI 1992/2038; and as so revoked).

6 I.e. the statements referred to in the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) Rules 1974, SI 1974/419, r 6(1), (2) (revoked with savings): see PARA 839 post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/ (iv) Inquiries/839. Statements to be served before inquiry.

839. Statements to be served before inquiry.

In the case of a referred application¹, the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ must, where this has not already been done, not later than 28 days before the date of the inquiry⁴, or such later date as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may specify⁵, serve or cause to be served on the applicant⁶ and the local planning authority⁷ a written statement of the reasons for his or its direction that the application be referred to him or to it and of any points which seem to him or to it to be likely to be relevant to his or its consideration of the application; and, where a government department has expressed in writing to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly the view that the application should not be granted either wholly or in part, or should be granted only subject to conditions, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must include this expression of view in his or its statement and must supply a copy of the statement to the government department concerned⁸.

Not later than 28 days before the date of the inquiry, or such later date as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may specify⁹, the local planning authority must:

- 3363 (1) serve on the applicant a written statement of any submission which the local planning authority proposes to put forward at the inquiry; and
- 3364 (2) supply a copy of the statement to the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁰.

Where the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or a local authority¹¹ has given a direction restricting the grant of consent for the display of advertisements for which application was made or a direction as to how the application was to be determined, the local planning authority must mention this in its statement and must include in the statement a copy of the direction and the reasons given for it and must, within the prescribed period¹², supply a copy of the statement to the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or the local authority concerned¹³. Where a government department or a local authority has expressed in writing to the local planning authority the view that the application should not be granted, either wholly or in part, or should be granted only subject to conditions, and the local planning authority proposes to rely on such expression of view in its submissions at the inquiry, it must include it in its statement and must, within the prescribed period¹⁴, supply a copy of the statement to the government department or local authority concerned¹⁵.

Where the local planning authority intends to refer to, or put in evidence at the inquiry, documents, including maps and plans, the authority's statement must be accompanied by a list of such documents, together with a notice stating the times and place at which the documents may be inspected by the applicant; and the local planning authority must afford him a reasonable opportunity to inspect and, where practicable, to take copies of the documents¹⁶.

If so required by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, the applicant must serve on the local planning authority and on the Secretary of State or the Assembly, within such time before the inquiry as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may specify, a written statement of the submissions which he proposes to put forward at the inquiry; and such statement must be accompanied by a list of any documents, including maps and plans, which the applicant intends to refer to or put in evidence at the inquiry and he must, if so required by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, afford the local planning authority a reasonable opportunity to inspect and, where practicable, to take copies of such documents¹⁷.

- 1 For these purposes, 'referred application' means an application referred to the Secretary of State under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77 (as amended) as applied by s 220(2)(c) (see PARA 769 ante): Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) Rules 1974, SI 1974/419, r 3(1) (revoked with savings); Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 2.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(2) CONTROL OF ADVERTISEMENTS/ (iv) Inquiries/841. Representatives of government departments at inquiry.

841. Representatives of government departments at inquiry.

Where either:

3374 (1) the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² has given a direction restricting the grant of consent for the display of advertisements for which application was made; or

3375 (2) a government department³ has expressed in writing the view that the application should not be granted, either wholly or in part, or should be granted only subject to conditions and the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or the local planning authority⁴ has included this view in his or its statement⁵, the applicant⁶ may, not later than 14 days before the date of the inquiry⁷, apply in writing to the Secretary of State for a representative of the government department to be made available at the inquiry⁸.

Where an application is so made to the Secretary of State, he must make a representative of his department available to attend the inquiry or, as the case may be, must transmit the application to the other government department concerned, which must make a representative of that department available to attend the inquiry⁹.

A representative of a government department who so attends an inquiry:

- 3376 (a) into a referred application¹⁰, must state the reasons for the Secretary of State's direction restricting the grant of consent or, as the case may be, the reasons for the view expressed by his department and included in the Secretary of State's statement¹¹ or the local planning authority's statement¹² and must give evidence and is subject to cross-examination to the same extent as any other witness¹³;
- 3377 (b) on an appeal, must be called as a witness by the local planning authority and must state the reasons for the Secretary of State's direction or, as the case may be, the reasons for the view expressed by his department and included in the authority's statement¹⁴ and must give evidence and is subject to cross-examination to the same extent as any other witness¹⁵.

Nothing in the above provisions, however, requires a representative of a government department to answer any question which in the opinion of the appointed person¹⁶ is directed to the merits of government policy and the appointed person must disallow any such question¹⁷.

843. Procedure at inquiry.

The procedure at the inquiry¹ is² such as the appointed person³ in his discretion determines⁴.

Unless in any particular case the appointed person with the consent of the applicant⁵ otherwise determines, the applicant must begin and has the right of final reply; and the other persons entitled or permitted to appear⁶ must be heard in such order as the appointed person may determine⁷.

The applicant and the local planning authority⁸ are entitled to call evidence and cross-examine persons giving evidence, but any other person appearing at the inquiry may do so only to the extent permitted by the appointed person⁹.

The appointed person may not require or permit the giving or production of any evidence, whether written or oral, which would be contrary to the public interest; but any evidence may be admitted¹⁰ at the discretion of the appointed person, who may direct that documents tendered in evidence may be inspected by any person entitled or permitted to appear at the inquiry and that facilities be afforded him to take or obtain copies thereof¹¹.

The appointed person may allow the local planning authority or the applicant, or both of them, to alter or add to the submissions contained in any statement served by them¹², or to any list of documents which accompanied such statement, so far as may be necessary for the purpose of determining the questions in controversy between the parties but must, if necessary by adjourning the inquiry, give the appellant or the local planning authority, as the case may be, an adequate opportunity of considering any such fresh submission or document; and the appointed person may make to the Secretary of State¹³ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁴ a recommendation as to the payment of any additional costs occasioned by any such adjournment¹⁵.

If any person entitled to appear at the inquiry fails to do so, the appointed person may proceed with the inquiry at his discretion¹⁶.

The appointed person is entitled, subject to disclosure thereof at the inquiry, to take into account any written representations or statements received by him before the inquiry from any person¹⁷.

The appointed person may from time to time adjourn the inquiry and, if the date, time and place of the adjourned inquiry are announced before the adjournment, no further notice is required¹⁸.

(i) Trees and Hedgerows; in general

847. Planning permission to include appropriate provision for preservation and planting of trees.

It is the duty of the local planning authority¹:

- 3382 (1) to ensure, whenever it is appropriate, that, in granting planning permission² for any development³, adequate provision is made, by the imposition of conditions⁴, for the preservation or planting of trees⁵; and
- 3383 (2) to make such tree preservation orders⁶ as appear to the authority to be necessary in connection with the grant of such permission, whether or not giving effect to such conditions or otherwise⁷.

1 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

4 If there is a breach of such a condition, there would be a contravention of planning control, subject to enforcement action: see PARA 551 et seq ante.

5 There is no statutory definition of 'tree' for these purposes; but see Kent County Council v Batchelor (1976) 33 P & CR 185 at 189, CA, per Lord Denning MR ('trees' in a woodland should probably be over seven or eight inches in diameter); not applied in Bullock v Secretary of State for the Environment (1980) 40 P & CR 246; and cf para 878 post at head (e) in the text (statutory exemption in respect of trees in conservation areas which are below specified diameters). See also Fowler v Ealing London Borough Council [2004] EWHC 2860 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 366 (Nov) (local planning authority entitled in all the circumstances to conclude that two arbutuses were in fact 'trees' for the statutory purposes).

848. Preservation of important hedgerows.

The appropriate ministers¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may by regulations make provision for, or in connection with, the protection of important hedgerows³ in England or Wales⁴. Such regulations may provide for the application, with or without modifications, of, or include provision comparable to, any provision contained in the planning Acts⁵. These powers, and the Hedgerows Regulations 1997⁶ which have been made under them, are discussed elsewhere in this work⁷.

1 As to the appropriate ministers see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 700.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the Environment Act 1995 s 97, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 The question whether a hedgerow is or is not 'important' for these purposes is to be determined in accordance with prescribed criteria: Environment Act 1995 s 97(2). For the purpose of facilitating the protection of important hedgerows, regulations under s 97(1) may also make provision in relation to other hedgerows in England or Wales: s 97(3). For the prescribed criteria see the Hedgerows Regulations 1997, SI 1997/1160, reg 4; and OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 702.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/ (3) PRESERVATION OF TREES AND HEDGEROWS/(ii) Tree Preservation Orders/A. POWERS TO MAKE TREE

PRESERVATION ORDERS; IN GENERAL/850. Local planning authority's power to make tree preservation orders.

(ii) Tree Preservation Orders

A. POWERS TO MAKE TREE PRESERVATION ORDERS; IN GENERAL

850. Local planning authority's power to make tree preservation orders.

If it appears to a local planning authority¹ that it is expedient in the interests of amenity² to make provision for the preservation of trees or woodlands in its area, it may for that purpose make an order (a 'tree preservation order') with respect to such trees, groups of trees or woodlands as may be specified in the order³.

A tree preservation order does not take effect until it is confirmed⁴ by the local planning authority; and the local planning authority may confirm any such order either without modification or subject to such modifications as it considers expedient⁵.

A tree preservation order may, in particular, make provision for:

- 3384 (1) prohibiting, subject to any exemptions for which provision may be made by the order, the cutting down, topping, lopping, uprooting, wilful damage, or wilful destruction⁶ of trees except with the consent⁷ of the local planning authority, and for enabling that authority to give its consent subject to conditions;
- 3385 (2) securing the replanting⁸, in such manner as may be prescribed by or under the order, of any part of a woodland area which is felled in the course of forestry operations permitted by or under the order;
- 3386 (3) applying, in relation to any consent under the order, and to applications for such consent, any of the specified statutory provisions⁹, subject to such adaptations and modifications as may be specified in the order¹⁰.

A tree preservation order may be made so as to apply, in relation to trees to be planted pursuant to any conditions imposed by a local planning authority on granting planning permission¹¹, as from the time when those trees are planted¹².

Without prejudice to any other exemptions for which provision may be made by a tree preservation order, no such order may apply to:

- 3387 (a) the cutting down, uprooting, topping or lopping of trees which are dying or dead or have become dangerous¹³; or
- 3388 (b) the cutting down, uprooting, topping or lopping of any trees in compliance with any obligations imposed by or under an Act of Parliament or so far as may be necessary for the prevention or abatement of a nuisance¹⁴.

Where a local planning authority has so made a tree preservation order, the powers of varying or revoking the order and the powers of dispensing¹⁵ with the requirement to replace trees or serving, or appearing on an appeal relating to, an enforcement notice¹⁶ are exercisable only by the authority which made the order¹⁷.

It has been held that the statutory regime under which tree preservation orders are made and confirmed strikes a fair balance between the interests of the community and the individual's Convention rights under the Human Rights Act 1998¹⁸ to respect for his private and family life¹⁹ and the peaceful enjoyment of his possessions²⁰.

See also PARA 847 note 7 ante.

As to rights of entry for the purpose of surveying land in connection with making a tree preservation order see PARAS 880-882 post. Trees may also be protected by the designation of the area in which they are growing as a conservation area; a tree preservation order affords better protection, but 'blanket' coverage of trees in an area by one tree preservation order is inappropriate: see R v Canterbury City Council, ex p Halford [1992] 2 PLR 137 at 145. As to conservation areas see PARA 1169 et seq post; and as to trees in conservation areas see PARA 877 et seq post.

4 As to confirmation of the order see PARA 856 et seq post; and as to rights of entry for the purpose of surveying land in connection with confirming a tree preservation order see PARAS 880-882 post. A tree preservation order made in anticipation of the disposal of Crown land does not, however, so require confirmation until after the occurrence of the event by virtue of which it takes effect: see PARA 854 post.

6 Before a tree can be said to have been 'destroyed', it must have been rendered useless in the sense of having ceased to have any use as an amenity or as something worth preserving. If a person inflicts on a tree so radical an injury that in all the circumstances a competent forester, taking into account its situation eg its proximity to a highway, would decide that it ought to be felled, that person would have wilfully destroyed the tree: Barnet London Borough Council v Eastern Electricity Board [1973] 2 All ER 319, [1973] 1 WLR 430.

Whilst not unlawful, it is not best practice for an area tree preservation order to pertain for any substantial length of time; a detailed inspection should at some point be undertaken and tree preservation orders specific to individual trees or areas of woodland should then be made: see Robinson v East Riding of Yorkshire Council [2002] EWCA Civ 1660, [2002] All ER (D) 91 (Nov), [2003] JPL 894. The absence of a review does not, however, diminish the protection afforded by an area tree preservation order: see eg Evans v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 2169 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 226 (Oct).

13 The burden of proving that a tree was dying, dead, dangerous or creating a nuisance lies with the person accused of cutting down a tree in contravention of a preservation order contrary to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 210(1) (see PARA 876 post); and s 198(6) constitutes an exception to the absolute liability created by s 210(1) and is not part of the definition of the offence itself: R v Alath Construction Ltd, R v

Brightman [1990] 1 WLR 1255, 60 P & CR 533, CA. Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/ (3) PRESERVATION OF TREES AND HEDGEROWS/(ii) Tree Preservation Orders/A. POWERS TO MAKE TREE PRESERVATION ORDERS; IN GENERAL/851. Secretary of State's or Assembly's power to make tree preservation orders.

851. Secretary of State's or Assembly's power to make tree preservation orders.

If it appears to the Secretary of State¹, or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales², after consultation³ with the local planning authority⁴, to be expedient that a tree preservation order⁵ or an order amending or revoking such an order should be made, he or the Assembly may himself or itself make such an order⁶. Any order so made by the Secretary of State or the Assembly has the same effect as if it had been made by the local planning authority and confirmed⁷ by that authority⁸.

The statutory provisions relating to tree preservation orders⁹ and the provisions of any regulations made thereunder with respect to the procedure to be followed in connection with the making and confirmation of any such order¹⁰ and the service of copies of it as confirmed have effect, subject to any necessary modifications, in relation to:

- 3389 (1) any proposal by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to make such an order;
- 3390 (2) the making of it by the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and
- 3391 (3) the service of copies of it as so made¹¹.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly has so made a tree preservation order, the powers of varying or revoking the order and the powers of dispensing¹² with the requirement to replace trees or serving, or appearing on an appeal relating to, an enforcement notice¹³ are exercisable only by the authority named in the order¹⁴.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 202, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'consult' see PARA 2 note 1 ante.

4 In England, the local planning authority which the Secretary of State is required so to consult is the country planning authority or the district planning authority, as he thinks appropriate; and references in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 202 to the local planning authority are to be construed accordingly: see s 1(5)(c) (as amended), Sch 1 para 20(1) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 53(1), (8)). The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1 para 20(1) (as so amended) does not, however, apply in Greater London: Sch 1 para 21(1). As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante; as to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29; and as to county planning authorities and district planning authorities in England see PARA 28 ante. There are no district planning authorities in Wales.

In England, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1 para 13 does not, however, apply in Greater London: Sch 1 para 21(1). In Wales, Sch 1A para 6 (as so added and modified) applies only in relation to any area for which, by virtue of any provision of or made under s 6, s 7 or s 8 (see PARAS 34-36 ante), there is more than one local planning authority: Sch 1A para 3 (as so added).

852. Power of county planning authority in England to make tree preservation order.

In the case of any area for which there is both a district planning authority¹ and a county planning authority², the county planning authority may only make a tree preservation order³ if:

3392 (1) it makes the order in connection with the grant of planning permission⁴;

3393 (2) the order relates to land⁵ which does not lie wholly within the area of a single district planning authority;

3394 (3) the order relates to land in which the county planning authority holds an interest⁶.

If it appears to a local planning authority¹ that a tree preservation order² proposed to be made by that authority should take effect immediately without previous confirmation³, that authority may include in the order as made by it a direction that heads (1) and (2) below are to apply to the order⁴.

An order which contains such a direction:

3395 (1) takes effect⁵ provisionally on such date as may be specified in it; and 3396 (2) continues in force⁶ until the expiration of a period of six months beginning with the date on which the order was made or the date on which the order is confirmed, whichever first occurs⁷.

Tree preservation orders in anticipation of disposal of Crown land.

B. CROWN LAND AND LAND WITH FORESTRY COMMISSION INTEREST

854. Tree preservation orders in anticipation of disposal of Crown land.

At the date at which this title states the law, no tree preservation order¹ may be made in relation to land² which is for the time being Crown land³ except with the consent of the appropriate authority⁴. A local planning authority⁵ may, however, make a tree preservation order in respect of Crown land in which no interest is for the time being held otherwise than by or on behalf of the Crown, if it considers it expedient to do so for the purpose of preserving trees or woodlands on the land in the event of its ceasing to be Crown land or becoming subject to a private interest⁶; but no such order may be made except with the consent of the appropriate authority⁷. An order so made does not take effect until the first occurrence of a relevant event⁸; and, for these purposes, a relevant event occurs in relation to any land if it ceases to be Crown land or becomes subject to a private interest⁹. Such an order:

- 3397 (1) does not require confirmation¹⁰ until after the occurrence of the event by virtue of which it takes effect; and
- 3398 (2) continues in force until the expiration of the period of six months beginning with the occurrence of that event or the date on which the order is confirmed, whichever first occurs¹¹.

Where a tree preservation order so takes effect¹², the appropriate authority must as soon as practicable give to the authority which made the order a notice in writing of the name and address of the person who has become entitled to the land in question or to a private interest in it¹³; and the prescribed procedure¹⁴ in connection with the confirmation of a tree preservation order applies in relation to an order made by virtue of the above provisions as if the order were made on the date on which such notice¹⁵ is received by the authority which made it¹⁶.

As from a day to be appointed¹⁷, however, the provisions set out above are repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004¹⁸, subject to transitional provisions¹⁹. A tree preservation order may then be made whether or not a disposal of the Crown land in question is anticipated²⁰.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/ (3) PRESERVATION OF TREES AND HEDGEROWS/(ii) Tree Preservation Orders/B. CROWN LAND AND LAND WITH FORESTRY COMMISSION INTEREST/855. Tree preservation orders and the Forestry Commissioners.

855. Tree preservation orders and the Forestry Commissioners.

As from a day to be appointed¹, the following provisions apply. A tree preservation order² does not have effect in respect of anything done:

3399 (1) by or on behalf of the Forestry Commissioners³ on land⁴ placed at their disposal in pursuance of the Forestry Act 1967⁵ or otherwise under their management or supervision;

3400 (2) by or on behalf of any other person in accordance with a relevant plan⁶ which is for the time being in force⁷.

At the date at which this title states the law, however, the provisions set out above were not in force and the following provisions continued to apply. In relation to land in which the Forestry Commissioners have an interest⁸, a tree preservation order may be made only if:

3401 (a) there is not in force in respect of the land a plan of operations or other working plan approved by the Commissioners under a forestry dedication covenant; and 3402 (b) the Commissioners consent to the making of the order⁹.

A tree preservation order in respect of such land does not have effect so as to prohibit, or to require any consent for, the cutting down of a tree in accordance with a plan of operations or other working plan approved by the Commissioners, and for the time being in force, under a forestry dedication covenant or under the conditions of a grant or loan made¹⁰ under the Forestry Act 1979¹¹.

1 le as from a day to be appointed under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 121. At the date at which this title states the law, no such day had been appointed.

3 As to the Forestry Commissioners see FORESTRY vol 52 (2009) PARA 34 et seq.

4 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

5 For these purposes a reference to a provision of the Forestry Act 1967 or the Forestry Act 1979 includes a reference to a corresponding provision replaced by that provision or any earlier corresponding provision: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 200(3) (s 200(1)-(3) prospectively substituted by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 85, as from a day to be appointed: see note 1 supra).

6 For these purposes, a relevant plan is a plan of operations or other working plan approved by the Forestry Commissioners under (1) a forestry dedication covenant within the meaning of the Forestry Act 1967 s 5 (as amended) (see FORESTRY vol 52 (2009) PARA 116 et seq); or (2) conditions of a grant or loan made under the Forestry Act 1979 s 1 (as amended) (see FORESTRY vol 52 (2009) PARA 40): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 200(2) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

7 Ibid s 200(1) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

8 For these purposes, the Forestry Commissioners are only to be regarded as having an interest in land if (1) they have made a grant or loan under the Forestry Act 1979 s 1 (as amended) (see FORESTRY vol 52 (2009) PARA 40) in respect of it; or (2) there is a forestry dedication covenant in force in respect of it: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 200(2) (as originally enacted). 'A forestry dedication covenant' means a covenant entered into with the Commissioners under the Forestry Act 1967 s 5 (as amended) (see FORESTRY vol 52 (2009) PARA 116 et seq): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 200(4)(a). CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/ (3) PRESERVATION OF TREES AND HEDGEROWS/(ii) Tree Preservation Orders/C. PROCEDURE FOR MAKING TREE PRESERVATION ORDERS/857. Form of tree preservation order.

857. Form of tree preservation order.

A tree preservation order¹ must be in the prescribed form², or in a form substantially to the same effect, and must:

- 3408 (1) specify the trees, groups of trees or woodlands to which it relates³;
- 3409 (2) where the order relates to a group of trees, specify the number of trees in the group; and
- 3410 (3) indicate the position of the trees, groups of trees or woodlands, as the case may be, by reference to a map⁴.

An order must contain or have annexed to it the map referred to in head (3) above⁵, which must be prepared to a scale sufficient to give a clear indication of the position of the trees, groups of trees or woodlands to which the order relates⁶; and where a map is annexed to an order it is treated as part of the order⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'tree preservation order' see PARA 850 ante.

2 For the prescribed form of order see the Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, reg 2(1), Schedule (as amended). As to the prohibited acts in relation to trees to be specified in the order see Schedule art 4; and as to the exemptions to be specified see Schedule art 5 (as amended); and PARA 878 note 9 post.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/ (3) PRESERVATION OF TREES AND HEDGEROWS/(ii) Tree Preservation Orders/C. PROCEDURE FOR MAKING TREE PRESERVATION ORDERS/858. Procedure after making order.

858. Procedure after making order.

As soon as practicable after making a tree preservation order¹, and before confirming it², the authority³ which made it must:

3411 (1) serve on the persons interested in the land affected by the order⁴ a copy of the order and a notice containing the following particulars⁵:

299. (a) the reasons for making the order;

300. (b) a statement that objections or other representations with respect to any trees, groups of trees or woodlands specified in the order may be made to the authority⁶;

301. (c) the date, being at least 28 days after the date of the notice, by which any objection or representation must be received by the authority;

302. (d) a copy of the relevant statutory provision with regard to objections⁷; and

303. (e) where the order contains a direction that the order is to be a provisional tree preservation order⁸, a statement of the effect of that direction⁹; and

3412 (2) make a copy of the order available¹⁰ for public inspection¹¹.

Electronic communications may not be used for giving the notice, or serving the copy of the order, referred to in head (1) above¹².

1 For the meaning of 'tree preservation order' see PARA 850 ante.

2 As to confirmation of the order see PARA 860 post.

3 For these purposes, unless the context otherwise requires, 'authority' means a local planning authority making, or having functions under, a tree preservation order: Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, reg 1(2). As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

4 For these purposes, unless the context otherwise requires, 'person interested', in relation to land affected by an order, means every owner and occupier of the land and every other person whom the authority knows to be entitled to fell any of the trees to which the order relates or to work by surface working any materials in, on or under the land; and 'land affected by the order' includes any land adjoining the land on which the trees, groups of trees or woodlands to which the order relates are situated: ibid reg 1(2).

859. Objections and representations.

Objections and representations must¹:

3413 (1) be made in writing and:

304. (a) delivered to the authority² not later than the date specified³ by it; or

305. (b) sent to the authority in a properly addressed and pre-paid letter posted at such time that, in the ordinary course of post, it would be delivered to the authority not later than that date;

3414 (2) specify the particular trees, groups of trees or woodlands, as the case may be, in respect of which the objections or representations are made; and 3415 (3) in the case of an objection, state the reasons for the objection⁴.

The authority may, however, treat as duly made objections and representations which do not comply with the above requirements if, in the particular case, it is satisfied that compliance with those requirements could not reasonably have been expected⁵.

860. Procedure for confirmation of a tree preservation order.

The authority¹ may not confirm a tree preservation order² which it has made unless it has first considered any objections and representations duly made³ in respect of it and not withdrawn⁴. The local planning authority⁵ may confirm any such order either without modification or subject to such modification as it considers expedient⁶.

Where an order is confirmed it must be indorsed to that effect, and the indorsement must also indicate that the order was confirmed with modifications or without modification, as the case may be, and the date on which it was confirmed⁷. Where an order is confirmed with modifications, the modifications must be indicated in the order by distinctive type or other means⁸.

864 Compensation in respect of tree preservation orders

NOTE 3--In relation to England, SI 1999/1892 Schedule art 9 amended: SI 2008/2260.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/ (3) PRESERVATION OF TREES AND HEDGEROWS/(ii) Tree Preservation Orders/D. COMPENSATION FOR LOSS OR DAMAGE CAUSED BY ORDERS ETC/865. Compensation in respect of requirement as to replanting of trees.

865. Compensation in respect of requirement as to replanting of trees.

The following provisions apply where:

- 3424 (1) in pursuance of provision made by a tree preservation order¹, a direction is given by the local planning authority² or by the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁴ for securing the replanting of all or any part of a woodland area which is felled in the course of forestry operations permitted by or under the order; and
- 3425 (2) the Forestry Commissioners⁵ decide not to make any grant or loan⁶ in respect of the replanting by reason that the direction frustrates the use of the woodland area for the growing of timber or other forest products for commercial purposes and in accordance with the rules or practice of good forestry⁷.

Where these provisions apply, the local planning authority exercising functions⁸ under the tree preservation order is liable, on the making of a claim⁹, to pay compensation in respect of such loss or damage, if any, as is caused or incurred in consequence of compliance with the direction¹⁰.

Such a claim must be served on the local planning authority:

- 3426 (a) within 12 months from the date on which the direction was given; or
- 3427 (b) where an appeal has been made¹¹ to the Secretary of State or the Assembly against the decision of the local planning authority, within 12 months from the date of the decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on the appeal, but subject in either case to such extension of that period as the local planning authority may allow¹².

Form and manner of application for consent.

E. APPLICATIONS FOR CONSENT TO FELLING OF TREES ETC SUBJECT TO ORDER

868. Form and manner of application for consent.

In relation to an application for consent under a tree preservation order¹ the appropriate authority² may by regulations³ make provision as to:

- 3428 (1) the form and manner in which the application must be made;
- 3429 (2) particulars of such matters as are to be included in the application;
- 3430 (3) the documents or other materials as are to accompany the application⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'tree preservation order' see PARA 850 ante.

2 The appropriate authority is: (1) the Secretary of State in relation to England; (2) the National Assembly for Wales in relation to Wales; and in the case of regulations made by the National Assembly for Wales the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 333(3) (see PARA 3 ante) must be ignored: s 198(9) (s 198(8), (9) added by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 42(3)).

3 Ie under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990. As to the making of regulations generally see PARA 3 ante.

4 Ibid s 198(8) (as added: see note 3 supra). At the date at which this title states the law, no such regulations had been made. See, however, the Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, reg 2(1), Schedule art 6 which provides that an application for consent to the cutting down, topping, lopping or uprooting of any tree in respect of which the relevant tree preservation order is for the time being in force is to be made in writing to the authority and is to identify the tree or trees to which it relates (if necessary, by reference to a plan), specify the work for which consent is sought and contain a statement of the applicant's reasons for making the application. For the meaning of 'authority' for these purposes see PARA 858 note 3 ante.

868 Form and manner of application for consent

NOTE 4--In relation to England, SI 1999/1892 Schedule art 6 revoked: SI 2008/2260. As to applications in relation to England for consent to cut down, top, lop or uproot a tree which is subject to a tree preservation order, see SI 1999/1892 reg 9A (added by SI 2008/2260).

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/ (3) PRESERVATION OF TREES AND HEDGEROWS/(ii) Tree Preservation Orders/E. APPLICATIONS FOR CONSENT TO FELLING OF TREES ETC SUBJECT TO ORDER/869. Grant or refusal of consent.

869. Grant or refusal of consent.

Subject to the following provisions, where an application is made to the authority¹ for consent under a tree preservation order², the authority may:

- 3431 (1) grant consent under the order, either unconditionally or subject to such conditions as it thinks fit, including conditions limiting the duration of the consent or requiring the replacement of trees; or
- 3432 (2) refuse consent under the order³.

Where an application relates to an area of woodland, the authority must grant consent so far as accords with the practice of good forestry, unless it is satisfied that the granting of consent would fail to secure the maintenance of the special character of the woodland or the woodland character of the area⁴; and where the authority grants consent for the felling of trees in a woodland area it may not impose conditions requiring replacement where such felling is carried out in the course of forestry operations, but may give directions for securing replanting⁵.

Except in so far as the consent otherwise provides, any grant of consent under a tree preservation order enures for the benefit of the land to which the order relates and of all persons for the time being interested⁶ in it⁷.

OF TREES AND HEDGEROWS/(ii) Tree Preservation Orders/E. APPLICATIONS FOR CONSENT TO FELLING OF TREES ETC SUBJECT TO ORDER/870. Applications by interested planning authorities.

870. Applications by interested planning authorities.

Where an interested planning authority¹ is seeking a consent under a tree preservation order², the application is to be determined by the interested planning authority³; but no such application may be determined⁴:

- 3433 (1) by a committee or sub-committee of the interested planning authority if that committee or sub-committee is responsible, wholly or partly, for the management of any land to which the application relates; or
- 3434 (2) by an officer of the interested planning authority if his responsibilities include any aspect of the management of any land to which the application relates⁵.

Before determining such an application the interested planning authority must publicise it by posting a notice in at least one place on or near the land to which the application relates for not less than 21 days⁶. Such a notice must:

- 3435 (a) identify the tree or trees to which the application relates, if necessary by reference to a plan;
- 3436 (b) specify the work for which consent is sought;
- 3437 (c) state the interested planning authority's reasons for making the application;
- 3438 (d) state the place at which a copy of the application may be inspected;
- 3439 (e) state the address to which representations may be sent; and
- 3440 (f) state the date, being not less than 21 days from the date on which the notice is first displayed, by which representations must be made, and must be sited and displayed in such a way as to be easily visible and legible by members of the public⁷.

In determining such an application, the interested planning authority must take into account any representations made by the date specified in the notice described above⁸. The interested planning authority must give notice of its decision to every person who made representations which the authority was required to take into account⁹.

F. VARIATION OR REVOCATION OF ORDERS

871. Variation of tree preservation orders.

Where an authority¹ varies a tree preservation order² it must:

3441 (1) indorse the original order with a statement to the effect that the order has been varied, specifying the date of the variation order;

3442 (2) serve on the persons interested³ in the land affected by the variation order⁴:

309. (a) a copy of the variation order; and

310. (b) a statement explaining the effect of the variation order; and

3443 (3) make a copy of the variation order available⁵ for public inspection⁶.

Where an authority varies an order so as to add to the prescribed specification of trees⁷ and the map references to trees, groups of trees or woodlands to which the order did not previously apply, the relevant statutory provisions⁸ apply to the variation order as they applied to the order, subject to the substitution, for references to persons interested, of references to persons who are the owners and occupiers of the land affected by the variation order and every other person whom the authority knows to be entitled to fell any of the trees to which the variation order relates, or to work by surface working any minerals in, on or under that land⁹.

872. Revocation of tree preservation orders.

Where an authority¹ revokes a tree preservation order² it must:

- 3444 (1) indorse the original order with a statement to the effect that the order has been revoked, specifying the date of the revocation order;
- 3445 (2) serve a copy of the revocation order on the persons interested in the land affected by the order³; and
- 3446 (3) withdraw from public inspection the copy of the original order⁴ made available⁵.

G. CONSEQUENCES OF TREE REMOVAL ETC

873. Replacement of trees.

If any tree in respect of which a tree preservation order¹ is for the time being in force:

- 3447 (1) is removed, uprooted or destroyed² in contravention of the order; or
- 3448 (2) except in the case of a tree to which the order applies as part of a woodland, is removed, uprooted or destroyed or dies at a time when its cutting down or uprooting is authorised³ only on the grounds that the tree is dying or dead or has become dangerous, it is the duty⁴ of the owner of the land to plant another tree of an appropriate size and species at the same place as soon as he reasonably can⁵. Such a duty does not, however, apply to an owner if on application by him the local planning authority⁶ dispenses with it⁷.

In respect of trees in a woodland it is sufficient for these purposes to replace the trees removed, uprooted or destroyed by planting the same number of trees:

- 3449 (a) on or near the land on which the trees removed, uprooted or destroyed stood; or
- 3450 (b) on such other land as may be agreed between the local planning authority and the owner of the land, and in such places as may be designated by the local planning authority⁸.

In relation to any tree so planted the relevant tree preservation order applies as it applied to the original tree⁹.

If it appears to the local planning authority¹ that:

- 3451 (1) the statutory provisions relating to the replacement of trees²; or
- 3452 (2) any conditions of a consent given under a tree preservation order³ which require the replacement of trees, are not complied with in the case of any tree or trees, that authority may serve on the owner⁴ of the land⁵ a notice requiring him, within such period as may be specified in the notice, to plant a tree or trees of such size and species as may be so specified⁶.

Such a notice:

3453 (a) may only be served within four years from the date of the alleged failure to comply with those provisions or conditions⁷;

3454 (b) must specify a period, being a period of not less than 28 days beginning with the date of service of the notice, at the end of which it is to take effect⁸.

The statutory duty to replace trees⁹ may only be enforced as so provided and not otherwise¹⁰.

Execution and cost of works required by enforcement notice.

875. Execution and cost of works required by enforcement notice.

If, within the period specified in an enforcement notice¹ for compliance with it, or within such extended period as the local planning authority² may allow, any trees which are required to be planted by an enforcement notice have not been planted, the local planning authority may:

3455 (1) enter the land³ and plant those trees; and

3456 (2) recover from the person who is then the owner⁴ of the land any expenses reasonably incurred by the authority in doing so⁵.

Where such a notice has been served:

3457 (a) any expenses incurred by the owner of any land for the purpose of complying with the notice; and are deemed to be incurred or paid for the use and at the request of any person, other than the owner, responsible for the cutting down, destruction or removal of the original tree or trees⁶.

Any person who wilfully obstructs a person acting in the exercise of the power under head (1) above is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale⁷.

5 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 209(1). See also PARA 847 note 7 ante. Regulations made under the 1990 Act may provide that (1) the Public Health Act 1936 s 276 (power of local authorities to sell materials removed in executing works under that Act subject to accounting for the proceeds of sale); (2) s 289 (power to require the occupier of any premises to permit works to be executed by the owner of the premises); or (3) s 294 (limit on liability of persons holding premises as agents or trustees in respect of the expenses recoverable under that Act), shall apply, subject to such adaptations and modifications as may be specified in the regulations, in relation to any steps required to be taken by a notice under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 207(1): s 209(3). Any such regulations applying the Public Health Act 1936 s 289 may include adaptations and modifications for the purpose of giving the owner of land to which such a notice relates the right, as against all other persons interested in the land, to comply with the requirements of the notice: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 209(4). Any such regulations may also provide for the charging on the land of any expenses recoverable by a local authority or National Park authority under s 209(1): s 209(5) (amended by the Environment Act 1995 s 78, Sch 10 para 32(6)). As to National Park authorities see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 526 et seq.

876. Penalties for failure to comply with tree preservation orders.

If any person, in contravention¹ of a tree preservation order²:

3459 (1) cuts down, uproots or wilfully destroys³ a tree; or

3460 (2) wilfully damages, tops or lops a tree in such a manner as to be likely to destroy it, he is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction on indictment to a fine or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £20,000⁴.

In determining the amount of any fine to be so imposed on a person convicted of any such offence, the court must in particular have regard to any financial benefit which has accrued or appears likely to accrue to him in consequence of the offence⁵.

If any person contravenes the provisions of a tree preservation order otherwise than as mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above, he is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 4 on the standard scale⁶.

Where a local planning authority⁷ considers it necessary or expedient for an actual or apprehended offence under the above provision to be restrained by injunction, it may apply to the court for an injunction, whether or not it has exercised or is proposing to exercise any of its other statutory⁸ powers⁹.

1 A person is guilty of such contravention only if he is directly or vicariously liable: see Groveside Homes Ltd v Elmbridge Borough Council (1987) 55 P & CR 214, [1987] 2 EGLR 199, DC (no liability for offence by independent contractor who had been expressly told not to touch the protected tree).

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/ (3) PRESERVATION OF TREES AND HEDGEROWS/(iii) Trees in Conservation Areas/877. Preservation of trees.

(iii) Trees in Conservation Areas

877. Preservation of trees.

Any person who, in relation to any tree in a conservation area¹ in respect of which no tree preservation order² is for the time being in force, does any act which might³ be prohibited by a tree preservation order is, subject to the power to disapply this provision⁴, guilty of an offence⁵.

It is, however, a defence for a person charged with such an offence to prove:

3461 (1) that he served notice of his intention to do the act in question, with sufficient particulars to identify the tree, on the local planning authority in whose area the tree is or was situated; and 3462 (2) that he did the act in question:

317

311. (a) with the consent of the local planning authority in whose area the tree is or was situated; or

312. (b) after the expiry of the period of six weeks from the date of the notice but before the expiry of the period of two years from that date⁶.

318

As from a day to be appointed⁷, an emanation of the Crown⁸ must not, in relation to a tree in a conservation area in respect of which no tree preservation order is for the time being in force⁹, do any act which might be prohibited by a tree preservation order¹⁰ unless:

3463 (i) the first condition is satisfied; and 3464 (ii) either the second or third condition is satisfied¹¹.

The first condition is that the emanation serves notice of an intention to do the act, with sufficient particulars to identify the tree, on the local planning authority in whose area the tree is situated¹². The second condition is that the act is done with the consent of the authority¹³ and the third condition is that the act is done:

3465 (A) after the end of the period of six weeks starting with the date of the notice;
and 3466 (B) before the end of the period of two years starting with that date¹⁴.

It is the duty of a local planning authority to compile and keep available for public inspection free of charge at all reasonable hours and at a convenient place a register containing such particulars as the Secretary of State¹⁵ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁶ may determine of notices under the above provisions¹⁷ affecting trees in its area¹⁸.

Where a local planning authority considers it necessary or expedient for an actual or apprehended offence under the above provisions to be restrained by injunction, it may apply to the court for an injunction, whether or not it has exercised or is proposing to exercise any of its other statutory¹⁹ powers²⁰.

UPDATE

877 Preservation of trees

TEXT AND NOTE 7--Day now appointed: SI 2006/1281.

NOTE 8--The National Assembly for Wales Commission is to be treated as an emanation of the Crown for the purposes of the 1990 Act s 211: National Assembly for Wales Commission (Crown Status) (No 2) Order 2007, SI 2007/1353, art 4(1), (2)(a).

PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/ (3) PRESERVATION OF TREES AND HEDGEROWS/(iii) Trees in Conservation Areas/878. Exempted cases.

878. Exempted cases.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may by regulations³ direct that the statutory provisions relating to the preservation of trees in conservation areas⁴ shall not apply in such cases as may be specified in the regulations⁵; and the regulations may be framed⁶ so as to exempt from the application of those provisions cases defined by reference to all or any of the following matters:

- 3467 (1) acts of such descriptions or done in such circumstances or subject to such conditions as may be specified in the regulations;
- 3468 (2) trees in such conservation areas as may be so specified;
- 3469 (3) trees of a size or species so specified; or
- 3470 (4) trees belonging to persons or bodies of a description so specified⁷.

The regulations may, in relation to any matter by reference to which an exemption is conferred by them, make different provision for different circumstances⁸.

The cases in which the statutory provisions relating to the preservation of trees in conservation areas do not apply are:

- 3471 (a) the cutting down of a tree or the cutting down, uprooting, topping or lopping of a tree in specified circumstances⁹;
 - 3472 (b) the cutting down of a tree in accordance with a felling licence¹⁰ granted by the Forestry Commissioners¹¹;
 - 3473 (c) the cutting down of a tree in accordance with a plan of operations or other working plan approved by the Forestry Commissioners, and for the time being in force, under a forestry dedication covenant¹² or under the conditions of a grant or loan¹³;
 - 3474 (d) the cutting down, uprooting, topping or lopping of a tree by, or on behalf of, a local planning authority¹⁴;
 - 3475 (e) the cutting down or uprooting:
- 319
- 313. (i) of a tree whose diameter does not exceed 75 millimetres¹⁵; or
 - 314. (ii) where carried out for the sole purpose of improving the growth of other trees, of a tree whose diameter does not exceed 100 millimetres¹⁶; or
- 320
- 3476 (f) the topping or lopping of a tree whose diameter does not exceed 75 millimetres¹⁷.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 212, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 Ie under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990. As to the making of regulations generally see PARA 3 ante; and as to the exercise of this power see the Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, reg 10; and heads (a)-(f) in the text.

4 Ie the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 211 (as prospectively amended): see PARA 877 ante. As to conservation areas see PARA 1169 et seq post.

5 Ibid s 212(1). See also PARA 847 note 7 ante. Such regulations may in particular, but without prejudice to the generality of s 212(1), exempt from the application of s 211 (as prospectively amended) cases exempted from s 198 (as amended) by s 198(6) (see PARA 850 ante): s 212(4). See the Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, reg 10(1)(a); and head (a) in the text.

6 Ie without prejudice to the generality of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 212(1): see the text and notes 1-5 supra.

7 Ibid s 212(2).

8 Ibid s 212(3).

9 Ie in the circumstances mentioned in ibid s 198(6) (see PARA 850 ante) or in the Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, reg 2(1), Schedule art 5 (as amended): reg 10(1)(a). Schedule art 5(1) provides that nothing in the Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, Schedule art 4 (prohibited acts in relation to trees) prevents:

- 68 (1) the cutting down, topping, lopping or uprooting of a tree by or at the request of a statutory undertaker, where the land on which the tree is situated is operational land of the statutory undertaker and the work is necessary (a) in the interests of the safe operation of the undertaking; (b) in connection with the inspection, repair or renewal of any sewers, mains, pipes, cables or other apparatus of the statutory undertaker; or (c) to enable the statutory undertaker to carry out development permitted by or under the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418 (as amended) (see PARA 255 et seq ante);
- 69 (2) the cutting down, topping, lopping or uprooting of a tree cultivated for the production of fruit in the course of a business or trade where such work is in the interests of that business or trade;
- 70 (3) the pruning, in accordance with good horticultural practice, of any tree cultivated for the production of fruit;
- 71 (4) the cutting down, topping, lopping or uprooting of a tree where that work is required to enable a person to implement a planning permission (other than an outline planning permission or, without prejudice to head (1)(c) supra, a permission granted by or under the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418 (as amended)) granted on an application under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt III (ss 55-106B) (as amended) or deemed to have been granted (whether for the purposes of Pt III (as amended) or otherwise);
- 72 (5) the cutting down, topping, lopping or uprooting of a tree by or at the request of the Environment Agency to enable the Agency to carry out development permitted by or under the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418 (as amended);
- 73 (6) the cutting down, topping, lopping or uprooting of a tree by or at the request of a drainage body where that tree interferes, or is likely to interfere, with the exercise of any of the functions of that body in relation to the maintenance, improvement or construction of watercourses or of drainage works, and for this purpose 'drainage body' and 'drainage' have the same meanings as in the Land Drainage Act 1991 (see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 101 (2009) PARA 573); or
- 74 (7) without prejudice to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 198(6)(b), the felling or lopping of a tree or the cutting back of its roots by or at the request of, or in accordance with a notice served by, a licence holder (ie an electricity supplier or distributor: see the Utilities Act 2000 s 31(3)) under the Electricity Act 1989 s 10(1), Sch 4 para 9 (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1295).

For these purposes, 'statutory undertaker' means any of the following: (i) a person authorised by any enactment to carry on any railway, light railway, tramway, road transport, water transport, canal, inland navigation, dock, harbour, pier or lighthouse undertaking, or any undertaking for the supply of hydraulic power; (ii) a relevant airport operator within the meaning of the Airports Act 1986 Pt V (ss 57-62) (as amended); (iii) the holder of a licence under the Electricity Act 1989 s 6 (as substituted) (ie an electricity supplier or distributor); (iv) a gas transporter; (v) the holder of a licence under the Telecommunications Act 1984 s 7 (as amended) to whom what is now the electronic communications code (within the meaning of that Act) is applied; (vi) a water or sewerage undertaker; (vii) the Civil Aviation Authority, a body acting on behalf of that authority or a person who holds a licence under the Transport Act 2000 Pt I Ch I (ss 1-40) (as amended) (see AIR LAW vol 2 (2008) PARA 139 et seq); (viii) a universal postal service provider in connection with the provision of a universal postal service: see the Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, Schedule art 5(2) (amended by SI 2001/1149; SI 2001/3266; SI 2001/4050).

10 Ie a felling licence granted under the Forestry Act 1967 Pt II (ss 9-36) (as amended): see FORESTRY vol 52 (2009) PARA 120 et seq.

11 As to the Forestry Commissioners see FORESTRY vol 52 (2009) PARA 34 et seq.

12 Ie entered into under the Forestry Act 1967 s 5 (as amended) (forestry dedication covenants and agreements): see FORESTRY vol 52 (2009) PARA 116 et seq.

13 Ie a grant or loan made under the Forestry Act 1979 s 1 (as amended) (finance for forestry): see FORESTRY vol 52 (2009) PARA 40.

14 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

15 For these purposes: (1) where a tree has more than one stem at a point 1.5 metres above the natural ground level its diameter is to be treated for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, reg 10(1)(e)(i), (f) or reg 10(1)(e)(ii) as exceeding 75 millimetres or 100 millimetres respectively, if any stem when measured over its bark at that point exceeds 75 millimetres or 100 millimetres respectively; (2) in any other case, the diameter of a tree is to be ascertained by measurement, over the bark of the tree, at a point 1.5 metres above the natural ground level: reg 10(2).

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/ (3) PRESERVATION OF TREES AND HEDGEROWS/(iii) Trees in Conservation Areas/879. Enforcement of controls.

879. Enforcement of controls.

If any tree to which the statutory provisions relating to the preservation of trees in conservation areas¹ apply:

- 3477 (1) is removed, uprooted or destroyed² in contravention of those provisions; or
- 3478 (2) is removed, uprooted or destroyed or dies at a time when its cutting down or uprooting is authorised only by virtue of the provisions of specified regulations³, it is the duty⁴ of the owner of the land to plant another tree of an appropriate size and species at the same place as soon as he reasonably can⁵; but this duty does not apply to an owner if, on application by him, the local planning authority⁶ dispenses with it⁷.

2 See PARA 850 note 9 ante.

3 Ie such regulations under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 212(1) as are mentioned in s 212(4): see PARA 878 ante.

4 The duty so imposed on the owner of any land attaches to the person who is from time to time the owner of the land and may be enforced as provided by ibid s 207 (as amended) (see PARA 874 ante) and not otherwise: s 213(3). For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 17 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/ (3) PRESERVATION OF TREES AND HEDGEROWS/(iv) Rights of Entry/880. Right of entry without warrant.

(iv) Rights of Entry

880. Right of entry without warrant.

Any person duly authorised in writing by a local planning authority¹ may enter any land² for the purpose of:

- 3479 (1) surveying it in connection with making or confirming a tree preservation order³ with respect to the land;
- 3480 (2) ascertaining whether an offence⁴ has been committed on the land; or
- 3481 (3) determining whether an enforcement notice⁵ should be served on the owner⁶ of the land, if there are reasonable grounds for entering for the purpose in question⁷.

Any person:

- 3482 (a) duly authorised⁸ in writing by the Secretary of State⁹ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales¹⁰ may enter any land for the purpose of surveying it in connection with making, amending or revoking a tree preservation order with respect to the land if there are reasonable grounds for entering for that purpose¹¹;
- 3483 (b) duly authorised in writing by the Secretary of State or the Assembly may enter any land in connection with the exercise of any functions¹² conferred on the Secretary of State or the Assembly by or under the statutory provisions¹³ relating to tree preservation orders¹⁴;
- 3484 (c) duly authorised in writing by a local planning authority may enter any land in connection with the exercise of any functions conferred on the authority by or under the statutory provisions relating to tree preservation orders¹⁵.

Any person who is an officer of the Valuation Office¹⁶ may enter any land for the purpose of surveying it, or estimating its value, in connection with a claim for compensation in respect of any land which is payable¹⁷ by the local planning authority¹⁸.

Any right so to enter any land must be exercised at a reasonable hour¹⁹.

882. Additional rights and duties.

Any power¹ to enter land² ('a right of entry') is to be construed as including power to take samples from any tree and samples of the soil³.

A person authorised to enter land in exercise of a right of entry:

- 3489 (1) must, if so required, produce evidence of his authority and state the purpose of his entry before so entering;
 3490 (2) may take with him such other persons as may be necessary; and 3491 (3) on leaving the land must, if the owner⁴ or occupier is not then present, leave it as effectively secured against trespassers as he found it⁵.

If any damage is caused to land or chattels in the exercise of a right of entry, compensation⁶ may be recovered by any person suffering the damage from the authority which gave the written authority for the entry or, as the case may be, from the Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁸.

(v) Appeals

A. CONSENTS UNDER TREE PRESERVATION ORDERS

883. Right of appeal.

Where the authority¹:

3492 (1) refuses an application for consent under a tree preservation order² or grants it subject to conditions³;

3493 (2) refuses an application for any consent, agreement or approval of that authority required by a condition imposed on a grant of consent under such an order or grants it subject to conditions;

3494 (3) gives a direction under a tree preservation order, or refuses an application for any consent, agreement or approval of that authority required by such a direction; or

- 3495 (4) fails to determine any such application as is referred to in heads (1) to (3) within the period of eight weeks beginning with the date on which the application was received by the authority, the applicant may by notice appeal to the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁵. Any such appeal must be made by notice in writing⁶ addressed to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, specifying the grounds on which the appeal is made⁷. Such notice must be served⁸:

- 3496 (a) in respect of a matter mentioned in any of heads (1) to (3) above, within the period of 28 days from the receipt of notification of the authority's decision or direction or within such longer period as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may allow;

- 3497 (b) in respect of such a failure as is mentioned in head (4) above, at any time after the expiration of the period mentioned in that head, but if the authority has informed the applicant that the application has been refused, or granted subject to conditions, before an appeal has been made, an appeal may only be made against that refusal or grant⁹.

The appellant must serve on the authority a copy of the notice mentioned above¹⁰.

1 For these purposes, 'the authority' means the council making the order: Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, reg 2(1), Schedule art 2. See also PARA 858 note 3 ante; and as to the power to make tree preservation orders see PARA 850 et seq ante.

For the purposes of the application of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 79(1) (as amended) for these purposes (see PARA 884 post), in relation to an appeal made under s 78(1)(d) (as so amended and applied) (see head (4) in the text), it is to be assumed that the authority decided to refuse the application in question: s 78(5) (as so substituted and applied).

Government advice issued to members of the public living in England is that appeals should be the last resort and that the first tactic should involve an approach to the council to see if a mutually acceptable solution can be found: see Tree Preservation Order Appeals--How the Process Works (ODPM, 2005).

883 Right of appeal

TEXT AND NOTES--Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78(4A)-(4D) added: Planning Act 2008 Sch 11 paras 1, 2 (in force in relation to England).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/8. CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/ (3) PRESERVATION OF TREES AND HEDGEROWS/(v) Appeals/A. CONSENTS UNDER TREE PRESERVATION ORDERS/884. Determination of appeal.

884. Determination of appeal.

On an appeal relating to a consent under a tree preservation order¹ the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ may:

- 3498 (1) allow or dismiss the appeal; or
- 3499 (2) reverse or vary any part of the decision of the authority⁴, whether the appeal relates to that part of it or not,

and may deal with the application as if it had been made to him or to the Assembly in the first instance⁵.

Before determining such an appeal the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, if either the appellant or the authority so wishes, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before and being heard by a person appointed by him or by it for the purpose⁶. Subject to that, he or the Assembly may:

- 3500 (a) grant consent under the order, either unconditionally or subject to such conditions as he or it thinks fit, including conditions limiting the duration of the consent or requiring the replacement of trees; or
- 3501 (b) may refuse consent under the order⁷.

Where an application relates to an area of woodland, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must grant consent so far as accords with the practice of good forestry, unless satisfied that the granting of consent would fail to secure the maintenance of the special character of the woodland or the woodland character of the area⁸; and where he or it grants consent for the felling of trees in a woodland area he or it may not impose conditions requiring replacement where such felling is carried out in the course of forestry operations, but may give directions for securing replanting⁹.

The decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on such an appeal is final¹⁰.

B. ENFORCEMENT NOTICES RELATING TO TREES

885. Right of appeal.

A person on whom an enforcement notice requiring him to plant trees¹ is served may appeal to the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales³ against the notice on any of the following grounds:

- 3502 (1) that the statutory provisions relating to the replacement of trees⁴ or, as the case may be, the conditions⁵ of a consent given under a tree preservation order which require the replacement of trees are not applicable or have been complied with;
- 3503 (2) that in all the circumstances of the case the statutory duty to replace trees⁶ should be dispensed with in relation to any tree;
- 3504 (3) that the requirements of the notice are unreasonable in respect of the period or the size or species of trees specified in it;
- 3505 (4) that the planting of a tree or trees in accordance with the enforcement notice is not required in the interests of amenity⁷ or would be contrary to the practice of good forestry;
- 3506 (5) that the place on which the tree is or trees are required to be planted is unsuitable for that purpose⁸.

Such an appeal must be made either:

- 3507 (a) by giving written notice⁹ of the appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly before the end of the period after which the enforcement notice is to take effect¹⁰; or 3508 (b) by sending such written notice to him or to it in a properly addressed and prepaid letter posted to him at such time that, in the ordinary course of post, it would be delivered to him before the end of that period¹¹.

The notice must indicate the grounds of the appeal and state the facts on which it is based¹². Where such an appeal is brought, the enforcement notice is of no effect pending the final determination or the withdrawal of the appeal¹³.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/ (3) PRESERVATION OF TREES AND HEDGEROWS/(v) Appeals/B. ENFORCEMENT NOTICES RELATING TO TREES/886. Determination of appeal.

886. Determination of appeal.

On any appeal against an enforcement notice requiring the planting of trees¹ the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ must, if either the appellant or the local planning authority⁴ so desires, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by the Assembly for that purpose⁵.

On any such appeal the Secretary of State or the Assembly may:

- 3509 (1) correct any defect, error or misdescription in the enforcement notice; or
- 3510 (2) vary any of its requirements, if satisfied that the correction or variation will not cause injustice to the appellant or the local planning authority⁶.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly determines to allow the appeal, he or it may quash the enforcement notice⁷; and he or the Assembly must give any directions necessary to give effect to his or its determination on the appeal⁸.

Where any person has so appealed to the Secretary of State or the Assembly against an enforcement notice, neither that person nor any other is entitled, in any other proceedings instituted after the making of the appeal, to claim that the notice was not duly served on the person who appealed⁹.

By virtue of the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 6, Sch 4 para 1(1)(a), Table, PARA 5, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 208 (as amended) has effect, until a day to be appointed by the Secretary of State, with the addition of the following subsection:

75 '(11) Subsection (5) of section 250 of the Local Government Act 1972 (which authorises a Minister holding an inquiry under that section to make orders with respect to the costs of the parties) shall apply in relation to any proceedings before the Secretary of State on an appeal under this section as if those proceedings were an inquiry held by the Secretary of State under section 250'.

The day so appointed was 2 January 1992: Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 (Appointed Day No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1991, SI 1991/2698, art 3(1). Article 3(1) has effect, however, only for the purposes of awards of costs in relation to proceedings which give rise to a hearing (art 3(2)); and nothing in art 3 applies in relation to any proceedings occasioned by an application referred to the Secretary of State or an appeal made to him before 2 January 1992, or by an order or notice submitted or sent to the Secretary of State before that date for his confirmation or approval (art 4).

886 Determination of appeal

TEXT AND NOTES--Where the Secretary of State has given a decision in proceedings on an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt VIII (ss 197-225) against a notice under s 207 (1) the appellant; (2) the local planning authority; or (3) any person (other than the appellant) on whom the notice was served, may appeal to the High Court against the decision on a point of law: CPR 52.20(2) (CPR 52.20 added by SI 2007/2204). In such a statutory appeal, any person may apply for permission to file evidence; or to make representations at the appeal hearing: CPR 52.12A(1) (CPR 52.12A added by SI 2007/2204). Such an application must be made promptly: CPR 52.12A(2) (CPR 52.12A as so added).

If it appears to the local planning authority¹ that the amenity² of a part of its area, or of an adjoining area, is adversely affected by the condition of land³ in its area, the authority may serve on the owner⁴ and occupier of the land a notice⁵ requiring such steps for remedying the condition of the land as may be specified in the notice to be taken within such period as may be specified in the notice to be taken within such period as may be so specified⁶.

The notice takes effect⁷ at the end of such period as may be specified in the notice⁸; and that period may not be less than 28 days after the service of the notice⁹.

888. Appeal against notice.

A person on whom a notice is served requiring steps to be taken for remedying the condition of any land¹ or any other person having an interest in the land² to which the notice relates may, at any time within the period specified in the notice as the period at the end of which it is to take effect, appeal against the notice on any of the following grounds:

- 3511 (1) that the condition of the land to which the notice relates does not adversely affect the amenity³ of any part of the area of the local planning authority⁴ which served the notice, or of any adjoining area;
- 3512 (2) that the condition of the land to which the notice relates is attributable to, and such as results in the ordinary course of events from, the carrying on of operations or a use⁵ of land which is not in contravention of the statutory provisions relating to control of development⁶;
- 3513 (3) that the requirements of the notice exceed what is necessary for preventing the condition of the land from adversely affecting the amenity of any part of the area of the local planning authority which served the notice, or of any adjoining area;
- 3514 (4) that the period specified in the notice as the period within which any steps required by the notice are to be taken falls short of what should reasonably be allowed⁷.

Any such appeal must be made to a magistrates' court⁸.

Where such an appeal is brought, the notice to which it relates is of no effect pending the final determination or withdrawal of the appeal⁹; and, where any person has so appealed to a magistrates' court against a notice, neither that person nor any other is entitled, in any other proceedings instituted after the making of the appeal, to claim that the notice was not duly served on the person who appealed¹⁰.

On such an appeal the magistrates' court may correct any informality, defect or error in the notice if satisfied that the informality, defect or error is not material¹¹. On the determination of such an appeal the magistrates' court must give directions for giving effect to the court's determination, including, where appropriate, directions for quashing the notice or for varying the terms of the notice in favour of the appellant¹².

Where an appeal has been so brought an appeal against the decision of the magistrates' court on that appeal may be brought to the Crown Court by the appellant or by the local planning authority which served¹³ the notice in question¹⁴.

888 Appeal against notice

TEXT AND NOTE 7--See also London Local Authorities Act 2007 s 32(2).

NOTE 8--Day now appointed: SI 2005/910.

ADVERSELY AFFECTING AMENITY OF NEIGHBOURHOOD/889. Execution and cost of works required by notice.

889. Execution and cost of works required by notice.

If, within the period specified in a notice¹, or within such extended period as the local planning authority² which served the notice may allow, any steps required by the notice to be taken have not been taken, the local planning authority which served the notice may:

- 3515 (1) enter the land³ and take those steps; and
- 3516 (2) recover from the person who is then the owner⁴ of the land any expenses reasonably incurred by the authority in doing so⁵.

Where a notice has been served⁶:

- 3517 (a) any expenses incurred by the owner or occupier of any land for the purpose of complying with the notice and any sums paid⁷ by the owner of any land in respect of expenses incurred by the local planning authority in taking steps required by such a notice are deemed to be incurred or paid for the use and at the request of the person who caused or permitted the land to come to be in the condition in which it was when the notice was served⁸;
- 3518 (b) any expenses recoverable by a local planning authority⁹ are, until recovered, a charge that is binding on successive owners of the land to which the notice relates, and the charge takes effect as from the date of the completion by that authority of the steps required to be taken by the notice¹⁰.

7 le under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 219(1): see the text and notes 1-5 supra.

8 Ibid s 219(2). Regulations made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 may provide that (1) the Public Health Act 1936 s 276 (power of local authorities to sell materials removed in executing works under that Act subject to accounting for the proceeds of sale); (2) s 289 (power to require the occupier of any premises to permit works to be executed by the owner of the premises); or (3) s 294 (limit on liability of persons holding premises as agents or trustees in respect of the expenses recoverable under that Act), shall apply, subject to such adaptations and modifications as may be specified in the regulations, in relation to any steps required to be taken by a notice under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 215: s 219(3). Any such regulations applying the Public Health Act 1936 s 289 may include adaptations and modifications for the purpose of giving the owner of land to which a notice under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 215 relates the right, as against all other persons interested in the land, to comply with the requirements of the enforcement notice: s 219(4). Any such regulations may also provide for the charging on the land of any expenses recoverable by a local authority under s 219(1): s 219(5). For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 44 note 1 ante.

In exercise of the power so conferred, and prior to the transfer of functions in relation to Wales to the National Assembly for Wales (see PARA 20 ante), the Secretary of State made the Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 14(1) (see PARA 568 note 7 ante), reg 14(3) (as added) (see the text and notes 9-10 infra). CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(4) LAND ADVERSELY AFFECTING AMENITY OF NEIGHBOURHOOD/890. Penalty for non-compliance with notice.

890. Penalty for non-compliance with notice.

Where a notice has been served requiring steps to be taken for remedying the condition of any land¹, then, if any owner² or occupier of the land³ on whom the notice was served fails to take steps required by the notice within the period specified in it for compliance with it, he is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale⁴.

Where proceedings have been so brought⁵ against a person:

- 3519 (1) as the owner of the land; or
- 3520 (2) as the occupier of the land, and he has, at some time before the end of the compliance period⁶, ceased to be the owner or occupier of the land, as the case may be, then, if he duly lays information to that effect and gives the prosecution not less than three clear days' notice of his intention, he is entitled:

- 3521 (a) in a case falling under head (1) above, to have the person who then became the owner of the land brought before the court in the proceedings⁷; or
- 3522 (b) in a case falling under head (2) above, to have brought before the court in the proceedings the person who then became the occupier of the land or, if nobody then became the occupier, the person who is the owner at the date of the notice⁸.

Where in such proceedings it has been proved that any steps required by the notice⁹ have not been taken within the compliance period, and the original accused proves that the failure to take those steps was attributable, in whole or in part, to the default of a person specified in a notice under the above provisions¹⁰, then:

- 3523 (i) that person may be convicted of the offence; and
- 3524 (ii) if the original accused also proves that he took all reasonable steps to ensure compliance with the notice, he must be acquitted of the offence¹¹.

If, after a person has been convicted under the above provisions, he does not as soon as practicable do everything in his power to secure compliance with the notice, he is guilty of a further offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one-tenth of level 3 on the standard scale for each day following his first conviction on which any of the requirements of the notice remain unfulfilled¹².

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(5) DEVELOPMENT BY LOCAL PLANNING AUTHORITIES/891. Land of interested planning authorities; development by such authorities.

(5) DEVELOPMENT BY LOCAL PLANNING AUTHORITIES

891. Land of interested planning authorities; development by such authorities.

The statutory provisions relating to control over development¹, enforcement² and the special controls on trees, land adversely affecting the amenity of a neighbourhood and advertisements³ apply in relation to:

3525 (1) land⁴ of interested planning authorities⁵; and

3526 (2) the development⁶ of any land by interested planning authorities or by such authorities jointly with any other persons, subject to regulations made by virtue of these provisions⁷.

The regulations may, in relation to such land or such development:

3527 (a) provide for any of those provisions to apply subject to prescribed exceptions or modifications or not to apply;

3528 (b) make new provision as to any matter dealt with in any of those provisions;

3529 (c) make different provision in relation to different classes of land or development⁸.

The regulations may⁹ provide:

3530 (i) for applications for planning permission to develop such land, or for such development, to be determined¹⁰ by the authority concerned, by another interested planning authority or by the Secretary of State¹¹ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales¹²; and

3531 (ii) for the procedure to be followed on such applications; and, in the case of applications falling to be determined by an interested planning authority, they may¹³ regulate the authority's arrangements for the discharge of the authority's functions¹⁴.

In the case of any application for planning permission to develop land of an interested planning authority where:

3532 (A) the authority does not intend to develop the land itself or jointly with any other person; and

3533 (B) if it were not such land, the application would fall to be determined by another body, the regulations must provide for the application to be determined by that other body, unless the application is referred¹⁵ to the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁶.

Section 316 (as so substituted) applies to any consent required in respect of any land as it applies to planning permission to develop land: s 316(7) (as so substituted).

The regulations must (1) provide for s 71(3) (see PARA 473 ante), and any provision made by virtue of s 65 (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 468 ante) or s 71 (as amended) (see PARA 473 ante) by a development order, to apply to applications for planning permission to develop such land, or for such development, subject to prescribed exceptions or modifications; or (2) make corresponding provision: s 316(4) (as so substituted).

References in the planning Acts to any of the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt III (ss 55-106B) (as amended), and Pt VII (ss 171A-196C) (as amended) and Pt VIII (ss 197-225) (as amended) include, except where the context otherwise requires, references to those provisions as modified under s 316 (as so substituted): s 336(9) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 52(3)).

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(5) DEVELOPMENT BY LOCAL PLANNING AUTHORITIES/893. Applications for planning permission.

893. Applications for planning permission.

An application for planning permission¹ by an interested planning authority² to develop³ any land⁴ of that authority, or for development of any land by an interested planning authority jointly with any other person, must be determined by the authority concerned unless the application is referred⁵ to the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁷ for determination⁸.

The above provisions do not, however, apply in the case of an application for planning permission to develop land of an interested planning authority where:

- 3536 (1) the authority does not intend to develop the land itself or jointly with any person; and 3537 (2) if it were not such land, the application would fall to be determined by another body⁹.

1 For these purposes, 'planning permission', except in the Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 7 (see PARA 894 post), reg 8 (see PARA 894 post) and reg 9 (as amended) (see PARA 895 post), includes any consent of a local planning authority required under a development order: reg 1(2). 894. Publicity and consultation.

Any provision relating to notices of applications for planning permission¹ or consultations in connection with the determination of such applications² made by a development order³ applies to applications for planning permission for development⁴ of land⁵ by an interested planning authority⁶, subject to prescribed modifications⁷.

Before determining such an application for planning permission⁸, an urban development corporation⁹ in Greater London¹⁰ must consult¹¹ the council of the London borough¹² for the area in which the land which is the subject of the application, or any part of it, is situated¹³.

895. Effect of planning permission.

Any grant of planning permission¹ by an interested planning authority² of development³ of any land⁴ by that interested planning authority enures for the benefit of the applicant interested planning authority, except in the case of development of any land by an interested planning authority jointly with any other person where that person is specified in the application for planning permission as a joint developer, in which case the permission enures for the benefit of the applicant interested planning authority and that other person⁵.

The above provision does not, however, apply where:

3538 (1) in England, the interested planning authority is:

327

321. (a) the council of a district⁶ for which there is no county council⁷;

322. (b) the council of a county in which there are no district councils; or
 323. (c) the council of a London borough⁸;
- 328
 3539 (2) in Wales, the interested planning authority is:

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(6) WAR-TIME BREACHES OF PLANNING CONTROL BY THE CROWN/(i) In general/899. War-time breaches; in general.

(6) WAR-TIME BREACHES OF PLANNING CONTROL BY THE CROWN

(i) In general

899. War-time breaches; in general.

Where during the war period¹:

- 3545 (1) works² not complying with planning control³ were carried out on land; or
- 3546 (2) a use of land not complying with planning control was begun by or on behalf of the Crown, then, if at any time after the end of the war period there subsists in the land a permanent or long-term interest⁴ which is neither held by or on behalf of the Crown nor subject to any interest or right to possession so held, the planning control is enforceable⁵, so long as such an interest subsists in the land, in respect of those works or that use notwithstanding:

- 3547 (a) that the works were carried out or the land used by or on behalf of the Crown; or
- 3548 (b) the subsistence in the land of any interest held by or on behalf of the Crown in reversion, whether immediate or not, expectant on the termination of that permanent or long-term interest⁶.

Where, however, any works on land carried out, or use of land begun, during the war period remain or continues after the relevant date⁷ and no determination⁸ has been given, the works or use are or is treated for all purposes as complying with that control unless steps for enforcing the control have been begun before that date⁹.

1 For these purposes, 'war period' means the period extending from 3 September 1939 to 26 March 1946: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 302(6).

2 For these purposes, 'works' includes any building, structure, excavation or other work on land: ibid s 302(6). For the meanings of 'building' and 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

3 For these purposes, references to non-compliance with planning control mean (1) in relation to works on land carried out, or a use of land begun, at a time when the land was subject to a resolution to prepare a scheme under the Town and Country Planning Act 1932 (repealed), that the works were carried out or the use begun otherwise than in accordance with the terms of an interim development order or of permission granted under such an order; (2) in relation to works on land carried out, or a use of land begun, at a time when the land was subject to such a scheme, that the works were carried out or the use begun otherwise than in conformity with the provisions of the scheme; and references in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 to compliance with planning control are to be construed accordingly: s 302(7). For the meaning of 'use' see PARA 221 note 4 ante.

4 For these purposes, 'permanent or long-term interest', in relation to land, means the fee simple in the land, a tenancy of the land granted for a term of more than ten years and not subject to a subsisting right of the landlord to determine the tenancy at or before the expiration of ten years from the beginning of the term, or a tenancy granted for a term of ten years or less with a right of renewal which would enable the tenant to prolong the term of the tenancy beyond ten years; and 'tenancy' includes a tenancy under an underlease, and a tenancy under an agreement for a lease or underlease, but does not include an option to take a tenancy and does not include a mortgage: ibid s 302(6). For the normal meaning of 'tenancy' see PARA 16 note 9 ante; and for the meaning of 'mortgage' see PARA 38 note 6 ante.

5 Ie subject to ibid s 302(4): see the text and notes 7-9 infra.

6 Ibid s 302(1), (2). As to the purpose of these provisions see R v Secretary of State for the Environment, ex p Bulk Storage Ltd [1985] JPL 35; and as to the power to require information in respect of interests in land see PARA 53 ante.

The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt XIV (ss 303-314) (as amended) (see PARAS 19, 48 et seq, 458 ante, PARAS 913, 933, 994 post) and Pt XV (ss 315-337) (as amended) do not, however, apply to s 302 and Sch 15: Sch 15 para 16.

7 For these purposes, 'the relevant date', in relation to any land, means the date with which the period of five years from the end of the war period ends, but for the purposes of this definition any time during which, notwithstanding ibid s 302(2) (see the text and notes 1-6 supra), planning control is unenforceable by reason of the subsistence in or over the land of any interest or right to possession held by or on behalf of the Crown must be disregarded: s 302(6).

8 Ie a determination under ibid s 302(3): see PARA 902 post.

9 Ibid s 302(4).

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(6) WAR-TIME BREACHES OF PLANNING CONTROL BY THE CROWN/(i) In general/900. Exercise of functions.

900. Exercise of functions.

In England, elsewhere than in a metropolitan county¹ or a National Park² the functions³ conferred under the statutory provisions relating to enforcement in respect of war-time breaches of planning control by the Crown⁴ on the authority responsible for enforcing planning control⁵ must be exercised⁶:

- 3549 (1) in the case of works⁷ on or a use⁸ of land⁹ which in the opinion of the district planning authority¹⁰ relates to a county matter¹¹, by the county planning authority¹²;
3550 (2) in any other case, by the district planning authority¹³.

As respects the area of any National Park for which a National Park authority is the local planning authority those functions must be exercised by that authority¹⁴.

Every application for a determination¹⁵ to an authority responsible for enforcing planning control must be made to the district planning authority which, in the case of an application falling to be determined by the county planning authority, must send it on to the latter¹⁶. A county planning authority determining any such application must give the district planning authority for the area in which the land to which the application relates is situated an opportunity to make recommendations to the county planning authority as to the manner in which the application should be determined and must take any such recommendations into account¹⁷. A county or district planning authority which has dealt with any such application must notify the district or, as the case may be, the county planning authority of the terms of its determination or, in a case where the application has been referred to the Secretary of State, the date when it was so referred¹⁸.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(6) WAR-TIME BREACHES OF PLANNING CONTROL BY THE CROWN/(i) In general/901. Notice of proposed enforcement.

901. Notice of proposed enforcement.

Where before the relevant date¹ any person proposes to take steps for enforcing a planning control in the case of a war-time breach by the Crown², then, unless a compliance determination application³ has been made in relation to the land which has not finally been determined⁴, that person must serve on every owner⁵ and occupier of the land⁶ not less than 28 days' notice of the proposal; and, if within that period any person makes such an application in relation to the land and within seven days of making it serves on the person proposing so to take steps notice that the application has been made, no steps for enforcing the control may be taken until the final determination of the application⁷. No such notice is, however, required if steps for enforcing a planning control in the case of any works on land are begun within 28 days of the final determination of a compliance determination application in relation to the land⁸.

If such an application has been made which has not been finally determined, no such steps may be taken until the final determination of it⁹.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(6) WAR-TIME BREACHES OF PLANNING CONTROL BY THE CROWN/(ii) Compliance Determination Applications/A. IN GENERAL/902. Right to apply for determination.

(ii) Compliance Determination Applications

A. IN GENERAL

902. Right to apply for determination.

A person entitled to make a compliance determination application¹ with respect to any land² may apply at any time before the relevant date³ to an authority responsible for enforcing any planning control⁴ for a determination:

- 3551 (1) whether works on the land carried out, or a use of the land begun, during the war period⁵ fail to comply with any planning control⁶ which the authority is responsible for enforcing; and
- 3552 (2) if so, whether the works or use should be deemed to comply with that control⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'a compliance determination application' see PARA 901 note 3 ante; and as to persons entitled to make such applications see PARA 906 post.

2 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'the relevant date' see PARA 899 note 7 ante.

4 For these purposes, 'authority responsible for enforcing planning control' means, in relation to any works on land or use of land, the authority empowered by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1947 s 75 (repealed) or of the Town and Country Planning Act 1971 s 292(1), Sch 24 para 34, including Sch 24 para 34 as it continues in effect by virtue of the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 ss 3(3), 4, 5(1), Sch 3 (see PARA 561 note 2 ante) to serve an enforcement notice in respect of it or the authority which would be so empowered if the works had been carried out, or the use begun, otherwise than in compliance with planning control: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 302(6). 904. Power of entry.

At any time before the relevant date¹ any officer of an authority responsible for enforcing planning control² has a right, on producing, if so required, some duly authenticated document showing his authority to act for these purposes, to enter any premises at all reasonable hours:

- 3553 (1) for the purpose of ascertaining whether there are on the premises any works³ carried out during the war period⁴ which do not comply with planning control⁵, or whether a use⁶ of the premises continues which was begun during that period and does not comply with it;
- 3554 (2) where a compliance determination application⁷ has been made to the authority, for the purpose of obtaining any information required by the authority for the exercise of its functions⁸ in relation to the application⁹.

Admission to any premises which are occupied may not be demanded as of right unless 24 hours' notice of the intended entry has been served on the occupier¹⁰.

Any person who wilfully obstructs any officer of an authority acting in the exercise of the above powers is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 1 on the standard scale¹¹.

If any person who, in compliance with the above provisions, is admitted into a factory, workshop or workplace¹² discloses to any person any information obtained by him in it with regard to any manufacturing process or trade secret, he is liable, unless such disclosure was made in the performance of his duty, on summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale¹³.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(6) WAR-TIME BREACHES OF PLANNING CONTROL BY THE CROWN/(ii) Compliance Determination Applications/B. PROCEDURE/906. Making of application.

B. PROCEDURE

906. Making of application.

A compliance determination application¹ may be made with respect to any land²:

3555 (1) by the owner³ or occupier of the land; or

3556 (2) by any person who proves that he has or intends to acquire an interest in the land which will be affected by a compliance determination⁴ or that he has borne any of the cost of carrying out works⁵ on the land during the war period⁶.

In the case of land owned or occupied by or on behalf of the Crown, or leased to, or to a person acting on behalf of, the Crown, or with respect to which it is proved that there is held, or intended to be acquired, by or on behalf of the Crown an interest in the land which will be so affected⁷ or that any such cost⁸ has been borne by the Crown, a compliance determination application may be made by any person acting on behalf of the Crown⁹.

A compliance determination application must be accompanied by such plans and other information as are necessary to enable the application to be determined¹⁰.

The authority to which a compliance determination application is made must, within 14 days from the receipt of the application, publish notice of it in one or more local newspapers circulating in the area in which the land is situated and must serve notice of it on any person appearing to the authority to be specially affected by the application¹¹.

The authority must take into consideration any representations made to it in connection with the application within 14 days from the publication of the notice¹².

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(6) WAR-TIME BREACHES OF PLANNING CONTROL BY THE CROWN/(ii) Compliance Determination Applications/B. PROCEDURE/909. Determination of applications.

909. Determination of applications.

Where a compliance determination application¹ is made to an authority, the authority must determine whether the works² or use³ in question fail to comply with any planning control⁴ which the authority is responsible for enforcing⁵ and, if so, must specify the control in question⁶.

Where the authority determines that works or a use fail or fails so to comply, the authority must further determine whether, having regard to all relevant circumstances, the works or use shall, notwithstanding the failure, be deemed so to comply, either unconditionally or subject to such conditions as to the time for which the works or use may be continued, the carrying out of alterations, or other matters, as the authority thinks expedient⁷.

910. Fresh applications where alteration in circumstances.

Where a compliance determination¹ has been given that works² on land³ or a use⁴ of land shall not be deemed to comply with planning control⁵ or shall be deemed to comply⁶ with it subject to conditions, then, if a person entitled to make a compliance determination application⁷ with respect to the land satisfies the authority, or on appeal⁸ the Secretary of State⁹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁰, that there has been a material change of circumstances since the previous application was determined, he may make a subsequent application and, on such an application, the authority, or on appeal the Secretary of State or the Assembly, may substitute for the compliance determination such determination as appears proper having regard to all relevant circumstances¹¹.

CONTROL OF PARTICULAR TYPES OF DEVELOPMENT/(6) WAR-TIME BREACHES OF PLANNING CONTROL BY THE CROWN/(ii) Compliance Determination Applications/C. APPEALS/911. In general.

C. APPEALS

911. In general.

Where the applicant is aggrieved¹ by a compliance determination², or where a person by whom representations have been made³ is aggrieved by such a determination, he may appeal to the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁵.

The applicant may also appeal if he is aggrieved by the failure of the authority responsible for enforcing planning control⁶ to determine the application within two months from the last day on which representations may be made⁷ and has served notice on the authority that he appeals to the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁸.

Any such appeal must be made within the period of 28 days after the applicant has notice of the determination or, in the case of an appeal against the failure of the authority duly to determine an application⁹, after the applicant has served notice on the authority of the appeal, or within such extended period as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may allow¹⁰.

On such an appeal the Secretary of State or the Assembly may give, in substitution for the determination, if any, given by the authority, such determination as appears to him or to it to be proper having regard to all relevant circumstances, or, if he or it is satisfied that the applicant was not a person entitled to make the application, may decide that the application is not to be entertained¹¹.

At any stage of the proceedings on such an appeal to him or to the Assembly the Secretary of State or the Assembly may, and must if so directed by the High Court, state in the form of a special case for the opinion of the High Court any question of law arising in connection with the appeal¹².

Any determination or decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on such an appeal¹³ is final¹⁴.

9. COMPENSATION

(1) EXERCISE OF FUNCTIONS

912. Authority to which claims for compensation to be made.

Claims for payment of compensation¹ must² be made to and paid by the local planning authority³ which took the action by virtue of which the claim arose or, where that action was taken by the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁵, the local planning authority from which the appeal was made to him or to the Assembly or which referred the matter to him or to it or, in the case of an order made or notice served⁶ by him or by the Assembly, the appropriate authority⁷; and references for those purposes to a local planning authority are to be construed accordingly⁸.

After consultation⁹ with all the authorities concerned, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may, however, direct that, where a local planning authority is liable to pay compensation¹⁰ in any particular case or class of case, that authority shall be entitled to be reimbursed the whole of the compensation or such proportion of it as he or the Assembly may direct from one or more authorities specified in the direction¹¹.

In England, the local planning authority by which compensation is to be paid and to which claims for compensation are to be made where a purchase notice is served¹² is the district planning authority¹³.

- 1 le (1) in England, claims for payment of compensation under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 107 (as amended) (see PARA 914 post) (including s 107 (as amended) as applied by s 108 (as amended) (see PARA 915 post)), s 115(1)-(4) (see PARA 923 post), s 186 (as amended) (see PARA 581 ante) and s 223 (see PARA 832 ante); (2) in Wales, claims for payment of compensation under s 107 (as amended), (including s 107 (as amended) as applied by s 108 (as amended), s 115(1)-(4) and s 186 (as amended).

913. Contributions by ministers towards compensation paid by local authorities.

Where compensation is payable¹ by a local authority² or National Park authority³ in consequence of any specified decision or order⁴ and that decision or order was given or made wholly or partly in the interest of a service which is provided by a government department⁵ and the cost of which is defrayed out of money provided by Parliament, the minister⁶ responsible for the administration of that service may pay to that authority a contribution of such amount as he may with the consent of the Treasury determine⁷.

1 le under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990.

2 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 3 note 3 ante.

3 As to National Park authorities see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 526 et seq.

4 le any decision or order given or made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt III (ss 55-106B) (as amended) (see PARA 217 et seq ante), the provisions of Pt VI (ss 137-171) (as amended) (see PARA 966 et seq post) relating to purchase notices, Pt VII (ss 171A-196C) (as amended) (see PARA 551 et seq ante), Pt VIII (ss 197-225) (as amended) (see PARA 769 et seq ante) or Sch 5 (as amended) (see PARA 711 et seq ante), Sch 6 (as amended) (see PARA 621 et seq ante) or Sch 9 (as amended) (see PARA 757 et seq ante). For the meaning of 'purchase notice' see PARA 966 post.

Where compensation is payable by a local authority under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 (see PARA 1072 et seq post) or the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 (see PARA 1212 et seq post) in consequence of any decision or order given or made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt III (as amended), Pt VIII (as amended) or the provisions of Pt VI (as amended) relating to purchase notices or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 or the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990, then, if that decision or order was given or made wholly or partly in consequence of the land to which it relates being likely to be required for the provision in England of a terminal for, or of other works for the purposes of, a railway linking England with France and passing under the English Channel, the minister may pay to that authority a contribution of such amount as he may with the consent of the Treasury determine: see the Transport Act 1968 s 142(2) (amended by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 4, Sch 2 para 22(5)). See further RAILWAYS, INLAND WATERWAYS AND CROSS-COUNTRY PIPELINES vol 39(1A) (Reissue) PARA 324.

5 For the meaning of 'government department' see PARA 3 note 5 ante.

6 In relation to Wales, the functions formerly exercised by the Secretary of State for Wales under s 305 are transferred to the National Assembly for Wales, but not the functions of other ministers mentioned therein: see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended). As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

7 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 305(1), (2). Any expenses incurred by any government department, including the Secretary of State, under s 305 must be paid out of money provided by Parliament: see s 311(2) (d); and PARA 51 ante at head (d) in the text. This does not, however, apply in relation to any expenses incurred by the National Assembly for Wales: see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 89; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

913 Contributions by ministers towards compensation paid by local authorities

NOTES--Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in this paragraph are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

PARAS 1009-1508)/9. COMPENSATION/ (2) COMPENSATION FOR REVOCATION OF PLANNING PERMISSION ETC/914. Compensation where planning permission revoked or modified.

(2) COMPENSATION FOR REVOCATION OF PLANNING PERMISSION ETC

914. Compensation where planning permission revoked or modified.

Where planning permission¹ is revoked or modified², then, if, on a claim made to the local planning authority³ within the prescribed time⁴ and in the prescribed manner⁵, it is shown that a person interested in the land⁶ or in minerals⁷ in, on or under it:

- 3557 (1) has incurred expenditure in carrying out work⁸ which is rendered abortive by the revocation or modification; or
- 3558 (2) has otherwise sustained loss or damage which is directly attributable to the revocation or modification, the local planning authority must pay that person compensation in respect of that expenditure, loss or damage⁹.

No such compensation may be paid, however, in respect of:

- 3559 (a) any work carried out before the grant of the permission which is revoked or modified; or
- 3560 (b) any other loss or damage arising out of anything done or omitted to be done before the grant of that permission, other than loss or damage consisting of depreciation of the value of an interest in land¹⁰.

Furthermore, where planning permission for development consisting of the winning and working of minerals¹¹ or involving the depositing of mineral waste¹² is revoked or modified, no compensation may be paid under the above provisions in respect of any buildings¹³, plant or machinery, unless the claimant can prove that he is unable to put them to a reasonably beneficial use or to put them to a reasonably beneficial use except at the loss claimed¹⁴. Where a claim for compensation under the above provisions includes a claim for expenditure or loss in respect of buildings, plant or machinery to which this restriction applies, the Lands Tribunal¹⁵ may give directions that that part of the claim be severed from the remainder of the claim and be dealt with at such later date as may be fixed by the tribunal, either in such directions or subsequently on application by either party¹⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

2 I.e. by an order under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 97 (as amended): see PARA 541 ante. In Pt IV (ss 107-118) (as amended) (see the text and notes 3-10 infra; and PARA 915 et seq post), any reference to an order under s 97 (as amended) includes a reference to an order under the provisions of s 97 (as amended) as applied by s 102(3) (see PARA 547 ante) or, subject to s 116 (as substituted) (see PARA 925 post), by s 102(8) (as amended), Sch 9 para 1(3) (as substituted) (see PARA 758 ante): s 107(5) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 21, Sch 1 para 1, 8).

3 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante

4 As to the time so prescribed see PARA 581 note 13 ante. For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 16 note 5 ante.

5 As to the manner so prescribed see PARA 581 note 14 ante.

6 'Person interested in the land' includes any person who has an enforceable interest as against the owner to use the land: Pennine Raceway Ltd v Kirklees Metropolitan Borough Council [1983] QB 382, [1982] 3 All ER 628, CA (contractual licence). For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'minerals' see PARA 16 note 2 ante.

8 For these purposes, any expenditure incurred in the preparation of plans for the purposes of any work, or upon other similar matters preparatory to it, is to be taken to be included in the expenditure incurred in carrying out that work: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 107(2). The test whether matters qualify is whether they are such that without them an architect would lack the necessary information to carry out his instructions; legal costs in connection with a provisional contract for purchase of the land may be included, and so may proper recompense for time and out-of-pocket expenses incurred in collecting all information necessary to the submission of the planning application: Evans v Cheshire County Council (1952) 3 P & CR 50, Lands Tribunal. As to the claimant's labour see Biggs v Buckinghamshire County Council (1953) 3 P & CR 404, Lands Tribunal. However, in construing a similar enactment now repealed, the tribunal held that 'other similar matters' must be construed ejusdem generis with 'plans' and directly associated with the physical work on the site, so that specifications and bills of quantities may be included but not the cost of raising capital: Southern Olympia (Syndicate) Ltd v West Sussex County Council (1952) 3 P & CR 60, Lands Tribunal. The cost of plans may be claimed even though they were prepared for a previous application for permission which was refused: Holmes v Bradfield Rural District Council [1949] 2 KB 1, [1949] 1 All ER 381, DC.

9 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 107(1). As to the authority to which claims for compensation under s 107 (as amended) must be made see PARA 912 ante.

Compensation payable under s 107(1) carries interest at the rate for the time being prescribed under the Land Compensation Act 1961 s 32 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 641) from the date of the order under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 97 (as amended) (see PARA 541 ante) until payment: Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 80(1), Sch 18 Pt I. As to payments on account of compensation or interest see s 80(2), (3); and PARA 581 note 15 ante.

The Lands Tribunal has allowed, subject to an allowance for deferment, loss of anticipated future profits under a specific contract which the claimants would almost certainly have been awarded (Hobbs (Quarries) Ltd v Somerset County Council (1975) 30 P & CR 286, Lands Tribunal), but loss of profit and goodwill from a business which would have been established, but never in fact existed, is too remote (Halford v Oxfordshire County Council (1952) 2 P & CR 358, Lands Tribunal; Evans v Cheshire County Council (1952) 3 P & CR 50, Lands Tribunal); and the costs of an appeal against the revocation order do not qualify (Evans v Cheshire County Council supra at 56). The claimant was held to have suffered no loss where the development was carried out under a later permission (Ellis v Worcestershire County Council (1961) 12 P & CR 178, Lands Tribunal), nor where planning permission for an agricultural cottage was modified by the imposition of a condition restricting occupation to persons employed or last employed in agriculture (Wilson v West Sussex County Council [1963] 2 QB 764, [1963] 1 All ER 751, CA).

10 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 107(3). In calculating for these purposes the amount of any loss or damage consisting of depreciation of the value of an interest in land, it is to be assumed that planning permission would be granted:

- 331 (1) subject to the condition set out in s 111(5) (as substituted), Sch 10 (see PARA 921 post), for any development of the land of a class specified in s 107(4) (as amended), Sch 3 para 1 (see PARA 920 post) (s 107(4) (amended, in relation to claims made on or after 16 November 1990, by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 31(4), Sch 6 paras 8, 13(1), (2)));
- 332 (2) for any development of a class specified in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 3 para 2 (see PARA 920 post) (s 107(4) (as so amended)).

The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 107(4) (as so amended) is to be given its plain meaning notwithstanding that such a construction could result in anomalies: see Canterbury City Council v Colley [1993] AC 401, [1993] 1 All ER 591, HL (decided under the Town and Country Planning Act 1971 s 164(4) (repealed; re-enacted in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 107(4) (as originally enacted)).

COMPENSATION/ (2) COMPENSATION FOR REVOCATION OF PLANNING PERMISSION ETC/915. Compensation for refusal or conditional grant of planning permission formerly granted by development order.

915. Compensation for refusal or conditional grant of planning permission formerly granted by development order.

The statutory provisions relating to compensation set out in the previous paragraph¹ apply, where:

- 3561 (1) planning permission² granted by a development order³ or a local development order⁴ is withdrawn, whether by the revocation or amendment of the order or by the issue of directions under powers conferred by the order; and
- 3562 (2) on an application made under the relevant statutory provisions⁵ planning permission for development⁶ formerly permitted by that order is refused, or is granted subject to conditions other than those imposed by that order, as if the planning permission granted by the development order had been granted⁷ by the local planning authority⁸ and had been revoked or modified by an order⁹ made by the local planning authority¹⁰.

The above provisions do not, however, apply in relation to planning permission for the development of operational land¹¹ of statutory undertakers¹². Nor, as from a day to be appointed¹³, do they apply if:

- 3563 (a) development authorised by planning permission granted by a development order or local development order is started before the permission is withdrawn; and
- 3564 (b) the order includes provision¹⁴ permitting the development to be completed after the permission is withdrawn¹⁵.

Furthermore, regulations¹⁶ may provide that those provisions do not apply where planning permission granted by a development order for demolition of buildings¹⁷ or any description of buildings is withdrawn by the issue of directions under powers conferred by the order¹⁸.

At the date at which this title states the law, 6 August 2004 had been appointed for limited purposes only: see PARA 4 ante). As to the authority to which claims for payment of compensation under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 107 (as amended) (see PARA 914 ante) as applied by s 108 (as amended) must be made see PARA 912 ante; and as to the time within which and the manner in which claims must be made see PARA 581 ante at notes 13-14 respectively. Compensation payable under s 107(1) (see PARA 914 ante) (as applied by s 108(1) (as so amended)) carries interest at the rate for the time being prescribed under the Land Compensation Act 1961 s 32 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 641) from the date planning permission is refused or granted subject to conditions until payment: Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 80(1), Sch 18 Pt I. As to payments on account of compensation or interest see s 80(2), (3); and PARA 581 note 15 ante.

There is no requirement in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 108(1) (as amended) that an application must relate solely to development formerly permitted by a development order (see Slot v Guildford Borough Council (1992) 64 P & CR 329, [1993] 1 EGLR 213, Lands Tribunal); but an application for development substantially different from that formerly permitted does not satisfy the statutory requirements (Strandmill Ltd v Epping Forest District Council (1992) 64 P & CR 370, Lands Tribunal).

Where planning permission granted by a development order or a local development order is withdrawn by revocation or amendment of the order, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 108 (as amended) applies only if the application referred to in s 108(1)(b) (see head (2) in the text) is made before the end of the period of 12 months beginning with the date on which the revocation or amendment came into operation: s 108(2) (as so amended). 18 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 108(4) (added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 13(3); amended by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 40(2)(h)).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/9. COMPENSATION/ (2) COMPENSATION FOR REVOCATION OF PLANNING PERMISSION ETC/916. Apportionment of compensation for depreciation.

916. Apportionment of compensation for depreciation.

Where compensation becomes payable¹ which includes compensation for depreciation² of an amount exceeding £20, the local planning authority³ must:

- 3565 (1) if it appears to the authority to be practicable to do so, apportion the amount of the compensation for depreciation between different parts of the land to which the claim for that compensation relates; and
- 3566 (2) give particulars of any such apportionment to the claimant and to any other person entitled to an interest in land which appears to the authority to be substantially affected by the apportionment⁴.

In carrying out an apportionment under head (1) above, the local planning authority must divide the land into parts, and must distribute the compensation for depreciation between those parts according to the way in which different parts of the land appear to the authority to be differently affected by the order or, in a case where planning permission formerly granted by a development order has been withdrawn, refused, or granted subject to conditions⁵, the relevant planning decision⁶, in consequence of which the compensation is payable⁷.

Regulations for these purposes must make provision⁸ for:

- 3567 (a) enabling the claimant and any other person to whom particulars of an apportionment have been so given, or who establishes that he is entitled to an interest in land which is substantially affected by such an apportionment, if he wishes to dispute the apportionment, to require it to be referred to the Lands Tribunal;
- 3568 (b) enabling the claimant and every other person to whom particulars of any such apportionment have been so given to be heard by the tribunal on any such reference of that apportionment; and
- 3569 (c) requiring the tribunal, on any such reference, either to confirm or to vary the apportionment and to notify the parties of the decision of the tribunal⁹.

Where, however, on such a reference to the Lands Tribunal it is shown that an apportionment relates wholly or partly to the same matters as a previous apportionment, and is consistent with that previous apportionment in so far as it relates to those matters, the tribunal may not vary the apportionment in such a way as to be inconsistent with the previous apportionment so far as it relates to those matters¹⁰.

1 Ie under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 107 (as amended): see PARA 914 ante.

2 For these purposes, and for the purposes of ibid s 110 (as amended) (see PARA 917 post), 'compensation for depreciation' means so much of any compensation payable under s 107 (as amended) as is payable in respect of loss or damage consisting of depreciation of the value of an interest in land; and 'interest', where the reference is to an interest in land, means the fee simple or a tenancy of the land and does not include any other interest in it: s 109(6) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 31(4), Sch 6 para 8, 14). For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante; and for the meaning of 'tenancy' see PARA 16 note 9 ante.

3 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante

4 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 109(1).

5 Ie a case falling within ibid s 108 (as amended): see PARA 915 ante.

6 For these purposes, and for the purposes of ibid s 110 (as amended) (see PARA 917 post), 'relevant planning decision' means the planning decision by which planning permission is refused, or is granted subject to conditions other than those previously imposed by the development order or local development order: s 109(6) (as amended (see note 2 supra); further amended by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 40(2) (i), partly as from a day to be appointed under s 121). For the meaning of 'development order' see PARA 252 ante; and as to local development orders see PARA 419 et seq ante.

Except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'planning decision' means a decision made on an application under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt III (ss 55-106B) (as amended) (see PARA 217 et seq ante): s 336(1). With respect to references in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 to planning decisions: (1) in relation to a decision altered on appeal by the reversal or variation of the whole or part of it, such references are to be construed as references to the decision as so altered; (2) in relation to a decision upheld on appeal, such references are to be construed as references to the decision of the local planning authority and not to the decision of the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, of the National Assembly for Wales on the appeal; (3) in relation to a decision given on an appeal in the circumstances mentioned in s 78(2) (as amended) (see PARA 598 ante), such references are to be construed as references to the decision so given; (4) the time of a planning decision, in a case where there is or was an appeal, is to be taken to be or have been the time of the decision as made by the local planning authority, whether or not that decision is or was altered on that appeal, or, in the case of a decision given on an appeal in the circumstances mentioned in s 78(2) (as amended), the end of the period there mentioned: s 336(5). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante; as to the transfer of town and country planning functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

7 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 109(2).

8 le subject to ibid s 109(4): see the text and note 10 infra.

9 Ibid s 109(3). At the date at which this title states the law no such regulations had been made but, by virtue of the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 2 (see PARA 2 ante), the Town and Country Planning (Compensation and Certificates) Regulations 1974, SI 1974/1242, reg 7 has effect as if so made. As to the making of regulations generally see PARA 3 ante.

If the claimant or any other person to whom particulars of an apportionment have been given, or who claims that he is entitled to an interest in land which is substantially affected by such apportionment, wishes to dispute the apportionment, he may within 30 days of the issue of the notice give notice in writing to the Lands Tribunal that he disputes the apportionment, and thereupon the dispute must be referred to the tribunal: see reg 7(1). The claimant and any other person to whom particulars of the apportionment have been given or who establishes that he is entitled to an interest in land which is substantially affected by the apportionment must, on compliance with the rules of the Lands Tribunal for the time being in force, be afforded an opportunity to be heard in any dispute before the tribunal under reg 7: reg 7(3). The Lands Tribunal must by its decision either confirm or vary the apportionment, and must notify the parties of its decision: reg 7(4).

On a reference to the Lands Tribunal by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 109(3), s 109(1), (2), so far as it relates to the making of an apportionment, applies with the substitution, for references to the local planning authority, of references to the Lands Tribunal: s 109(5).

917. Registration of compensation for depreciation.

Where compensation becomes payable¹ which includes compensation for depreciation² of an amount exceeding £20, the local planning authority³ must give notice to the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁵ that such compensation has become payable, specifying the amount of the compensation for depreciation and any apportionment⁶ of it⁷.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly is given such notice, he or it must cause notice of that fact to be deposited:

- 3570 (1) with the council of the district⁸, Welsh county, county borough or London borough⁹ in which the land¹⁰ is situated; and
- 3571 (2) if that council is not the local planning authority, with the local planning authority¹¹.

Notices so deposited:

- 3572 (a) must specify the order or, in a case where planning permission formerly granted by a development order has been withdrawn, refused, or granted subject to conditions¹², the relevant planning decision¹³, and the land to which the claim for compensation relates, and the amount of compensation and any apportionment of it¹⁴; and
- 3573 (b) are local land charges¹⁵.

COMPENSATION/ (2) COMPENSATION FOR REVOCATION OF PLANNING PERMISSION ETC/918. Recovery of compensation on subsequent development.

918. Recovery of compensation on subsequent development.

No person may carry out any development¹:

- 3574 (1) which is development of a residential, commercial or industrial character and consists wholly or mainly of the construction of houses, flats, shop or office premises, or industrial buildings including warehouses, or any combination of them; or
- 3575 (2) which consists in the winning and working of minerals²; or
- 3576 (3) to which, having regard to the probable value of the development, it is in the opinion of the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, of the National Assembly for Wales⁴ reasonable that these provisions should apply, on land⁵ in respect of which a notice ('a compensation notice') is registered⁶ until any amount which is recoverable⁷ in respect of the compensation specified in the notice has been paid or secured to the satisfaction of the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁸.

These provisions do not, however, apply:

- 3577 (a) to any development by virtue of head (3) above if, on an application made to him or to it for the purpose, the Secretary of State or the Assembly has certified that, having regard to the probable value of the development, it is not in his or the Assembly's opinion reasonable that these provisions should apply to it⁹;
- 3578 (b) to development in specified circumstances¹⁰ in accordance with modified or conditional planning permission¹¹;
- 3579 (c) to any development of a specified¹² class¹³.

If any person initiates any development to which these provisions apply in contravention of them, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may serve a notice on him:

- 3580 (i) specifying the amount appearing to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to be the amount recoverable¹⁴ in respect of the compensation in question; and
- 3581 (ii) requiring him to pay that amount to the Secretary of State or the Assembly within such period as may be specified¹⁵ in the notice¹⁶.

COMPENSATION/ (2) COMPENSATION FOR REVOCATION OF PLANNING PERMISSION ETC/919. Amount recoverable on subsequent development; payment or remission.

919. Amount recoverable on subsequent development; payment or remission.

The amount recoverable¹ in respect of the compensation specified in a compensation notice² which is registered³ is:

3582 (1) if the land⁴ on which the development⁵ is to be carried out ('the development area') is identical with, or includes, with other land, the whole of the land comprised in the notice, the amount of compensation specified in the notice;

3583 (2) if the development area forms part of the land comprised in the notice, or includes part of that land together with other land not comprised in the notice, so much of the amount of the compensation specified in the notice as is attributable to land comprised in the notice and falling within the development area⁶.

Where, in the case of any land in respect of which such a notice has been so registered, the Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁸ is satisfied, having regard to the probable value of any proper development of that land, that no such development is likely to be carried out unless he exercises his or its powers under this provision, he or the Assembly may, in the case of any particular development, remit the whole or part of any amount otherwise so recoverable⁹; and, where part only of any such amount has been remitted in respect of any land, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must cause the notice registered¹⁰ to be amended by substituting in it, for the statement of the amount of the compensation, in so far as it is attributable to that land, a statement of the amount which has been so remitted¹¹. Where, in connection with the development of any land, an amount becomes recoverable¹² in respect of the compensation specified in such a notice, then, except where, and to the extent that, payment of that amount has been so remitted, no amount is recoverable in respect of that compensation in so far as it is attributable to that land in connection with any subsequent development of it¹³.

An amount recoverable¹⁴ in respect of any compensation is payable to the Secretary of State or the Assembly either:

- 3584 (a) as a single capital payment; or
- 3585 (b) as a series of instalments of capital and interest combined; or
- 3586 (c) as a series of other annual or periodical payments, of such amounts, and payable at such times, as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may direct¹⁵; and, except where the amount so payable is payable as a single capital payment, it must be secured by the person by whom the development is to be carried out in such manner, whether by mortgage¹⁶, covenant or otherwise, as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may direct¹⁷.

Any sum recovered¹⁸ by the Secretary of State or the Assembly must be paid to the local planning authority¹⁹ which paid the compensation to which that sum relates²⁰; but, in paying any such sum to the local planning authority, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must deduct from it the amount of any grant paid by him or by it²¹ in respect of that compensation²². If, however, the sum recovered by the Secretary of State or the Assembly is an instalment of the total sum recoverable, or is recovered by reference to development of part of the land in respect of which the compensation was payable, any deduction to be so made is a deduction of such amount as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may determine to be the proper proportion of the amount of grant paid²³.

notice relates; (2) if the notice includes such an apportionment (a) the compensation is treated as distributed in accordance with that apportionment as between the different parts of the land by reference to which the apportionment is made; and (b) so much of the compensation as, in accordance with the apportionment, is attributed to a part of the land is treated as distributed rateably according to area over that part: s 110(5).

920. Specified classes of development.

The following classes of development are specified classes for the purposes of certain provisions relating to compensation¹:

3587 (1) the carrying out of:

245

1. (a) the rebuilding, as often as occasion may require, of any building² which was in existence on 1 July 1948, or of any building which was in existence before that date

but was destroyed or demolished after 7 January 1937, including the making good of war damage sustained by any such building³;

2. (b) the rebuilding, as often as occasion may require, of any building erected after 1 July 1948 which was in existence at a material date⁴;
3. (c) the carrying out, for the maintenance, improvement or other alteration of any building, of works which affect only the interior of the building, or do not materially affect the external appearance of the building, and are works for making good war damage⁵, so long as the cubic content⁶ of the original building⁷ is not substantially exceeded⁸;

246

- 3588 (2) the use as two or more separate dwelling houses of any building which at a material date was used as a single dwelling house⁹.

Where after 1 July 1948:

- 3589 (i) any buildings or works¹⁰ have been erected or constructed, or any use of land has been instituted; and
- 3590 (ii) any condition imposed¹¹ limiting the period for which those buildings or works may be retained, or that use may be continued, has effect in relation to those buildings or works or that use, the above provisions do not operate except as respects the period specified in that condition¹².

1. le for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 107(4) (as amended), Sch 3 Pt I (paras 1, 2): see PARA 914 note 10 ante.

2. For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

3. Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 3 para 1(a). Where the top floors of a building were destroyed by war damage, the restoration of those floors was held to be in substance a rebuilding of the top floors within Sch 3 para 1 and not an enlargement, improvement or alteration of the building remaining after the war damage within Sch 3 para 3 (repealed): National Provincial Bank Ltd v Portsmouth Corpn (1959) 11 P & CR 6, CA. Where permission was granted for the rebuilding of a demolished shop subject to approval of design for the shop front, and subsequently permission was granted for a shop front subject to conditions, the second permission, as well as the first, was held to relate to rebuilding and not to the alteration or improvement of an existing building: Burman v St Albans Corpn (1961) 12 P & CR 360, Lands Tribunal. See also Old England Properties Ltd v Telford and Wrekin Council [2001] RVR 175, Lands Tribunal (land previously used as railway station; planning permission restricted to rebuilding on foundations of original buildings and not permitting merger of individual buildings).

There is no compulsion on rebuilding a building to create a slavish copy of dimensions, appearance and materials: see Sorrell v Maidstone Rural District Council (1961) 13 P & CR 57, Lands Tribunal (land previously used as a hutted camp; notional planning permission was given to erect bungalows provided rebuilding was restricted to the sites of the former huts). Where the level of land formerly occupied by a dwelling house had been raised by 20 feet, it was held that the notional right to rebuild was not exercisable: Ivens & Sons (Timber Merchants) Ltd v Daventry District Council (1975) 31 P & CR 480, Lands Tribunal.

4. Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 3 para 1(b). For these purposes, 'at a material date' means at either (1) 1 July 1948; or (2) the date by reference to which Sch 3 (as amended) falls to be applied to the particular case in question; but head (2) supra does not apply in relation to any buildings, works or use of land in respect of which, whether before or after the date therein mentioned, an enforcement notice served before that date has become or becomes effective: Sch 3 para 12(1)(a), (b), (2). For the meaning of 'use' see PARA 221 note 4 ante; for the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante; and for the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 561 ante.

5. Ibid Sch 3 para 1(c).

6. For these purposes, any reference to the cubic content of a building is to be construed as a reference to that content as ascertained by external measurement: ibid Sch 3 para 10(1).

7 In relation to a building erected after 1 July 1948 which results from the carrying out of any such works as are described in ibid Sch 3 para 1, any reference in Sch 3 (as amended) to the original building is a reference to the building in relation to which those works were carried out and not to the building resulting from the carrying out of those works: Sch 3 para 13(1). Schedule 3 para 13(1) does not, however, apply for the purposes of s 111 (as amended) (see PARA 918 ante) and s 138 (as amended) (see PARA 968 post): Sch 3 para 13(2) (substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 31(4), Sch 6 paras 8, 40(3)).

8 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 3 para 1. For the purposes of Sch 3 para 1, the cubic content of a building is substantially increased or exceeded (1) in the case of a dwelling house, if it is increased or exceeded by more than one-tenth or 1,750 cubic feet, whichever is the greater; and (2) in any other case, if it is increased or exceeded by more than one-tenth: Sch 3 para 10(2) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 6 paras 8, 40(2)).

COMPENSATION/ (2) COMPENSATION FOR REVOCATION OF PLANNING PERMISSION ETC/921. Condition treated as applicable to rebuilding and alterations.

921. Condition treated as applicable to rebuilding and alterations.

The following statutory condition is treated as applicable for the purposes of certain provisions relating to compensation¹:

3591 (1) where the building² to be rebuilt or altered is the original building³, the amount of gross floor space⁴ in the building as rebuilt or altered which may be used for any purpose may not exceed by more than 10% the amount of gross floor space which was last used for that purpose in the original building⁵;

3592 (2) where the building to be rebuilt or altered is not the original building, the amount of gross floor space in the building as rebuilt or altered which may be used for any purpose may not exceed the amount of gross floor space which was last used for that purpose in the building before the rebuilding or alteration⁶.

1 Ie for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 111(5) (as substituted), Sch 10: see PARA 918 ante at head (c) in the text. A claim for compensation is defeated merely if a prospective use exceeds the conditions stated: Peaktop Properties Hampstead Ltd v Camden London Borough Council (1983) 46 P & CR 177, CA.

2 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

3 In relation to a building erected after 1 July 1948 which is a building resulting from the carrying out of any such works as are described in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 107(4) (as amended), Sch 3 para 1 (see PARA 920 ante), any reference for these purposes to the original building is a reference to the building in relation to which those works were carried out and not to the building resulting from the carrying out of those works: Sch 10 para 5.

4 For these purposes, gross floor space must be ascertained by external measurement; and, where different parts of a building are used for different purposes, floor space common to those purposes must be apportioned rateably: ibid Sch 10 para 4(1), (2).

5 Ibid Sch 10 para 1. In determining under Sch 10 the purpose for which floor space was last used in any building, no account may be taken of any use in respect of which an effective enforcement notice has been or could be served or, in the case of a use which has been discontinued, could have been served immediately before the discontinuance: Sch 10 para 3. See also note 4 supra. For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 561 ante; and for the meaning of 'use' see PARA 221 note 4 ante.

COMPENSATION/ (2) COMPENSATION FOR REVOCATION OF PLANNING PERMISSION ETC/922. Application of compensation provisions to Crown land.

922. Application of compensation provisions to Crown land.

Where, in accordance with an agreement relating to Crown land¹, the approval of a local planning authority² is required in respect of any development³ of land in which there is a Crown interest⁴ or a Duchy interest⁵, specified statutory provisions relating to compensation⁶ have effect in relation to the withholding of that approval, or the giving of it subject to conditions, as if it were a refusal of planning permission⁷ or, as the case may be, a grant of planning permission subject to conditions⁸. Until a day to be appointed⁹, however, the reference above to a Crown interest is omitted and the following provisions have effect¹⁰.

At the date at which this title states the law, where there is a Crown interest¹¹ in any land¹², the specified statutory provisions relating to compensation¹³ have effect in relation to any private interest¹⁴ or Duchy interest as if the Crown interest were a private interest¹⁵; and, where there is a Duchy interest in any land, those provisions have effect in relation to that interest or any private interest as if the Duchy interest were a private interest¹⁶. As from a day to be appointed¹⁷, however, these provisions are repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004¹⁸.

(3) COMPENSATION FOR OTHER PLANNING DECISIONS

(i) In general

923. Compensation in respect of certain orders.

Where an order is made¹:

- 3593 (1) requiring a use² of land³ to be discontinued;
- 3594 (2) imposing conditions on the continuance of it; or
- 3595 (3) requiring any buildings or works⁴ on land to be altered or removed, the following provisions have effect⁵. If, on a claim made to the local planning authority⁶ within the prescribed time⁷ and in the prescribed manner⁸, it is shown that any person has suffered damage in consequence of the order:

- 3596 (a) by depreciation of the value of an interest to which he is entitled in the land or in minerals⁹ in, on or under it; or
- 3597 (b) by being disturbed in his enjoyment of the land or of such minerals, that authority must pay to that person compensation in respect of that damage¹⁰; and any person who carries out any works in compliance with the order is entitled¹¹ to recover from the local planning authority compensation in respect of any expenses reasonably incurred by him in that behalf¹².

Any compensation so payable to a person by virtue of such an order must be reduced by the value to him of any timber, apparatus or other materials removed for the purpose of complying with the order¹³.

- 3600 (3) purchase notices³;
- 3601 (4) statutory undertakers⁴;
- 3602 (5) stop notices⁵; and
- 3603 (6) tree preservation orders⁶.

Compensation is not, however, payable for:

- 3604 (a) restrictions on new development where land had an unexpended balance of development value⁷ unless a claim for the compensation was made⁸ before 25 September 1991⁹; or
- 3605 (b) planning decisions¹⁰ restricting development other than new development¹¹.

925. Modification of compensation provisions in respect of mineral working etc.

Regulations made by virtue of the following provisions¹ may provide that, where a specified order² is made, the statutory provisions relating to compensation³ shall have effect subject, in such cases as may be prescribed⁴, to such modifications as may be prescribed⁵.

Any such regulations may make provision:

- 3606 (1) as to circumstances in which compensation is not to be payable;
- 3607 (2) for the modification of the basis on which any amount to be paid by way of compensation is to be assessed;
- 3608 (3) for the assessment of any such amount on a basis different from that on which it would otherwise have been assessed, and may also make different provision for different cases and incidental or supplementary provisions⁶.

No such regulations may be made unless a draft of the instrument is laid before and approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament⁷.

Before making any such regulations the Secretary of State⁸ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁹ must consult¹⁰ such persons as appear to him or to it to be representative of:

- 3609 (a) persons carrying out mining operations;
- 3610 (b) owners of interests in land¹¹ containing minerals¹²; and
- 3611 (c) mineral planning authorities¹³.

Compensation for modification of planning permission not payable in specified circumstances.

926. Compensation for modification of planning permission not payable in specified circumstances.

Where an order is made¹ modifying planning permission² for development³ consisting of the winning and working of minerals⁴ or involving the depositing of mineral waste⁵, no compensation is payable if the specified conditions are met⁶. The specified conditions are:

3612 (1) that the order does not:

4. (a) impose any restriction on working rights⁷; or
5. (b) modify or replace any such restriction, other than a restoration or aftercare condition⁸, subject to which the planning permission was granted or which was imposed by an earlier modification, discontinuance or prohibition order⁹;

248

3613 (2) that either:

249

6. (a) the planning permission was granted not less than five years before the day on which the order was made; or
7. (b) that the planning permission which is modified by the order was granted before 22 February 1982; and

250

3614 (3) that in respect of the land to which the order¹⁰ relates, within the period of five years immediately preceding the day on which that order was made:

251

8. (a) the mineral planning authority¹¹ has not made any other modification order, or any discontinuance or prohibition order; and
9. (b) no application to determine conditions¹² was finally determined¹³.

927. Compensation following discontinuance order not payable in specified circumstances.

Where an order requiring the discontinuance of mineral working¹ is made, no compensation is payable if the specified conditions are met². The specified conditions are:

3615 (1) that the order does not:

10. (a) impose any restriction on working rights³; or

11. (b) modify or replace any such restriction, other than a restoration or aftercare condition⁴, subject to which the planning permission⁵ was granted or which was imposed by an earlier modification⁶, discontinuance or prohibition order⁷;

254

255

12. (a) imposes a condition on the continuance of the use⁸ of the land; or

13. (b) requires the alteration or removal of any buildings⁹, works, plant or machinery used in connection with the development¹⁰;

COMPENSATION/(3) COMPENSATION FOR OTHER PLANNING DECISIONS/(ii) Restrictions on Mineral Working and Mineral Waste Depositing/928. Compensation following prohibition order.

928. Compensation following prohibition order.

Where an order is made¹ prohibiting the resumption of the winning and working of minerals² or the depositing of mineral waste³, and the specified conditions⁴ are met, the general statutory provisions relating to compensation⁵ apply subject to the following modifications⁶.

If on a claim made to the mineral planning authority⁷ within the time and in the manner prescribed by regulations⁸ it is shown that a person with an interest in the land to which the order relates or in the minerals in, on or under it:

- 3619 (1) has incurred expenditure in carrying out work⁹ which is rendered abortive by the provisions of the order; or

3620 (2) has otherwise sustained loss or damage which is directly attributable to the provisions of the order¹⁰, the local planning authority¹¹ must pay to that person compensation in respect of the expenditure, loss or damage¹². In calculating, for these purposes, the amount of any loss or damage attributable to a prohibition order, no account is to be taken of:

- 3621 (a) the value of any mineral which cannot be won or worked;
- 3622 (b) the value of any mineral waste which cannot be deposited;
- 3623 (c) the value of any void which cannot be filled; or
- 3624 (d) the cost of complying with any restoration or aftercare condition¹³, in consequence of that order¹⁴.

8 Ie regulations under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990. As to the prescribed time and manner see PARA 581 notes 13-14 ante. As to the making of regulations generally see PARA 3 ante.

9 For these purposes, any expenditure incurred in the preparation of plans for the purposes of any work, or upon other similar preparatory matters, is to taken to be included in the expenditure incurred in carrying out that work: ibid s 115(3) (s 115(2), (3) substituted for these purposes, and s 115(3A), (3B) added, by the Town and Country Planning (Compensation for Restrictions on Mineral Working and Mineral Waste Depositing) Regulations 1997, SI 1997/1111, reg 5(3)).

10 For these purposes, works carried out for the purpose of removing or alleviating any injury to amenity caused by the winning and working of minerals on the land to which a prohibition order relates are, unless included in another claim for compensation, to be treated as loss or damage directly attributable to the provisions of the order: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 115(3A) (as added: see note 9 supra).

929. Compensation following suspension order or supplementary suspension order.

Where a suspension order¹ or a supplementary suspension order² is made, the general statutory provisions relating to compensation³ apply subject to the following modifications⁴.

If on a claim made to the mineral planning authority⁵ within the time and in the manner prescribed by regulations⁶ it is shown that a person with an interest in the land to which the order relates or in the minerals in, on or under it:

3625 (1) has incurred expenditure in carrying out work⁷ which is rendered abortive by the provisions of the order; or the local planning authority⁹ must pay to that person compensation in respect of the expenditure, loss or damage¹⁰. In calculating, for these purposes, the amount of any loss or damage attributable to a suspension order or supplementary suspension order, no account is to be taken of:

3626 (2) has otherwise sustained loss or damage which is directly attributable to the provisions of the order⁸,

3627 (a) the value of any mineral which cannot be won or worked;

3628 (b) the value of any mineral waste which cannot be deposited; or

3629 (c) the value of any void which cannot be filled,

(4) ASSESSMENT OF COMPENSATION

930. Assessment of compensation; in general.

For the purpose of assessing any compensation which is payable¹ in respect of depreciation of the value of an interest in land², the general statutory rules³ have effect, so far as applicable and subject to any necessary modifications, as they have effect for the purpose of assessing compensation for the compulsory acquisition⁴ of an interest in land⁵.

Where an interest in land is subject to a mortgage⁶:

- 3630 (1) any compensation to which these provisions apply which is payable in respect of depreciation of the value of that interest must be assessed as if the interest were not subject to the mortgage;
- 3631 (2) a claim for any such compensation may be made by any mortgagee of the interest, but without prejudice to the making of a claim by the person entitled to the interest;
- 3632 (3) no compensation to which these provisions apply is payable in respect of the interest of the mortgagee, as distinct from the interest which is subject to the mortgage; and
- 3633 (4) any compensation to which these provisions apply which is payable in respect of the interest which is subject to the mortgage must be paid to the mortgagee, or, if there is more than one mortgagee, to the first mortgagee, and must in either case be applied by him as if it were proceeds of sale⁷.

4 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'compulsory acquisition' does not include the vesting in a person by an Act of Parliament of property previously vested in some other person: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 336(1).

5 Ibid s 117(1), (2) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 21, Sch 1 paras 1, 10). This does not mean that compensation for loss due to the revocation or modification of permission is to be assessed as if it were loss due to acquisition under compulsory powers; the assumptions set out in the Land Compensation Act 1961 ss 14-16 (as amended) (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARAS 762, 764 et seq) do not apply: John Laing & Son Ltd v Buckinghamshire County Council (1960) 11 P & CR 114; Burlin v Manchester City Council (1976) 32 P & CR 115, Lands Tribunal; cf Loromah Estates Ltd v Haringey London Borough Council (1978) 38 P & CR 234, Lands Tribunal.

6 For the meaning of 'mortgage' see PARA 38 note 6 ante.

UPDATE

931 Determination of claims for compensation

TEXT AND NOTES--The Lands Tribunal has been abolished and its functions have been transferred to the Upper Tribunal: Transfer of Tribunal Functions (Lands Tribunal and Miscellaneous Amendments) Order 2009, SI 2009/1307, art 2 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 720 et seq). Land Compensation Act 1961 s 2 omitted: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 118(1), (2) (amended by SI 2009/1307).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/9. COMPENSATION/(4) ASSESSMENT OF COMPENSATION/932. Assessment and apportionment of compensation following prohibition order, suspension order or supplementary suspension order.

932. Assessment and apportionment of compensation following prohibition order, suspension order or supplementary suspension order.

Where compensation is payable following a prohibition order¹, the amount to be paid by way of compensation must be assessed in accordance with the general statutory provisions as modified for those purposes² and then abated by the appropriate portion³ of the sum of £7,800⁴. Similarly, where compensation is payable following a suspension order or supplementary suspension order⁵, the amount to be paid by way of compensation must be assessed in accordance with the general statutory provisions as modified for those purposes⁶ and then abated by the appropriate portion of the sum of £7,800⁷.

1 le where the Town and Country Planning (Compensation for Restrictions on Mineral Working and Mineral Waste Depositing) Regulations 1997, SI 1997/1111, reg 5 applies: see PARA 928 ante.

2 le in accordance with the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 115 (see PARA 923 ante) as modified by the Town and Country Planning (Compensation for Restrictions on Mineral Working and Mineral Waste Depositing) Regulations 1997, SI 1997/1111, reg 5(3) (see PARA 928 ante) and the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 117 (as amended) (see PARA 930 ante).

3 For these purposes, 'appropriate portion' has the meaning given by the Town and Country Planning (Compensation for Restrictions on Mineral Working and Mineral Waste Depositing) Regulations 1997, SI 1997/1111, reg 7: reg 2(1). Where the mineral planning authority is satisfied, at the time of assessing the amount of compensation to be paid following the making of a prohibition, suspension or supplementary suspension order, that the claimant is the only person entitled to claim compensation, the appropriate portion is £7,800: reg 7(1). Where the mineral planning authority is not so satisfied: (1) it must assess the value of the claimant's interest in the land and in the minerals to which the order relates; (2) it must assess the value attributable to the aggregate of the land and of the minerals in, on or under it, on the assumption that a single person were entitled to all of the interests in the land and minerals; and (3) it must treat as the appropriate portion the sum which bears to £7,800 the same proportion as the value assessed under head (1) supra bears to the value assessed under head (2) supra: reg 7(2).

4 Ibid reg 5(1)(b).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/9. COMPENSATION/(5) RECOVERY FROM ACQUIRING AUTHORITIES OF SUMS PAID/933. Recovery from acquiring authorities of sums paid by way of compensation.

(5) RECOVERY FROM ACQUIRING AUTHORITIES OF SUMS PAID

933. Recovery from acquiring authorities of sums paid by way of compensation.

The following provisions apply where:

- 3634 (1) an interest in land¹ is compulsorily acquired or is sold to an authority possessing compulsory purchase powers²; and
- 3635 (2) a notice is registered³ in respect of any of the land acquired or sold, whether before or after the completion of the acquisition or sale, in consequence of a planning decision⁴ or order made before the service of the notice to treat⁵, or the making of the contract⁶, in pursuance of which the acquisition or sale is effected⁷.

Where these provisions apply, the Secretary of State⁸ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁹ is entitled¹⁰ to recover from the acquiring authority¹¹ a sum equal to so much of the amount of the compensation specified in the notice as is to be treated¹² as attributable to that land¹³. If, however, immediately after the completion of the acquisition or sale, there is outstanding some interest in the land acquired or sold to which a person other than the acquiring authority is entitled, the sum referred to above does not accrue until that interest either ceases to exist or becomes vested in the acquiring authority¹⁴; and no sum is recoverable under these provisions in the case of a compulsory acquisition or sale where the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied that the interest in question is being acquired for the purposes of the use¹⁵ of the land as a public open space¹⁶.

Where a sum is so recoverable from any authority by reference to an acquisition or purchase of an interest in land and a grant became or becomes payable to that or some other authority under an enactment in respect of that acquisition or purchase or of a subsequent appropriation of the land, the power conferred by that enactment to pay the grant includes, and is deemed always to have included, power to pay a grant in respect of that sum as if it had been expenditure incurred by the acquiring authority in connection with the acquisition or purchase¹⁷.

1 For these purposes, 'interest', where the reference is to an interest in land, means the fee simple or a tenancy of the land and does not include any other interest in it: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 308(6) (s 308(1), (2), (6) amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 ss 31(4), 84 (6), Sch 6 paras 8, 26, Sch 19 Pt II). For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante; and for the meaning of 'tenancy' see PARA 16 note 9 ante.

2 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'authority possessing compulsory purchase powers', in relation to the compulsory acquisition of an interest in land, means the person or body of persons effecting the acquisition and, in relation to any other transaction relating to an interest in land, means any person or body of persons who could be or have been authorised to acquire that interest compulsorily for the purposes for which the transaction is or was effected or a body, being a parish council, community council or parish meeting, on whose behalf a district council or county council or county borough council could be or has been so authorised: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 336(1) (definition amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 20(4), Sch 6 para 24(13)). For the meaning of 'compulsory acquisition' see PARA 930 note 4 ante. As to district councils and county and county borough councils see PARA 28 ante; and as to parish councils and community councils see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 27 et seq, 41 et seq.

3 Ie under ibid s 110(2) (as amended): see PARA 917 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'planning decision' see PARA 916 note 6 ante.

5 Words in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 importing a reference to service of a notice to treat are to be construed as including a reference to the constructive service of such a notice which, by virtue of any enactment, is to be deemed to be served: s 336(4). For the meaning of 'enactment' see PARA 2 note 11 ante. As to the service of notices generally see PARA 54 ante.

6 In relation to the sale or acquisition of an interest in land: (1) in a case where the interest is or was conveyed or assigned without a preliminary contract, references to a contract are references to the conveyance or assignment; and (2) references to the making of the contract are references to the execution of it: ibid s 336(7).

7 Ibid s 308(1) (as amended: see note 1 supra).

8 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

9 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 308 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

10 Ie subject to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 308(2)-(6) (as amended): see the text and notes 11-17 infra.

11 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'acquiring authority', in relation to the acquisition of an interest in land, whether compulsorily or by agreement, or to a proposal so to acquire such an interest, means the government department, local authority or other body by which the interest is, or is proposed to be, acquired: ibid s 336(1). For the meaning of 'government department' see PARA 3 note 5 ante; and for the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 3 note 3 ante.

12 Ie in accordance with ibid s 110(5): see PARA 919 note 6 ante.

13 Ibid s 308(2) (as amended: see note 1 supra). Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly so recovers a sum in respect of any land, by reason that it is land in respect of which a notice is registered under the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 110 (as amended), s 112(11)-(13) (as amended) (see PARA 919 ante) has effect in relation to that sum as if it were a sum recovered as mentioned in s 112(11): s 308(5).

14 Ibid s 308(3).

15 For the meaning of 'use' see PARA 221 note 4 ante.

16 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 308(4). For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'open space' means any land laid out as a public garden, or used for the purposes of public recreation, or land which is a disused burial ground: s 336(1). For a discussion as to whether land in the course of being so laid out can constitute an open space see Wilcock v Secretary of State for the Environment [1975] JPL 150. See also R v Plymouth City Council and Cornwall County Council, ex p Freeman [1988] RVR 89, CA (lodge cottage set in country park used for country recreation formed part of 'open space' even though public had no access to cottage or its garden).

ACQUISITION AND APPROPRIATION OF LAND/(1) ACQUISITION OF LAND/(i) Acquisition of Land by Local Authorities and National Park Authorities/934. Compulsory acquisition for development and other planning purposes.

10. ACQUISITION AND APPROPRIATION OF LAND

(1) ACQUISITION OF LAND

(i) Acquisition of Land by Local Authorities and National Park Authorities

934. Compulsory acquisition for development and other planning purposes.

A local authority¹ to which these provisions apply² has power, on being authorised to do so by the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁴, to acquire compulsorily any land⁵ in its area:

- 3636 (1) if the authority thinks that the acquisition will facilitate the carrying out of development⁶, redevelopment or improvement on or in relation to the land; or
- 3637 (2) which is required for a purpose which it is necessary to achieve in the interests of the proper planning of an area in which the land is situated⁷;

but a local authority must not exercise the power under head (1) above unless it thinks that the development, redevelopment or improvement is likely to contribute to the achievement of any one or more of the following objects:

- 3638 (a) the promotion or improvement of the economic well-being of its area;
- 3639 (b) the promotion or improvement of the social well-being of its area;
- 3640 (c) the promotion or improvement of the environmental well-being of its area⁸.

Where a local authority exercises its power under heads (1) and (2) above in relation to any land, it has power, on being authorised to do so by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, to acquire compulsorily:

- 3641 (i) any land adjoining that land which is required for the purpose of executing works for facilitating its development or use⁹; or
- 3642 (ii) where that land forms part of a common¹⁰ or open space¹¹ or fuel or field garden allotment¹², any land which is required for the purpose of being given in exchange¹³ for the land which is being acquired¹⁴.

It is immaterial by whom the local authority proposes that any activity or purpose mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above or in head (i) above should be undertaken or achieved, and in particular the local authority need not propose to undertake an activity or to achieve that purpose itself¹⁵.

A National Park authority¹⁶, on being authorised to do so by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, has the same power to acquire land compulsorily as the local authorities to which the above provisions apply have under them¹⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 3 note 3 ante; but see note 2 infra.

2 The local authorities to which the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 226 (as amended) (see the text and notes 3-15 infra; and PARA 935 post) applies are the councils of counties, county boroughs, districts and London boroughs: s 226(8) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 20(4), Sch 6 para 24(6)). As to its application to the Isles of Scilly see PARA 2 ante. The power so to acquire land also extends to joint planning boards: see the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 244(3); and PARA 942 post. For the meaning of 'London borough' see PARA 28 note 7 ante. As to county, county borough and district councils see PARA 28 ante; and as to joint planning boards see PARA 30 ante. As to the Isles of Scilly see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 36.

3 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

4 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 226 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante. As to Crown land, however, see PARA 941 post. The power of the local authority to acquire land also extends to the acquisition of new rights, ie rights not in existence when the order is made: see the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1976 s 13(1); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 511.

6 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

7 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 226(1) (s 226(1) amended, s 226(1A) added, and s 226(2) repealed, by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 ss 99(1)-(4), 120, Sch 9). Nothing in s 99(1)-(4) affects a compulsory purchase order made before 31 October 2004 (ie the day when s 99 came into force: see PARA 4 ante): s 99(5).

As to the meaning of 'required' in the context of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 226(1) (as originally enacted) and previous legislation see Company Developments (Property) Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment and Salisbury District Council [1978] JPL 107; R v Secretary of State for the Environment, ex p Leicester City Council [1987] JPL 787; Sharkey v Secretary of State for the Environment and South Buckinghamshire District Council (1990) 62 P & CR 126. The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 226(1)(a) (as originally enacted) did not require proof that the development in question would actually be carried out before an order for the compulsory acquisition of land could be made: Chesterfield Properties plc v Secretary of State for the Environment (1997) 76 P & CR 117.

Dealing with dilapidated properties is a planning purpose and lack of maintenance of a domestic dwelling can constitute grounds for a compulsory purchase order under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 226 (as amended): see Monen v Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions [2002] EWHC 81 (Admin), [2002] All ER (D) 94 (Jan).

The Acquisition of Land Act 1981 (see generally COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND) applies to the compulsory acquisition of land under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 226 (as amended): s 226(7). For the meaning of 'compulsory acquisition' see PARA 930 note 4 ante. As to Crown land generally see PARA 11 et seq ante; as to interests in Crown land not held by the Crown see PARA 941 post; as to powers to acquire land for the purposes of a new town see PARA 1333 et seq post; as to powers to acquire buildings of special architectural or historic interest see PARA 1154 et seq post; as to powers to acquire land for providing or improving a highway in pursuance of a stopping-up order in relation to development see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 791 et seq; and as to acquisition powers in urban development areas see PARA 1454 et seq post. 8 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 226(1A) (as added: see note 7 supra).

9 For the meaning of 'use' see PARA 221 note 4 ante.

10 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'common' includes any land subject to be inclosed under the Inclosure Acts 1845-1882 (see COMMONS vol 13 (2009) PARA 418 et seq) and any town or village green: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 336(1).

11 For the meaning of 'open space' see PARA 933 note 16 ante.

12 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'fuel or field garden allotment' means any allotment set out as a fuel allotment, or a field garden allotment, under an Inclosure Act: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 336(1).

ACQUISITION AND APPROPRIATION OF LAND/(1) ACQUISITION OF LAND/(i) Acquisition of Land by Local Authorities and National Park Authorities/935. Acquisition of land by another authority.

935. Acquisition of land by another authority.

Where the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² has power³ to authorise a local authority⁴ to acquire any land⁵ compulsorily, he or the Assembly may, after the requisite consultation⁶, authorise the land to be so acquired by another⁷ local authority⁸. Before so giving an authorisation, the Secretary of State must consult:

- 3643 (1) if the land is in a non-metropolitan county in England⁹, with the councils of the county and the district¹⁰;
- 3644 (2) if the land is in a metropolitan district, with the council of the district; and
- 3645 (3) if the land is in a London borough¹¹, with the council of the borough¹²;

and the Assembly, if the land is in Wales, must consult with the council of the county or county borough¹³.

ACQUISITION AND APPROPRIATION OF LAND/(1) ACQUISITION OF LAND/(i) Acquisition of Land by Local Authorities and National Park Authorities/936. Secretary of State's or Assembly's power to require acquisition of land.

936. Secretary of State's or Assembly's power to require acquisition of land.

If the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² is satisfied, after holding a local inquiry³, that the council of a county, county borough, district or London borough⁴ has failed to take steps for the acquisition of any land⁵ which in his or the Assembly's opinion ought to be acquired by that authority⁶, he or the Assembly may by order require the council to take such steps as may be specified in the order for acquiring the land⁷.

Any such order is enforceable on the application of the Secretary of State or the Assembly by mandatory order⁸.

937. Acquisition of land by agreement.

The council of any county, county borough, district or London borough¹ may acquire by agreement any land² which it requires for any purpose for which a local authority³ may be authorised under the statutory provisions relating to compulsory acquisition⁴ to acquire land⁵.

A National Park authority⁶ has the same power to acquire land by agreement as the local authorities mentioned above have under the above provisions⁷.

1 As to county, county borough and district councils see PARA 28 ante; and for the meaning of 'London borough' see PARA 28 note 7 ante. 938 Acquisition of land for purposes of exchange

TEXT AND NOTES--As to green belt land generally see PARA 938A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/10. ACQUISITION AND APPROPRIATION OF LAND/(1) ACQUISITION OF LAND/(i) Acquisition of Land by Local Authorities and National Park Authorities/938A. The Green Belt.

938A. The Green Belt.

1. The establishment of the Green Belt

For the purpose of establishing a Green Belt round London¹, provision is made for owners of land within the prescribed area² to declare land to be part of the Green Belt³, and for local authorities to enter into restrictive covenants for the use of land⁴, and pay compensation in respect of it⁵, to acquire land by purchase, gift, lease, exchange or otherwise⁶, and to contribute towards the costs of other authorities⁷; but the alienation of Green Belt land by local authorities is restricted⁸.

1 'Green Belt round London' means the aggregate of all land which is for the time being Green Belt land: Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 ss 1, 2(1). 'Green Belt land' means: (1) any land which for the time being is the subject of an express declaration under s 3(a) (see PARA 938A.2); or (2) is deemed to be Green Belt land (see ss 7, 16; and PARAS 938A.11, 938A.16); or (3) is acquired by a local authority under s 3 (see PARA 938A.2 et seq), but does not include any land freed from restrictions imposed upon it under the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 (see PARAS 938A.2-938A.13): s 2(1). 'Local authority' means a London borough council or the council of any county or district wholly or partly within the prescribed area: s 2(1) (definition substituted by the Local Authorities etc (Miscellaneous Provisions) (No 2) Order 1974, SI 1974/595, art 3(6)(a)). The definition in the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 2(1) (as substituted) refers to the Greater London Council (as to the abolition of which see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 17. As to the prescribed area see NOTE 2.

2 'The area' means Greater London, the counties of Buckinghamshire, Hertfordshire and Surrey, the county of Essex other than the borough of Southend-on-Sea, the county of Kent other than the area of the former county borough of Canterbury, in the county of Berkshire the borough of Slough, in the borough of Windsor and Maidenhead the parishes of Datchet, Eton, Horton and Wraybury, and in the county of West Sussex so much of the borough of Crawley as was immediately before 1 April 1974 comprised in the administrative county of Surrey: Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 2(1) (definition substituted by the Local Authorities etc (Miscellaneous Provisions) (No 2) Order 1974, SI 1974/595, art 3(6)(a)).

3 See OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 575.

4 See PARA 938A.3.

5 See PARA 938A.4.

6 See PARAS 938A.4, 938A.12.

7 See PARA 938A.4.

8 See PARA 938A.11.

2. Express declaration by owner of land

The owner¹ of any land within the area², including for this purpose a parish council, may, by deed entered into with a local authority, expressly declare that such land is part of the Green Belt round London³, and, if thought fit, by such deed or otherwise may enter into any covenant⁴ with a local authority restrictive of the user of that land⁵.

Where a lessee makes any such declaration, the statutory provisions⁶ cease to apply to the land affected on the expiration or earlier determination of the lessee's term⁷. However, a lessee may not make any declaration or enter into any covenant inconsistent with the terms of his lease without the reversioner's written consent⁸.

No restriction imposed by a covenant entered into for the purposes of the statutory provisions, or by those provisions in consequence of any express declaration, has effect in derogation of the existing rights of any lessee, tenant or licensee of the person making the declaration or of persons claiming under such lessee or tenant⁹.

1 'Owner' means a person (other than a mortgagee not in possession or a lessee the unexpired terms of whose lease is less than 21 years) who is for the time being entitled to a legal estate in land within the meaning of the Law of Property Act 1925 s 1(1), and includes a local authority; but, except where otherwise expressly provided, does not include a parish council: Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 2(1). 'Parish council' means the parish council or community council of any parish within the area: s 2(1); Local Government Act 1972 s 179(4). For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1.

2 For the meaning of 'the area' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 2. As to the establishment of the Green Belt see PARA 938A.1.

3 For the meaning of 'Green Belt round London' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1.

4 'Covenant' includes agreement: Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 2(1).

5 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 3(a). If Green Belt land vested in a local authority or parish council is acquired compulsorily by a local authority, highway authority or statutory undertakers, the restrictions imposed by any covenant or declaration, or by the statutory provisions, must not be taken into account in ascertaining the purchase price or compensation: s 9. For the meaning of 'Green Belt land' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1. 'Statutory undertakers' means persons authorised by any enactment or provisional order confirmed by Parliament, or any order, rule or regulation made under one, to construct, work or carry on any railway, canal, inland navigation, dock, harbour, tramway, gas, electricity, water or other public undertaking: s 2(1). For the statutory restrictions see PARAS 938A.11-938A.13; and as to the payment of compensation see PARA 938A.4. County council approval may be required: see PARA 938A.5. As to highway authorities see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 49 et seq.

Any deed entered into before 29 July 1938 (ie the date of commencement of the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938) and expressly declaring land to be part of the Green Belt round London has and is deemed from its date to have had effect as if entered into under and for the purposes of that Act: see s 21.

6 In the provisions of the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938: s 14.

7 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 14.

8 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 3 proviso.

9 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 29. Nothing in the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 may limit the nature or extent of the restrictions which may be placed on the use of land by a covenant entered into for the purposes of the Act: s 28.

3. Covenant by local authority

With regard to any land vested in it in the area¹, a local authority² or a parish council³ may enter into any covenant⁴ restrictive of the user of that land with the owner⁵, not being a local authority, of any other land within the area⁶, and, in respect of any land in the area not vested in it, enter into any covenant with any contributing local authority⁷ restrictive of the user of that land in the event of its becoming vested in the covenanting local authority or parish council⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'the area' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 2. As to the establishment of the Green Belt see PARA 938A.1.

2 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1. The powers conferred on a local authority (or parish council) by the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 are in addition to and not in substitution for or in derogation of any powers conferred on it by any other enactment: s 34.

3 For the meaning of 'parish council' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 1.

4 For the meaning of 'covenant' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 4.

5 For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 1.

6 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 3(b)(i). County council approval may be required: see PARA 938A.5.

7 In relation to any land within the area, 'contributing local authority' means any local authority which for purposes of the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 has either before or after 29 July 1938 (ie the date of commencement of the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938) contributed or agreed to contribute towards the cost incurred (whether under the powers conferred by the Act or otherwise and whether by the payment of cash or otherwise) in the acquisition of that land or in the provision of any consideration or compensation for a covenant restrictive of the user of that land and includes the local authority by which such cost was incurred (s 2(1)); and, in relation to any land for which any council existing before 1 April 1974 but abolished by the Local Government Act 1972 s 1(10), would have been such an authority, includes the council of any county or district whose area includes the whole or any part of the area of the existing council: Local Authorities etc (Miscellaneous Provisions) (No 2) Order 1974, SI 1974/595, art 3(6)(b). In London the London borough council may be a contributing local authority: London Government Act 1963 s 59(2)(c) (amended by the Local Government Act 1985 s 102(2), Sch 17).

8 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 3(b)(ii). County council approval may be required: see PARA 938A.5. However, nothing in s 3 enables an owner who is a lessee of land to make any declaration or to enter into any covenant in breach of any of the covenants or conditions contained in the lease under which he holds that land without the written consent of the person entitled for the time being to the reversion immediately expectant on the lease: s 3 proviso.

4. Acquisition of land by local authority; payment and contribution

A local authority¹ may acquire by agreement any land within the area² by purchase, gift, lease, exchange or otherwise³.

Where an owner⁴ of land within the area, including a parish council⁵, has entered into a covenant⁶ restrictive of the user of his land⁷, a local authority may pay such sum as it thinks fit and subject to such terms and conditions as it may determine as consideration or compensation for the covenant⁸. A local authority may also contribute or agree to contribute such sum as it thinks fit, and subject to such terms and conditions as it thinks fit, towards the cost incurred or to be incurred by any other local authority in the acquisition of land within the area for the purpose of establishing the Green Belt or in the provision of consideration or compensation for any covenant restrictive of the user of land for that purpose⁹.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1.

2 For the meaning of 'the area' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 2. As to the establishment of the Green Belt see PARA 938A.1.

3 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 3(c)(i). County council approval may be required: see PARA 938A.5.

4 For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 1.

5 For the meaning of 'parish council' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 1.

6 For the meaning of 'covenant' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 4.

7 See PARA 938A.3.

8 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 3(c)(ii). County council approval may be required: see PARA 938A.5. All costs and expenses of a county council in the execution of the Act must be defrayed as payments for general or special county purposes within the meaning of the Local Government Act 1933 (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT VOL 69 (2009) PARA 4): Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 35 (amended by the London Government Act 1963 s 93(1), Sch 18 Pt II (repealed)). For the meaning of 'county council' see PARA 938A.5 note 2.

9 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 3(c)(iii).

5. County council approval

The powers of declaring land to be part of the Green Belt, of entering into covenants, of acquiring land and of paying compensation¹ may not be exercised in relation to any land wholly in one ownership and in the same right, but not wholly situate in one county, unless the county council² of the county in which at least half of the land is situate so approves by resolution or by deed under its common seal³, and those powers may not be exercised in relation to any other land unless the county council so approves by resolution or by deed under its common seal⁴.

1 le the powers conferred by the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 3(a), (b), (c)(i), (ii) (see PARAS 938A.1-938A.4): s 32(1).

2 In relation to any land within the area (for the meaning of which see PARA 938A.1 note 2), 'county council' means the county council of the administrative county in which that land is situate: Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 2(2) (amended by the Local Authorities etc (Miscellaneous Provisions) (No 2) Order 1974, SI 1974/595, art 3(6)(b)); Local Government Act 1972 s 179(2).

3 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 32(1)(a).

4 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 32(1)(b). Any approval under s 32 may be given subject to such terms and conditions as may be agreed between the county council and the person seeking the approval: s 32(2). However, no such approval is required, except in the case of land in Middlesex, in relation to any land which on 29 July 1938 (ie the date of commencement of the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938) was either vested in or was the subject of an agreement for purchase by the local authority exercising the powers: s 32(1) proviso. Note that Middlesex ceased to exist as an administrative area on 1 April 1965: see the London Government Act 1963 s 3(1)(b) (repealed); and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 35.

6. Deposit of plans

Where an owner¹ of land has made a declaration in respect of his land² or land has been acquired by a local authority³ or is deemed to be Green Belt land⁴, it is the duty of the local authority with which the deed embodying the declaration was entered into, or which acquired the land, within one month after the date of the deed or the acquisition to deposit at the offices of the Secretary of State⁵ a plan indicating the boundaries of the land concerned and a statement giving: (1) in the case of a declaration, the date of the deed, the name of the local authority and of every contributing local authority⁶ and the name of the local authority or parish council⁷, if any, in which the land is vested⁸; and (2) in the case of an acquisition, the name of the local authority or parish council, the date the land became Green Belt land and the name of every contributing local authority⁹.

1 For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 1.

2 See PARA 938A.2.

3 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1. As to the acquisition of land by a local authority see PARA 938A.4.

4 As to land deemed to be Green Belt land see PARAS 938A.12, 938A.16. For the meaning of 'Green Belt land' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1.

5 The Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 4 refers to the Minister of Health (see s 2(1)), whose functions have been transferred to the Secretary of State: see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 519.

6 For the meaning of 'contributing local authority' see PARA 938A.3 NOTE 7.

7 For the meaning of 'parish council' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 1.

8 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 4(1). Where, under the provisions of that Act or of any order or consent of the Secretary of State, any Green Belt land is freed from all the restrictions imposed upon it by the Act or by a declaration, the local authority which deposited the plan and statement in respect of that land must, within a month after the freeing of the land from the restrictions, deposit a further plan indicating the boundaries of the land and a statement of the date on which it was so freed: s 4(3).

9 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 4(2).

7. Enforcement of covenants

Where the owner¹ of Green Belt land² or a parish council³ in which Green Belt land is vested has entered into or becomes subject to a covenant⁴ with a local authority⁵ restrictive of the user of that land, the local authority may enforce the covenant against persons deriving title under the owner or parish council in the same way and to the same extent as if the local authority were possessed of adjacent land capable of being benefited by the covenant and as if the covenant had been expressed to have been entered into for the benefit of the adjacent land⁶. The statutory power to discharge or modify restrictive covenants⁷ does not apply to these covenants⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 1.

2 For the meaning of 'Green Belt land' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1.

3 For the meaning of 'parish council' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 1.

4 For the meaning of 'covenant' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 4.

5 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1.

6 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 22(1). In order to bind a purchaser from the covenantor, a restrictive covenant must be registered under the Land Charges Act 1972 as a Class D(ii) land charge: see s 2(1), (5)(ii); and LAND CHARGES vol 26 (2004 Reissue) PARAS 622, 633-646. Nothing in the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 prejudices or affects the operation of the Land Charges Act 1972: see the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 31; and the Land Charges Act 1972 s 18(6). As to restrictive covenants generally see EQUITY vol 16(2) (Reissue) PARA 613 et seq.

7 The power conferred by the Law of Property Act 1925 s 84 (as amended) (see EQUITY vol 16(2) (Reissue) PARA 630 et seq); Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 22(2).

8 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 22(2).

8. Power of private owners to bind their successors

An owner¹ (not being a local authority²) of Green Belt land³ has power to enter into an agreement with a local authority that in the event of his or his successors in title desiring to sell his estate or interest in the land or any part of it, the estate or interest should first be offered to the local authority at a price provided for in the agreement⁴. Such an agreement binds the owner and his successors in title notwithstanding any rule of law to the contrary⁵.

1 For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 1.

2 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1.

3 For the meaning of 'Green Belt land' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1.

4 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 18. In order to bind a purchaser for value from the original owner, the agreement must be registered as a Class C(iv) land charge under the Land Charges Act 1972 s 2(1), (4)(iv): see LAND CHARGES vol 26 (2004 Reissue) PARAS 622, 628, 632. See also PARA 938A.7 NOTE 6.

5 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 18.

9. Powers of tenants for life

Where the owner¹ of land within the area² is, as regards that land, a tenant for life within the meaning of the Settled Land Act 1925³, or a trustee of land⁴, the powers conferred by the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938⁵ are in addition to and not in substitution for or derogation of any other powers possessed by him, but they may not be exercised without an order of the High Court or, in the case of a tenant for life, the consent of the trustees of the settlement⁶, or, in the case of a trustee of land, the consent of all beneficiaries of full age and not under a disability⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 1.

2 For the meaning of 'the area' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 2. As to the establishment of the Green Belt see PARA 938A.1.

3 See the Settled Land Act 1925 ss 19, 20 (as amended), ss 21, 117(1)(xxviii); and SETTLEMENTS. As to the phasing out of strict settlements under the 1925 Act see the Trusts of Land and Appointment of Trustees Act 1996 s 2, Sch 1; LIMITATION PERIODS vol 68 (2008) PARA 1022; and REAL PROPERTY; SETTLEMENTS.

4 See the Law of Property Act 1925 s 205(1)(xxix) (amended by the Trusts of Land and Appointment of Trustees Act 1996 s 25(2), Sch 4); and REAL PROPERTY.

5 As to these powers see the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 ss 3(a), 18; and PARAS 938A.2, 938A.8.

6 See for the purposes of the Settled Land Act 1925 (see s 30 (amended by the Trusts of Land and Appointment of Trustees Act 1996 s 25(1), Sch 3 para 2(1), (9)); and SETTLEMENTS): Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 19(1) (amended by the Trusts of Land and Appointment of Trustees Act 1996 Sch 3 para 7). See also NOTE 3.

7 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 19(1) (as amended: see NOTE 6). All money, not being rent, received on the exercise of any power under this Act by such an owner of land must be treated as if it were the proceeds of a sale of land: s 19(2).

10. Land held on charitable trust

The powers conferred by the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 on the owner¹ of land within the area² or on a parish council³ must not be exercised in the case of land held by the owner or parish council upon charitable trusts in a manner at variance with such trusts without an order of the High Court, the Charity Commission⁴ or the Secretary of State⁵ or, where the trust instrument reserves to the donor or any other person the power to vary the trusts, without the consent of that donor or other person⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 1.

2 For the meaning of 'the area' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 2.

3 For the meaning of 'parish council' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 1. As to these powers see the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 ss 3, 18; and PARAS 938A.3, 938A.8.

4 As to the Charity Commission see CHARITIES vol 8 (2010) PARA 538 et seq.

5 The Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 20 refers to the Board of Education, whose functions have been transferred to the Secretary of State: see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 519.

6 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 20 (amended by Charities Act 2006 s 75, Sch 8 para 28).

11. Alienation by local authority

Before Green Belt land¹ vested in a local authority² or a parish council³ can be sold, exchanged⁴ or appropriated⁵, the local authority or parish council must: (1) publish in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality of the land concerned a notice stating its intentions, specifying a place within the locality where a plan can be inspected and the manner in which objections can be made⁶; (2) serve a copy of the notice on the county council⁷ and every contributing local authority⁸; (3) seek the consent of that council and those authorities⁹; (4) send a copy of the notice and every consent obtained to the Secretary of State¹⁰; and (5) obtain his consent¹¹.

Before giving his consent the Secretary of State must consider any objections that he has received¹², and, if the consent of any contributing local authority or of the county council has either not been obtained or can only be obtained on terms with which the local authority or parish council is dissatisfied, he must cause a local inquiry¹³ to be held¹⁴. The consent of the Secretary of State must be given by order and may be given subject to conditions; it ranks for all purposes and in all respects as if it were the consent of the county council and of every contributing council¹⁵. The consent may also specify that the land is to be free from the restrictions to which it was subject as Green Belt land¹⁶.

These restrictions upon alienation do not apply to any land which becomes Green Belt land after the Secretary of State has: (a) approved a resolution of a highway authority¹⁷ adopting a standard width or made an order adopting a standard width¹⁸ as respects a road any part of which is situate on or adjacent to the land¹⁹; or (b) approved plans for the improvement or construction of a road any part of which is or will be situate on or adjacent to the land²⁰; or (c) made an order²¹ by virtue of which a route becomes a trunk road, any part of which will be situate on the land²².

2 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1.

3 For the meaning of 'parish council' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 1.

4 In the case of exchanges this is subject to special provisions: see PARA 938A.16.

5 I.e. appropriated under the Local Government Act 1972 s 122 (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 513), or under any other enactment: Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 5(1); Local Government Act 1972 s 272(2). This provision is expressed not to extend to appropriations by way of substitution, for the purpose for which the land is held, of any other approved purpose which is not inconsistent with any covenant entered into under the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938: see s 5(1). For the purposes for which Green Belt land may be used see PARA 938A.15.

16 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 5(5). As a condition of giving his consent under s 5 or s 6 (see PARA 938A.12), the Secretary of State may require that other land should be obtained to replace the Green Belt land disposed of or appropriated, and, when obtained, this other land is deemed to be Green Belt land and becomes subject to any covenant restrictive of its user entered into by the authority: see s 7(1). When required by the Secretary of State to provide such other land, the authority has power to acquire it by agreement: see s 7(2).

The right to buy legislation contained in the Housing Act 1985 disapplies the requirement in the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 5 for the Secretary of State to consent to the sale of Green Belt land: R (on the application of O'Byrne) v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions [2002] UKHL 45, [2003] 1 All ER 15.

17 'Highway authority' is not defined in the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938. However see the Highways Act 1980 ss 1, 2 (both as amended), s 3; and HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 49 et seq.

18 It originally under the Restriction of Ribbon Development Act 1935 s 1 (repealed). The control of the development of roads is now part of the general system of development planning under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt II (ss 10-54A) (as amended).

20 It originally under the Restriction of Ribbon Development Act 1935 s 13(1) (repealed), which is now replaced by the Highways Act 1980 ss 238(1), 239(1), (3), 247(1) (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARAS 77, 97): Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 8(1)(b), (2).

21 It originally made under the Trunk Roads Act 1936 s 1(3) (repealed): see now the Highways Act 1980 s 10(2) (as amended); and HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARAS 704, 725.

22 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 8(1)(c), (2). As from the date on which possession is taken by the acquiring authority, Green Belt land acquired under s 8(1) is (without prejudice to the provisions of s 9 (see PARA 938A.2)) to be free from any restrictions imposed upon it by the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 or any declaration made in the manner provided by that Act: s 8(3).

12. Acquisition of Green Belt land

Green Belt land¹ vested in a local authority² or a parish council³ may be acquired by any local authority, highway authority⁴ or statutory undertakers⁵ and, subject to the provisions of any order or consent of the Secretary of State⁶, used for their statutory powers or duties⁷; but, except in certain cases⁸, before such Green Belt land is acquired the following steps must be taken. Where the land is proposed to be acquired by agreement, the same notices must be given and consents obtained as in the case of a sale, exchange or appropriation of Green Belt land by a local authority⁹; and where the land is proposed to be acquired compulsorily the acquiring authority or undertakers must first obtain the consent of the Secretary of State¹⁰ to the initiation of procedure for compulsory purchase after having published in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality of the land notice of its or their intention to apply for such consent, stating the purpose for which it is proposed to acquire the land and the manner in which objections can be made¹¹, and serving a copy of such notice on the local authority or parish council in which the land is vested and on every contributing local authority¹² and on the county council¹³.

- 9 See Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 6(1)(a); and PARA 938A.11.
- 10 Any application to the Secretary of State under the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 6(1)(b) must be accompanied by a copy of each newspaper in which a notice relating to the application was published: s 6(2). Before giving his consent the Secretary of State must consider any objections which he has received: s 6(3). The consent may be given upon and subject to such terms and conditions as the Secretary of State may determine (s 24); it may be conditional upon the provision by the acquiring authority or undertakers of other land in place of the land to be acquired (s 7(1)), and may provide that when possession is taken of the land it be freed to such extent as he may specify from the restrictions imposed on it by reason of its being Green Belt land (s 6(4)). Nothing in s 6(4) prejudices or affects the requirement that restrictions imposed on land be not taken into account in ascertaining purchase money or compensation: s 6(5). 13. Restrictions on the erection of buildings

Subject to certain exceptions, no building¹ may be erected on Green Belt land² except with the consent of the Secretary of State³ and of every contributing local authority⁴, other than a building ancillary to the purposes for which (with all necessary consents) that land is for the time being used, or ancillary to the erection, repair or demolition of such a building⁵.

Where a local authority⁶ or highway authority⁷ or statutory undertakers⁸ have acquired Green Belt land from an owner⁹ (not being a local authority) for the purposes of its or their statutory duties, the foregoing restriction imposed upon the erection of buildings ceases to apply to that land, but before erecting any building, or constructing or improving any road, the authority or undertakers must either obtain all the necessary consents¹⁰ or the consent of the Secretary of State¹¹. Before applying to the Secretary of State for his consent, the authority or undertakers must publish in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality of the land a notice containing certain particulars as to the land and the proposed building or road, the inspection of the plan, and the time and manner of making objections¹²; and must serve a copy of the notice on every contributing authority and on the county council¹³. The Secretary of State must consider any objections raised¹⁴, and in giving his consent may provide that the land is to be freed to such extent as he may specify from the restrictions imposed on it by reason of its being Green Belt land¹⁵.

The foregoing restriction on the erection of buildings¹⁶ and the requirements as to the erection of buildings and the construction or improvement of roads by a local authority, highway authority or statutory undertakers¹⁷ do not apply to: (1) the erection of buildings on land acquired or proposed to be acquired under powers conferred or to be conferred by any enactment which specifies or specifically refers to the particular land to be acquired¹⁸; (2) the construction or improvement of certain roads¹⁹; or (3) the erection under certain powers of a building in connection with the laying of pipes, sewers and electrical lines²⁰.

15. Statutory works on Green Belt land

Green Belt land¹ may be used for the purposes of recreation or agriculture², or for any other purpose which is not inconsistent with the statutory restrictions imposed on the land or any covenant restrictive of the user of the land and which is approved by every contributing local authority³. It may also be used for camping by means of tents⁴. A local authority⁵ or a parish council⁶ may let Green Belt land vested in it for any of those purposes⁷.

An owner⁸ (including a parish council) or occupier of Green Belt land may consent to the construction of, and any local authority, highway authority or statutory undertakers⁹ may construct and maintain, above or below the surface of that land: (1) any sewer main pipe or similar work¹⁰; (2) any watercourse¹¹; (3) any electric line¹²; or (4) any electrical sub-station or transforming station¹³.

The statutory rights and powers of the Post Office¹⁴ are not affected by the provisions of the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938¹⁵.

17(2)(a). Where it is proposed to place an electric line above Green Belt land, notice of the proposal must be given to every contributing local authority (for the meaning of which see PARA 938A.3 note 7), and before giving his consent (under the Electricity Act 1989) to the proposal the Secretary of State must give to every contributing local authority an opportunity of being heard: Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 11(1) proviso (iii). Section 11 refers to the Minister of Transport, whose functions have been transferred to the Secretary of State: see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 519.

13 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 11(1)(d). An electrical sub-station or transforming station which would exceed a certain area or height must not be erected without the consent of every contributing local authority, which must not be unreasonably withheld: s 11(1) proviso (i). The question whether consent is unreasonably withheld must be determined by the Secretary of State: s 11(2). In the case of any other electrical sub-station or transforming station, every contributing local authority must be given notice of the proposed erection and afforded an opportunity of being heard by the Secretary of State before he gives his consent to the proposed erection: s 11(1) proviso (ii).

Where all requisite consents under s 11(1) have been obtained, the owner or occupier may convey or grant to the local authority, highway authority or statutory undertakers any land, easements or rights necessary for the construction and maintenance of the works: s 11(3).

Functions under the Telegraph Acts 1863 to 1926 were originally conferred on the Postmaster-General but on the abolition of that office (see the Post Office Act 1969 s 1 (repealed)) the rights of the Postmaster-General under the Telegraph Acts became those of the Post Office (see the Post Office Act 1969 s 21 (repealed)), some of which were then transferred to British Telecommunications plc (see the Telecommunications Act 1981 s 10; the Telecommunications Act 1984 s 60 (as amended); and TELECOMMUNICATIONS vol 97 (2010) PARA 57).

15 See the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 30.

16. Power of local authorities to exchange land

Green Belt land¹ which is vested in a local authority² or a parish council³ may be exchanged by it for other land within the area⁴ of equal or greater area which is agreed by every contributing local authority⁵ and by the county council⁶ to be suitable for the purpose of becoming Green Belt land⁷. Land received by the local authority or parish council is deemed to be Green Belt land and is subject to any covenant which is entered into restrictive of the user of the land given in exchange and the land given in exchange is freed from all restrictions imposed upon it by reason of being Green Belt land⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'Green Belt land' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1.

2 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1.

6 For the meaning of 'county council' see PARA 938A.5 NOTE 2.

7 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 15(1). However, any such exchange must be subject to the consent of the Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions (see PARA 102) where the land to be exchanged was acquired under the powers conferred by or subject to covenants made under s 3 (see PARAS 938A.2-938A.4) (s 15(1) proviso (i)), or where consent is required under any other enactment (s 15(1) proviso (ii)); and the consent of the Secretary of State for Education and Employment is also necessary if it is required by any other enactment (s 15(3)). Section 15(3) refers to the Board of Education, whose functions have been transferred to the Secretary of State (see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 519). The consent of the Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions may be given upon and subject to such terms as he may determine (Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 24), and any difference or question arising in regard to an exchange of land must be settled by him in accordance with the provisions of s 26 (s 15(2)). As to the settlement of differences see PARA 938A.18. As to the application of capital money arising on an exchange of land see PARA 938A.11 NOTE 10. 17. Byelaws

Where the public are allowed access to any Green Belt land¹ vested in a local authority² or parish council³, the authority or council may make byelaws with respect to its management, control and use⁴.

Where the land has been leased to or is maintained or managed by another local authority or parish council, that other authority or council has the power of making byelaws after consultation with the authority or council in which the land is vested, and the byelaws may be enforced by either or both those authorities or councils⁵.

1 For the meaning of 'Green Belt land' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1.

2 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 938A.1 NOTE 1.

3 For the meaning of 'parish council' see PARA 938A.2 NOTE 1.

4 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 17(1). Byelaws may have effect subject to modifications specified in them (s 17(3)), but must be consistent with the law relating to Green Belt land (s 17(4)). Special provision is made as to the furnishing of copies made by one local authority or council to another: see s 17(6), (7) (amended by the London Government Act 1963 s 59(2)(e)); and the Local Government Act 1972 s 272(2). For the purposes of s 236 (as amended) (procedure for byelaws: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 556), the confirming authority is the Secretary of State: Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 17(5) (amended by the London Government Act 1963 s 93(1), Sch 18 Pt III (repealed)); Local Government Act 1972 s 272(2). The Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 17(5) refers to the Minister of Health (see s 2(1)), whose functions have been transferred to the Secretary of State: see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 519.

5 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 17(2).

18. Determination of differences and questions

Any difference or question (other than one arising between lessor and lessee or one for the determination of which other provision is made¹) arising in relation to Green Belt land² between a local authority³ or a parish council⁴ in which the land is vested and a contributing local authority⁵ (or county council) or between two contributing local authorities, must be determined by the Secretary of State⁶ who, after hearing the local authority or parish council, if any, and every contributing local authority desiring to be heard, and any other person he may deem it proper to hear, must make such order as appears to him to be just, and every order so made is final and binding on all persons⁷.

For the meaning of 'county council' see PARA 938A.5 NOTE 2.

6 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 26 refers to the Minister of Health (see s 2(1)), whose functions have been transferred to the Secretary of State: see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 519.

7 Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 26(1). Such an order may provide that the land to which it relates is to be freed to a specified extent from restrictions imposed by the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938, or by any declaration or covenant entered into as provided by, and for the purposes of, that Act, or it may modify any restrictions (s 26(2)), but the Secretary of State may not release land from any restriction without the consent of any person, other than a contributing local authority, by whom the restriction is enforceable (s 26(3)).

(ii) Acquisition of Land by the Secretary of State or the Assembly

939. Compulsory acquisition by the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

The Secretary of State¹ or the National Assembly for Wales² may acquire compulsorily³:

- 3648 (1) any land⁴ necessary for the public service⁵; and
- 3649 (2) any land which it is proposed to use not only for the public service but also:
259
- 16. (a) to meet the interests of the proper planning of the area; or
- 17. (b) to secure the best or most economic development⁶ or use⁷ of the land, 260
- 3650 otherwise than for the public service⁸.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly has so acquired, or proposes so to acquire, any land ('the primary land'), and in his or its opinion other land ought to be acquired together with the primary land:

- 3651 (i) in the interests of the proper planning of the areas concerned; or
- 3652 (ii) for the purpose of ensuring that the primary land can be used, or developed and used, together with that other land, in what appears to him or to the Assembly to be the best or most economic way; or
- 3653 (iii) where the primary land, or any land acquired, or which he or the Assembly proposes to acquire⁹, forms part of a common¹⁰, open space¹¹ or fuel or field garden allotment¹², for the purpose of being given in exchange¹³ for that land, he or the Assembly may compulsorily acquire that other land¹⁴.

The power of so acquiring land compulsorily includes power to acquire an easement or other right over land by the grant of a new right¹⁵; but this provision does not apply to an easement or other right over any land which would for certain purposes¹⁶ form part of a common, open space or fuel or field garden allotment¹⁷.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 228 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 As to the power to acquire land by agreement see the Commissioners of Works Act 1852 s 2 (as amended); and PARA 940 post.

4 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante. As to Crown land, however, see PARA 941 post.

5 For these purposes, references to the public service include the service in the United Kingdom of (1) any international organisation or institution whether or not the United Kingdom or Her Majesty's government in the United Kingdom is or is to become a member; (2) any office or agency established by such an organisation or institution or for its purposes, or established in pursuance of a treaty, whether or not the United Kingdom is or is to become a party to the treaty; and (3) a foreign sovereign power or the government of such a power: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 228(5). 'Treaty' includes any international agreement, and any protocol or annex to a treaty or international agreement: s 228(6). The Acquisition of Land Act 1981 (see generally COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND) applies to any compulsory acquisition by the Secretary of State or the Assembly under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 228 (as amended): s 228(7) (as so amended). For the meaning of 'compulsory acquisition' see PARA 930 note 4 ante.

Any expenses so incurred by the Secretary of State in the acquisition of land must be paid out of money provided by Parliament (see PARA 51 ante at head (a) in the text) but this does not apply in relation to the Assembly (see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 89; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS).

As from a day to be appointed, the powers to acquire land for the public service conferred by the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 228(1) (as so amended) are to be treated as including power to acquire land for the purpose of its provision under arrangements under the Constitutional Reform Act 2005 s 50(2)(b) (provision of accommodation and other resources for Supreme Court: see COURTS): s 50(3)(b).

9 le by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 228(2)(a) or (b) (see heads (i), (ii) respectively in the text) or of the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 122(1)(a) or (b) (as amended) (see PARA 940 post).

UPDATE

939 Compulsory acquisition by the Secretary of State or the Assembly

NOTE 1--Reference to First Secretary of State now to Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 228(1) (amended by SI 2006/1926).

NOTE 8--Appointed day is 1 October 2009: SI 2009/1604.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/10. ACQUISITION AND APPROPRIATION OF LAND/(1) ACQUISITION OF LAND/(ii) Acquisition of Land by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/940. Acquisition of land by agreement.

940. Acquisition of land by agreement.

Where, in exercise of the power conferred by the Commissioners of Works Act 1852¹, the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ has acquired, or proposes to acquire, any land (the 'public service land') and in his or its opinion other land ought to be acquired together with the public service land:

- 3654 (1) in the interests of the proper planning of the area concerned; or
- 3655 (2) for the purpose of ensuring that the public service land can be used, or developed and used (together with that other land), in what appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to be the best, or most economic, way; or
- 3656 (3) where the public service land or any land acquired, or which the Secretary of State or the Assembly proposes to acquire, by virtue of head (1) or head (2) above, forms part of a common or open space or fuel or field garden allotment⁴, for the purpose of being given in exchange therefor, then that power to acquire land by agreement⁵ applies to that other land as if its acquisition were necessary for the public service⁶.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly is authorised⁷ to acquire land by agreement for a particular purpose, he or it may acquire that land notwithstanding that it is not immediately required for that purpose; and any land so acquired may, until required for the purpose for which it was acquired, be used for such purpose as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may determine⁸.

1 The Commissioners of Works Act 1852 s 2 (as amended) (power to purchase etc land necessary for the public service). It is lawful for the Commissioners of Works to purchase, take, or accept any hereditaments, of what tenure soever, necessary for the public service, and to sell or exchange the same, and give a good discharge for the purchase money thereof to any purchaser or other person, and to grant any lease or leases, underlease or underleases of any such hereditaments so taken as aforesaid, and to enter into any agreements for such sale, exchange, lease, or underlease; so nevertheless that all such hereditaments are to be purchased, taken, exchanged, sold, or leased, and the produce and income thereof applied with the consent of the Treasury which may be given either generally for any class of case, or for any particular transaction: see s 2 (amended by the Statute Law Revision Act 1892; and by SR & O 1945/1636).

As from a day to be appointed, the powers to acquire land for the public service so conferred are to be treated as including power to acquire land for the purpose of its provision under arrangements under the Constitutional Reform Act 2005 s 50(2)(b) (provision of accommodation and other resources for Supreme Court: see COURTS): s 50(3)(a).

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

3 As to the transfer of functions under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 122 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

4 The terms 'common', 'open space' and 'fuel or field garden allotment' are not defined for these purposes; as to their meaning for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 see PARAS 933 note 16, 934 notes 10, 12 ante.

5 le the Commissioners of Works Act 1852 s 2 (as amended).

6 Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 122(1) (s 122(1)-(3) amended by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 3, Sch 1 Pt I; and by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) (Scotland) Act 1997 ss 3, 4, Sch 1 Pt I, Sch 2 para 31(3)). The Commissioners of Works Act 1852 s 2 (as amended) is to be construed and have effect (1) as if references to land necessary for the public service included land which it is proposed to use not only for the public service but also to meet the interests of proper planning of the area, or to secure the best, or most economic, development or use of the land, for other purposes; (2) as if references to the public service included the service in the United Kingdom (a) of any international organisation or institution whether or not the United Kingdom or Her Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom is or is to become a member; (b) of any office or agency established by such an organisation or institution or for its purposes, or established in pursuance of a treaty (whether or not the United Kingdom is or is to become a party to the treaty); (c) of a foreign sovereign power or the government of such a power; and for the purposes of head (b) supra 'treaty' includes any international agreement, and any protocol or annex to a treaty or international agreement: Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 122(2), (3) (as so amended). Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly proposes to dispose of any of his or its land and is of the opinion that it is necessary, in order to facilitate that disposal, to acquire adjoining land, then, notwithstanding that the acquisition of that adjoining land is not necessary for the public service, the Commissioners of Works Act 1852 s 2 (as amended) applies as if it were necessary for the public service: Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 122(4).

Any expenses so incurred by the Secretary of State in the acquisition of land must be paid out of money provided by Parliament (see s 122(7)) but this does not apply in relation to the Assembly (see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 89; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS).

ACQUISITION AND APPROPRIATION OF LAND/(1) ACQUISITION OF LAND/(iii) Crown Land/941. Compulsory acquisition of interest in Crown land; in general.

(iii) Crown Land

941. Compulsory acquisition of interest in Crown land; in general.

At the date at which this title states the law, any power to acquire land¹ compulsorily under the statutory provisions relating to compulsory acquisition or appropriation of land for planning purposes² may be exercised in relation to any interest in Crown land³ which is for the time being held otherwise than by or on behalf of the Crown, notwithstanding any interest of the Crown in that land⁴; but no such interest may be so acquired except with the consent of the appropriate authority⁵.

As from a day to be appointed⁶, the above provisions are repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004⁷. As from that day, however, the following provisions have similar effect. The Secretary of State⁸ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁹ must not authorise the acquisition of any interest in Crown land¹⁰ unless it is an interest which is for the time being held otherwise than by or on behalf of the Crown, and the appropriate authority¹¹ consents to the acquisition¹². Nor does the statutory provision allowing him or the Assembly to acquire land compulsorily¹³ permit the acquisition of any interest in Crown land¹⁴ unless it is an interest which is for the time being held otherwise than by or on behalf of the Crown, and the appropriate authority consents to the acquisition¹⁵.

ACQUISITION AND APPROPRIATION OF LAND/(1) ACQUISITION OF LAND/(iv) Joint Planning Boards and Joint Bodies/942. Powers of joint planning boards.

(iv) Joint Planning Boards and Joint Bodies

942. Powers of joint planning boards.

A joint planning board¹ has, on being authorised to do so by the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales³:

- 3657 (1) the same power to acquire land⁴ compulsorily as the local authorities⁵ to which the statutory provisions relating to compulsory acquisition of land⁶ apply have under those provisions⁷;
- 3658 (2) for any purposes for which by virtue of head (1) above that board may acquire land compulsorily, the power⁸ to purchase compulsorily rights over land not in existence when the board's compulsory purchase is authorised⁹.

Such a board also has power¹⁰ to acquire land by agreement¹¹.

1 As to joint planning boards see PARA 30 ante.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

3 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 244 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 3 note 3 ante; but see also PARA 934 note 2 ante.

6 I.e. the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 226 (as amended): see PARAS 934-935 ante.

7 Ibid s 244(1) (amended by the Environment Act 1995 s 120(3), Sch 24).

8 I.e. the power which the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1976 s 13 (as amended) confers on the local authorities to which s 13(1) applies: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 511.

9 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 244(4). The Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1976 s 13(2)-(5) (as amended) accordingly applies to the purchase of rights under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 244(4) (as so amended) as it applies to the purchase of rights under the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1976 s 13(1): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 244(4).

10 I.e. the same power as the local authorities mentioned in ibid s 227(1) (as amended) (see PARA 937 ante) have under s 227(1) (as amended).

11 Ibid s 244(2). Section 226(1) (as amended), s 226(7) (see PARA 934 ante), s 227 (as amended) (see PARA 937 ante), s 229 (see PARA 947 post), s 230 (see PARA 938 ante), s 232 (see PARAS 945-946 post), s 233 (see PARAS 948-950 post) and ss 235-242 (as amended) (see PARA 952 et seq post) apply with the necessary modifications as if any such board were a local authority to which those statutory provisions applied: s 244(3).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/10. ACQUISITION AND APPROPRIATION OF LAND/(1) ACQUISITION OF LAND/(iv) Joint Planning Boards and Joint Bodies/943. Constitution of joint body to hold land for planning purposes.

943. Constitution of joint body to hold land for planning purposes.

If it appears to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales², after consultation³ with the local authorities⁴ concerned, to be expedient that any land⁵ acquired by a local authority for planning purposes⁶ should be held by a joint body, consisting of representatives of that authority and of any other local authority, he or the Assembly may by order provide for the establishment of such a joint body and for the transfer to that body of the land so acquired⁷.

Any such order providing for the establishment of a joint body may make such provision⁸ as the Secretary of State or the Assembly considers expedient with respect to the constitution and functions⁹ of that body¹⁰; and regulations¹¹ may make such provision consequential upon or supplementary to these provisions as appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to be necessary or expedient¹².

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 243, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

ACQUISITION AND APPROPRIATION OF LAND/(1) ACQUISITION OF LAND/(v) Compulsory Purchase Procedure/944. Modification of statutory provisions relating to compulsory purchase procedure.

(v) Compulsory Purchase Procedure

944. Modification of statutory provisions relating to compulsory purchase procedure.

In relation to the compulsory acquisition of land by a local authority¹, a National Park authority² or a joint planning board³ or by the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁵, the general statutory provisions⁶ relating to compulsory purchase procedure apply⁷.

Where, however:

- 3659 (1) it is proposed that land⁸ should be acquired compulsorily⁹; and 3660 (2) a compulsory purchase order relating to that land is submitted to the confirming authority¹⁰ or, as the case may be, is made in draft¹¹ by the Secretary of State¹² or by the Assembly, the confirming authority or, as the case may be, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may disregard¹³ any objection to the order or draft which, in the opinion of that authority or of the Secretary of State or the Assembly, amounts in substance to an objection to the provisions of the development plan¹⁴ defining the proposed use¹⁵ of that or any other land¹⁶.

7 See the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 ss 226(7), 228(7) (cited in PARAS 934-935, 939 ante). As to the application of s 226(7) to National Park authorities see PARA 934 note 17 ante; and as to its application to joint planning boards see PARA 942 ante. The Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 also applies (see s 1(1) (as substituted; and COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 513); and the general vesting declaration procedure may also be used (see the Compulsory Purchase (Vesting Declarations) Act 1981 s 1; and COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 686).

In construing the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 as so applied: (1) references to the execution of the works are to be construed as including references to any erection, construction or carrying out of buildings or works authorised by the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 237 (as amended) (see PARA 954 post); (2) in relation to the erection, construction or carrying out of any buildings or works so authorised, references in the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 s 10 (as amended) to the acquiring authority are to be construed as references to the person by whom the buildings or works in question are erected, constructed or carried out; and (3) references to the execution of the works are to be construed as including also references to any erection, construction or carrying out of buildings or works on behalf of a minister or the National Assembly for Wales or statutory undertakers on land acquired by that minister, by the Assembly or by those undertakers, where the buildings or works are erected, constructed or carried out for the purposes for which the land was acquired: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 245(4). 944 Modification of statutory provisions relating to compulsory purchase procedure

NOTE 12--Reference to First Secretary of State now to Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 245(1) (amended by SI 2006/1926).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/10. ACQUISITION AND APPROPRIATION OF LAND/(2) APPROPRIATION AND DISPOSAL OF LAND/(i) Appropriation of Land/945. Appropriation of land held for planning purposes.

(2) APPROPRIATION AND DISPOSAL OF LAND

(i) Appropriation of Land

945. Appropriation of land held for planning purposes.

Where any land¹ has been acquired² or appropriated³ by a local authority⁴ for planning purposes and is for the time being held by the authority for the purposes for which it was so acquired or appropriated, the authority may appropriate⁵ the land for any purpose for which the authority is or may be authorised in any capacity to acquire land by virtue of or under any enactment⁶ other than the statutory provisions⁷ relating to the acquisition and appropriation of land for planning purposes⁸.

Land which consists of, or forms part of, a common⁹, or formerly consisted of or formed part of a common, and is held or managed by a local authority in accordance with a local Act may not, however, be so appropriated without the consent of the Secretary of State¹⁰ or, in relation to Wales, of the National Assembly for Wales¹¹. Such consent may be given:

- 3661 (1) either in respect of a particular appropriation or in respect of appropriations of any class; and 3662 (2) either subject to or free from any conditions or limitations¹².

1 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'acquired for planning purposes' see PARA 943 note 6 ante.

3 For these purposes, any references to the appropriation of land for planning purposes is a reference to the appropriation of it for purposes for which land can be, or, as the case may be, could have been, acquired under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 226 (as amended) (see PARAS 934-935 ante) or s 227 (as amended) (see PARA 937 ante), or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 52 (as amended) (see PARA 1161 post), or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning Act 1971 ss 112 or 119 (repealed), or the Town and Country Planning Act 1962 ss 68 or 71 (repealed): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 246(1). As to land acquired under the Town and Country Planning Act 1947 (repealed) see the Town and Country Planning Act 1971 s 292(1), Sch 24 paras 47-49 (repealed) and the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 5, Sch 3 para 3.

8 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 232(1). In relation to any such land as is mentioned in s 232(1), s 232 has effect to the exclusion of the provisions of the Local Government Act 1972 s 122(1) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 513): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 232(6). In relation to any appropriation under s 232: (1) the Local Government Act 1972 s 122(4) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 513), which relates to the operation of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act 1845 s 68 (as amended) and the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 s 10 (as amended), has effect as it has effect in relation to appropriations under the Local Government Act 1972 s 122 (as amended); and (2) the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 229(5), (6) (see PARA 947 post) has effect as it has effect in relation to appropriations under s 229: s 232(5).

As to the local authority's duty, in exercising its powers under s 232, to have regard to the desirability of preserving features of special architectural or historic interest, and in particular listed buildings, see PARA 1106 post.

ACQUISITION AND APPROPRIATION OF LAND/(2) APPROPRIATION AND DISPOSAL OF LAND/(i) Appropriation of Land/946. Preliminaries to appropriation of open space.

946. Preliminaries to appropriation of open space.

Before appropriating¹ any land² which consists of, or forms part of, an open space³, a local authority⁴ must:

- 3663 (1) publish a notice of its intention to do so for at least two consecutive weeks in a newspaper circulating in its area; and
- 3664 (2) consider any objections to the proposed appropriation which may be made to it⁵.

ACQUISITION AND APPROPRIATION OF LAND/(2) APPROPRIATION AND DISPOSAL OF LAND/(i) Appropriation of Land/947. Appropriation of land forming part of common etc.

947. Appropriation of land forming part of common etc.

Any local authority¹ may be authorised, by an order² made by that authority and confirmed by the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁴, to appropriate for any purpose for which that authority can be authorised to acquire land under any enactment⁵ any land⁶ for the time being held⁷ by the authority for other purposes, being land which is or forms part of a common⁸, or fuel or field garden allotment⁹, other than land which is Green Belt¹⁰ land¹¹.

On such an appropriation, the appropriate adjustment in accounts must be made¹².

Where land so appropriated was acquired under an enactment incorporating the Lands Clauses Acts, any works executed on the land after the appropriation has been effected are deemed, for the purposes of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act 1845 s 68 (as amended) or the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 s 10 (as amended) (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARAS 718, 878), to have been authorised by the enactment under which the land was acquired: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 229(4).

12 Ibid s 229(5), (6). On such an appropriation of land by a local authority, where (1) the authority is not an authority to whom the Town and Country Planning Act 1959 Pt II (ss 22-30) (as amended) applies (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 509 et seq); or (2) the land was immediately before the appropriation held by the authority for the purposes of a grant-aided function, within the meaning of that Act; or (3) the land is appropriated by the authority for the purposes of such a function, such adjustment must be made in the accounts of the local authority as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may direct; and on such an appropriation which does not fall within heads (1)-(3) supra, such adjustment of accounts must be made as is required by s 24(1): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 229(5), (6). ACQUISITION AND APPROPRIATION OF LAND/(2) APPROPRIATION AND DISPOSAL OF LAND/(ii) Disposal of Land/948. Local authority's power of disposal.

(ii) Disposal of Land

948. Local authority's power of disposal.

Where any land¹ has been acquired or appropriated by a local authority² for planning purposes³ and is for the time being held by it for the purposes for which the land was so acquired or appropriated, the authority may dispose⁴ of the land to such person, in such manner and subject to such conditions, as may appear to the authority to be expedient in order to secure:

- 3665 (1) the best use⁵ of that or other land and any buildings or works⁶ which have been or are to be erected, constructed or carried out on it, whether by the authority itself or by any other person; or
- 3666 (2) the erection⁷, construction or carrying out on it of any buildings or works appearing to the authority to be needed for the proper planning of its area⁸.

Land which consists of, or forms part of, a common⁹, or formerly consisted of or formed part of a common, and is held or managed by a local authority in accordance with a local Act may not, however, be so disposed of without the consent of the Secretary of State¹⁰ or, in relation to Wales, of the National Assembly for Wales¹¹; and such consent is also required where the disposal is to be for a consideration less than the best that can reasonably be obtained and is not:

- 3667 (a) the grant of a term of seven years or less; or
- 3668 (b) the assignment of a term of years of which seven years or less are unexpired at the date of the assignment¹².

ACQUISITION AND APPROPRIATION OF LAND/(2) APPROPRIATION AND DISPOSAL OF LAND/(ii) Disposal of Land/950. Exercise of powers of disposal.

950. Exercise of powers of disposal.

In relation to land¹ acquired or appropriated for planning purposes² for a reason:

- 3671 (1) that it will facilitate the carrying out of development, redevelopment or improvement on or in relation to the land³; or
- 3672 (2) that it is required for the purpose of executing works for facilitating the development or use of adjoining land or is required for the purpose of being given in exchange for land which is being acquired⁴, the powers conferred⁵ on a local authority⁶ and on the Secretary of State⁷ (or, in relation to Wales, on the National Assembly for Wales⁸) in respect of the giving of consent to disposals⁹ must be so exercised as to secure so far as may be practicable¹⁰ to relevant occupiers¹¹ a suitable opportunity¹² for accommodation¹³.

10 This is a matter to be judged by the local authority and the Secretary of State: A Crabtree & Co Ltd v Minister of Housing and Local Government (1965) 17 P & CR 232.

11 A person is a relevant occupier for these purposes if (1) he was living or carrying on business or other activities on any such land as is mentioned in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 233(5) which the authority has acquired as mentioned in s 233(1) (see PARA 948 ante); (2) he desires to obtain accommodation on such land; and (3) he is willing to comply with any requirements of the authority as to the development and use of such land: s 233(6). For these purposes, 'development' includes redevelopment: s 233(6). For the meaning of 'use' see PARA 221 note 4 ante.

12 For these purposes, 'a suitable opportunity for accommodation' means, in relation to any person, an opportunity to obtain accommodation on the land in question which is suitable to his reasonable requirements on terms settled with due regard to the price at which any such land has been acquired from him: ibid s 233(7).

13 Ibid s 233(5). As to the local authority's duty, in exercising its powers under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 233, to have regard to the desirability of preserving features of special architectural or historic interest, and in particular listed buildings, see PARA 1106 post.

951. Disposal by the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may dispose³ of land⁴ held by him or by it and acquired by him or by it or by any other minister under the statutory power of compulsory acquisition⁵ to such person, in such manner and subject to such conditions as appear to him or to the Assembly expedient⁶; and, in particular, he or the Assembly may so dispose of land held by him or by it for any purpose in order to secure its use⁷ for that purpose⁸.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may also dispose of land held by him or by it and acquired by him, by the Assembly or by any other minister under the statutory power to acquire land for the public service by agreement⁹ to such person, in such manner and subject to such conditions as may appear to him or to the Assembly to be expedient, and in particular may dispose of land so held for any purpose in order to secure the use of the land for that purpose¹⁰.

(i) Development of Land held for Planning Purposes

952. Power of development; in general.

In relation to any land¹ which:

3673 (1) has been acquired or appropriated by a local authority² for planning purposes³; and

3674 (2) is for the time being held by the authority for the purposes for which it was so acquired or appropriated,

a local authority may⁴:

3675 (a) erect, construct or carry out on any such land any building or work⁵ other than a building or work for the erection⁶, construction or carrying out of which, whether by that local authority or by any other person, statutory power exists by virtue of, or could be conferred under, an alternative enactment⁷; and 3676 (b) repair, maintain and insure any buildings or works on such land and generally deal with such land in a proper course of management⁸.

A local authority may enter into arrangements with an authorised association⁹ for the carrying out by the association of any operation which, apart from the arrangements, the local authority would so have power to carry out, on such terms, including terms as to the making of payments or loans by the authority to the association, as may be specified in the arrangements¹⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 3 note 3 ante. As to the application of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 235 (see the text and notes 3-10 infra) to joint planning boards see PARA 942 ante; as to its application to National Park authorities see PARA 934 note 17 ante; as to joint planning boards see PARA 30 ante; and as to National Park authorities see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 526 et seq.

3 For the meaning of 'acquisition of land for planning purposes' see PARA 943 note 6 ante; and for the meaning of 'appropriation of land for planning purposes' see PARA 945 note 3 ante.

4 A local authority may exercise the powers so conferred notwithstanding any limitation imposed by law on its capacity by virtue of its constitution (Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 235(3)); but nothing in s 235 is to be construed as authorising any act or omission on the part of a local authority which is actionable at the suit of any person on any grounds other than such a limitation (s 235(5)(a)).

5 For the meaning of 'buildings or works' see PARA 43 note 9 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'erection' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

7 For these purposes, 'alternative enactment' means any enactment which is not contained in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt IX (ss 226-246) (as amended) (see PARA 934 et seq ante, PARA 954 et seq post), the Local Authorities (Land) Act 1963 ss 2, 5 or 6 (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 521-522), the Industrial Development Act 1982 s 14(1) or (4) or s 17(3) (see TRADE AND INDUSTRY vol 97 (2010) PARAS 945-946), or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Pt I Ch V (ss 47-59) (as amended) (see PARA 1154 et seq post): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 235(6). For the meaning of 'enactment' see PARA 2 note 11 ante.

8 Ibid s 235(1), (2). As to the local authority's duty, in exercising its powers under s 235(1), to have regard to the desirability of preserving features of special architectural or historic interest, and in particular listed buildings, see PARA 1106 post.

9 For these purposes, 'authorised association' means any society, company or body of persons (1) whose objects include the promotion, formation or management of garden cities, garden suburbs or garden villages, and the erection, improvement or management of buildings for the working classes and others; and (2) which does not trade for profit or whose constitution forbids the issue of any share or loan capital with interest or dividend exceeding the rate for the time being fixed by the Treasury: ibid s 235(6).

10 Ibid s 235(4). Nothing in s 235 is to be construed as authorising an authorised association to carry out any operation which it would not have power to carry out apart from s 235(4): s 235(5)(b).

The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt IX (ss 226-246) (as amended) (see PARA 934 et seq ante, PARA 954 post) does not have the effect of authorising the execution of any works, whether of construction, demolition or alteration, on, over or under tidal lands below high-water mark of ordinary spring tides, except with the consent of any persons whose consent would have been required if the Town and Country Planning Act 1962 (repealed) had not been passed, and except in accordance with such plans and sections and subject to such restrictions and conditions as may be approved by the Secretary of State before the works are begun: Town and Country Planning Act 1971 s 292(1), Sch 24 para 84(b); Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 5(1), Sch 3 para 3. As to land below high-water mark see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 100 (2009) PARA 35.

(ii) Interference with and Extinguishment of Rights

A. IN GENERAL

954. Power to override easements and other rights.

The erection¹, construction or carrying out or maintenance of any building or work² on land³ which has been acquired or appropriated by a local authority⁴ for planning purposes⁵, whether done by the local authority or by a person deriving title⁶ under it, is authorised if it is done in accordance with planning permission⁷ notwithstanding that it involves:

- 3677 (1) interference with certain interests or rights⁸; or
- 3678 (2) a breach of a restriction as to the user of land arising by virtue of a contract⁹.

Nothing in these provisions, however, authorises interference with any right of way or right of laying down, erecting, continuing or maintaining apparatus on, under or over land which is:

- 3679 (a) a right vested in or belonging to statutory undertakers¹⁰ for the purposes of the carrying on of their undertaking; or
- 3680 (b) a right conferred by or in accordance with the electronic communications code on the operator of an electronic communications code network¹¹.

Compensation is payable¹² in respect of any authorised interference or breach¹³ and must be assessed in the same manner and subject to the same rules as in the case of other compensation¹⁴ in respect of injurious affection where the compensation is to be estimated in connection with a purchase, or the injury arises from the execution of works on land acquired, under¹⁵ the relevant statutory provisions¹⁶.

Where a person deriving title under the local authority by which the land in question was acquired or appropriated is so liable to pay compensation and fails to discharge that liability, the liability is enforceable against the local authority¹⁷.

8 Subject to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 237(3) (as amended) (see the text and notes 10-11 infra), the interests and rights to which s 237 (as amended) applies are any easement, liberty, privilege, right or advantage annexed to land and adversely affecting other land, including any natural right to support: s 237(2). As to power to extinguish highways see ss 249-256 (as amended); and HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 791 et seq.

9 Ibid s 237(1). Section 237(1) is subject to s 237(3) (as amended): s 237(1). Nothing in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 237 (as amended) is to be construed as authorising any act or omission (1) on the part of a local authority or body corporate in contravention of any limitation imposed by law on its capacity by virtue of its constitution (s 246(2)); or (2) on the part of any person which is actionable at the suit of any person on any ground other than such interference or breach as is mentioned in s 237(1) (s 237(7)). It has been held that s 237 (as amended) does not authorise use in contravention of restrictive covenants: Thames Water Utilities Ltd v Oxford City Council [1999] 1 EGLR 167, [1998] 31 LS Gaz R 37. However, whilst it is clear that 'use' is not referred to in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 237 (as amended), it seems somewhat questionable to permit building under s 237(1) but not the use of that which is built.

UPDATE

954 Power to override easements and other rights

TEXT AND NOTES--Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 237 further amended: Planning Act 2008 Sch 9 para 4.

RELATION TO ACQUIRED OR APPROPRIATED LAND/(ii) Interference with and Extinguishment of Rights/A. IN GENERAL/955. Extinguishment of rights over land compulsory acquired.

955. Extinguishment of rights over land compulsory acquired.

Upon the completion of a compulsory acquisition¹ of land²:

- 3681 (1) all private rights of way and rights of laying down, erecting, continuing or maintaining any apparatus on, under or over the land are extinguished³; and
- 3682 (2) any such apparatus vests in the acquiring authority⁴.

The above provisions do not, however, apply to:

- 3683 (a) any right vested in, or apparatus belonging to, statutory undertakers⁵ for the purpose of the carrying on of their undertaking;
- 3684 (b) any right conferred by or in accordance with the electronic communications code on the operator of an electronic communications code network; or
- 3685 (c) any electronic communications apparatus kept installed for the purposes of any such network⁶.

In respect of any right or apparatus not falling within heads (a) to (c) above, these provisions have effect subject to:

- 3686 (i) any direction given by the acquiring authority before the completion of the acquisition that they are not to apply to any right or apparatus specified in the direction; and
- 3687 (ii) any agreement which may be made, whether before or after the completion of the acquisition, between the acquiring authority and the person in or to whom the right or apparatus in question is vested or belongs⁷.

Any person who suffers loss by the extinguishment of a right or the vesting of any apparatus under these provisions is entitled to compensation from the acquiring authority⁸.

1 le under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 226 (as amended) (see PARAS 934-935 ante), s 228 (as amended) (see PARA 939 ante) or s 230 (see PARA 938 ante). For the meaning of 'compulsory acquisition' see PARA 930 note 4 ante.

Use and development of consecrated land etc.

B. CONSECRATED LAND AND BURIAL GROUNDS

956. Use and development of consecrated land etc.

Any consecrated land¹ which has been the subject of a relevant acquisition or appropriation² may, notwithstanding any obligation or restriction imposed under ecclesiastical law or otherwise in respect of such land, be used:

- 3688 (1) if it has been acquired by a minister³ or by the National Assembly for Wales⁴, in any manner by him or it or on his or its behalf for any purpose for which he or it acquired the land; and
- 3689 (2) in any other case, by any person in any manner in accordance with planning permission⁵.

Any use of consecrated land so authorised is subject to:

- 3690 (a) compliance with the prescribed requirements⁶ with respect to the removal and reinterment of any human remains and to the disposal⁷ of monuments⁸ and fixtures and furnishings⁹; and
- 3691 (b) to such provisions as may be prescribed for prohibiting or restricting the use¹⁰ of the land, either absolutely or until the prescribed consent has been obtained, so long as any church or other building used or formerly used for religious worship, or any part of it, remains on the land¹¹.

Any use of land other than consecrated land which:

- 3692 (i) has been the subject of a relevant acquisition or appropriation; and
- 3693 (ii) at the time of acquisition or appropriation included a church or other building used or formerly used for religious worship or the site of such a church or building, is subject to compliance with such requirements as are mentioned in head (a) above¹².

1 The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 238(1) (see the text and notes 2-5 infra) applies whether or not the land includes a building but does not apply to land which consists of or forms part of a burial ground: s 238(2). For these purposes, 'burial ground' includes any churchyard, cemetery or other ground, whether consecrated or not, which has at any time been set apart for the purposes of interment: s 240(3). As to the consecration of land, and the effect of consecration, see ECCLESIASTICAL LAW; and as to the use and development of burial grounds see PARA 957 post; and CREMATION AND BURIAL vol 10 (Reissue) PARAS 1170-1172. For the meanings of 'land' and 'building' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'relevant acquisition or appropriation' means an acquisition made by a minister, the National Assembly for Wales, a local authority or statutory undertakers under ibid Pt IX (ss 226-246) (as amended) (see PARA 934 et seq ante, PARA 957 et seq post) or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Pt I Ch V (ss 47-59) (as amended) (see PARA 1154 et seq post) or compulsorily under any other enactment, or an appropriation by a local authority for planning purposes: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 240(3). As to the transfer of functions under ss 238, 240, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. See also note 3 infra. For the meaning of 'minister' see PARA 3 note 5 ante; for the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 3 note 3 ante; for the meaning of 'statutory undertakers' see PARA 1009 post; for the meaning of 'enactment' see PARA 2 note 11 ante; and for the meaning of 'appropriation of land for planning purposes' see PARA 945 note 3 ante. As to the application of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 238 to consecrated land held by an NHS Trust or a health service body see HEALTH SERVICES vol 54 (2008) PARA 168.

3 Functions of Ministers of the Crown, other than the Secretary of State for Wales, under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 238(1)(a), are not transferred to the National Assembly for Wales: see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended).

4 See notes 2-3 supra.

5 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 238(1); and see note 3 supra. Any power so conferred to use land in such a manner is to be construed as a power so to use the land, whether or not it involves the erection, construction or carrying out of any building or work or the maintenance of any building or work: s 246(3). As to the application of s 238 to joint planning boards see PARA 942 ante; as to its application to National Park authorities see PARA 934 note 17 ante; as to joint planning boards see PARA 30 ante; and as to National Park authorities see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 526 et seq. For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante; for the meaning of 'erection' see PARA 2 note 10 ante; and for the meaning of 'buildings or works' see PARA 43 note 9 ante.

Nothing in s 238 is to be construed as authorising any act or omission (1) on the part of a local authority or body corporate in contravention of any limitation imposed by law on its capacity by virtue of its constitution (s 246(2)); or (2) on the part of any person which is actionable at the suit of any person on any grounds other than contravention of any such obligation, restriction or enactment as is mentioned in s 238(1) (s 238(6)).

6 As to the power to prescribe requirements see PARA 958 post. For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 16 note 5 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'disposal' see PARA 38 note 6 ante.

8 For these purposes, 'monument' includes a tombstone or other memorial: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 240(3).

9 Subject to the provisions of any regulations made for these purposes, no faculty is required for the removal and reinterment in accordance with the regulations of any human remains, or for the removal or disposal of any monuments: ibid s 240(2). As to the faculty jurisdiction of the Church of England see generally ECCLESIASTICAL LAW.

Subject, however, to the provisions of any such regulations, no faculty¹⁰ is required for the removal and reinterment in accordance with the regulations of any human remains or for the removal or disposal of any monuments¹¹.

Any regulations made for the purposes of the statutory provisions relating to the use and development of consecrated land etc¹²:

- 3698 (i) must contain such provisions as appear to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to be requisite for securing that any use¹³ of land which is subject to compliance with the regulations is, as nearly as may be, subject to the same control as is imposed by law in the case of a similar use authorised by an enactment¹⁴ or by a Measure, or as it would be proper to impose on a disposal of the land in question otherwise than in pursuance of an enactment or Measure;
- 3699 (ii) must contain such requirements relating to the disposal of any consecrated land or other relevant land¹⁵ as appear to the Secretary of State or the Assembly requisite for securing that the relevant statutory provisions¹⁶ are complied with in relation to the use of the land; and
- 3700 (iii) may contain such incidental and consequential provisions, including provision as to the closing of registers, as appear to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to be expedient for the purposes of the regulations¹⁷.

959. Restrictions on use when church remains on land.

So long as any church or other building used or formerly used for religious worship, or any part thereof, remains on consecrated land, the land may not be used by the acquiring or appropriating authority¹ without the consent of the bishop² having been obtained³.

The use of any land⁴ by that authority so long as any such building or part thereof so remains:

- 3701 (1) in the case of consecrated land, is subject to the like control as is imposed by law in the case of a similar use authorised by an enactment⁵ or by a Measure⁶;
- 3702 (2) in the case of any other land, must be for such religious, charitable⁷, educational, municipal or other purposes as are not inconsistent with the last use of the land by the religious denomination at or before the date of acquisition or appropriation⁸.

In the case of land other than consecrated land, however, on presentation by the acquiring or appropriating authority of a certificate from the appropriate denominational authority⁹ that no objection is raised by that authority to any particular use of the land, the Secretary of State¹⁰ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹¹ may authorise such use¹².

1 For these purposes, 'acquiring or appropriating authority' includes any person deriving title from or under that authority: Town and Country Planning (Churches, Places of Religious Worship and Burial Grounds) Regulations 1950, SI 1950/792, reg 2(1).

2 'The bishop' means the bishop of the diocese in which the land is situated: ibid reg 2(1).

3 Ibid reg 3(1).

4 For these purposes, unless the context otherwise requires, 'land' means any land which has been, or is deemed by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1971 Sch 24 para 48 (repealed), to have been, acquired by a purchasing authority under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt IX (ss 226-246) (as amended) (see PARA 934 et seq ante) or has been appropriated by a local authority as mentioned in ss 232(1), 246(1)(b) (see PARA 945 ante) and which at the time of acquisition or appropriation was consecrated land, or included any church or other building used or formerly used for religious worship, or the site thereof, or consisted of a burial ground or part of a burial ground: Town and Country Planning (Churches, Places of Religious Worship and Burial Grounds) Regulations 1950, SI 1950/792, reg 2(1); Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 ss 2(4), 5(1), Sch 3 para 3.

5 Ie an enactment other than the Town and Country Planning Act 1990.

6 Town and Country Planning (Churches, Places of Religious Worship and Burial Grounds) Regulations 1950, SI 1950/792, reg 3(2); Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 2(4). As to such control see ECCLESIASTICAL LAW.

8 Town and Country Planning (Churches, Places of Religious Worship and Burial Grounds) Regulations 1950, SI 1950/792, reg 3(2).

9 For these purposes, unless the context otherwise requires, 'the appropriate denominational authority' means such person or persons as are designated for the purpose by the controlling body of the religious denomination for whose purposes the land has been or is being used: ibid reg 2(1).

10 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

11 As to the transfer of town and country planning functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

960. Fixtures and furnishings of churches etc.

The fixtures and furnishings of any church or other building used for religious worship situated on the land¹ are to be at the disposal of the appropriate denominational authority² as that authority may think fit³. Where any such fixtures and furnishings are not disposed of by that authority within three months of the date of acquisition or appropriation, the acquiring or appropriating authority⁴ must, before disposal, cause to be defaced such ornamentation, symbols and inscriptions as the appropriate denominational authority may require⁵.

1 For the meaning of 'land' for these purposes see PARA 959 note 4 ante.

2 In the case of consecrated land, 'the appropriate denominational authority' means the bishop: Town and Country Planning (Churches, Places of Religious Worship and Burial Grounds) Regulations 1950, SI 1950/792, reg 2(1). 961. Closure of registers.

When a church or other building used for religious worship has ceased to be used as such by reason of the land¹ forming its site having been acquired or appropriated², the appropriate denominational authority³ must⁴ forward or cause to be forwarded the current marriage registers kept for the building to the Registrar General in order that they may be formally closed and one of them retained by him or transmitted to the appropriate denominational authority for retention, and the other forwarded to the superintendent registrar of the registration district concerned⁵. All other birth, baptismal, marriage, burial or death registers, if not removed from the building by that authority for retention by that authority within three months of the date of acquisition or appropriation, must be forwarded by the acquiring or appropriating authority⁶ to the Registrar General⁷.

964. Abolition of the Land Authority for Wales.

There was formerly a body known as the Land Authority for Wales, established in 1975¹ and continued in existence by the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980². That body's functions were to acquire land in Wales which in its opinion needed to be made available for development and to dispose of it to other persons for development by them at a time which was in the Land Authority's opinion appropriate to meet the need³.

As from 1 October 1998 functions of the Land Authority for Wales ceased to exist⁴ and there were transferred to and vested in the Welsh Development Agency⁵ all property, rights and liabilities to which the Land Authority for Wales was entitled or subject on that date⁶. Transitional provisions were made with regard to such transfer⁷ and for the winding down of the Land Authority's activities⁸.

The Land Authority for Wales was abolished by order of the Secretary of State for Wales with effect from 28 February 1999⁹.

11. RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS

(1) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING DECISIONS OR ORDERS

(i) Service of Purchase Notices; in general

966. Circumstances in which purchase notices may be served; in general.

The following provisions apply where:

- 3710 (1) on an application for planning permission¹ to develop² any land³, permission is refused or is granted subject to conditions⁴; or
- 3711 (2) planning permission in respect of any land is revoked by an order⁵, or is modified by the imposition of conditions; or
- 3712 (3) an order is made⁶ requiring discontinuance of use or the alteration or removal of buildings or works⁷ in respect of any land⁸.

If in the case mentioned:

- 3713 (a) in heads (1) and (2) above, any owner⁹ of the land claims that the statutory conditions¹⁰ are satisfied with respect to it; or
- 3714 (b) in head (3) above, any person entitled to an interest in land in respect of which the order is made claims that the statutory conditions¹¹ are satisfied with respect to it, he may, within the prescribed time¹² and in the prescribed manner¹³, serve on the council of the district¹⁴, Welsh county, county borough or London borough¹⁵ in which the land is situated a notice ('a purchase notice') requiring that council to purchase¹⁶ his interest in the land¹⁷. A purchase notice may also be so served on any National Park authority¹⁸ which is the local planning authority¹⁹ for the area in which the land is situated²⁰.

The conditions mentioned in head (a) above are:

- 3715 (i) that the land has become incapable of reasonably beneficial use²¹ in its existing state²²; and
- 3716 (ii) in a case where planning permission was granted subject to conditions or was modified by the imposition of conditions, that the land cannot be rendered capable of reasonably beneficial use by the carrying out of the permitted development in accordance with those conditions; and
- 3717 (iii) in any case, that the land cannot be rendered capable of reasonably beneficial use by the carrying out of any other development for which planning permission has been granted or for which the local planning authority or the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales²³ has undertaken to grant planning permission²⁴.

The conditions mentioned in head (b) above are:

- 3718 (A) that by reason of the order the land is incapable of reasonably beneficial use in its existing state; and
- 3719 (B) that it cannot be rendered capable of reasonably beneficial use by the carrying out of any development for which planning permission has been granted, whether by that order or otherwise²⁵.

1 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'develop' see PARA 217 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

4 For the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 137(1)(a) and any claim arising in the circumstances therein mentioned, the conditions referred to in s 91 (as amended) (see PARA 537 ante) and s 92 (as amended) (see PARA 519 ante) must be disregarded: s 137(5). A person on whom a repairs notice has been served under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 48 (see PARA 1156 post) is not entitled to serve a purchase notice in the circumstances mentioned in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 137(1)(a) in respect of the building in question (1) until the expiration of three months beginning with the date of the service of the repairs notice; and (2) if during that period the compulsory acquisition of the building is begun in the exercise of powers under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 47 (as amended) (see PARAS 1154, 1157 post), unless and until the compulsory acquisition is discontinued: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 137(6). For these purposes, a compulsory acquisition (a) is started when the notice required by the Acquisition of Land Act 1981 s 12 (as amended) or, as the case may be, s 2(3), Sch 1 para 3 (as amended) (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND VOL 18 (2009) PARAS 560, 573) is served; and (b) is discontinued (i) in the case of acquisition by the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales, when he or the Assembly decides not to make the compulsory purchase order; and (ii) in any other case, when the order is withdrawn or the Secretary of State or the Assembly decides not to confirm it: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 137(7). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante; as to the transfer of functions under s 137 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20

6 le under ibid s 102 (as amended) (see PARAS 546-549 ante) or s 102(8), Sch 9 para 1 (as amended) (see PARA 757 ante).

7 For the meanings of 'buildings or works' and of references to their removal see PARA 43 note 9 ante.

8 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 137(1).

9 In the case of a purchase notice served by such a person as is mentioned in ibid s 137(2)(b), references in Pt VI Ch I (ss 137-148) (as amended) to the owner of land include references to that person unless the context otherwise requires: s 148(2). For the meaning of 'owner' generally see PARA 17 note 1 ante. The claimant must own the whole of the land: see Smart & Courtenay Dale Ltd v Dover Rural District Council (1972) 23 P & CR 408, Lands Tribunal. As to whether companies in a group may be regarded as a single owner for these purposes see Rakusen Properties Ltd, Rakusen Group Ltd, Lloyd Rakusen & Sons Ltd v Leeds City Council (1978) 37 P & CR 315, Lands Tribunal. The purchase notice must relate to the whole of the land which has been refused planning permission or which has been granted conditional planning permission: Cook v Winchester City Council [1995] 1 EGLR 179, [1995] 07 EG 129, Lands Tribunal.

10 le the conditions mentioned in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 137(3): see heads (i)-(iii) in the text.

11 le the conditions mentioned in ibid s 137(4): see heads (A)-(B) in the text.

12 The prescribed time within which any such notice must be served is 12 months from the date of the decision in respect of which the notice is given, or such longer period as the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales may at any time in any particular case allow: Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 12(2). For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 16 note 5 ante.

13 A purchase notice must be in writing and must be served on the council of a district or London borough (or county or county borough in Wales) or on a National Park authority by delivering it at the offices of the council or the authority, or by sending it by prepaid post: Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 12(1) (amended by SI 1996/525; modified by SI 1996/1243; SI 2005/421).

14 As to district councils see PARA 28 note 2 ante.

15 For the meaning of 'London borough' see PARA 28 note 7 ante.

16 le in accordance with the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt VI Ch I (ss 137-148) (as amended): see the text and notes 17-26 infra; and PARA 968 et seq post.

17 Ibid s 137(2) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 20(4)(b), Sch 6 Pt II para 24(3)). Where land which is the subject of a planning decision or order comprises parcels of land in different ownerships, the owners of those parcels may combine to serve a purchase notice relating to their separate interests, provided that the notice, as served, relates to the whole of the land covered by the planning decision or order: see eg Cook v Winchester City Council [1995] 1 EGLR 179, [1995] 07 EG 129, Lands Tribunal, cited in note 9 supra.

18 As to National Park authorities see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 526 et seq.

19 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

20 The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt VI Ch I (as amended) has effect as if (1) the bodies on which a purchase notice may be served under s 137 (as amended) included any National Park authority which is the local planning authority for the area in which the land is situated; and (2) a National Park authority were a local authority for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 and the National Park for which it is the local planning authority were its area; and the references Pt VI Ch I (as amended) and in s 288(10)(a) (see PARA 47 note 8 ante) to a council and to a local authority are to be construed accordingly: s 147A (added by the Environment Act 1990 s 67(5)).

21 As to determining whether land is capable of reasonably beneficial use see the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 138 (as amended); and PARA 968 post. See also Gavaghan v Secretary of State for the Environment and South Hams District Council [1989] JPL 596; affd on different grounds [1990] JPL 273, CA. All the land must be incapable of reasonably beneficial use: Wain v Secretary of State for the Environment (1982) 80 LGR 438, [1982] JPL 244, CA. No purchase notice may be served in respect of an interest in land while the land is incapable of reasonably beneficial use by reason only of such an order as is mentioned in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 137(1)(c) (see head (3) in the text) except by virtue of a claim under s 137(2)(b) (see head (b) in the text): s 137(8). The word 'incapable' indicates that the decision-maker has to consider not only the existing state of the land but also its prospective state: Hudscott Estates (East) Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions (2000) 82 P & CR 8, [2000] All ER (D) 1395.

22 If land has been affected by development carried out without planning permission and a valid enforcement notice can be or has been served requiring the land to be restored to its condition before that development, its existing state is taken to be its restored condition; but, where enforcement proceedings may no longer be brought, the existing state of the land is its state as it exists in fact: Balco Transport Services Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [1985] 3 All ER 689, [1986] 1 WLR 88, CA.

969. Purchase notices in relation to Crown land.

At the date at which this title states the law, and notwithstanding any interest of the Crown in Crown land¹, any restrictions or powers imposed or conferred by the statutory provisions relating to purchase notices² apply and are exercisable in relation to Crown land to the extent of any interest in it for the time being held otherwise than by or on behalf of the Crown³. No purchase notice⁴ may, however, be served in relation to any interest in Crown land unless an offer has been previously made by the owner⁵ of that interest to dispose⁶ of it to the appropriate authority⁷ on equivalent terms⁸ and that offer has been refused by the appropriate authority⁹.

As from a day to be appointed¹⁰, however, the provisions set out above are repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004¹¹. As from such a day, the following provisions have effect. A purchase notice may be served in respect of Crown land¹² only as mentioned below¹³:

- 3723 (1) the owner of a private interest¹⁴ in Crown land must not serve a purchase notice unless he first offers to dispose of his interest to the appropriate authority¹⁵ on equivalent terms¹⁶ and the offer is refused by the appropriate authority¹⁷;
- 3724 (2) the appropriate authority may serve a purchase notice in relation to the following land:
- 265
22. (a) land belonging to Her Majesty in right of Her private estates¹⁸;
23. (b) land belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Duchy of Lancaster;
24. (c) land belonging to the Duchy of Cornwall;

UPDATE

969 Purchase notices in relation to Crown land

TEXT AND NOTES 10, 11--Day now appointed and repeals in force: SI 2006/1281.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/11. RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS/(1) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING DECISIONS OR ORDERS/(iii) Duties of Authorities on Service of Purchase Notices/970. Action by council or National Park authority on which purchase notice is served.

(iii) Duties of Authorities on Service of Purchase Notices

970. Action by council or National Park authority on which purchase notice is served.

The council or National Park authority¹ on which a purchase notice is served² must serve on the owner³ by whom the purchase order was served a notice (a 'response notice') stating either:

- 3725 (1) that the council or authority is willing to comply with the purchase notice;
- 3726 (2) that another local authority⁴ or statutory undertakers⁵ specified in the response notice has or have agreed to comply with it in the council's or authority's place; or

A response notice must be served before the end of the period of three months beginning with the date of service of the purchase notice⁹.

Where the council or authority on which a purchase notice is served by an owner has served a response notice on him in accordance with heads (1) or (2) above, it or, as the case may be, the other local authority or statutory undertakers specified in the response notice is or are deemed:

- 3728 (a) to be authorised to acquire the interest of the owner compulsorily in accordance with the relevant provisions¹⁰; and
- 3729 (b) to have served a notice to treat in respect of it on the date of service of the response notice¹¹.

Where the council proposes to serve such a response notice as is mentioned in head (3) above, the council or authority must first send the Secretary of State or the Assembly a copy of the proposed response notice and of the purchase notice¹².

1 As to National Park authorities see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 526 et seq.

2 For the meaning of 'purchase notice', and as to councils on which such a notice may be served, see PARA 966 ante. As to service on a National Park authority see the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 147A (as added), cited in PARA 966 note 20 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'owner' for these purposes see PARA 966 note 9 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 3 note 3 ante; and as to the treatment of a National Park authority as a local authority for these purposes see PARA 966 note 20 ante.

5 For these purposes, 'statutory undertakers' includes electronic communications code operators and former PTOs (ie former public telecommunications operators): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 148(1) (definition amended by the Communications Act 2003 s 406(1), Sch 17 para 20). For the meaning of 'statutory undertakers' generally see PARA 1009 post.

6 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

7 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 139, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

8 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 139(1) (s 139 modified in relation to National Park authorities, by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 147A (as added)). If the Secretary of State or the Assembly so provides by order, in relation to an urban development corporation specified in the order and to land in that corporation's area, s 139 (as so modified) has effect as if after the word 'undertakers' there were inserted: (1) in s 139(1)(b) (see head (2) in the text) the words 'or an urban development corporation'; (2) in s 139(1)(c) (see head (3) in the text) the words 'or any urban development corporation'; and (3) in s 139(3) (see the text and notes 7-8 infra) the words 'or urban development corporation': Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 149(3)(b), Sch 29 Pt II para 1 (respectively amended and substituted by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 4, Sch 2 paras 44(6)(c), 44(13)). As to urban development corporations see PARA 1426 et seq post; and as to urban development corporations as planning authorities, and the orders which have been made in relation to them, see PARA 1464 post. As to the transfer of functions under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 29 Pt II (as substituted), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended).

9 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 139(2). As to the service of notices see PARA 54 ante.

10 For these purposes, 'the relevant provisions' means: (1) the provisions of ibid Pt IX (ss 226-246) (as amended) (see PARA 934 et seq ante); or (2) in the case of statutory undertakers, any statutory provision, however expressed, under which they have power, or may be authorised, to purchase land compulsorily for the purposes of their undertaking: s 148(1).

If the Secretary of State or the Assembly so provides by order, in relation to an urban development corporation specified in the order and to land in that corporation's area, the definition of 'relevant provisions' in s 148 has effect as if after the word 'undertaking' there were added the words 'or, in the case of an urban development corporation, section 142 of the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980': Sch 29 Pt II para 5 (substituted by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 Sch 2 para 44(13)). See also note 8 supra.

11 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 139(3) (as modified: see note 8 supra). A notice to treat which is deemed to have been served by virtue of s 139(3)(b) (see head (b) in the text) may not be withdrawn under the Land Compensation Act 1961 s 31 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 636: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 139(5). As to service of notice to treat see PARA 933 note 5 ante.

12 Ibid s 139(4) (as modified: see note 8 supra). As to the procedure on such a reference see PARA 971 post.

AFFECTED BY PLANNING DECISIONS OR ORDERS/(iii) Duties of Authorities on Service of Purchase Notices/971. Procedure on reference of purchase notice to the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

971. Procedure on reference of purchase notice to the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

Where a copy of a purchase notice¹ is sent² to the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁴, he or the Assembly must consider whether to confirm the notice or to take other action⁵ in respect of it⁶.

Before confirming a purchase notice or taking such other action, the Secretary of State must give notice of his proposed action:

- 3730 (1) to the person who served the purchase notice;
- 3731 (2) to the council or National Park authority⁷ on which it was served;
- 3732 (3) in England outside Greater London⁸:
- 267
- 26. (a) to the county planning authority⁹ and also, where that authority is a joint planning board¹⁰, to the county council¹¹; and
- 27. (b) if the district council¹² on which the purchase notice in question was served is a constituent member of a joint planning board, to that board; and
- 268
- 3733 (4) if the Secretary of State proposes to substitute any other local authority¹³ or statutory undertakers¹⁴ for the council or authority on which the notice was served, to them¹⁵;

and the Assembly must give notice of its proposed action to the persons and bodies mentioned in heads (1), (2) and (4) above and to the local planning authority¹⁶ in Wales where it is a joint planning board¹⁷.

Such a notice must specify the period, which must be not less than 28 days from its service, within which any of the persons on whom it is served may require the Secretary of State or the Assembly to give those persons an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose¹⁸; and, if within that period any of those persons so require, before the Secretary of State or the Assembly confirms the purchase notice or takes any other action¹⁹ in respect of it, he or the Assembly must give those persons such an opportunity²⁰.

If, after any of those persons have appeared before, and been heard by, the appointed person, it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to be expedient to take action²¹ otherwise than in accordance with the notice given by him or by it, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may take that action accordingly²².

RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS/(1) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING DECISIONS OR ORDERS/(iii) Duties of Authorities on Service of Purchase Notices/972. Action by the Secretary of State or the Assembly in relation to purchase notice.

972. Action by the Secretary of State or the Assembly in relation to purchase notice.

If the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² is satisfied that the specified conditions³ are satisfied in relation to a purchase notice⁴, he or it must⁵ confirm the notice⁶.

If, however, it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to be expedient to do so, he or it may, instead of confirming the purchase notice:

- 3734 (1) in the case of a notice served on account of the refusal of planning permission⁷, grant planning permission for the development⁸ in question⁹;
- 3735 (2) in the case of a notice served on account of planning permission for development being granted subject to conditions, revoke or amend those conditions so far as appears to him or to the Assembly to be required in order to enable the land¹⁰ to be rendered capable of reasonably beneficial use¹¹ by the carrying out of that development;
- 3736 (3) in the case of a notice served on account of the revocation of planning permission by an order¹², cancel the order;
- 3737 (4) in the case of a notice served on account of the modification of planning permission by such an order by the imposition of conditions, revoke or amend those conditions so far as appears to him or to the Assembly to be required in order to enable the land to be rendered capable of reasonably beneficial use by the carrying out of the development in respect of which the permission was granted; or
- 3738 (5) in the case of a notice served on account of the making of an order for the discontinuance of a use or the alteration or removal of apparatus¹³, revoke the order or, as the case may be, amend the order so far as appears to him or to the Assembly to be required in order to prevent the land from being rendered incapable of reasonably beneficial use¹⁴ by the order¹⁵.

If it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 3739 (a) that the land, or any part of the land, could be rendered capable of reasonably beneficial use within a reasonable time by the carrying out of any other development for which planning permission ought to be granted, he or the Assembly may, instead of confirming the purchase notice or, as the case may be, of confirming it so far as it relates to that part of the land, direct that, if an application for planning permission for that development is made, it must be granted¹⁶;
- 3740 (b) having regard to the probable ultimate use of the land, that it is expedient to do so, he or the Assembly may, if he or it confirms the notice, modify it, either in relation to the whole or any part of the land, by substituting another local authority¹⁷ or statutory undertakers¹⁸ for the council or National Park authority¹⁹ on which the notice was served²⁰.

If the Secretary of State or the Assembly so provides by order, in relation to an urban development corporation specified in the order and to land in that corporation's area, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 141(4) has effect as if after the word 'undertakers' there were inserted the words 'or an urban development corporation': Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 149(3)(b), Sch 29 Pt II para 3 (respectively amended and substituted by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 4, Sch 2 paras 44(6)(c), 44(13)). RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS/(1) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING DECISIONS OR ORDERS/(iii) Duties of Authorities on Service of Purchase Notices/973. Power to refuse confirmation where land has restricted use.

973. Power to refuse confirmation where land has restricted use.

Where a purchase notice¹ is served in respect of land² which consists in whole or in part of land which has a restricted use by virtue of an existing planning permission³ and a copy of the purchase notice is sent⁴ to the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁶, he or the Assembly need not confirm the notice⁷ if it appears to him or to it that the land having a restricted use by virtue of an existing planning permission ought, in accordance with that permission, to remain undeveloped or, as the case may be, remain or be preserved or laid out as amenity land in relation to the remainder of the large area for which that planning permission was granted⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'purchase notice' see PARA 966 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

3 For these purposes, land is to be treated as having a restricted use by virtue of an existing planning permission if it is part of a larger area in respect of which planning permission has previously been granted, and has not been revoked, and either (1) it remains a condition of the planning permission, however expressed, that that part shall remain undeveloped or be preserved or laid out in a particular way as amenity land in relation to the remainder; or (2) the planning permission was granted on an application which contemplated, expressly or by necessary implication, that the part should not be comprised in the development for which planning permission was sought, or should be preserved or laid out as mentioned in head (1) supra: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 142(2). RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS/(1) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING DECISIONS OR ORDERS/(iii) Duties of Authorities on Service of Purchase Notices/974. Effect of Secretary of State's or Assembly's action in relation to purchase notice.

974. Effect of Secretary of State's or Assembly's action in relation to purchase notice.

Where the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² confirms a purchase notice³:

3741 (1) the council or National Park authority⁴ on which the purchase notice was served⁵; or

3742 (2) if the Secretary of State or the Assembly modified⁶ the purchase notice by substituting another local authority⁷ or statutory undertakers⁸ for that council or authority, that other authority or those undertakers, is or are deemed to be authorised to acquire the interest of the owner⁹ compulsorily in accordance with the relevant provisions¹⁰ and to have served a notice to treat in respect of it on such date as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may direct¹¹.

If, before the end of the relevant period¹², the Secretary of State or the Assembly has neither:

3743 (a) confirmed the purchase notice; nor

3744 (b) taken any specified action¹³ in respect of it; nor

3745 (c) notified the owner by whom the notice was served that he or the Assembly does not propose to confirm the notice, the notice is deemed to be confirmed at the end of that period, and the council or authority on which the notice was served is deemed to be authorised to acquire the interest of the owner compulsorily¹⁴ and to have served a notice to treat in respect of the owner's interest at the end of that period¹⁵.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly has notified the owner by whom a purchase notice has been served of a decision on his or its part to confirm, or not to confirm, the notice¹⁶ and that decision is quashed¹⁷, the purchase notice is treated as cancelled, but the owner may serve a further purchase notice in its place¹⁸.

11 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 143(1) (modified in relation to National Park authorities by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 147A (as added)). A notice to treat which is deemed to have been served by virtue of s 143(1) or (2) (as so modified) may not be withdrawn under the Land Compensation Act 1961 s 31 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 636: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 143(8)). As to service of notice to treat see PARA 933 note 5 ante.

If the Secretary of State or the Assembly so provides by order, in relation to an urban development corporation specified in the order and to land in that corporation's area, s 143(1)(b) (see head (2) in the text) has effect as if (1) after the word 'undertakers', in the first place where it occurs, there were inserted the words 'or an urban development corporation'; and (2) after that word, in the second place where it occurs, there were inserted the words 'or that corporation': Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 149(3)(b), Sch 29 Pt II para 4 (respectively amended and substituted by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 4, Sch 2 paras 44(6)(c), 44(13)). As to urban development corporations see PARA 1426 et seq post; and as to urban development corporations as planning authorities, and the orders which have been made in relation to them, see PARA 1464 post. As to the transfer of functions under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 29 Pt II (as substituted), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended).

12 For these purposes, the relevant period is (1) the period of nine months beginning with the date of service of the purchase notice; or (2) if it ends earlier, the period of six months beginning with the date on which a copy of the purchase notice was sent to the Secretary of State or the Assembly: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 143(3). The relevant period does not run, however, if the Secretary of State or the Assembly has before him or it at the same time both (a) a copy of the purchase notice sent to him or to it under s 139(4) (see PARA 970 ante); and (b) a notice of appeal under s 78 (as amended) (see PARA 598 ante), s 174 (as amended) (see PARA 603 ante) or s 195 (as amended) (see PARA 613 ante) or under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 20 (as amended) (see PARA 1186 post) or s 39 (as amended) (see PARAS 1191, 1193 post) (appeals against refusal of listed buildings consent etc and appeals against listed building enforcement notices) or under the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 s 21 (as amended) (see PARAS 1287, 1289 post) (appeals against decisions and failure to take decisions relating to hazardous substances) relating to any of the land to which the purchase notice relates: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 143(4).

13 Ie any such action as is mentioned in ibid s 141(2) or (3): see PARA 972 ante.

14 le as mentioned in ibid s 143(1): see the text and notes 1-11 supra.

15 Ibid s 143(2).

16 For these purposes, the reference to a decision to confirm, or not to confirm, the purchase notice includes (1) any decision not to confirm the notice in respect of any part of the land to which it relates; and (2) any decision to grant any permission, or give any direction, instead of confirming the notice, either wholly or in part: ibid s 143(6).

17 le under ibid Pt XII (ss 284-292) (as amended): see PARAS 43 et seq, 648 ante.

18 Ibid s 143(5). For the purposes of determining whether a further purchase notice under s 143(5) was served within the period prescribed for the service of a purchase notice (see PARA 966 note 12 ante), the planning decision in consequence of which the notice was served is to be treated as having been made on the date on which the decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly was quashed: s 143(7). For the meaning of 'planning decision' see PARA 916 note 6 ante.

RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS/(1) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING DECISIONS OR ORDERS/ (iv) Special Provisions relating to Agricultural Units/975. Counter-notice requiring purchase of remainder of agricultural unit.

(iv) Special Provisions relating to Agricultural Units

975. Counter-notice requiring purchase of remainder of agricultural unit.

Where:

3746 (1) an acquiring authority¹ is deemed² to have served notice to treat in respect of any agricultural land³ on a person ('the claimant') who has a greater interest in the land than as tenant for a year or from year to year, whether or not he is in occupation of the land; and

3747 (2) the claimant has such an interest in other agricultural land ('the unaffected area') comprised in the same agricultural unit⁴ as that to which the notice relates, the claimant may serve on the acquiring authority a counter-notice:

3748 (a) claiming that the unaffected area is not reasonably capable of being farmed, either by itself or in conjunction with other relevant land⁵, as a separate agricultural unit; and 3749 (b) requiring the acquiring authority to purchase his interest in the whole of the unaffected area⁶.

Where a counter-notice is so served the claimant must also serve a copy of it on any other person who has an interest in the unaffected area; but failure to comply with this requirement does not invalidate the counter-notice⁷. A counter-notice and any copy of that notice so required to be served must be served within the period of two months beginning with the date on which the notice to treat is deemed to have been served⁸.

1 For these purposes, 'acquiring authority' has the same meaning as in the Land Compensation Act 1961 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 622): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 147(2). Section 145 (see the text and notes 2-8 infra) applies in relation to the acquisition of interests in land by government departments which possess compulsory purchase powers as it applies in relation to the acquisition of interests in land by authorities which are not government departments: s 147(1). 'Government departments which possess compulsory purchase powers' means government departments being authorities possessing compulsory purchase powers within the meaning of the Land Compensation Act 1961 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 763): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 147(2). For the meaning of 'government department' generally see PARA 3 note 5 ante.

2 le under ibid Pt VI Ch I (ss 137-148) (as amended): see PARA 966 et seq ante.

3 For these purposes, 'agricultural' and 'agricultural land' have the meaning given in the Agriculture Act 1947 s 109 (as amended); and references to the farming of land include references to the carrying on in relation to the land of any agricultural activities: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 147(2).

4 For these purposes, 'agricultural unit' has the meaning given in ibid s 171(1) (see PARA 987 note 9 post): s 147(2).

5 For these purposes, 'other relevant land' means land which is comprised (1) in the same agricultural unit as the land to which the notice to treat relates and in which the claimant does not have such an interest as is mentioned in ibid s 145(1) (see head (1) in the text); and (2) in any other agricultural unit occupied by the claimant on the date on which the notice to treat is deemed to have been served and in respect of which he is then entitled to a greater interest than as tenant for a year or from year to year: s 145(3). Where, however, a notice to treat has been served or is deemed under Pt VI Ch I (ss 137-148) (as amended) or under the Compulsory Purchase (Vesting Declarations) Act 1981 Pt III (ss 7-9) (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARAS 689, 693-694) to have been served in respect of any of the unaffected area or in respect of other relevant land as defined in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 145(3), then, unless and until the notice to treat is withdrawn, s 145 and s 146 (see PARA 976 post) have effect as if that land did not form part of the unaffected land or, as the case may be, did not constitute other relevant land: s 145(4). For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante. As to service of notice to treat see PARA 933 note 5 ante.

6 Ibid s 145(1), (2).

7 Ibid s 145(5).

8 Ibid s 145(6). Section 145 is without prejudice to the rights conferred by the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act 1845 ss 93, 94 or the Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 s 8(2), (3) (provisions as to divided land: see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 630): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 145(7).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/11. RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS/(1) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING DECISIONS OR ORDERS/ (iv) Special Provisions relating to Agricultural Units/976. Effect of counter-notice.

976. Effect of counter-notice.

If the acquiring authority¹ does not within the period of two months beginning with the date of service of a counter-notice² agree in writing to accept the counter-notice as valid, the claimant or the authority may, within two months after the end of that period, refer it to the Lands Tribunal³. On such a reference the tribunal must determine whether the claim in the counter-notice is justified and declare the counter-notice valid or invalid accordingly⁴.

Where a counter-notice is accepted as valid⁵ or declared to be valid⁶, the acquiring authority is deemed:

3750 (1) to be authorised to acquire compulsorily the interest of the claimant in the land⁷ to which the requirement in the counter-notice relates under the same statutory provision⁸ as it is authorised to acquire the other land in the agricultural unit⁹ in question; and 3751 (2) to have served a notice to treat in respect of it on the date on which notice to treat is deemed to have been served under that provision¹⁰.

A claimant may withdraw a counter-notice at any time before the compensation payable in respect of a compulsory acquisition in pursuance of the counter-notice has been determined by the Lands Tribunal or at any time before the end of six weeks beginning with the date on which it is determined¹¹; and, where a counter-notice is so withdrawn, any notice to treat deemed to have been served in consequence of it is deemed to have been withdrawn¹².

Where, by virtue of these provisions, the acquiring authority becomes or will become entitled to a lease¹³ of any land but not to the interest of the lessor:

3752 (a) the authority must offer to surrender the lease¹⁴ to the lessor on such terms as the authority considers reasonable;

3753 (b) the question of what is reasonable may be referred to the Lands Tribunal by the authority or the lessor and, if at the expiration of the period of three months after the date of the offer mentioned in head (a) above the authority and the lessor have not agreed on that question and that question has not been referred to the tribunal by the lessor, it must be so referred by the authority;

3754 (c) if that question is referred to the tribunal, the lessor is deemed to have accepted the surrender of the lease at the expiry of one month after the date of the determination of the tribunal or on such other date as the tribunal may direct and to have agreed with the authority on the terms of surrender which the tribunal has held to be reasonable¹⁵.

Where the lessor refuses to accept any sum payable to him by virtue of the above provisions¹⁶, or refuses or fails to make out his title to the satisfaction of the acquiring authority, the authority may pay into court any such sum payable to the lessor¹⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'acquiring authority' for these purposes see PARA 975 note 1 ante. The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 146 (see the text and notes 2-17 infra) applies in relation to the acquisition of interests in land by government departments which possess compulsory purchase powers as it applies in relation to the acquisition of interests in land by authorities which are not government departments: s 147(1). 10 Ibid s 146(3). As to service of notice to treat see PARA 933 note 5 ante.

11 Ibid s 146(4). The compensation payable in respect of the acquisition of an interest in land in pursuance of a notice to treat deemed to have been served by virtue of s 146 must be assessed on the assumptions mentioned in the Land Compensation Act 1973 s 5(2)-(4) (as amended) (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 896): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 146(7).

12 Ibid s 146(5). Without prejudice to s 146(5), a notice to treat deemed to have been served by virtue of s 146 may not be withdrawn under the Land Compensation Act 1961 s 31 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 636): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 146(6).

13 Where an acquiring authority which becomes entitled to the lease of any land as mentioned in ibid s 146(8) (see the text and note 15 infra) is a body incorporated by or under any enactment, the corporate powers of the authority include, if they would not otherwise do so, the power to farm land: s 146(11). For the meaning of 'lease' see PARA 38 note 6 ante; and for the meaning of 'enactment' see PARA 2 note 11 ante.

14 Any terms as to surrender contained in the lease must be disregarded for these purposes: ibid s 146(9).

15 Ibid s 146(8).

16 Ie by virtue of ibid s 146(8): see the text and note 15 supra.

17 Ibid s 146(10). The Compulsory Purchase Act 1965 s 9(2), (5) (deposit of compensation in cases of refusal to convey etc: see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARAS 661, 664) applies to that sum with the necessary modifications: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 146(10).

UPDATE

976 Effect of counter-notice

TEXT AND NOTES--The Lands Tribunal has been abolished and its functions have been transferred to the Upper Tribunal: Transfer of Tribunal Functions (Lands Tribunal and Miscellaneous Amendments) Order 2009, SI 2009/1307, art 2 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 720 et seq). RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS/(1) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING DECISIONS OR ORDERS/ (v) Compensation/977. Compensation where purchase notice served.

(v) Compensation

977. Compensation where purchase notice served.

Where compensation is payable¹ in respect of expenditure incurred in carrying out any works on land², any compensation payable in respect of the acquisition of an interest in the land in pursuance of a purchase notice³ must be reduced by an amount equal to the value of those works⁴.

Where:

3755 (1) the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁶ directs⁷ that, if an application for it is made, planning permission⁸ must be granted for the development⁹ of any land; and 3756 (2) on a claim made to the local planning authority¹⁰ within the prescribed time¹¹ and in the prescribed manner¹², it is shown that the permitted development value¹³ of the interest in that land in respect of which the purchase notice was served is less than its Schedule 3 value¹⁴, that authority must pay the person entitled to that interest compensation of an amount equal to the difference¹⁵.

1 le by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 107 (as amended): see PARA 914 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'purchase notice' see PARA 966 ante.

4 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 144(1).

5 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

6 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 ss 141, 144, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

7 le under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 141(3): see PARA 972 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

9 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

10 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

11 As to the time so prescribed see PARA 581 note 13 ante. For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 16 note 5 ante.

12 As to the manner so prescribed see PARA 581 note 14 ante.

13 For these purposes, 'permitted development value', in relation to an interest in land in respect of which a direction is given under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 141(3) (see PARA 972 ante), means the value of that interest calculated with regard to that direction, but on the assumption that no planning permission would be granted otherwise than in accordance with that direction: s 144(6).

14 For these purposes, 'Schedule 3 value', in relation to such an interest as is mentioned in note 11 supra, means the value of that interest calculated on the assumption that planning permission would be granted (1) subject to the condition in ibid s 111(5) (as substituted), Sch 10 (see PARA 921 ante), for any development of a class specified in s 107(4) (as amended), Sch 3 para 1 (see PARA 920 ante); and (2) for any development of a class specified in Sch 3 para 2 (see PARA 920 ante): s 144(6) (s 144(2), (6) amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 31(4), Sch 6 paras 8, 19).

15 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 144(2) (as amended: see note 12 supra). If the planning permission mentioned in s 144(2)(a) (see head (1) in the text) would be granted subject to conditions for regulating the design or external appearance, or the size or height of buildings, or for regulating the number of buildings to be erected on the land, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may direct that in assessing any compensation payable under s 144(2) (as so amended) those conditions must be disregarded, either altogether or to such extent as may be specified in the direction: s 144(3). The Secretary of State or the Assembly may, however, only give such a direction if it appears to him or to it to be reasonable to do so having regard to the local circumstances: s 144(4).

Section 117 (as amended) (see PARA 930 ante) and s 118 (see PARA 931 ante) have effect in relation to compensation under s 144(2) (as so amended) as they have effect in relation to compensation to which s 117 (as amended) and s 118 apply: s 144(5).

Compensation payable under s 144(2) (as so amended) carries interest at the rate for the time being prescribed under the Land Compensation Act 1961 s 32 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 641) from the date of the direction under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 141(3) (see PARA 972 ante) until payment: Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 80(1), Sch 18 Pt I. As to payments on account of compensation or interest see s 80(2), (3); and PARA 581 note 15 ante.

Where a purchase notice in respect of an interest in land is served in consequence of an order under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 102 (as amended) (see PARAS 546-547 ante) or s 102(8), Sch 9 para 1 (as amended) (see PARA 757 ante), then, if (1) that interest is acquired in accordance with Pt VI Ch I (ss 137-148) (as amended): see PARA 966 et seq ante; or (2) compensation is payable under s 144(2) (as so amended), no compensation is payable in respect of that order under s 115 (see PARA 923 ante): s 144(7).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/11. RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS/(2) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING PROPOSALS; BLIGHT/(i) Blighted Land/978. Land identified for the purposes of relevant public functions by a development plan document or a local development plan.

(2) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING PROPOSALS; BLIGHT

(i) Blighted Land

978. Land identified for the purposes of relevant public functions by a development plan document or a local development plan.

In relation to England, land¹ which is identified for the purposes of relevant public functions² by a development plan document³ for the area in which the land is situated is blighted land⁴.

Land in Wales which is identified for the purposes of relevant public functions⁵ by a local development plan⁶ for the area in which the land is situated is blighted land⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'relevant public functions' are (1) the functions of a government department, local authority, National Park authority or statutory undertakers; (2) the establishment or running by a public telecommunications operator of a telecommunication system: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 149(1), Sch 13 para 1A note (1) (Sch 13 para 1A added by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 118(1), Sch 6 paras 1, 18(1), (3)).

3 For these purposes, a development plan document is (1) a development plan document which is adopted or approved for the purposes of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 Pt 2 (ss 13-37) (see PARA 89 et seq ante); (2) a revision of such a document in pursuance of s 26 (see PARA 123 ante) which is adopted or approved for the purposes of Pt 2; (3) a development plan document which has been submitted to the Secretary of State for independent examination under s 20(1) (see PARA 108 ante); (4) a revision of a development plan document in pursuance of s 26 if the document has been submitted to the Secretary of State for independent examination under s 20(1); but heads (3)-(4) supra do not apply if the document is withdrawn under s 22 (see PARA 119 ante) at any time after it has been submitted for independent examination: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 13 para 1A notes (2)-(3) (as added: see note 2 supra). In heads (3)-(4) supra, the submission of a development plan document to the Secretary of State for independent examination is to be taken to include the holding of an independent examination by the Secretary of State under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 21 (see PARA 116 ante) or s 27 (see PARA 118 ante): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 13 para 1A note (4) (as so added).

4 Ibid Sch 13 para 1A (as added: see note 2 supra).

5 For these purposes, relevant public functions are (1) the functions of the National Assembly for Wales, a government department, local authority, National Park authority or statutory undertakers; (2) the establishment or running by a public telecommunications operator of a telecommunications system: ibid Sch 13 para 1B note

(1) (Sch 13 para 1B added by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 (Commencement No 4 and Consequential, Transitional and Savings Provisions) (Wales) Order 2005, SI 2005/2722, art 3(1)-(3)).

6 For these purposes, a local development plan is (1) a local development plan which is adopted or approved for the purposes of the Planning and Compulsory Act 2004 Pt 6 (ss 60-78) (see PARAS 87-89, 133 et seq ante); (2) a revision of a local development plan in pursuance of s 70 (see PARA 145 ante) which is adopted or approved for the purposes of Pt 6; (3) a local development plan which has been submitted to the National Assembly for Wales for independent examination under s 64(1) (see PARA 138 ante); (4) a revision of a local development plan in pursuance of s 70 if the plan has been submitted to the Assembly for independent examination under s 64(1): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 13 para 1B note (2) (as added: see note 5 supra). However, heads (3)-(4) supra do not apply if the plan is withdrawn under the Planning and Compulsory Act 2004 s 66 (see PARA 143 ante) at any time after it has been submitted for independent examination; and in those heads the submission of a local development plan to the Assembly for independent examination is to be taken to include the holding of an independent examination by the Assembly under s 65 (see PARA 140 ante) or s 71 (see PARA 142 ante): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 13 para 1B notes (3), (4) (as added: see note 5 supra). As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

7 Ibid Sch 13 para 1B (as added: see note 5 supra).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/11. RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS/(2) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING PROPOSALS; BLIGHT/(i) Blighted Land/979. Land allocated for public authority functions in a structure plan, local plan or unitary development plan.

979. Land allocated for public authority functions in a structure plan, local plan or unitary development plan.

During any time when a structure plan¹, local plan² or unitary development plan³ continues⁴ to form part of the development plan⁵, then land⁶ indicated or allocated in such a plan⁷ for the specified purposes⁸ is treated as blighted land⁹.

1 As to structure plans in England see PARA 176 et seq ante.

2 As to local plans in England see PARAS 176-182, 195 et seq ante.

3 As to unitary development plans in England and Wales see PARA 155 et seq ante.

4 Ie by virtue of: (1) the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 119(1), Sch 8 para 1 (see PARAS 126-127 ante); or (2) Sch 8 para 1 as applied by any other provision of Sch 8: Sch 8 para 16(1)(a), (b).

5 For the meaning of 'development plan' see PARA 91 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante (definition applied by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 117(1), (5)).

7 Ie a plan mentioned in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 13 paras 1-4 (repealed subject to transitional provisions). References to a plan mentioned in any of Sch 13 paras 1-4 (repealed) include any proposal for the alteration or replacement of the plan: Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 Sch 8 para 16(2).

8 Ie the purposes set out in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 13 paras 1-4 (as amended; repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 ss 118(1), 120, Sch 6 paras 1, 18(1), Sch 9). The repeal of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 13 paras 1-4 does not, however, affect anything which is required or permitted to be done for the purposes of Pt VI Ch 2 (ss 149-171) (as amended) during any time when a plan mentioned in any of those repealed provisions continues to form part of the development plan by virtue of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 (Commencement No 4 and Consequential, Transitional and Savings Provisions) (Wales) Order 2005, SI 2005/2722, art 5(2) (see PARA 148 ante): art 7(1). For those purposes, references to a plan mentioned in any of those repealed provisions include any proposal for the alteration or replacement of the plan; and the development plan is the development plan for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 27A (as added; repealed with savings) (see PARA 150 ante) or s 54

(as amended; repealed with savings) (see PARA 151 ante): Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 (Commencement No 4 and Consequential, Transitional and Savings Provisions) (Wales) Order 2005, SI 2005/2722, art 7(2), (3). For the purposes of the transitional arrangements set out in art 7, the following provisions continue to have effect on or after 15 October 2005 as if they had not been amended or repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, ie (1) the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt II (ss 10-54A) (as otherwise amended) (see PARA 149 et seq ante); (2) s 284 (as otherwise amended) (see PARA 43 ante); (3) s 287 (as otherwise amended) (see PARA 46 ante); (4) s 296(1)(a) (see PARA 11 ante); and (5) s 303A (as added) (see PARA 658 ante): Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 (Commencement No 6, Transitional Provisions and Savings) Order 2005, SI 2005/2847, art 3(3), Schedule.

The indicated or allocated land and the purposes specified in the repealed provisions are as follows:

- 333 (1) land indicated in a structure plan in force for the district in which it is situated either:
60. (a) as land which may be required for the purposes (i) of the functions of a government department, local authority, National Park authority or statutory undertakers, or (ii) of the provision by an electronic communications code operator of an electronic communications code network or the provision by a former PTO of a public electronic communications network or a public electronic communications service; or 60
61. (b) as land which may be included in an action area;
61
- 334 but excluding for these purposes land situated in a district for which a local plan is in operation, where that plan allocates any land in the district for the purposes of such functions as are mentioned in heads (a)-(b) supra or defines any land in the district as the site of proposed development for the purposes of any such functions;
- 335 (2) land which is allocated for the purposes of any such functions as are mentioned in head (1) (a)(i) or (ii) supra by a local plan in operation for the district, or is land defined in such a plan as the site of proposed development for the purposes of any such functions;
- 336 (3) land indicated in a unitary development plan in force where the land is situated as land which may be required for the purpose of any such functions as are mentioned in head (1)(a)(i) or (ii) supra or as land which may be included in an action area;
- 337 (4) land which by a unitary development plan is allocated for the purposes, or defined as the site, of proposed development for any such functions as are mentioned in head (1)(a)(i) or (ii) supra.

For the purposes of head (1) supra, the reference to a structure plan in force includes a reference to proposals for the alteration or replacement of a structure plan which have been made available for inspection under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 33(2) (as amended; repealed with savings) (see PARA 187 ante) and to any proposed modifications to those proposals which have been published in accordance with regulations under s 53 (as amended; repealed with savings) (see PARA 177 ante) (Sch 13 para 1 note (1) (as amended; now repealed)); but this ceases to apply when the copies of the proposals made available for inspection have been withdrawn under s 34 (as substituted; repealed with savings) (see PARA 189 ante) and also ceases to apply when the relevant proposals become operative (whether in their original form or with modifications) or the Secretary of State decides to reject the proposals and notice of the decision has been given by advertisement; and in Sch 13 para 1 note (1) (as amended and repealed), references to anything done under any provision include references to anything done under that provision as it applies by virtue of s 51 (as amended; repealed with savings) (see PARA 179 ante) (Sch 13 para 1 notes (2)-(4) (as amended; now repealed)). For the purposes of the exclusion set out in head (1) supra, the reference to a local plan in operation includes a reference to a minerals local plan, a waste local plan, which in either case is in operation, and to a local plan continued in operation by virtue of the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 4 para 44: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 13 para 1 note (5A) (as added: now repealed). Head (1) supra does not apply to land within Sch 13 paras 5, 6 (as amended) (see PARA 980 post) and in its application to Greater London the reference to a structure plan is to be construed as a reference to the Greater London Development Plan and Sch 13 para 1 notes (1)-(4) (as amended and repealed) are to be omitted: Sch 13 para 1 notes (6)-(7) (as amended; now repealed).

For the purposes of head (2) supra, the reference to a local plan in operation includes a reference to a minerals local plan, a waste local plan, which in either case is in operation, and to a local plan continued in operation by virtue of the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 4 para 44 and also includes proposals for the making or alteration and replacement of any such plan where copies of the proposals have been made available for inspection under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 40(2) as substituted; repealed with savings) (see PARA 201 ante) or by virtue of the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 4 para 43, and any proposed modifications to those proposals which have been published in accordance with regulations under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 53 (as amended; repealed with savings) (see PARA 177 ante) (Sch 13 para 2 note (1) (as substituted; now repealed)); but this ceases to apply when the relevant plan or proposals become operative (whether in their original form or with modifications), or the Secretary of State decides to reject, or the local planning authority decides to abandon, the plan or proposals and notice of the decision has been given by advertisement (Sch 13 para 2 note (3) (as amended; now repealed)). In Sch 13 para 2 note (1) (as substituted and repealed), references to anything done under any provision include references to anything done under that provision as it applies by virtue of s 51 (as amended; repealed with savings) (see PARA 179 ante); Sch 13 para 2 note (4) (now repealed).

For the purposes of heads (3)-(4) supra, the reference to a unitary development plan includes references to (A) a unitary development plan of which copies have been made available for inspection under s 13(2) (as substituted; repealed with savings) (see PARA 163 ante); (B) proposals for the alteration or replacement of a unitary development plan of which copies have been made available for inspection under that provision as applied by s 21(2) (as amended; repealed with savings) (see PARA 175 ante); (C) modifications proposed to be made by the local planning authority or the Secretary of State (or, in relation to Wales) by the National Assembly for Wales) to any such plan or proposals as are mentioned in head (A) or head (B) supra, being modifications of which notice has been given in accordance with regulations under Pt II Ch I (repealed with savings); but this ceases to apply when the copies of the plan or proposals made available for inspection have been withdrawn under s 14(2) (as amended; repealed with savings) (see PARA 166 ante) (except that s 14(4) (as amended; repealed with savings) does not invalidate any blight notice served by virtue of heads (A)-(C) supra before the withdrawal of copies of the plan or proposals; and heads (A)-(C) supra also cease to apply when the relevant plan or proposals become operative (whether in their original form or with modifications), or the Secretary of State or the Assembly decides to reject, or the local planning authority decide to withdraw, the plan or proposals and notice of the decision has been given by advertisement: Sch 13 para 3 notes (1)-(3), PARA 4 notes (1)-(3) (as amended; now repealed). In heads (A)-(C) supra references to anything done under any provision include references to anything done under that provision as it applies by virtue of s 25(2) (repealed with savings) (see PARA 174 ante); Sch 13 para 3 note (4), PARA 4 note (4) (now repealed).

- 3766 (2) land on or adjacent to the line of a highway proposed to be constructed, improved or altered as indicated in an order or scheme which has come into operation⁶, being land in relation to which a power of compulsory acquisition⁷ may become exercisable, as being land required for purposes of construction, improvement or alteration as indicated in the order or scheme⁸;
- 3767 (3) land shown on plans approved by a resolution of a local highway authority⁹ as land comprised in the site of a highway as proposed to be constructed, improved or altered by that authority¹⁰;
- 3768 (4) land comprised in the site of a highway as proposed to be constructed, improved or altered by the Secretary of State¹¹ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales¹² if he or the Assembly has given written notice of the proposal, together with maps or plans sufficient to identify the land in question, to the local planning authority¹³;
- 3769 (5) land shown on plans approved by a resolution of a local highway authority as land proposed to be acquired by that authority for certain¹⁴ statutory purposes¹⁵;
- 3770 (6) land shown in a written notice given by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to the local planning authority as land proposed to be acquired¹⁶ by him or by it in connection with a highway which he or it proposes to provide¹⁷.

986 Land subject to compulsory purchase

TEXT AND NOTES--Land is blighted land if (1) the compulsory acquisition of the land is authorised by an order granting development consent; (2) the land falls within the limits of deviation within which powers of compulsory acquisition conferred by an order granting development consent are exercisable; or (3) an application for an order granting development consent seeks authority compulsorily to acquire the land: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 13 para 24 (Sch 13 paras 24, 25 added by the Planning Act 2008 s 175(1), (2). Land is blighted land if it is in a location identified in a national policy statement as suitable (or potentially suitable) for a specified description of development: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 13 para 25.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/11. RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS/(2) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING PROPOSALS; BLIGHT/ (ii) Qualifying Interests/987. Qualifying interests in blighted land.

(ii) Qualifying Interests

987. Qualifying interests in blighted land.

Land¹ falling within the relevant statutory provisions² as affected by the planning proposals of public authorities is referred to as 'blighted land'³. An interest qualifies⁴ for protection under the provisions relating to blighted land⁵ if it is an interest:

- 3776 (1) in a hereditament⁶ or part of a hereditament and on the relevant date⁷ it satisfies one of the statutory conditions⁸; or
- 3777 (2) in an agricultural unit⁹ or part of an agricultural unit and on the relevant date it is the interest of an owner-occupier¹⁰ of the unit; and such an interest is referred to as a 'qualifying interest'¹¹.

The statutory conditions are:

- 3778 (a) that the annual value¹² of the hereditament does not exceed such amount as may be prescribed¹³ for these purposes by an order made by the Secretary of State¹⁴ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales¹⁵ and the interest is the interest of an owner-occupier of the hereditament; or
- 3779 (b) that the interest is the interest of a resident owner-occupier¹⁶ of the hereditament¹⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

2 Ie within any of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 149(1), Sch 13 (as amended): see PARA 978 et seq ante.

3 Ibid s 149(1).

4 Ie subject to ibid ss 161, 162 (as amended): see PARAS 1003-1004 post.

5 Ie under ibid Pt VI Ch II (ss 149-171) (as amended): see the text and notes 6-17 infra; and PARA 988 et seq post.

6 For these purposes, 'hereditament' means a relevant hereditament within the meaning of the Local Government Finance Act 1988 s 64(4)(a)-(c): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171(1). Land which would otherwise comprise separate hereditaments solely by reason of being divided by a boundary between rating areas is treated for the purposes for this definition of 'hereditament' as if it were not so divided: s 171(4). A right of way is not a hereditament for these purposes: Ley and Ley v Kent County Council (1976) 31 P & CR 439, Lands Tribunal.

7 For these purposes, 'the relevant date', in relation to an interest, means the date of service of a notice under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 150 (as amended) (see PARA 992 post) in respect of it: s 149(4).

8 In the conditions mentioned in ibid s 149(3): see the text and notes 12-17 infra.

9 For these purposes, 'agricultural unit' means land which is occupied as a unit for agricultural purposes, including any dwelling house or other building occupied by the same person for the purpose of farming land; and 'agricultural' has the same meaning as in the Agriculture Act 1947 s 109 (as amended) and references to the farming of land include references to the carrying on in relation to the land of agricultural activities: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171(1).

10 For the meaning of 'owner-occupier' see PARA 988 post.

11 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 149(2).

12 For these purposes, 'annual value' means (1) in the case of a hereditament which is shown in a local non-domestic rating list and none of which consists of domestic property or property exempt from local non-domestic rating, the value shown in that list as the rateable value of that hereditament on the date of service; (2) in the case of a hereditament which is shown in a local non-domestic rating list and which includes domestic property or property exempt from local non-domestic rating, the sum of (a) the value shown in that list as the rateable value of that hereditament on the date of service; and (b) the value attributable to the non-rateable part of that hereditament in accordance with ibid s 171(2), (3) (see infra); (3) in the case of any other hereditament, the value attributable to that hereditament in accordance with s 171(2), (3): s 171(1).

The value attributable to a hereditament, or the non-rateable part of it: (i) in respect of domestic property, is the value certified by the relevant valuation officer as being 5% of the compensation which would be payable in respect of the value of that property if it were purchased compulsorily under statute with vacant possession and the compensation payable were calculated in accordance with the Land Compensation Act 1961 Pt II (ss 5-16 (as amended): see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 754 et seq) by reference to the relevant date (Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171(2)); and (ii) in respect of property exempt from local non-domestic rating, is the value certified by the relevant valuation officer as being the value which would have been shown as the rateable value of that property on the date of service if it were a relevant non-domestic hereditament consisting entirely of non-domestic property, none of which was exempt from local non-domestic rating (s 171(3)).

For these purposes, 'date of service' has the same meaning as in s 168 (see PARA 988 note 4 post); 'relevant valuation officer' means the valuation officer who would have determined the rateable value in respect of the hereditament for the purposes of the Local Government Finance Act 1988 Pt III (ss 41-67) (as amended) if the hereditament had fulfilled the conditions set out in s 42(1)(b)-(d) (as amended); 'relevant date' is the date by reference to which that determination would have been made; and expressions used in the definition of 'annual value' in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171(1) or in s 171(2), (3) which are also used in the Local Government Finance Act 1988 Pt III (ss 41-67) (as amended) have the same meanings as therein: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171(5). See further RATING AND COUNCIL TAX.

13 The amount so prescribed is £29,200: Town and Country Planning (Blight Provisions) (England) Order 2005, SI 2005/406, art 2; Town and Country Planning (Blight Provisions) (Wales) Order 2005, SI 2005/367, art 2. For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 16 note 5 ante.

14 As to the exercise of this power by the Secretary of State see note 13 supra; and as to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

15 As to the exercise of this power by the Assembly see note 13 supra; as to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 149, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

988. Meaning of 'owner-occupier' and 'resident owner-occupier'.

For the purposes of the statutory provisions relating to blighted land¹:

3780 (1) 'owner-occupier', in relation to a hereditament², means:

37. (a) a person who occupies the whole or a substantial part of the hereditament in right of an owner's interest³ in it, and has so occupied the hereditament or that part of it during the whole of the period of six months ending with the date of service⁴; or

38. (b) if the whole or a substantial part of the hereditament was unoccupied for a period of not more than 12 months ending with that date, a person who so occupied the hereditament or, as the case may be, that part of it during the whole of a period of six months ending immediately before the period when it was not occupied⁵;

3781 (2) 'owner-occupier', in relation to an agricultural unit, means a person who:
279

39. (a) occupies the whole of that unit and has occupied it during the whole of the period of six months ending with the date of service; or

40. (b) occupied the whole of that unit during the whole of a period of six months ending not more than 12 months before the date of service,

3782 and, at all times material for the purposes of head (a) or, as the case may be, head (b) above, has been entitled to an owner's interest in the whole or part of that unit⁶;

3783 (3) 'resident owner-occupier', in relation to a hereditament, means:

41. (a) an individual who occupies the whole or a substantial part of the hereditament as a private dwelling house in right of an owner's interest in it, and has so occupied the hereditament or, as the case may be, that part during the whole of the period of six months ending with the date of service; or

42. (b) if the whole or a substantial part of the hereditament was unoccupied for a period of not more than 12 months ending with that date, an individual who so occupied the hereditament or, as the case may be, that part during the whole of a period of six months ending immediately before the period when it was not occupied⁷.

(iii) Appropriate Authorities and Enactments

990. Meaning of 'the appropriate authority'.

For the purposes of the statutory provisions relating to blighted land¹, 'the appropriate authority', in relation to any land², means the government department³, local authority⁴, National Park authority⁵ or other body or person by whom, in accordance with the circumstances by virtue of which the land is blighted land⁶, the land is liable to be acquired or is indicated as being proposed to be acquired or, as the case may be, any right over the land is proposed to be acquired⁷.

In relation to land in a new town or urban development area⁸, until such time as a development corporation is established for the new town or, as the case may be, an urban development corporation⁹ is established for the urban development area¹⁰, those provisions¹¹ have effect as if 'the appropriate authority' were the Secretary of State¹² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹³; and, in relation to land within the width of a new street¹⁴, 'the appropriate authority' is the highway authority for the highway¹⁵ in relation to which the order¹⁶ was made¹⁷.

If any question arises:

3784 (1) whether the appropriate authority in relation to any land for the relevant statutory purposes¹⁸ is the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or a local highway authority¹⁹; or

3785 (2) which of two or more local highway authorities is the appropriate authority in relation to any land for those purposes; or

3786 (3) which of two or more local authorities is the appropriate authority in relation to any land for those purposes, that question must be referred to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, whose decision is final²⁰.

990 Meaning of 'the appropriate authority'

TEXT AND NOTES--As to the meaning of 'the appropriate authority' in relation to land falling within the 1990 Act Sch 13 para 25 (see PARA 986) see the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 169(6)-(8) (added by the Planning Act 2008 s 175(1), (6)).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/11. RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS/(2) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING PROPOSALS; BLIGHT/(iii) Appropriate Authorities and Enactments/991. Meaning of 'the appropriate enactment'.

991. Meaning of 'the appropriate enactment'.

'The appropriate enactment', in relation to blighted land¹, means the enactment² which provides for the compulsory acquisition³ of land as being land falling within the relevant statutory provision⁴ or, in respect of land in relation to which a compulsory purchase order is in force providing for the acquisition of rights over the land⁵, the enactment under which that compulsory purchase order was made⁶.

If two or more enactments would otherwise be the appropriate enactment in relation to any land for the purposes of the statutory provisions relating to blighted land⁷, the appropriate enactment for those purposes is to be taken to be that one of those enactments under which, in the circumstances in question, it is most likely that the land would otherwise have been acquired by the appropriate authority⁸. If any question arises as to which enactment is the appropriate enactment in relation to any land for those purposes, that question must be referred:

- 3787 (1) where the appropriate authority is a government department⁹, to the minister¹⁰ in charge of that department;
- 3788 (2) where statutory undertakers¹¹ are the appropriate authority, to the appropriate minister¹²; and
- 3789 (3) in any other case, to the Secretary of State¹³ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁴, and the decision of the minister or, as the case may be, the Secretary of State or the Assembly, is final¹⁵.

1 In relation to land falling within any paragraph of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 149(1), Sch 13 (as amended): see PARA 978 et seq ante. For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'enactment' see PARA 2 note 11 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'compulsory acquisition' see PARA 930 note 4 ante.

4 In the relevant paragraph of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 13 (as amended).

5 In as respects ibid Sch 13 para 22(b): see PARA 986 ante.

6 Ibid s 170(1). Where, in accordance with the circumstances by virtue of which any land falls within any of Sch 13 paras 1-23 (as amended), it is indicated that the land is proposed to be acquired for highway purposes, any enactment under which a highway authority is or, subject to the fulfilment of the relevant conditions, could be authorised to acquire that land compulsorily for highway purposes is, for the purposes of s 170(1), to be taken to be an enactment providing for the compulsory acquisition of that land as being land falling within that provision of Sch 13 (as amended): s 170(9). For these purposes, the reference to the fulfilment of the relevant conditions is a reference to such one or more of the following as are applicable to the circumstances in question: (1) the coming into operation of any requisite order or scheme made, or having or effect as if made, under the provisions of the Highways Act 1980 Pt II (ss 10-23) (as amended) (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARAS 710, 745); (2) the coming into operation of any requisite scheme made, or having effect as if made, under s 106(3) (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 878); (3) the making or approval of any requisite plans: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 170(10). For the meaning of 'highway' see PARA 50 note 5 ante.

In relation to land:

- 338 (a) falling within ibid Sch 13 para 2, Sch 13 para 3 or Sch 13 para 4 (all repealed with savings: see PARA 979 ante), an enactment is for the purposes of s 170(1) to be taken to be an enactment which provides for the compulsory acquisition of land as being land falling within that paragraph if (i) the enactment provides for the compulsory acquisition of land for the purposes of the functions which are indicated in the development plan as being the functions for the purposes of which the land is allocated or is proposed to be developed; or (ii) where no particular functions are so indicated in the development plan, the enactment provides for the compulsory acquisition of land for the purposes of any of the functions of the government department, local authority, National Park authority or other body for the purposes of whose functions the land is allocated or is defined as the site of proposed development (s 170(2) (amended by the Environment Act 1995 s 78, Sch 10 para 32(5));
- 339 (b) falling within the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 13 para 2, Sch 13 para 3 or Sch 13 para 4 (all repealed with savings: see PARA 979 ante), by virtue of Sch 13 para 2 note (1), Sch 13 para 3 note (1) or Sch 13 para 4 note (1) (all repealed with savings), 'the appropriate enactment' is to be determined in accordance with s 170(2) (as amended) (see head (1) supra) as if references in s 170(2) (as amended) to the development plan were references to any such plan, proposal or modifications as are mentioned in PARA (a), (b) or (c) of that note (s 170(3));
- 340 (c) falling within Sch 13 para 5 or Sch 13 para 6 (each as amended) (see PARA 980 ante), 'the appropriate enactment' is to be determined in accordance with s 170(2) (as amended) as if references in s 170(2) (as amended) to the development plan were references to the resolution or direction in question (s 170(4));
- 341 (d) falling within Sch 13 para 7, Sch 13 para 8 or Sch 13 para 9 (see PARA 981 ante), until such time as a development corporation is established for the new town or, as the case may be, an urban development corporation is established for the urban development area, Pt VI Ch II (ss 149-171, Sch 13) (as amended) has effect as if 'the appropriate enactment' were s 165(1) (see PARA 1007 post) (s 170(5));
- 342 (e) falling within Sch 13 para 10 or Sch 13 para 11 (see PARA 982 ante), 'the appropriate enactment' is the Housing Act 1985 s 290 (Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 170(6));
- 343 (f) falling within Sch 13 para 19 (see PARA 984 ante), 'the appropriate enactment' is the Highways Act 1980 s 239(6) (Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 170(7));
- 344 (g) falling within Sch 13 para 22 by virtue of Sch 13 para 22 note (1) (see PARA 986 ante), 'the appropriate enactment' is the enactment which would provide for the compulsory acquisition of the land or of the rights over the land if the relevant compulsory purchase order were confirmed or made (s 170(8)).

991 Meaning of 'the appropriate enactment'

TEXT AND NOTES--As to the meaning of 'the appropriate enactment' in relation to land falling within the 1990 Act Sch 13 para 24 or 25 (see PARA 986) see the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 170(8A)-(8C) (added by the Planning Act 2008 s 175(1), (7)).

RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS/(2) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING PROPOSALS; BLIGHT/(iv) Blight Notices/A. IN GENERAL/992. Notices requiring purchase of blighted land.

(iv) Blight Notices

A. IN GENERAL

992. Notices requiring purchase of blighted land.

Where the whole or part of a hereditament¹ or agricultural unit² is comprised in blighted land³ and a person claims that:

- 3790 (1) he is entitled to a qualifying interest⁴ in that hereditament or unit;
- 3791 (2) he has made reasonable endeavours to sell⁵ that interest or the land is subject to compulsory purchase⁶ and the powers of compulsory acquisition remain exercisable; and
- 3792 (3) in consequence of the fact that the hereditament or unit or a part of it was, or was likely to be, comprised in blighted land, he has been unable to sell that interest except at a price substantially lower than that for which it might reasonably have been expected to sell if no part of the hereditament or unit were, or were likely to be, comprised in such land, he may serve on the appropriate authority⁷ a notice in the prescribed form⁸ requiring that authority to purchase that interest to the extent specified in, and otherwise in accordance with, the relevant⁹ statutory provisions¹⁰.

The right so to serve a blight notice¹¹ applies in relation to an interest in part of a hereditament or unit as it applies in relation to an interest¹² in the whole of a hereditament or unit¹³; but this provision does not enable any person:

- 18
- 43. (a) if he is entitled to an interest in the whole of a hereditament or agricultural unit, to make any claim or serve any such notice in respect of his interest in part of a hereditament or unit; or
- 44. (b) if he is entitled to an interest only in part of a hereditament or agricultural unit, to make or serve any such claim or notice in respect of his interest in less than the whole of that part¹⁴.

993. Counter-notices objecting to blight notices.

Where a blight notice¹ has been served in respect of a hereditament² or an agricultural unit³, the appropriate authority⁴ may serve on the claimant⁵ a counter-notice in the prescribed form⁶ objecting to the notice⁷. A counter-notice may be served at any time before the end of the period of two months beginning with the date of service of the blight notice⁸.

Such a counter-notice must specify the grounds⁹ on which the appropriate authority objects to the blight notice¹⁰; and the grounds on which objection may be so made¹¹ are:

- 3793 (1) that no part of the hereditament or agricultural unit to which the notice relates is comprised in blighted land¹²;
- 3794 (2) that the appropriate authority, unless compelled to do so¹³, does not propose to acquire any part of the hereditament, or in the case of an agricultural unit any part of the affected area¹⁴, in the exercise of any relevant powers¹⁵;
- 3795 (3) that the appropriate authority proposes in the exercise of relevant powers to acquire a part of the hereditament or, in the case of an agricultural unit, a part of the affected area specified in the counter-notice, but, unless compelled to do so¹⁶, does not propose to acquire any other part of that hereditament or area in the exercise of any such powers¹⁷;
- 3796 (4) in the case of certain land¹⁸, that the appropriate authority, unless compelled to do so¹⁹, does not propose to acquire in the exercise of any relevant powers any part of the hereditament or, in the case of an agricultural unit, any part of the affected area during the period of 15 years from the date of the counter-notice or such longer period from that date as any be specified in the counter-notice²⁰;
- 3797 (5) that, on the date of service of the notice²¹, the claimant was not entitled to an interest²² in any part of the hereditament or agricultural unit to which the notice relates;
- 3798 (6) that, for reasons specified in the counter-notice, the interest of the claimant is not a qualifying interest²³;
- 3799 (7) that the specified statutory conditions²⁴ are not fulfilled²⁵.

996. Reference of objection to Lands Tribunal.

Where a counter-notice has been served¹ objecting to a blight notice², the claimant³ may require the objection to be referred to the Lands Tribunal⁴. Such a reference may be so required at any time before the end of the period of two months beginning with the date of service of the counter-notice⁵.

On any such reference, if the objection is not withdrawn, the tribunal must consider:

- 3802 (1) the matters set out in the notice served by the claimant; and
- 3803 (2) the grounds of the objection specified in the counter-notice, and, unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the tribunal that the objection is not well-founded, the tribunal must⁶ uphold the objection⁷; but an objection on certain specified grounds⁸ may not be upheld by the tribunal unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the tribunal that the objection is well-founded⁹.

If the tribunal determines not to uphold the objection, the tribunal must declare that the notice to which the counter-notice relates is a valid notice¹⁰; and, if the tribunal upholds the objection, but only on certain specified grounds¹¹, the tribunal must declare that the notice is a valid notice in relation to the part of the hereditament¹², or in the case of an agricultural unit¹³ the part of the affected area¹⁴, specified in the counter-notice as being the part which the appropriate authority¹⁵ proposes to acquire as mentioned in that notice, but not in relation to any other part of the hereditament or affected area¹⁶.

997. Effect of valid blight notice.

Where a blight notice¹ has been served, and either:

- 3804 (1) no counter-notice objecting to that notice is served²; or
- 3805 (2) where such a counter-notice has been served, the objection is withdrawn, or, on a reference to the Lands Tribunal³, is not upheld by the tribunal, the appropriate authority⁴ is deemed:

- 3806 (a) to be authorised to acquire compulsorily under the appropriate enactment⁵ the interest⁶ of the claimant⁷ in the hereditament⁸, or in the case of an agricultural unit⁹ the interest of the claimant in so far as it subsists in the affected area¹⁰; and
- 3807 (b) to have served a notice to treat in respect of it on the specified¹¹ date¹².

Where the appropriate authority has served a counter-notice objecting to a blight notice on certain specified grounds¹³ and either:

- 3808 (i) the claimant, without referring that objection to the Lands Tribunal, and before the time for so referring it¹⁴ has expired, gives notice to the appropriate authority that he accepts the proposal of the authority to acquire the part of the hereditament or affected area specified in the counter-notice, and withdraws his claim as to the remainder of that hereditament or area; or
- 3809 (ii) on a reference to the Lands Tribunal, the tribunal makes a declaration¹⁵ in respect of that part of the hereditament or affected area,

the appropriate authority is deemed:

- 3810 (A) to be authorised to acquire compulsorily under the appropriate enactment the interest of the claimant in so far as it subsists in the part of the hereditament or affected area specified in the counter-notice, but not so far as it subsists in any other part of that hereditament or area; and

B. SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO AGRICULTURAL UNITS

1000. Inclusion in blight notice of requirement to purchase unaffected parts of agricultural unit.

The following provisions apply where:

- 3816 (1) a blight notice¹ is served in respect of an interest² in the whole or part of an agricultural unit³; and
- 3817 (2) on the date of service that unit or part contains land⁴ ('the unaffected area') which is not blighted land⁵ as well as land ('the affected area') which is such land⁶.

Where these provisions apply, the claimant⁷ may include in the blight notice:

- 3818 (a) a claim that the unaffected area is not reasonably capable of being farmed, either by itself or in conjunction with other relevant land⁸, as a separate agricultural unit; and
- 3819 (b) a requirement that the appropriate authority⁹ shall purchase his interest in the whole of the unit or, as the case may be, in the whole of the part of it to which the notice relates¹⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'blight notice' see PARA 990 note 20 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'interest' see PARA 992 note 12 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'agricultural unit' see PARA 987 note 9 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'blighted land' see PARA 987 ante.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 158(1).

7 For the meaning of 'the claimant' see PARA 992 note 12 ante.

8 For these purposes, subject to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 159(4) (see PARA 1001 post), 'other relevant land' means (1) if the blight notice is served only in respect of part of land comprised in the agricultural unit, the remainder of it; and (2) land which is comprised in any other agricultural unit occupied by the claimant on the date of service and in respect of which he is then entitled to an owner's interest as defined in s 168(4) (see PARA 988 note 3 ante): s 158(3). For the meaning of 'date of service' see PARA 988 note 4 ante.

Objections to notices requiring purchase of whole agricultural unit.

1001. Objections to notices requiring purchase of whole agricultural unit.

The grounds on which objection may be made in a counter-notice to a blight notice requiring the purchase of unaffected parts of an agricultural unit¹ include the grounds that the claim made in the notice is not justified².

If the Lands Tribunal upholds an objection but only on the grounds mentioned above, the tribunal must declare that the blight notice is a valid notice in relation to the affected area but not in relation to the unaffected area³; and, if the tribunal upholds an objection both on that ground and on the other specified statutory grounds⁴, but not on any other grounds, the tribunal must declare that the blight notice is a valid notice in relation to the part of the affected area specified in the counter-notice as being the part which the appropriate authority⁵ proposes to acquire as mentioned in that notice but not in relation to any other part of the affected area or in relation to the unaffected area⁶.

1 If a blight notice served by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 158: see PARA 1000 ante. For the meaning of 'blight notice' see PARA 990 note 20 ante.

2 Ibid s 159(1). Objection may not be made to a blight notice served by virtue of s 158 on the grounds mentioned in s 151(4)(c) (see PARA 993 ante at head (3) in the text) unless it is also made on the grounds mentioned in s 159(1) (s 159(2)); and the Lands Tribunal may not uphold an objection to a notice so served on the grounds mentioned in s 151(4)(c) unless it also upholds the objection on the grounds mentioned in s 159(1) (s 159(3)).

Where objection is made to a blight notice served by virtue of s 158 on the grounds mentioned in s 159(1) and also on those mentioned in s 151(4)(c), the Lands Tribunal, in determining whether or not to uphold the objection, must treat that part of the affected area which is not specified in the counter-notice as included in 'other relevant land' as defined in s 158(3) (see PARA 1000 note 7 ante): s 159(4).

Section 153(6) (see PARA 996 ante) does not apply to any blight notice served by virtue of s 158: s 159(8). For the meaning of 'the affected area' see PARA 993 note 14 ante.

3 Ibid s 159(5). In a case falling within s 159(5) or s 159(6) (see the text and notes 4-6 infra), the tribunal must give directions specifying a date on which notice to treat, as mentioned in s 154 (see PARA 997 ante) and s 160 (see PARA 1002 post) is to be deemed to have been served: s 159(7). A notice to treat so deemed to have been served cannot be withdrawn: see PARA 997 note 12 ante. As to service of notice to treat see PARA 933 note 5 ante.

4 le the grounds mentioned in ibid s 151(4)(c): see PARA 993 ante at head (3) in the text.

5 For the meaning of 'the appropriate authority' see PARA 990 ante.

1001 Objections to notices requiring purchase of whole agricultural unit

TEXT AND NOTES--The Lands Tribunal has been abolished and its functions have been transferred to the Upper Tribunal: Transfer of Tribunal Functions (Lands Tribunal and Miscellaneous Amendments) Order 2009, SI 2009/1307, art 2 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 720 et seq). Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 159(3)-(5) amended: SI 2009/1307.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/11. RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS/(2) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING PROPOSALS; BLIGHT/(iv) Blight Notices/B. SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO AGRICULTURAL UNITS/1002. Effect of notices.

1002. Effect of notices.

The statutory provisions relating to the effect of blight notices¹ apply with specified modifications² in relation to a blight notice³ requiring the purchase of unaffected parts of an agricultural unit⁴.

Where the appropriate authority⁵ has served a counter-notice objecting to a blight notice on the grounds that the claim made in the notice is not justified⁶, then, if either:

3820 (1) the claimant⁷, without referring that objection to the Lands Tribunal and before the time for so referring it has expired⁸, gives notice to the appropriate authority that he withdraws his claim as to the unaffected area; or

3821 (2) on a reference to the tribunal, the tribunal makes a declaration that the blight notice is a valid notice in relation to the affected area but not in relation to the unaffected area⁹,

the appropriate authority is deemed:

3822 (a) to be authorised to acquire compulsorily under the appropriate enactment¹⁰ the interest¹¹ of the claimant in so far as it subsists in the affected area, but not in so far as it subsists in the unaffected area; and

3823 (b) to have served a notice to treat in respect of it on the specified¹² date¹³.

Where the appropriate authority has served a counter-notice on the grounds mentioned above and also on the other specified statutory grounds¹⁴, then, if either:

3824 (i) the claimant, without referring that objection to the Lands Tribunal and before the time for so referring it has expired, gives notices to the appropriate authority that he accepts the proposal of the authority to acquire the part of the affected area specified in the counter-notice and withdraws his claim as to the remainder of that area and as to the unaffected area; or 3825 (ii) on a reference to the tribunal, the tribunal makes a declaration¹⁵ in respect of that part of the affected area, the appropriate authority is deemed to be authorised to acquire compulsorily under the appropriate enactment the interest of the claimant in so far as it subsists in the part of the affected area specified in the counter-notice, but not in so far as it subsists in any other part of that area or in the unaffected area, and to have served a notice to treat in respect of it on the specified¹⁶ date¹⁷.

1 Ie the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 154: see PARA 997 ante.

2 The specified modifications are that (1) ibid s 154(2) has effect as if for the words 'or in the case of an agricultural unit the interest of the claimant in so far as it subsists in the affected area' there were substituted the words 'or agricultural unit'; and (2) s 154(4), (5) does not apply: s 160(1). For the meaning of 'agricultural unit' see PARA 987 note 9 ante.

3 Ie a blight notice served by virtue of ibid s 158: see PARA 1000 ante. For the meaning of 'blight notice' see PARA 990 note 20 ante.

4 Ibid s 160(1).

5 In relation to a blight notice served by virtue of ibid s 158, references to 'the appropriate authority' are to be construed as if the unaffected area of an agricultural unit were part of the affected area: s 160(6). For the meaning of 'the appropriate authority' generally see PARA 990 ante; and for the meaning of 'the unaffected area' and 'the affected area' see PARA 1000 ante.

6 Ie on the grounds mentioned in ibid s 159(1): see PARA 1001 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'the claimant' see PARA 992 note 12 ante.

9 Ie a declaration in accordance with the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 159(5): see PARA 1001 ante.

10 In relation to a blight notices served by virtue of ibid s 158, references to 'the appropriate enactment' are to be construed as if the unaffected area of an agricultural unit were part of the affected area: s 160(6). For the meaning of 'the appropriate enactment' generally see PARA 991 ante.

11 For the meaning of 'interest' see PARA 992 note 12 ante.

12 Ie the date mentioned in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 160(3). The date so referred to is (1) in a case falling within s 160(2)(a) (see head (1) in the text), the date on which notice is given in accordance therewith; and (2) in a case falling within s 160(2)(b) (see head (2) in the text), the date specified in directions given by the tribunal in accordance with s 159(7) (see PARA 1001 note 3 ante): s 160(3).

13 Ibid s 160(2). A notice to treat so deemed to have been served cannot be withdrawn: see PARA 997 note 12 ante. As to service of notice to treat see PARA 933 note 5 ante.

14 Ie on the grounds mentioned in ibid s 151(4)(c): see PARA 993 ante at head (3) in the text.

15 Ie in accordance with ibid s 159(6): see PARA 1001 ante.

16 Ie on the date mentioned in ibid s 160(5). The date so referred to is (1) in a case falling within s 160(4)(a) (see head (i) in the text), the date on which notice is given in accordance therewith; and (2) in a case falling within s 160(4)(b) (see head (ii) in the text), the date specified in directions given by the tribunal in accordance with s 159(7) (see PARA 1001 note 3 ante): s 160(5).

Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 160(2), (4) amended: SI 2009/1307.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/11. RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS/(2) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING PROPOSALS; BLIGHT/(iv) Blight Notices/C. POWERS OF PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVES, MORTGAGEES AND PARTNERSHIPS/1003. Powers of personal representatives in respect of blight notice.

C. POWERS OF PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVES, MORTGAGEES AND PARTNERSHIPS

1003. Powers of personal representatives in respect of blight notice.

Where the whole or part of a hereditament¹ or agricultural unit² is comprised in blighted land³ and a person claims that:

- 3826 (1) he is the personal representative of a person ('the deceased') who at the date of his death was entitled to an interest in that hereditament or unit;
- 3827 (2) the interest was one which would have been a qualifying interest⁴ if a blight notice⁵ had been served⁶ in respect of it on that date;
- 3828 (3) he has made reasonable endeavours to sell that interest or the land is subject to compulsory purchase⁷ and the powers of compulsory acquisition remain exercisable;
- 3829 (4) in consequence of the fact that the hereditament or unit or a part of it was, or was likely to be, comprised in blighted land, he has been unable to sell that interest except at a price substantially lower than that for which it might reasonably have been expected to sell if no part of the hereditament or unit were, or were likely to be, comprised in such land; and
- 3830 (5) one or more individuals are, to the exclusion of any body corporate, beneficially entitled to that interest, he may serve on the appropriate authority⁸ a notice in the prescribed form⁹ requiring that authority to purchase that interest to the extent specified in, and otherwise in accordance with, the relevant statutory¹⁰ provisions¹¹.

The above provisions apply in relation to an interest in part of a hereditament or agricultural unit as they apply in relation to an interest in the whole of a hereditament or agricultural unit¹²; but this does not enable any person:

- 3831 (a) if the deceased was entitled to an interest in the whole of a hereditament or agricultural unit, to make any claim or serve any notice¹³ in respect of the deceased's interest in part of the hereditament or unit; or

- 3832 (b) if the deceased was entitled to an interest only in part of the hereditament or agricultural unit, to make or serve any such claim or notice in respect of the deceased's interest in less than the whole of that part¹⁴.

The grounds on which objection may be made in a counter-notice¹⁵ to a notice under the above provisions are¹⁶ those specified in the relevant statutory provisions¹⁷ and also the following grounds:

- 3833 (i) that the claimant is not the personal representative of the deceased or that, on the date of the deceased's death, the deceased was not entitled to an interest in any part of the hereditament or agricultural unit to which the notice relates;
 3834 (ii) that, for reasons specified in the counter-notice, the interest of the deceased is not such as is specified in head (2) above;
 3835 (iii) that the conditions specified in head (3), head (4) or head (5) above are not satisfied¹⁸.

1004. Power of mortgagees to serve blight notice.

Where the whole or part of a hereditament¹ or agricultural unit² is comprised in blighted land³ and a person claims that:

- 3836 (1) he is entitled as mortgagee, by virtue of a power which has become exercisable, to sell an interest in the hereditament or unit, giving immediate vacant possession of the land;
- 3837 (2) he has made reasonable endeavours to sell that interest or the land is subject to compulsory purchase⁴ and the power of compulsory acquisition remain exercisable;
- 3838 (3) in consequence of the fact that the hereditament or unit or a part of it was, or was likely to be, comprised in blighted land, he has been unable to sell that interest except at a price substantially lower than that for which it might reasonably have been expected to sell if no part of the hereditament or unit were, or were likely to be, comprised in such land, he may⁵ serve on the appropriate authority⁶ a notice in the prescribed form⁷ requiring that authority to purchase that interest to the extent specified in, and otherwise in accordance with, the relevant statutory⁸ provisions⁹.

The above provisions apply in relation to an interest in part of a hereditament or unit as they apply in relation to an interest in the whole of a hereditament or unit¹⁰; but this does not enable a person:

- 3839 (a) if his interest as mortgagee is in the whole of a hereditament or agricultural unit, to make any claim or serve any notice¹¹ in respect of any interest in part of the hereditament or unit; or
- 3840 (b) if his interest as mortgagee is only in part of a hereditament or agricultural unit, to make or serve any such notice or claim in respect of any interest in less than the whole part¹².

Notice may not be so served unless the interest which the mortgagee claims he has the power to sell:

- 3841 (i) could be the subject of a blight notice¹³ served by the person entitled to the interest on the date of service of the notice; or
- 3842 (ii) could have been the subject of a blight notice served by that person on a date not more than six months before the date of service of the notice¹⁴.

The grounds on which objection may be made in a counter-notice¹⁵ to a notice under the above provisions are¹⁶ those specified in the relevant statutory provisions¹⁷ and also the following grounds:

- 3843 (A) that, on the date of service of the notice, the claimant¹⁸ had no interest¹⁹ as mortgagee in any part of the hereditament or agricultural unit to which the notice relates;

- 3844 (B) that, for reasons specified in the counter-notice, the claimant had not on that date the power referred to in head (1) above;
- 3845 (C) that the conditions specified in heads (2) and (3) above are not fulfilled;
- 3846 (D) that, for reasons specified in the counter-notice, neither of the conditions specified in heads (i) and (ii) above was, on the date of service of the notice, satisfied with regard to the interest referred to therein²⁰.

The following provisions have effect for the purposes of the application of the statutory provisions relating to blight notices¹ to a hereditament² or agricultural unit³ occupied for the purposes of a partnership firm⁴:

- 3847 (1) occupation for the purposes of the firm is treated as occupation by the firm, and not as occupation by any one or more of the partners individually, and the statutory definitions of 'owner-occupier'⁵ apply in relation to the firm accordingly⁶;
- 3848 (2) if, after service by the firm of a blight notice⁷, any change occurs, whether by death or otherwise, in the constitution of the firm, any proceedings, rights or obligations consequential upon that notice may be carried on or exercised by or against, or, as the case may be, are incumbent upon, the partners for the time being constituting the firm⁸.

UPDATE

1007 Power to acquire land affected by orders relating to new towns etc where blight notice served

TEXT AND NOTES--Where a blight notice has been served in respect of land falling within the 1990 Act Sch 13 para 25 (see PARA 986), the Secretary of State has power to acquire compulsorily any interest in the land in pursuance of the blight notice served by virtue of that provision: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 165A (added by the Planning Act 2008 s 175(1), (5)).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/11. RIGHTS TO REQUIRE PURCHASE OF INTERESTS/(2) INTERESTS AFFECTED BY PLANNING PROPOSALS; BLIGHT/ (vi) Compensation/1008. Compensation for acquisitions in pursuance of blight notices.

(vi) Compensation

1008. Compensation for acquisitions in pursuance of blight notices.

Where an interest in land¹ is acquired in pursuance of a blight notice² and the interest is one in respect of which:

3853 (1) a compulsory purchase order is in force³ containing a direction for minimum compensation⁴, the compensation payable for the acquisition must be assessed in accordance with that direction and as if the notice to treat deemed to have been served⁵ in respect of the interest had been served in pursuance of the compulsory purchase order⁶;

3854 (2) a compulsory purchase order is in force under the statutory provisions relating to the acquisition of land for clearance⁷, the compensation payable for the acquisition must be assessed in accordance with the Housing Act 1985 and as if the notice to treat deemed to have been served⁸ in respect of the interest had been served in pursuance of the compulsory purchase order⁹.

The compensation payable in respect of the acquisition¹⁰ of an interest in land comprised in:

3855 (a) the unaffected area¹¹ of an agricultural unit¹²; or

3856 (b) if the appropriate authority¹³ has served a counter-notice objecting to the blight notice on the specified grounds¹⁴, so much of the affected area of the unit as is not specified in the counter-notice, must be assessed on the normal statutory¹⁵ assumptions¹⁶.

12. STATUTORY UNDERTAKERS

(1) IN GENERAL

1009. Meaning of 'statutory undertakers'.

'Statutory undertakers' means¹ persons authorised by any enactment² to carry on any railway, light railway, tramway, road transport, water transport, canal, inland navigation, dock, harbour, pier or lighthouse undertaking, or any undertaking for the supply of hydraulic power, and a relevant³ airport operator⁴. 'Statutory undertaking' is to be construed accordingly and, in relation to a relevant airport operator, means an airport to which Part V of the Airports Act 1986⁵ applies⁶.

For the purposes of specified provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990⁷, and subject to certain exceptions and modifications⁸, any gas transporter⁹, water or sewerage undertaker¹⁰, the Environment Agency¹¹, any universal postal service provider in connection with the provision of a universal postal service¹², the Civil Aviation Authority¹³ and a person who holds a licence under the provisions of the Transport Act 2000 relating to air traffic services¹⁴ are deemed to be statutory undertakers and their undertakings statutory undertakings¹⁵.

Any holder of a licence under the Electricity Act 1989¹⁶ is deemed to be a statutory undertaker and his undertaking a statutory undertaking for specified purposes¹⁷ if the statutory conditions¹⁸ are fulfilled¹⁹.

1010. Meaning of 'operational land'.

'Operational land' means¹, in relation to statutory undertakers²;

- 3857 (1) land³ which is used for the purpose of carrying on their undertaking; and
- 3858 (2) land in which an interest is held for that purpose⁴;

but heads (1) and (2) above do not include land which, in respect of its nature and situation, is comparable rather with land in general than with land which is used, or in which interests are held, for the purpose of the carrying on of statutory undertakings⁵.

Further, heads (1) and (2) above do not apply:

- 3859 (a) in relation to a person who holds a licence under the provisions of the Transport Act 2000⁶ relating to air traffic services⁷;
- 3860 (b) in relation to a universal postal service provider⁸, and alternative definitions of 'operational land' apply for those purposes⁹. For the purposes of specified provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990¹⁰, however, 'operational land', in relation to a universal postal service provider and the Civil Aviation Authority¹¹, means land of the provider's or, as the case may be, of the Authority's of any such class as may be prescribed by regulations¹². Such regulations:

- 3861 (i) must be made, in the case of a universal postal service provider, by the appropriate minister¹³ and the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁴ acting jointly and in the case of the Civil Aviation Authority, by the appropriate minister;
- 3862 (ii) may define a class of land by reference to any circumstances whatsoever; and
- 3863 (iii) in the case of the Civil Aviation Authority, may make provision for different circumstances, including prescribing different classes of land for the purposes of different provisions¹⁵.

If, in relation to anything required or authorised to be done under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990, any question arises whether land of statutory undertakers is operational land, that question must be determined by the minister who is the appropriate minister in relation to those undertakers¹⁶.

Subject to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 264 (as amended) (see PARA 1011 post), in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 'operational land' means, in relation to a person who holds a licence under the Transport Act 2000 Ch I Pt I (as amended), land (1) which is used by the licence holder, or by a company associated with it, for the purpose of carrying out activities authorised by the licence; or (2) in which the licence holder, or a company associated with it, holds an interest for that purpose: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 263(2B) (as so added). If for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 a question arises whether land is operational land in relation to a person who holds such a licence the question must be decided by the Secretary of State: s 263(2C) as so added).

8 Ibid s 263(2D) (s 263(2D)-(2E) added by the Postal Services Act 2000 (Consequential Modifications No 1) Order 2001, SI 2001/1149, art 3(1), Sch 1 para 81(1), (2)). Subject to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 ss 263(3), (4), 264 (as amended), in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 'operational land' means, in relation to a universal postal service provider, land (1) which is used by the provider, or by a company associated with him, for any purpose in connection with the provision of a universal postal service; or (2) in which the provider, or a company associated with him, holds an interest for any such purpose: s 263(2E) (as so added).

- 3864 (1) the interest was acquired by them on or after 6 December 1968; or
- 3865 (2) it was held by them immediately before that date but the circumstances were then such that the land did not fall to be treated³ as operational land⁴, then, notwithstanding the general provisions relating to operational land⁵, the land is not treated⁶ as operational land unless:

- 3866 (a) there is, or at some time has been, in force with respect to it a specific planning permission⁷ for its development and that development, if carried out, would involve or have involved its use⁸ for the purpose of the carrying on of the statutory undertakers' undertaking⁹; or
- 3867 (b) the undertakers' interest in the land was acquired by them as the result of a transfer under specified statutory provisions¹⁰ from other statutory undertakers¹¹, and immediately before transfer the land was operational land of those other undertakers¹².

The above provisions do not apply:

- 3868 (i) in the case of certain Post Office land¹³;
- 3869 (ii) where an interest in land is held by the Civil Aviation Authority¹⁴, or by a person who holds a licence under the relevant provisions of the Transport Act 2000 relating to air traffic services¹⁵ or a company associated with that person, for the purpose of determining whether the land is¹⁶ operational land in relation to the authority or the licence holder¹⁷.

1012. Meaning of 'the appropriate minister'.

Specified powers¹ under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 may be exercised by the appropriate minister or, in relation to Wales, by the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales².

Subject to certain exceptions³, for these purposes, 'the appropriate minister' means:

- 3870 (1) in relation to statutory undertakers⁴ carrying on any railway, light railway, tramway, road transport, dock, harbour, pier or lighthouse undertaking, the Civil Aviation Authority⁵, a person who holds a licence under the provisions of the Transport Act 2000 relating to air traffic services⁶ or a relevant airport operator⁷, the Secretary of State for Transport⁸;
- 3871 (2) in relation to statutory undertakers carrying on an undertaking for the supply of hydraulic power, the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry⁹;
- 3872 (3) in relation to a universal postal service provider, the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry¹⁰; and
- 3873 (4) in relation to any other statutory undertakers, the First Secretary of State¹¹.

For specified purposes only, 'the appropriate minister':

- 3874 (a) means¹², in relation to a gas transporter¹³ or a holder of a licence under the Electricity Act 1989¹⁴, the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry¹⁵;
- 3875 (b) means¹⁶, in relation to the Environment Agency¹⁷, the Secretary of State or the Secretary of State for the Environment, Food and Rural Affairs¹⁸;
- 3876 (c) means¹⁹, in relation to a water or sewerage undertaker, the Secretary of State²⁰, whose functions are transferred, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales²¹.

References in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 to the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister are to be construed, in relation to England:

- 3877 (i) if the appropriate minister is not the one concerned as the Secretary of State, as references to the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister; and
- 3878 (ii) if the one concerned as the Secretary of State is also the appropriate minister, as references to him alone, and similarly with references to a minister²² and the appropriate minister and with any provision requiring the Secretary of State to act jointly with the appropriate minister²³. Certain functions of the Secretary of State in relation to Wales are, however, transferred to the National Assembly for Wales²⁴.

If, in relation to anything required or authorised to be done under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990, any question arises as to which minister is or was the appropriate minister in relation to any statutory undertakers, that question must be determined by the Treasury²⁵; and this function is not transferred, in relation to Wales, to the Assembly²⁶.

1014. Conditional grants of planning permission.

Notwithstanding anything in the statutory provisions relating to control of development¹, planning permission² to develop³ operational land⁴ of statutory undertakers⁵ may not, except with their consent, be granted subject to conditions requiring:

- 3884 (1) that any buildings or works⁶ authorised by the permission are to be removed; or 3885 (2) that any use⁷ of the land so authorised is to be discontinued, at the end of a specified period⁸.

The above provisions do not apply in relation to the display of advertisements⁹ on operational land of statutory undertakers¹⁰.

STATUTORY UNDERTAKERS/(2) APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS CONTROLLING DEVELOPMENT/1015. Development requiring authorisation of government department.

1015. Development requiring authorisation of government department.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales², and the appropriate minister³ are not required⁴ to deal with an application for planning permission⁵ for the development⁶ of operational land⁷ if the authorisation of a government department⁸ is required in respect of that development⁹; but this provision does not apply where the relevant authorisation has been granted without any direction as to the grant of planning permission¹⁰.

For these purposes, development is taken to be authorised by a government department if:

- 3886 (1) any consent, authority or approval to or for the development is granted by the department in pursuance of an enactment¹¹;
 3887 (2) a compulsory purchase order is confirmed by the department authorising the purchase of land¹² for the purpose of the development;
 3888 (3) consent is granted by the department to the appropriation of land for the purpose of the development or the acquisition of land by agreement for that purpose;

- 3889 (4) authority is given by the department for the borrowing of money for the purpose of the development, or for the application for that purpose of any money not otherwise so applicable; or
- 3890 (5) any undertaking is given by the department to pay a grant in respect of the development in accordance with an enactment authorising the payment of such grants, and references to the authorisation of a government department are to be construed accordingly¹³.

STATUTORY UNDERTAKERS/(3) MODIFICATIONS OF COMPULSORY PURCHASE PROCEDURES/1018. Modifications of compulsory purchase procedures in relation to land of statutory undertakers.

(3) MODIFICATIONS OF COMPULSORY PURCHASE PROCEDURES

1018. Modifications of compulsory purchase procedures in relation to land of statutory undertakers.

Certain statutory provisions¹ do not apply to a compulsory purchase order:

- 3894 (1) under:
284
45. (a) the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990;
46. (b) certain provisions of the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980²;
47. (c) certain provisions of the Welsh Development Agency Act 1975³,
- 285
- 3895 authorising the acquisition of land which has been acquired by statutory undertakers⁴ for the purposes of their undertaking; and
- 3896 (2) confirmed or made by the appropriate minister⁵ jointly with the minister or ministers who would otherwise have power to make or confirm it⁶.

Where, in accordance with these provisions, a compulsory acquisition is effected under a compulsory purchase order confirmed or made without the appropriate minister's certificate, special statutory provisions with regard to compensation⁷ apply⁸.

Where any land an interest in which was held, or which was used, for the carrying on of a statutory undertaking is purchased compulsorily under the enactments relating to the acquisition of land for planning purposes, the undertakers may be relieved of obligations, or their rights and duties may be extended or modified by ministerial order⁹.

(4) EXTINGUISHMENT OF STATUTORY UNDERTAKERS' RIGHTS

1019. Extinguishment of rights; preliminary notices.

Where any land¹ has been acquired by a minister², a local authority³ or statutory undertakers⁴ under the statutory provisions relating to the acquisition and appropriation of land for planning purposes⁵, or compulsorily under any other enactment⁶ or has been appropriated by a local authority for planning purposes⁷, and:

- 3897 (1) there subsists over that land a right vested in or belonging to statutory undertakers for the purpose of the carrying on of their undertaking, being a right of way or a right of laying down, erecting, continuing or maintaining any apparatus on, under or over the land; or
- 3898 (2) there is on, under or over the land apparatus vested in or belonging to statutory undertakers for the purpose of the carrying on of their undertaking, the following provisions apply⁸.

If the acquiring or appropriating authority⁹ is satisfied that the extinguishment of the right or, as the case may be, the removal of the apparatus is necessary for the purpose of carrying out any development¹⁰ with a view to which the land was acquired or appropriated, the authority may serve on the statutory undertakers a notice:

- 3899 (a) stating that at the end of the relevant period¹¹ the right will be extinguished; or
- 3900 (b) requiring that before the end of that period the apparatus is to be removed¹².

The statutory undertakers on whom such a notice is served may, before the end of the period of 28 days from the date of service of the notice, serve a counter-notice on the acquiring or appropriating authority stating that they object to all or any of the provisions of the notice and specifying the grounds of their objection¹³.

If no such counter-notice is served, any right to which the notice relates is extinguished at the end of the relevant period; and, if at the end of that period any requirement of the notice as to the removal of any apparatus has not been complied with, the acquiring or appropriating authority may remove the apparatus and dispose of it in any way the authority may think fit¹⁴.

If, however, such a counter-notice is served:

- 3901 (i) on a local authority or on statutory undertakers, the authority or undertakers may either withdraw the notice, without prejudice to the service of a further notice, or apply to the Secretary of State¹⁵ (or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁶) and the appropriate minister¹⁷ for an order¹⁸ embodying the provisions of the notice, with or without modification¹⁹;
- 3902 (ii) on a minister, he may withdraw the notice, without prejudice to the service of a further notice, or he and the appropriate minister may make an order²⁰ embodying the provisions of the notice, with or without modification²¹.

1020. Extinguishment of rights of electronic communications code network operators; preliminary notices.

Where any land¹ has been acquired by a minister², a local authority³ or statutory undertakers⁴ under the statutory provisions relating to the acquisition and appropriation of land for planning purposes⁵, or compulsorily under any other enactment⁶ or has been appropriated by a local authority for planning purposes⁷, and:

- 3903 (1) there subsists over that land a right conferred by or in accordance with the electronic communications code⁸ on the operator of an electronic communications code network, being a right of way or a right of laying down, erecting, continuing or maintaining any apparatus on, under or over the land; or
- 3904 (2) there is on, under or over the land electronic communications apparatus kept installed for the purposes of any such network, the following provisions apply⁹.

If the acquiring or appropriating authority¹⁰ is satisfied that the extinguishment of the right or, as the case may be, the removal of the apparatus is necessary for the purpose of carrying out any development¹¹ with a view to which the land was acquired or appropriated, the authority may serve on the operator of the electronic communications code network a notice stating that at the end of the relevant period¹² the right will be extinguished, or requiring that before the end of that period the apparatus is to be removed¹³. The operator of the electronic communications code network on whom such a notice is served may, before the end of the period of 28 days from the date of service of the notice, serve a counter-notice on the acquiring or appropriating authority stating that he objects to all or any of the provisions of the notice and specifying the grounds of his objection¹⁴.

If no such counter-notice is served, any right to which the notice relates is extinguished at the end of the relevant period; and, if at the end of that period any requirement of the notice as to the removal of any apparatus has not been complied with, the acquiring or appropriating authority may remove the apparatus and dispose of it in any way the authority may think fit¹⁵. If, however, such a counter-notice is served:

- 3905 (a) on a local authority or on statutory undertakers, the authority or undertakers may either withdraw the notice, without prejudice to the service of a further notice, or apply to the Secretary of State¹⁶ (or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁷) and the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry¹⁸ for an order¹⁹ embodying the provisions of the notice, with or without modification²⁰;
- 3906 (b) on a minister, he may withdraw the notice, without prejudice to the service of a further notice, or he and the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry may make an order²¹ embodying the provisions of the notice, with or without modification²².

UPDATE

1018-1020 Modifications of compulsory purchase procedures in relation to land of statutory undertakers ... Extinguishment of rights of electronic communications code network operators; preliminary notices

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/12. STATUTORY UNDERTAKERS/(4) EXTINGUISHMENT OF STATUTORY UNDERTAKERS' RIGHTS/1021. Orders for extinguishment of rights.

1021. Orders for extinguishment of rights.

Where a minister¹ and the appropriate minister² propose to make an order after a counter-notice has been served on a minister³, they must prepare a draft of the order⁴.

Before making an order for the extinguishment of rights⁵, the ministers proposing to make the order must give the statutory undertakers⁶ or, as the case may be, the operator of the electronic communications code network⁷, on whom notice was served⁸ an opportunity of objecting to the application for, or proposal to make, the order⁹. If any such objection is made, before making the order the ministers must consider the objection and give those statutory undertakers or, as the case may be, that operator, and, in specified cases where a counter-notice was served¹⁰, the local authority¹¹ or statutory undertakers on whom it was served, an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed for the purpose by the Secretary of State and the appropriate minister (or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales)¹².

After complying with these requirements¹³, the ministers may, if they think fit, make the order in accordance with the application or, as the case may be, in accordance with the draft order, either with or without modification¹⁴. Where such an order is made:

- 3907 (1) any right to which the order relates is extinguished at the end of the period specified in that behalf in the order; and
- 3908 (2) if, at the end of the period so specified in relation to any apparatus, any requirement of the order as to the removal of the apparatus has not been complied with, the acquiring or appropriating authority¹⁵ may remove the apparatus and dispose of it in any way the authority may think fit¹⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'minister' see PARA 3 note 5 ante.

2 For these purposes, references to the appropriate minister are to be taken, in the case of an order under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 272 (as amended) (see PARA 1020 ante), as references to the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry: s 274(6). For the meaning of 'the appropriate minister' generally see PARA 1012 ante. Certain ministerial functions under s 274 are transferred, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales: see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended). As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. Functions of the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 272 are not, however, so transferred: see PARA 1020 note 21 ante.

STATUTORY UNDERTAKERS/(4) EXTINGUISHMENT OF STATUTORY UNDERTAKERS' RIGHTS/1022. Notice given by statutory undertakers to developing authority.

1022. Notice given by statutory undertakers to developing authority.

Where land¹ has been acquired or appropriated² and:

- 3909 (1) there is on, under or over the land any apparatus vested in or belonging to statutory undertakers³; and
- 3910 (2) the undertakers claim that development⁴ to be carried out on the land is such as to require, on technical or other grounds connected with the carrying on of their undertaking, the removal or resiting of the apparatus affected by the development.

the undertakers may serve on the acquiring or appropriating authority⁵ a notice claiming the right to enter on the land and carry out such works for the removal or resiting of the apparatus or any part of it as may be specified in the notice⁶. No such notice may, however, be served later than 21 days after the beginning of the development of land which has been so acquired or appropriated⁷.

Where such a notice is served, the authority on which it is served may, before the end of the period of 28 days from the date of service, serve on the statutory undertakers a counter-notice stating that it objects to all or any of the provisions of the notice, and specifying the grounds of the authority's objection⁸. If no such counter-notice is served, the statutory undertakers have, after the end of that period, the rights claimed in their notice⁹.

If, however, a counter-notice is so served, the statutory undertakers who served the notice may either withdraw it or may apply to the Secretary of State¹⁰ (or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹¹) and the appropriate minister¹² for an order¹³ conferring on the undertakers the rights claimed in the notice or such modified rights as the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) and the appropriate minister think it expedient to confer on them¹⁴.

Where statutory undertakers so have¹⁵ the right to execute works for the removal or resiting of apparatus, they may arrange with the acquiring or appropriating authority for the works to be carried out by that authority, under the superintendence of the undertakers, instead of by the undertakers themselves¹⁶.

(5) EXTENSION OR MODIFICATION OF STATUTORY UNDERTAKERS' FUNCTIONS

1023. Power to extend or modify functions.

Where the relevant statutory powers¹ are exercisable, the Secretary of State² (or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³) and the appropriate minister⁴ may, if they think fit, by order⁵ provide for such extension or modification of the powers and duties of the statutory undertakers⁶ as appears to them to be requisite in order to secure the services⁷ or the adjustment⁸ in question, as the case may be⁹.

The statutory powers are exercisable:

- 3911 (1) where, on a representation made by statutory undertakers, it appears to the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) and the appropriate minister to be expedient that the powers and duties of those undertakers should be extended or modified, in order:
- 286
48. (a) to secure the provision of services which would not otherwise be provided or satisfactorily provided, for any purpose in connection with which a local authority¹⁰ or minister¹¹ may be authorised¹² to acquire land¹³, or in connection with which any such person may compulsorily acquire land under any other enactment¹⁴; or
49. (b) to facilitate an adjustment of the carrying on of the undertaking necessitated by any of the specified¹⁵ acts and events¹⁶;
- 287
- 3912 (2) where, on a representation made by a local authority or minister, it appears to the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) and the appropriate minister to be expedient that the powers and duties of statutory undertakers should be extended or modified in order to secure the provision of new services, or the extension of existing services, for any purpose in connection with which the local authority or the minister making the representation may be authorised¹⁷ to acquire land or in connection with which the local authority or minister may compulsorily acquire land under any other enactment¹⁸.

Without prejudice to the generality of these provisions, an order so made may make provision:

- 3913 (i) for empowering the statutory undertakers to acquire, whether compulsorily or by agreement, any land specified in the order, and to erect or construct any buildings or works¹⁹ so specified;
- 3914 (ii) for applying in relation to the acquisition of any such land or the construction of any such works enactments relating to the acquisition of land and the construction of works;
- 3915 (iii) where it has been represented that the making of the order is expedient for purposes relating to the provision of services²⁰, for giving effect to such financial arrangements between the local authority or minister and the statutory undertakers as they may agree, or as, in default of agreement, may be determined to be equitable in such manner and by such tribunal as may be specified in the order;
- 3916 (iv) for such incidental and supplemental matters as appear to the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) and the appropriate minister to be expedient for the purposes of the order²¹.

STATUTORY UNDERTAKERS/(5) EXTENSION OR MODIFICATION OF STATUTORY UNDERTAKERS' FUNCTIONS/1025. Relief of statutory undertakers from obligations rendered impracticable.

1025. Relief of statutory undertakers from obligations rendered impracticable.

Where, on a representation made by statutory undertakers¹, the appropriate minister² is satisfied that the fulfilment of any obligation incurred by those undertakers in connection with the carrying on of their undertaking has been rendered impracticable by an act or event to which these provisions apply³, the appropriate minister may, if he thinks fit, direct by order that the statutory undertakers shall be relieved of the fulfilment of that obligation, either absolutely or to such extent as may be specified in the order⁴.

The appropriate minister may direct statutory undertakers who have made such a representation to him to publicise it in either or both of the following ways:

- 3919 (1) by publishing in such form and manner as he may direct a notice, giving such particulars as he may direct of the matters to which the representation relates, and specifying the time within which, and the manner in which, objections to the making of an order on the representation may be made⁵;
- 3920 (2) by serving such a notice on such persons, or persons of such classes, as he may direct⁶; and the statutory undertakers must comply with any direction so given to them as soon as possible after the making of the representation⁷. If any objection to the making of such an order is duly made and is not withdrawn before the order is made, the order, if made in relation to England, is subject to special parliamentary procedure⁸.

Immediately after an order is so made by the appropriate minister, he must:

- 3921 (a) publish a notice stating that the order has been made and naming a place where a copy of it may be seen at all reasonable hours; and
 - 3922 (b) serve a similar notice:
- 288
- 50. (i) on any person who duly made an objection to the order and has sent to the appropriate minister a request in writing to serve him with the notice so required, specifying an address for service; and
 - 51. (ii) on such other persons, if any, as the appropriate minister thinks fit⁹; and, except in the case of an order subject to special parliamentary procedure¹⁰, such an order becomes operative¹¹ on the date on which the notice so required is first published¹².
- 289

STATUTORY UNDERTAKERS/(5) EXTENSION OR MODIFICATION OF STATUTORY UNDERTAKERS' FUNCTIONS/1026. Objections to orders concerning functions or obligations of statutory undertakers.

1026. Objections to orders concerning functions or obligations of statutory undertakers.

Where an objection to the making of an order¹ is duly made² and is not withdrawn, the following provisions have effect in relation to it³.

Unless the appropriate minister⁴ decides without regard to the objection not to make the order, or decides to make a modification which is agreed to by the objector as meeting the objection, before he makes a final decision⁵, he:

- 3923 (1) must consider the grounds of the objection as set out in the statement of grounds⁶; and
- 3924 (2) may, if he thinks fit, require the objector to submit within a specified period a further statement in writing as to any of the matters to which the objection relates⁷.

Before making a final decision, the appropriate minister must give the objector an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed for the purpose by the appropriate minister⁸; and, if the objector takes that opportunity, the appropriate minister must give an opportunity of appearing and being heard on the same occasion to the statutory undertakers⁹, local authority¹⁰ or minister¹¹ on whose representation the order is proposed to be made, and to any other persons to whom it appears to him to be expedient to give such an opportunity¹². In so far, however, as the appropriate minister, after considering the grounds of the objection as set out in the original statement and in any such further statement, is satisfied that the objection relates to a matter which can be dealt with in the assessment of compensation¹³, he may treat the objection as irrelevant for the purpose of making a final decision¹⁴; and if:

- 3925 (a) after considering the grounds of the objection as so set out, the appropriate minister is satisfied that, for the purpose of making a final decision, he is sufficiently informed as to the matters to which the objection relates; or
- 3926 (b) in a case where a further statement has been required, it is not submitted within the specified period, the appropriate minister may make a final decision without further investigation as to those matters¹⁵.

If it appears to the appropriate minister that the matters to which the objection relates are such as to require investigation by public local inquiry¹⁶ before he makes a final decision, he must¹⁷ cause such an inquiry to be held¹⁸; and, where he determines to cause such an inquiry to be held, any of the statutory requirements¹⁹ to which effect has not been given at the time of that determination must be dispensed with²⁰.

1 le for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 ss 275-277: see PARAS 1023-1025 ante.

2 For the purposes of ibid ss 275-277, an objection to the making of an order is not treated as duly made unless (1) the objection is made within the time and in the manner specified in the notice required by s 276 (see PARA 1024 ante) or, as the case may be, s 277 (see PARA 1025 ante); and (2) a statement in writing of the grounds of the objection is comprised in or submitted with the objection: s 278(1).

3 Ibid s 278(2).

4 In the application of ibid s 278 to an order under s 275 (see PARA 1023 ante), any reference to the appropriate minister is to be construed as a reference to the Secretary of State (or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales) and the appropriate minister: s 278(11). For the meaning of 'the appropriate minister' see PARA 1012 ante; as to the transfer of functions under s 278, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

5 For these purposes, any reference to making a final decision in relation to an order is a reference to deciding whether to make the order or what modification, if any, ought to be made: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 278(10).

(6) COMPENSATION

1027. Right to compensation in respect of certain decisions and orders.

Statutory undertakers¹ are entitled² to compensation from the local planning authority³ in respect of:

3927 (1) any decision⁴ by which planning permission⁵ to develop⁶ operational land⁷ of those undertakers is refused or is granted subject to conditions where:

290

52. (a) planning permission for that development would have been granted by a development order⁸ or a local development order⁹ but for a direction given under such an order that planning permission so granted should not apply to the development; and

53. (b) it is not development which has received specific parliamentary approval¹⁰;

3928 (2) any order¹¹ by which planning permission which was granted on the application of those undertakers for the development of any such land is revoked or modified¹².

Where any right vested in or belonging to statutory undertakers is extinguished¹³, or any requirement is imposed¹⁴ on statutory undertakers, those undertakers are entitled to compensation from the acquiring or appropriating authority¹⁵ at whose instance the right was extinguished or the requirement imposed¹⁶.

Where any right vested in or belonging to an operator of an electronic communications code network¹⁷ is extinguished¹⁸, or any requirement is imposed¹⁹ on such an operator, the operator is entitled to compensation from the acquiring or appropriating authority at whose instance the right was extinguished or the requirement imposed²⁰.

Where works are carried out for the removal or resiting of statutory undertakers' apparatus, and the undertakers have the right to carry out those works²¹, the undertakers are entitled to compensation from the acquiring or appropriating authority²².

The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 279(1) (as so amended) does not apply in respect of a decision or order if (1) it relates to land acquired by the statutory undertakers after 7 January 1947; and (2) the Secretary of State (or, in relation to Wales, the Assembly) and the appropriate minister include in the decision or order a direction that s 279(1) (as so amended) shall not apply to it: s 279(5). The Secretary of State (or the Assembly) and the appropriate minister may only give such a direction if they are satisfied, having regard to the nature, situation and existing development of the land and of any neighbouring land, and to any other material considerations, that it is unreasonable that compensation should be recovered in respect of the decision or order in question: s 279(6). 1028. Measure of compensation.

Where statutory undertakers¹ are entitled to compensation in respect of certain decisions or orders² or in respect of a compulsory acquisition³ of land⁴ which has been acquired by those undertakers for the purposes of their undertaking, where the first-mentioned acquisition is effected under a compulsory purchase order confirmed or made without the appropriate minister's certificate⁵, or the operator of an electronic communications code network⁶ is entitled to compensation⁷, the amount of the compensation is⁸ an amount calculated in accordance with the following provisions⁹.

That amount is the aggregate of:

- 3929 (1) the amount of any expenditure reasonably incurred in acquiring land, providing apparatus, erecting buildings¹⁰ or doing work for the purpose of any adjustment of the carrying on of the undertaking or, as the case may be, the provision of the electronic communications code network rendered necessary by the proceeding giving rise to compensation¹¹ (a 'business adjustment');
- 3930 (2) the appropriate amount for loss of profits¹²; and
- 3931 (3) where the compensation is in respect of the imposition of a requirement to remove apparatus¹³, the amount of any expenditure reasonably incurred by the statutory undertakers or, as the case may be, the operator in complying with the requirement, reduced by the value after removal of the apparatus removed¹⁴.

Where a business adjustment is made, that aggregate amount must be reduced by such amount, if any, as appears to the Lands Tribunal to be appropriate to offset:

- 3932 (a) the estimated value of any property, whether movable or immovable, belonging to the statutory undertakers or the operator and used for the carrying on of the undertaking or, as the case may be, the provision of the electronic communications code network, which in consequence of the adjustment ceases to be so used, in so far as the value of the property has not been taken into account under head (3) above; and
- 3933 (b) the estimated amount of any increase in net receipts from the carrying on of the undertaking or, as the case may be, the provision of the electronic communications code network in the period after the adjustment has been completed, in so far as that amount has not been taken into account in determining the amount mentioned in head (2) above and is directly attributable to the adjustment¹⁵;

and must be further reduced by any amount which appears to the Lands Tribunal to be appropriate, having regard to any increase in the capital value of immovable property belonging to the statutory undertakers or the operator which is directly attributable to the adjustment, allowance being made for any reduction made under head (b) above¹⁶.

Where the compensation is for works related to the removal or resiting of apparatus¹⁷ and the acquiring or appropriating authority¹⁸ carries out the works, then, in addition to any reduction falling to be made under the above provisions¹⁹, the aggregate amount must be reduced by the actual cost to the authority of carrying out the works²⁰.

13. LICENSING AND CONTROL OF CARAVAN SITES

(1) IN GENERAL

1031. General planning controls on caravan sites.

In addition to the statutory regime discussed below¹, caravan sites are subject to development control in the normal way². Thus planning permission³ is normally required for the use of land as a caravan site⁴, although in certain circumstances such use is permitted development for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995⁵. The general permission granted by the 1995 Order for temporary uses of land⁶ does not, however, extend to such use as a caravan site⁷.

Before a local planning authority⁸ grants planning permission for the use of land as a caravan site⁹, the authority must, unless it is also the authority with power to issue a site licence¹⁰ for that land, consult¹¹ the local authority¹² with that power¹³. An application for permission to develop a permanent camp site or caravan site, where the area of the development exceeds 1 hectare, requires an environmental impact assessment¹⁴.

A temporary stop notice may prohibit the stationing of caravans on land¹⁵; but where a caravan is already stationed on the land before the issue of the notice and is at that time occupied by a person as his main residence, there must be a serious risk of harm to a compelling public interest in order for such a prohibition to be effective in relation to that caravan¹⁶.

1 Ie the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960: see PARA 1032 et seq post.

2 As to the overlap between planning legislation and controls under the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 see Esdell Caravan Parks Ltd v Hemel Hempstead Rural District Council [1966] 1 QB 895, [1965] 3 All ER 737, CA.

3 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

4 The enforcement of planning controls against gypsies and other travelling people will often involve a balancing exercise between, on the one hand, the claimants' Convention rights under the Human Rights Act 1998 to respect for private and family life and to the peaceful enjoyment of possessions and, on the other hand, the interests of the community as a whole. For a discussion of recent case law see PARA 7 the text and notes 24-26 ante; and as to the meaning of 'gypsy' see PARA 1053 note 9 post. As to whether there is a general evidential burden upon a gypsy, who has taken up unauthorised occupation of a site within a Green Belt area, to establish that he has carried out searches for alternative sites see R (on the application of Simmons) v First Secretary of State [2005] EWHC 287 (Admin), (2005) Times, 15 April, [2005] All ER (D) 38 (Mar).

In considering whether to grant an application for planning permission, fear of crime may be a material consideration (see PARA 485 ante); however, a caravan site is not like a polluting factory or bail hostel, likely of its very nature to produce difficulties for its neighbours, and it is not right to view land use for the purpose of a gypsy caravan site as inherently creating the real concern that attaches to an institution such as a bail hostel: see Smith v First Secretary of State [2005] EWCA Civ 859 at [10], [2005] All ER (D) 313 (Jul) per Buxton LJ. Planning permission may be granted retrospectively under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 73A (as added): see PARA 525 ante.

Where caravans are dotted about a field with open spaces between them, the whole field is the caravan site: Thomas David (Porthcawl) Ltd v Penybont RDC [1972] 3 All ER 1092 at 1095, [1972] 1 WLR 1526 at 1530, CA, obiter per Lord Denning MR. The purpose for which a caravan has been stationed on land may be relevant in determining whether there has been a material change of use: Restormel Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment and Rabey [1982] JPL 785. See also Wealden District Council v Secretary of State for the Environment and Colin Day [1988] JPL 268, CA (use of caravan for storage of feed and shelter). A significant increase in the number of caravans stationed on a site would be a material change of use: see Childs v First Secretary of State [2005] All ER (D) 190 (Oct).

Notwithstanding anything in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 57(7), Sch 4 paras 1-3 (special provisions about established uses), the use of land as a caravan site is not treated, by virtue of Sch 4 paras 1-3, as a use for which planning permission is not required, unless the land was so used on one occasion at least during the period of two years ending with 9 March 1960: see Sch 4 para 4; and PARA 237 ante.

1031 General planning controls on caravan sites

NOTE 4--Smith, cited, reported at [2006] JPL 386.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/13. LICENSING AND CONTROL OF CARAVAN SITES/(1) IN GENERAL/1032. Prohibition of use of land as caravan site without licence.

1032. Prohibition of use of land as caravan site without licence.

No occupier¹ of land may² cause or permit³ any part of the land to be used as a caravan site⁴ unless he is the holder of a site licence⁵ for the time being in force as respects the land so used⁶. If the occupier of any land contravenes this provision, he is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 4 on the standard scale⁷. Where, however, a local authority⁸, being required⁹ to issue a site licence in respect of any land, fails to do so within the requisite period¹⁰, no such offence is committed in respect of the land by the person by whom the application for the site licence was made at any time after the expiration of that period and before a site licence is issued in pursuance of that application¹¹.

1 For these purposes, the expression 'occupier' means, in relation to any land, the person who, by virtue of an estate or interest therein held by him, is entitled to possession thereof or would be so entitled but for the rights of any other person under any licence granted in respect of the land; but, where land amounting to not more than 400 square yards in area is let under a tenancy entered into with a view to the use of the land as a caravan site, 'occupier' means, in relation to that land, the person who would be entitled to possession of the land but for the rights of any person under that tenancy; and 'occupied' and 'occupation' are to be construed accordingly: Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 ss 1(3), 29(1). As to the responsibility of the occupier of land subject to a licence or special tenancy see PARA 1034 post; as to the occupier's right of entry to ensure compliance with the conditions attached to a site licence see PARA 1048 post; and as to Crown land see PARA 1035 post.

4 For these purposes, the expression 'caravan site' means land on which a caravan is stationed for the purposes of human habitation and land which is used in conjunction with land on which a caravan is so stationed: Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 ss 1(4), 29(1). As to the extent of the use which is necessary see Biss v Smallburgh RDC [1965] Ch 335, [1964] 2 All ER 543, CA. For the meaning of 'caravan' see PARA 1033 post.

5 For these purposes, 'site licence' means a licence under the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 Pt I (ss 1-32) (as amended) authorising the use of land as a caravan site: ss 1(1), 29(1).

6 Ibid s 1(1). The Public Health Act 1936 s 269 (as amended) (licensing of movable dwellings: see ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH vol 46 (2010) PARA 960 et seq) no longer has effect in relation to caravans but continues to apply to tents and sheds: see the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 30(1).

7 Ibid s 1(2) (amended by the Criminal Justice Act 1982 ss 38, 46). For the meaning of 'the standard scale' see PARA 53 note 10 ante. As to authorised local authority officers' right of entry for the purpose of ascertaining whether there is or has been a contravention of the licensing provisions see PARA 1037 post at head (2) in the text.

8 For these purposes, 'local authority' means a council of a London borough or a district, the Common Council of the City of London and the Council of the Isles of Scilly but, in relation to Wales, means the council of a Welsh county or county borough: Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 29(1) (definition amended by the London Government Act 1963 s 83(1), Sch 17 para 21(1); the Greater London Council (General Powers) Act 1976 s 11; and the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 66(6), Sch 16, PARA 16(3)). 1033. Meaning of 'caravan'.

For the purposes of the statutory provisions relating to the licensing of caravan sites¹, 'caravan' means any structure designed or adapted for human habitation which is capable of being moved from one place to another, whether by being towed, or by being transported on a motor vehicle or trailer, and any motor vehicle so designed or adapted, but does not include:

- 3934 (1) any railway rolling stock which is for the time being on rails forming part of a railway system; or
 - 3935 (2) any tent²; or
 - 3936 (3) a structure designed or adapted for human habitation which:
- 292
- 54. (a) is composed of not more than two sections separately constructed and designed to be assembled on a site by means of bolts, clamps or other devices; and
 - 55. (b) is, when assembled, physically capable of being moved by road from one place to another whether by being towed, or by being transported on a motor vehicle or trailer, if its dimensions when assembled³ exceed any of the prescribed⁴ limits⁵.
- 293

A structure falling within heads (3)(a) and 3(b) above is not, however, treated as not being, or as not having been, a caravan for those purposes by reason only that it cannot lawfully be so moved on a highway when assembled⁶.

A motor vehicle is not a caravan unless it has been designed, or physically altered so as to adapt it, for human habitation⁷.

1 le the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 Pt I (ss 1-32) (as amended): see PARA 1032 ante; the text and notes 2-6 infra; and PARA 1034 et seq post.

2 Ibid s 29(1). The word 'caravan', when appearing in a planning application or permission, is to be construed in accordance with the statutory definition in s 29(1) and not in accordance with its ordinary and natural meaning: Wyre Forest District Council v Secretary of State for the Environment [1990] 2 AC 357, [1990] 1 All ER 780, HL, disapproving Hammond v Horsham District Council (1989) 58 P & CR 410, DC.

3 The prescribed limits are: (1) length, exclusive of any drawbar, 60 feet (18.288 metres); (2) width 20 feet (6.096 metres); (3) overall height of living accommodation, measured internally from the floor at the lowest level to the ceiling at the highest level, 10 feet (3.048 metres); Caravan Sites Act 1968 s 13(2)(a)-(c). The Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales, may by order made by statutory instrument, after consultation with such persons or bodies as appear to him or it to be concerned, substitute for any figure mentioned in s 13(2) such other figure as may be specified in the order (ss 13(3), 16); and any statutory instrument so made by the Secretary of State is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament (s 13(4)). At the date at which this title states the law no such order had been made. 4 The words 'when assembled' require mobility to be tested by reference to the circumstances of where and how the structure has been assembled and do not simply mean 'in its assembled state': Byrne v Secretary of State for the Environment and Arun District Council (1997) 74 P & CR 420.

1034. Responsibility of occupier of land subject to a licence or special tenancy.

It is a condition of any licence or of any tenancy of land which is entered into with a view to the use of the land as a caravan site¹ that, if any person in exercise of rights under the licence or tenancy does anything which would constitute an offence under the statutory provisions relating to the licensing of caravan sites² if that person were the occupier³ of the land, the person who is the occupier of the land may take possession of the land and terminate the licence or tenancy⁴.

1 Ie any such tenancy as is mentioned in the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 1(3): see PARA 1032 note 1 ante. For the meaning of 'caravan site' see PARA 1032 note 4 ante.

2 Ie under ibid s 1 (as amended): see PARA 1032 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'occupier' see PARA 1032 note 1 ante.

4 Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 12(1). In determining whether the occupier of the land has permitted the land to be used as a caravan site, account must be taken of any powers so exercisable by him: s 12(1). Section 12(1) has effect subject to the Caravan Sites Act 1968 ss 1-5(3) (as amended) (provisions for protection of residential occupiers: see LANDLORD AND TENANT vol 27(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1281 et seq): s 5(4).

1035. Crown land.

The statutory provisions relating to the licensing of caravan sites¹ apply to land the occupier² of which is not the Crown notwithstanding that an interest in the land belongs to Her Majesty in right of the Crown or the Duchy of Lancaster, or to the Duchy of Cornwall, or belongs to a government department or is held in trust for Her Majesty for the purposes of a government department³.

1036. Exemptions.

No site licence¹ is required for the use as a caravan site² of land:

3937 (1) if the use is incidental to the enjoyment as such of a dwelling house within the curtilage of which the land is situated³;

3938 (2) by a person travelling with a caravan who brings it on to the land for a period which includes not more than two nights if:

56. (a) during that period no other caravan is stationed for the purposes of human habitation on that land or any adjoining land in the same occupation⁴; and

57. (b) in the period of 12 months ending with the day on which the caravan is brought on to the land, the number of days on which a caravan was stationed anywhere on that land or that adjoining land for the purposes of human habitation did not exceed 28⁵;

295

3939 (3) which comprises, together with any adjoining land which is in the same occupation and has not been built on, not less than five acres⁶ if:

296

58. (a) in the period of 12 months ending with the day on which the land is used as a caravan site the number of days on which a caravan was stationed anywhere on that land or on that adjoining land for the purposes of human habitation did not exceed 28⁷; and

59. (b) if in that period of 12 months not more than three caravans were so stationed at any one time⁸;

3940 (4) which is occupied by an organisation which holds for the time being a certificate of exemption⁹ (an 'exempted organisation') if the use is for purposes of recreation and is under the supervision of the organisation¹⁰;

3941 (5) as respects which there is in force a certificate issued¹¹ by an exempted organisation stating that the land has been approved by the exempted organisation for use by its members for the purposes of recreation if not more than five

- caravans are at the time stationed for the purposes of human habitation on the land to which the certificate relates¹²;
- 3942 (6) if the use is under the supervision of an exempted organisation and is in pursuance of arrangements made by that organisation for a meeting for its members lasting not more than five days¹³;
- 3943 (7) if the use is of agricultural land for the accommodation during a particular season of a person or persons employed in farming operations on land in the same occupation¹⁴;
- 3944 (8) for the accommodation during a particular season of a person or persons employed on land in the same occupation, being land used for the purposes of forestry, including afforestation¹⁵;
- 3945 (9) which forms part of, or adjoins, land on which building or engineering operations¹⁶ are being carried out if that use is for the accommodation of a person or persons employed in connection with those operations¹⁷;
- 3946 (10) by a travelling showman who is a member of an organisation of travelling showmen which holds for the time being a certificate granted for these purposes¹⁸, and who is, at the time, travelling for the purposes of his business or who has taken up winter quarters on the land with his equipment for some period falling between the beginning of October in any year and the end of March in the following year¹⁹;
- 3947 (11) occupied²⁰ by the local authority²¹ in whose area the land is situated²²; or
- 3948 (12) occupied by a county council²³ as a caravan site providing accommodation for gypsies²⁴.

On the application of a local authority, the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales may by order provide that, in relation to such land situated in its area as may be specified in the order, the above provisions shall have effect as if heads (2) to (10) above, or such one or more of them as may be so specified, were omitted²⁵.

1 For the meaning of 'site licence' see PARA 1032 note 5 ante.

6 The Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales may by order contained in a statutory instrument provide that, in any such area as may be specified in the order, ibid Sch 1 para 3 shall have effect subject to the modification: (1) that for the reference to five acres there shall be substituted a reference to such smaller acreage as may be specified in the order; or (2) that for the condition specified in Sch 1 para 3(1)(a) (see head (3)(a) in the text) there shall be substituted a condition that the use in question falls between such dates in any year as may be specified in the order, or subject to modification in both such respects; and he or the Assembly may so make different orders as respects different areas and any such order may be varied by a subsequent order so made: Sch 1 para 3(2), (3). Such an order comes into force on such date as may be specified in the order, being a date not less than three months after the order is made; and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must publish notice of the order in a local newspaper circulating in the locality affected by the order and in such other ways as appear to him or to the Assembly to be expedient for the purpose of drawing the attention of the public to the order: Sch 1 para 3(4). At the date at which this title states the law, no such order had been made. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante; as to the transfer of functions under Sch 1 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

9 Ie an organisation which holds for the time being a certificate of exemption granted under ibid Sch 1 para 12. For the purposes of Sch 1 paras 4-6 (see heads (4)-(6) in the text), the Secretary of State or the Assembly may grant a certificate of exemption to any organisation as to which he or the Assembly is satisfied that its objects include the encouragement or promotion of recreational activities; and a certificate so granted may be withdrawn by him or by the Assembly at any time: Sch 1 para 12(1), (2).

10 Ibid Sch 1 para 4. Schedule 1 para 4 is subject to the provisions of Sch 1 para 13 (see the text and note 25 infra): Sch 1 para 4.

11 Ie under ibid Sch 1 para 5. For these purposes, an exempted organisation may issue as respects any land a certificate stating that the land has been approved by the exempted organisation for use by its members for the purposes of recreation: Sch 1 para 5(2). The certificate must be issued to the occupier of the land to which it relates, and the organisation must send particulars to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly of all certificates so issued by it: Sch 1 para 5(3). A certificate so issued by an exempted organisation must specify the date on which it is to come into force and the period for which it is to continue in force, being a period not exceeding one year: Sch 1 para 5(4). For the meaning of 'occupier' see PARA 1032 note 1 ante.

25 Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 Sch 1 para 13(1). Such an order (1) comes into force on such date as may be specified in it; and (2) may, on the application of the local authority on whose application it was made, be varied or revoked by a subsequent order so made: Sch 1 para 13(2)(a), (b). Except in the case of an order the sole effect of which is to revoke in whole or part a previous order, the local authority must, not less than three months before the order comes into force, cause a notice setting out the effect of the order and the date on which it comes into force to be published in the London Gazette and in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the land to which the order relates is situated: Sch 1 para 13(2).

The use of land as a caravan site in the circumstances specified in Sch 1 paras 2-10 (see heads (2)-(10) in the text) is permitted development for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, art 3(1), Sch 2 Pt 5, Class A, but in relation to the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 Sch 1 para 10, such use does not include use for winter quarters: see PARA 300 ante.

1037. Right of entry without warrant.

Any authorised officer of a local authority¹, on producing, if so required, some duly authenticated document showing his authority, has a right² at all reasonable hours to enter any land which is used as a caravan site³ or in respect of which an application for a site licence⁴ has been made, for the purpose of:

- 3949 (1) enabling the local authority to determine what conditions should be attached to a site licence or whether conditions so attached should be altered⁵;
- 3950 (2) ascertaining whether there is, or has been, on or in connection with the land any contravention of the statutory provisions⁶ relating to the licensing of caravan sites⁷;
- 3951 (3) ascertaining whether or not circumstances exist which would authorise the local authority to take any action, or execute any work, under those provisions⁸; or
- 3952 (4) taking any action, or executing any work, authorised by those provisions to be taken or executed by the local authority⁹.

Admission to any land may not, however, be demanded as of right unless 24 hours' notice of the intended entry has been given to the occupier¹⁰.

An authorised officer so entering any land may take with him such other persons as may be necessary¹¹.

A person who wilfully obstructs any person acting in the execution of the above rights is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 1 on the standard scale¹².

1038. Right of entry under warrant.

If it is shown to the satisfaction of a justice of the peace:

3953 (1) that admission to any land has been refused, or that refusal is apprehended, or that the occupier¹ of the land is temporarily absent and the case is one of urgency, or that an application for admission would defeat the object of the entry; and the justice may by warrant under his hand authorise the local authority³ by any authorised officer to enter the land, if need be by force⁴. Such a warrant may not, however, be issued unless the justice is satisfied either that notice of the intention to apply for the warrant has been given to the occupier, or that the occupier is temporarily absent and the case is one of urgency, or that the giving of such notice would defeat the object of the entry⁵. Every warrant so granted continues in force until the purpose for which the entry is necessary has been satisfied⁶.

An authorised officer entering any land by virtue of a warrant so issued may take with him such other persons as may be necessary⁷. A person who wilfully obstructs any person acting in the execution of such a warrant is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 1 on the standard scale⁸.

(2) LICENSING OF CARAVAN SITES

(i) Issue, Duration and Transfer of Licences

1039. Issue of site licences.

An application¹ for the issue of a site licence² in respect of any land may be made by the occupier³ of the land to the local authority in whose area the land is situated⁴. Either at the time of making the application or subsequently, the applicant must give to the local authority such other information as it may reasonably require⁵.

On such an application, the local authority may issue a site licence in respect of the land if, and only if, the applicant is, at the time when the site licence is issued, entitled to the benefit of a permission for the use of the land as a caravan site⁶ granted⁷ otherwise than by a development order⁸.

If at the date when the applicant duly gives the required information⁹, he is entitled to the benefit of such a permission, the local authority must issue a site licence in respect of the land within two months of that date or, if the applicant and the authority agree in writing that the local authority shall be afforded a longer period within which to grant a site licence, within the period so agreed¹⁰. If, however, the applicant becomes entitled to the benefit of such a permission at some time after duly giving that information¹¹, the local authority must issue a site licence in respect of the land within six weeks of the date on which he becomes so entitled or, if the applicant and the local authority agree in writing that the local authority shall be afforded a longer period within which to grant a site licence, within the period so agreed¹².

A local authority may not¹³ at any time issue a site licence to a person who to its knowledge has held a site licence which has been revoked¹⁴ less than three years before that time¹⁵.

1 Such an application must be in writing and must specify the land in respect of which the application is made: Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 3(2). A simple letter may be a valid application: see Chelmsford RDC v Powell [1963] 1 All ER 150, [1963] 1 WLR 123, DC. As to the particulars to be given see the Caravan Sites (Licence Applications) Order 1960, SI 1960/1474, art 2, Schedule.

2 For the meaning of 'site licence' see PARA 1032 note 5 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'occupier' see PARA 1032 note 1 ante. If an application is made under the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 10(1) (see PARA 1041 post) for consent to the transfer of a site licence to a person who is to become the occupier of the land, that person may apply for a site licence under s 3 (as amended) (see the text and notes 1-2 supra, 4-15 infra) as if he were the occupier of the land; and, if the local authority at any time before issuing a site licence in compliance with that application gives its consent to the transfer, it need not proceed with the application for the site licence: s 10(3). For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 1032 note 8 ante.

7 Ie under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt III (ss 55-106B) (as amended): see PARA 217 et seq ante. For these purposes, any reference to permission so granted for the use of land as a caravan site is to be taken as a reference to such permission whether or not restricted in any way or subject to any condition or limitation; and any reference to such permission includes permission deemed to be granted under Pt III (as amended) or granted on the designation of an enterprise zone under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 179, Sch 32 (as amended) (see PARA 1491 et seq post): Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 29(4) (amended by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 ss 2(4), 4, Sch 2 para 8). The use of land as a caravan site before 1 July 1948 does not exempt such a use from the requirement for planning permission except in specified circumstances: see PARA 237 ante. A certificate of lawfulness of an existing use or development has effect for these purposes as if it were a grant of planning permission: see the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 191(7) (as substituted); and PARA 586 ante.

8 Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 3(3). As to registration of site licences see PARA 1042 post. For these purposes, 'development order' means an order made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 59 (as amended) (see PARA 252 ante), under which orders may be made which, in some cases, themselves grant permission for development and, in other cases, provide that permission shall be granted on an application in that behalf: Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 29(1); Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 2(4).

9 Ie required by virtue of the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 3(2) (as amended: see note 5 supra).

LICENSING AND CONTROL OF CARAVAN SITES/(2) LICENSING OF CARAVAN SITES/(i) Issue, Duration and Transfer of Licences/1040. Duration of site licences.

1040. Duration of site licences.

Where permission for the use of any land as a caravan site¹ has been granted otherwise than by a development order², and has been so granted in terms such that it will expire³ at the end of a specified period, any site licence⁴ issued in respect of the land by virtue of the existence of that permission expires, and must be stated to expire, at the end of that period. A site licence may not otherwise be issued for a limited period only⁵.

If, after a site licence is issued, the terms of the permission are varied by the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁷ on an appeal relating to planning permission⁸, the local authority⁹ which issued the licence must make in the site licence any alteration required to secure that its terms comply with the above provisions¹⁰.

- 2 For the meaning of 'development order' see PARA 1039 note 8 ante.
- 3 For these purposes, permission so granted for the use of land for intermittent periods is not regarded as expiring at any time so long as the permission authorises the use of the land for further intermittent periods: Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 29(3).

LICENSING AND CONTROL OF CARAVAN SITES/(2) LICENSING OF CARAVAN SITES/(i) Issue, Duration and Transfer of Licences/1041. Transfer and transmission of site licences.

1041. Transfer and transmission of site licences.

When the holder of a site licence¹ in respect of any land ceases to be the occupier² of the land, he may, with the consent of the local authority³ in whose area the land is situated, transfer the licence to the person who then becomes the occupier of the land⁴.

Where any person becomes, by operation of law, entitled to an estate or interest in land in respect of which a site licence is in force and, by virtue of his holding that estate or interest, is the occupier of the land, he is treated⁵ as having become the holder of the licence on the day on which he became the occupier of the land⁶. If an application in that behalf is made to it, the local authority in whose area the land is situated must indorse his name and that date on the licence⁷.

LICENSING AND CONTROL OF CARAVAN SITES/(2) LICENSING OF CARAVAN SITES/(ii) Conditions of Site Licences/1043. Power to attach conditions to site licences.

(ii) Conditions of Site Licences

1043. Power to attach conditions to site licences.

A site licence¹ issued by a local authority² in respect of any land may be so issued subject to such conditions as the authority may think it necessary or desirable to impose on the occupier³ of the land in the interests of persons dwelling on the land in caravans⁴, or of any other class of persons, or of the public at large⁵. In particular, but without prejudice to the generality of the above provisions, a site licence may be issued subject to conditions for:

- 3955 (1) restricting the occasions on which caravans are stationed on the land for the purposes of human habitation, or the total number of caravans which are so stationed at any one time⁶;
- 3956 (2) controlling, whether by reference to their size, the state of their repair or any other feature⁷, the types of caravan which are stationed on the land⁸;
- 3957 (3) regulating the positions in which caravans are stationed on the land for the purposes of human habitation; and for prohibiting, restricting or otherwise regulating the placing or erection on the land, at any time when caravans are so stationed, of structures and vehicles of any description whatsoever and of tents⁹;
- 3958 (4) securing the taking of any steps for preserving or enhancing the amenity¹⁰ of the land, including the planting and replanting of the land with trees and bushes¹¹;
- 3959 (5) securing that, at all times when caravans are stationed on the land, proper measures are taken for preventing and detecting the outbreak of fire and adequate means of fighting fire are provided and maintained¹²;
- 3960 (6) securing that adequate sanitary facilities, and such other facilities, services or equipment as may be specified, are provided for the use of persons dwelling on the land in caravans and that, at all times when caravans are stationed on the land for the purposes of human habitation, any facilities and equipment so provided are properly maintained¹³.

No condition may, however, be attached to a site licence controlling the types of caravans which are stationed on the land by reference to the materials used in their construction¹⁴.

A site licence issued in respect of any land must contain, unless it is issued subject to a condition restricting to three or less the total number of caravans which may be stationed on the land at any one time, an express condition that, at all times when caravans are stationed on the land for the purposes of human habitation, a copy of the licence as for the time being in force shall be displayed on the land in some conspicuous place¹⁵.

A condition attached to a site licence may, if it requires the carrying out of any works¹⁶ on the land in respect of which the licence is issued, prohibit or restrict the bringing of caravans on to the land for the purposes of human habitation until such time as the local authority has certified in writing that the works have been completed to its satisfaction; and, where the land to which the site licence relates is at the time in use as a caravan site¹⁷, the condition may, whether or not it contains any such prohibition or restriction, require the works to be completed to the satisfaction of the authority within a stated period¹⁸.

The Secretary of State¹⁹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales²⁰ may from time to time specify model standards for these purposes with respect to the layout of, and the provision of facilities, services and equipment for, caravan sites or particular types of caravan site; and in deciding what, if any, conditions to attach to a site licence, a local authority must have regard to any standards so specified²¹. Without prejudice to these powers, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may also by order²² prescribe minimum standards with respect to the layout of, and the provision of facilities, services and equipment for, protected sites²³ on which there are mobile homes²⁴ occupied as an only or main residence²⁵.

3 For the meaning of 'occupier' see PARA 1032 note 1 ante. As to the occupier's right of entry on the land to ensure compliance with any conditions attached to a site licence see PARA 1048 post.

5 Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 5(1). As to authorised officers' right of entry for the purpose of enabling the local authority to determine what conditions should be so attached see PARA 1037 ante at head (1) in the text.

The power so to impose conditions in a site licence confers a wide discretion on the local authority, but that discretion must be exercised in a manner confined to the subject matter of s 5 (as amended), and may not be used to impose eg a system of rent control in favour of caravan dwellers on a site: Chertsey UDC v Mixnam's Properties Ltd [1965] AC 735, [1964] 2 All ER 627, HL. See also Babbage v North Norfolk District Council [1990] 1 PLR 65, 88 LGR 235, CA (condition designed to preserve the visual amenity of a caravan site for the benefit of the public requiring the removal of all caravans during winter held to relate to planning considerations, not to a site consideration; could not be validly imposed). Where a local authority's objectives in imposing a condition can be achieved in a way which is less burdensome on the owner of the caravan site, the condition may be invalid: Goodwin v Stratford-upon-Avon District Council (1996) 73 P & CR 524. Development required by the conditions of a site licence for the time being in force is permitted development for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, art 3, Sch 2 Pt 5, Class B: see PARA 301 ante.

7 le subject to the provisions of ibid s 5(2): see the text and note 14 infra.

8 Ibid s 5(1)(b).

9 Ibid s 5(1)(c).

10 As to the meaning of 'amenity' see PARA 158 note 8 ante.

11 Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 5(1)(d).

12 Ibid s 5(1)(e). The local authority must consult the fire and rescue authority as to the extent to which any model standards relating to fire precautions which have been specified under s 5(6) (see the text and note 21 infra) are appropriate to the land: s 5(3A) (s 5(3A), (3B) added by the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1982 s 8(2)(a); amended by the Fire and Rescue Services Act 2004 s 53(1), Sch 1 para 14). If no such standards have been specified or any standard that has been specified appears to the fire and rescue authority to be inappropriate to the land, the local authority must consult the fire and rescue authority as to what conditions relating to fire precautions ought to be attached to the site licence instead: Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 5(3B) (as so added and amended). With effect from 1 April 2006, however, s 5(3A), (3B) as so added and amended) are not apply where the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005 applies to the land: Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 5(3C) (s 5(2A), (3C), (6A) prospectively added by the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005, SI 2005/1541, arts 1(3), 53(1), Sch 2 para 5(1), (2)(a)-(c)).

For these purposes, 'fire and rescue authority', in relation to any land, means the fire and rescue authority under the Fire and Rescue Services Act 2004 for the area in which the land is situated: Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 29(1) (definition substituted by the Fire and Rescue Services Act 2004 Sch 1 para 14). 'Fire precautions' means precautions to be taken for any of the purposes specified in the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 5 (as amended) for which conditions may be imposed by virtue thereof: s 5(8) (added by the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1982 s 8(2)(b); prospectively amended by the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005, SI 2005/1541, arts 1(3), 53(1), Sch 2 para 5(1), (2) (d)). Until 1 April 2006, the specified purposes referred to in this definition are those specified in the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 5(1)(e) (see head (5) in the text): see s 5(8) (as originally added). For the meaning of 'consult' see PARA 2 note 1 ante.

13 Ibid s 5(1)(f).

14 Ibid s 5(2). Nor, with effect from 1 April 2006, where the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005, SI 2005/1541 applies to the land, may a condition be attached to a site licence in so far as it relates to any matter in relation to which requirements or prohibitions are or could be imposed by or under that Order: Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 5(2A) (as added: see note 12 supra).

15 Ibid s 5(3). There is no right of appeal against this condition under s 7(1): see PARA 1044 note 4 post.

16 For these purposes, any reference to the carrying out of works includes a reference to the planting of trees and shrubs and the carrying out of other operations for preserving or enhancing the amenity of land: ibid s 29(2). For the avoidance of doubt, a condition attached to a site licence is valid notwithstanding that it can be complied with only by the carrying out of works which the holder of the site licence is not entitled to carry out as of right: s 5(5).

17 For the meaning of 'caravan site' see PARA 1032 note 4 ante.

18 Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 5(4). See also s 7(2); and PARA 1044 post.

19 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

20 As to the transfer of functions under the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 5 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

21 Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 5(6). The duty so imposed on a local authority to have regard to specified standards is to be construed, as regards standards relating to fire precautions which are so specified, as a duty to have regard to them subject to any advice given by the fire and rescue authority under the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 5(3A) or (3B) (as added and amended: see note 12 supra); s 5(7) (added by the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1982 s 8(2)(b); amended by the Fire and Rescue Services Act 2004 Sch 1 para 14). With effect from 1 April 2006, however, no model standards may be so specified in relation to land to which the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005, SI 2005/1541 applies in so far as the standards relate to any matter in relation to which requirements or prohibitions are or could be imposed by or under that Order: Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 5(6A) (as added: see note 12 supra).

The model standards are not binding: see Clyde Caravans (Longbank) Ltd v Renfrew County Council 1962 SLT (Sh Ct) 20.

22 The power to make such orders is exercisable by statutory instrument, subject in the case of an order made by the Secretary of State to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament (see the Mobile Homes Act 1975 s 7(3), (4)); and includes a power to make an order varying or revoking any order previously made under that provision (s 7(5)). As to the transfer of functions under s 7, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as parliamentary procedure in relation to orders made by the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

23 There is no specific statutory definition of 'protected site' for these purposes, but for the meaning of 'protected site' for the purposes of the Mobile Homes Act 1983 see LANDLORD AND TENANT vol 27(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1268.

24 For these purposes, 'mobile home' has the same meaning as in the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 Pt I (ss 1-32) as amended by the Caravan Sites Act 1968 (see PARA 1033 ante): Mobile Homes Act 1975 s 9(1).

25 Ibid s 7(1). An order so made may apply generally or to a particular area or to protected sites in a particular category and may prescribe different minimum standards in relation to protected sites in different categories: s 7(2). See further LANDLORD AND TENANT vol 27(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1270.

LICENSING AND CONTROL OF CARAVAN SITES/(2) LICENSING OF CARAVAN SITES/(ii) Conditions of Site Licences/1045. Power to alter conditions attached to site licences.

1045. Power to alter conditions attached to site licences.

The conditions attached to a site licence¹ may be altered at any time by the local authority², whether by the variation or cancellation of existing conditions, or by the addition of new conditions, or by a combination of any such methods; but, before so exercising its power, the authority must afford to the holder of the licence an opportunity of making representations³.

The alteration by a local authority of the conditions attached to any site licence does not have effect until written notification of the alteration has been received by the holder of the licence; and, in so far as such alteration imposes a requirement on the holder to carry out on the land to which the licence relates any works⁴ which he would not otherwise be required to carry out, the alteration does not have effect during the period within which the holder is entitled to appeal against the alteration⁵, nor, thereafter, whilst an appeal against the alteration is pending⁶.

3 Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 8(1). As to authorised officers' right of entry for the purpose of enabling the local authority to determine whether conditions should be so altered see PARA 1037 ante at head (1) in the text. With effect from 1 April 2006, however, where the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005, SI 2005/1541, applies to the land to which the site licence relates, no condition may be so attached to a site licence in so far as it relates to any matter in relation to which requirements or prohibitions are or could be imposed by or under that Order: Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 8(1A) (s 8(1A), (5A) prospectively added by the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005, SI 2005/1541, arts 1(3), 53(1), Sch 2 para 5(1), (3)).

In exercising the powers so conferred, a local authority must have regard amongst other things to any standards which may have been specified by the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales under the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 5(6) (see PARA 1043 ante): s 8(4). The local authority must consult the fire and rescue authority before exercising the powers so conferred in relation to a condition attached to a site licence for the purposes set out in the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 5(1)(e) (see PARA 1043 ante at head (5) in the text): s 8(5) (added by the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1982 s 8(2)(c); amended by the Fire and Rescue Services Act 2004 s 53(1), Sch 1 para 14). With effect from 1 April 2006, however, the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 8(5) (as so added and amended) is not to apply where the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005, SI 2005/1541, applies to the land: Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 8(5A) (as prospectively added). LICENSING AND CONTROL OF CARAVAN SITES/(2) LICENSING OF CARAVAN SITES/(ii) Conditions of Site Licences/1049. Provisions as to breaches of condition.

1049. Provisions as to breaches of condition.

If an occupier¹ of land fails to comply with any condition for the time being attached to a site licence² held by him in respect of the land, he is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 4 on the standard scale³.

Where a person so convicted for failing to comply with a condition attached to a site licence has on two or more previous occasions been so convicted for failing to comply with a condition attached to that licence, the court before which he is convicted may, if an application in that behalf is made at the hearing by the local authority⁴ in whose area the land is situated, make an order for the revocation of that site licence to come into force on such date as the court may specify in the order, being a date not earlier than the expiration of any period within which notice of appeal, whether by case stated or otherwise, may be given against the conviction; and, if before the date so specified an appeal is brought, the order is of no effect pending the final determination or withdrawal of the appeal⁵.

The person convicted or the local authority which issued the site licence may apply to the magistrates' court which has made such an order revoking a site licence for an order extending the period at the end of which the revocation is to come into force; and, if satisfied that adequate notice of the application has been given to the local authority or, as the case may be, to the person convicted, the magistrates' court may make an order extending that period⁶.

Where an occupier of land fails within the time specified in a condition attached to a site licence held by him to complete to the satisfaction of the local authority in whose area the land is situated any works required by the condition to be so completed, the local authority may carry out those works⁷, and may recover as a simple contract debt in any court of competent jurisdiction from that person any expenses reasonably incurred by the authority in that behalf⁸.

(3) POWER TO PROHIBIT CARAVANS ON COMMONS

1050. Power to prohibit caravans on commons.

The council of a district in England¹ or of a county or county borough in Wales² may make with respect to any land in its area to which these provisions apply an order prohibiting, either absolutely or except in such circumstances as may be specified in the order, the stationing of caravans³ on the land for the purposes of human habitation⁴.

These provisions apply to any land in the area of a such a council which is or forms part of a common⁵, not being land falling within any of the following descriptions, that is to say:

- 3961 (1) land to which certain statutory provisions relating to the rights of the public⁶ for the time being apply;
- 3962 (2) land which is subject to a scheme under Part I of the Commons Act 1899⁷ under which schemes may be made for the regulation and management of certain commons; and
- 3963 (3) land as respects which a site licence⁸ is for the time being in force⁹.

These provisions have effect in relation to any registered common¹⁰ which is within any National Park for which a National Park authority is the local planning authority¹¹ and is not owned by, or vested in, any other body which is a local authority, as if the National Park authority were a local authority for these purposes and as if the relevant Park were that authority's area¹².

Any person who stations a caravan on any land in contravention of such an order for the time being in force with respect to the land is¹³ guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 1 on the standard scale¹⁴.

1050 Power to prohibit caravans on commons

NOTE 10--The reference is now to the Commons Act 2006 Part 1 (ss 1-25): 1995 Act Sch 9 para 1(6) (amended by the Commons Act 2006 Sch 5 para 6(b), Sch 6 Pt 2 (not yet in force)).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/13. LICENSING AND CONTROL OF CARAVAN SITES/(3) POWER TO PROHIBIT CARAVANS ON COMMONS/1051. Procedure on making order imposing prohibition.

1051. Procedure on making order imposing prohibition.

Before making an order prohibiting the stationing of caravans on commons¹ with respect to land which is or forms part of a common² of which conservators have been appointed under any local Act or under any order made under an Act of Parliament, the appropriate local council or National Park authority³ must consult⁴ with the conservators⁵.

Before making an order prohibiting the stationing of caravans on commons⁶, other than an order the sole effect of which is to revoke or vary a previous such order⁷, the appropriate local council or National Park authority must publish in one or more local newspapers circulating in the locality in which the land is situated a notice:

- 3964 (1) stating the general effect of the order;
- 3965 (2) specifying a place in that locality where a copy of the draft order may be inspected by any person free of charge at all reasonable hours during a period of 28 days from the date of the first publication of the notice; and
- 3966 (3) stating that, within that period, any person may by notice to the council or authority object to the making of the order⁸.

Not later than the date on which the notice is first published, the appropriate local council or National Park authority must serve a copy⁹ of it on every person entitled as lord of the manor or otherwise to the soil of the land, unless it is satisfied that the persons entitled to the soil of the land are numerous, or cannot after diligent inquiry be ascertained¹⁰.

If, before the expiration of a period of 28 days beginning with the date of the first publication of the notice, an objection to the making of the order to which the notice relates is duly made to the appropriate local council or National Park authority by any person entitled to the soil of the land, and the notice is not subsequently withdrawn, the council or authority may not proceed with the making of the order¹¹. Otherwise, the council or authority may, at any time within one year after the expiration of that period, make an order in the terms of the draft order; but, if any objection to the making of the order was duly made within that period by a person who was not entitled to the soil of the land, and the objection has not been withdrawn at the date on which the order is made, the order does not take effect until it is confirmed by the Secretary of State¹² or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales¹³. Where the council or authority submits an order to the Secretary of State or the Assembly for his or its confirmation, it must send to him a copy of every such objection; and, after considering every such objection and causing, if he or it thinks fit, a local inquiry¹⁴ to be held, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may confirm or refuse to confirm the order and, if he or it confirms the order, may do so subject to such modifications, if any, as he or it may think desirable¹⁵.

It is the duty of an appropriate local council or National Park authority to take all reasonable steps to secure that copies of any order¹⁶ which is for the time being in force with respect to any land in its area are so displayed on the land as to give to persons entering on the land adequate warning of the existence of the order; and the council or authority has the right to place on the land such notices as it considers necessary for the performance of that duty¹⁷.

9 Such a notice may be served on any person by sending it in a registered letter addressed to him at his usual or last known address: Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 Sch 2 para 3(2).

10 Ibid Sch 2 para 3(1) (as modified (see note 5 supra); amended by the Local Government Act 1972 Sch 30; the Local Government Act 1974 ss 35(1), (2), 42(2) Sch 6 para 13, Sch 8).

Where it is proposed so to make an order with respect to land in which there is a Crown or Duchy interest, and the nature of that interest is such that the person to whom the interest belongs would otherwise be entitled to a copy of the notice, the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 Sch 2 para 3 (as so modified and amended) has effect as if it required the copy to be served instead on the appropriate authority: Sch 2 para 6(1) (a). For these purposes, 'Crown or Duchy interest' means an interest belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Crown or of the Duchy of Lancaster, or belonging to the Duchy of Cornwall, or belonging to a government department, or held in trust for Her Majesty for the purposes of a government department; and 'the appropriate authority': (1) in relation to land belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Crown and forming part of the Crown Estate, means the Crown Estate Commissioners, and in relation to any other land belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Crown, means the government department having the management of that land; (2) in relation to land belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Duchy of Lancaster, means the Chancellor of the Duchy; (3) in relation to land belonging to the Duchy of Cornwall, means such person as the Duke of Cornwall, or the possessor for the time being of the Duchy of Cornwall, appoints; and (4) in relation to land belonging to a government department or held in trust for Her Majesty for the purposes of a government department, means that department: Sch 2 para 6(2)(a)-(d). If any question arises as to what authority is the appropriate authority in relation to any land, that question must be referred to the Treasury, whose decision is final: Sch 2 para 6(2). As to the Crown Estate see CROWN PROPERTY vol 12(1) (Reissue) PARA 278 et seq; and as to the Crown Estate Commissioners see CROWN PROPERTY vol 12(1) (Reissue) PARA 280.

1052. Cessation and variation of orders.

An order prohibiting caravans on commons¹ may be revoked at any time by a subsequent order made² by the appropriate local council or National Park authority³, or may be so varied either so as to exclude any land from the operation of the order or so as to introduce any exception, or further exception, from the prohibition imposed by the order⁴. Before making any such subsequent order with respect to land which is or forms part of a common⁵ of which conservators have been appointed under any local Act or under any order made under an Act of Parliament, the council or authority must consult⁶ with the conservators⁷. Where the sole effect of such an order is to revoke or vary a previous order⁸, the council or authority must serve such notices and take such other steps as appear to it to be appropriate for informing the persons entitled to the soil of the land of the effect of the order⁹.

Where the whole or a part of any land with respect to which an order¹⁰ is in force ceases to be land to which these provisions apply¹¹, that order thereupon ceases to have effect with respect to that land or part¹². It is the duty of an appropriate local council or National Park authority to take all reasonable steps to secure that copies of any such order which is for the time being in force with respect to any land in its area are so displayed on the land as to give to persons entering thereon adequate warning of the existence of the order; and the council or authority has the right to place on the land such notices as it considers necessary for the performance of that duty¹³. Where an order ceases¹⁴ to have effect with respect to a part only of any land, the council or authority must cause any copy of the order which is displayed on that part of the land with respect to which the order continues in force to be amended accordingly¹⁵.

(4) PROVISION OF CARAVAN SITES BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES

1053. Power to provide sites.

A local authority¹ has power² within its area to provide sites where caravans³ may be brought, whether for holidays or other temporary purposes or for use as permanent residences⁴. The authority has power to do anything appearing to it desirable in connection with the provision of such sites, and in particular:

- 3967 (1) to acquire land which is in use as a caravan site⁵, or which has been laid out as a caravan site⁶; or
- 3968 (2) to provide for the use of those occupying caravan sites any services or facilities⁷ for their health or convenience⁸; or
- 3969 (3) to provide, in or in connection with sites for the accommodation of gypsies⁹, working space and facilities for the carrying on of such activities as are normally carried on by them¹⁰.

In exercising these powers the local authority must have regard to any standards which may have been specified¹¹ by the Secretary of State¹² or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales¹³. A local authority does not, however, have power under these provisions to provide caravans¹⁴.

In the performance of its functions under these provisions, a local authority has power to acquire land, or any interest in land, compulsorily, where it appears to the authority that a caravan site or an additional caravan site is needed in its area, or that land which is in use as a caravan site should in the interest of the users of caravans be taken over by the local authority¹⁵. The power so to acquire land, or any interest in land, compulsorily is exercisable in any particular case on the local authority's being authorised to do so by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly¹⁶.

1 For these purposes, the expression 'local authority' includes the council of a county in England: Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 24(8) (definition amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 66(6), (8), Sch 16 para 16(2), Sch 18; and by the Environment Act 1995 s 120, Sch 24). The Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 24 (as amended) has effect as if a National Park authority were a local authority for these purposes and as if the relevant Park were that authority's area: Environment Act 1995 s 70, Sch 9 para 4. As to county councils see PARA 28 ante; and as to National Park authorities see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 526 et seq.

2 The former statutory duty to provide sites for gypsies was removed by the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994 ss 80(1), 168(3), Sch 11, repealing the Caravan Sites Act 1968 Pt II (ss 6-12). As to the development control aspects of providing private and local authority sites for gypsies see generally para 1031 ante. As to the meaning of 'gypsy' see note 9 infra.

Central government funding in the form of gypsy site refurbishment grant ('GSRG') may be available to local authorities wishing to refurbish and extend their gypsy and traveller sites. Guidance for local authority bids is published by the Office of the Deputy Prime Minister and was accessible at the date at which this title states the law at www.odpm.gov.uk. See also ODPM news release 2004/0327 (21 December 2004).

As to the duty of a local housing authority to take the accommodation needs of travellers and gypsies into account when undertaking a review of housing needs in its district see the Housing Act 2004 ss 225, 226; and HOUSING vol 22 (2006 Reissue) PARA 274. At the date at which this title states the law, those provisions were not fully in force.

3 For the meaning of 'caravan' see PARA 1033 ante.

4 Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 24(1). Before exercising such a power the local authority must consult the fire and rescue authority, if it is not itself that authority: (1) as to measures to be taken for preventing and detecting the outbreak of fire on the site; and (2) as to the provision and maintenance of means of fighting fire on it: s 24(2A) (added by the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1982 s 8(2)(d); amended by the Fire and Rescue Services Act 2004 s 53(1), Sch 1 para 14). For the meaning of 'consult' see PARA 2 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'fire and rescue authority' see PARA 1043 note 12 ante. No site licence is required: see PARA 1036 ante at head (11) in the text.

Local authorities may acquire or appropriate land under the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 24 (as amended) for use as sites for travelling showpeople and lease it to the Showmen's Guild for the use of its members: see ODPM (ex DOE) Circular 22/91 Travelling Showpeople para 15. Increasingly showpeople's quarters need to be occupied by some members of the family permanently; older family members will stay on for most of the year and there are plainly advantages in children living there all year to benefit from uninterrupted education: para 2. As to the development control aspects of providing private and local authority sites for travelling showpeople see generally para 1031 ante; and as to the status of guidance given by departmental circulars see PARA 9 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'caravan site' see PARA 1032 note 4 ante.

6 Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 24(2)(a).

7 The services and facilities may be made available for those who do not normally reside in the area: see PARA 1054 post.

8 Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 24(2)(b).

9 For these purposes, 'gypsies' means persons of nomadic habit of life, whatever their race or origin, but does not include members of an organised group of travelling showmen, or persons engaged in travelling circuses, travelling together as such: ibid s 24(8) (definition added by the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994 s 80(2)(b)). The wording of this definition is identical to that in the Caravan Sites Act 1968 s 16, which is now repealed except for the purposes of the definition of 'protected site' in the Mobile Homes Act 1983 s 5(1) (see LANDLORD AND TENANT vol 27(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1268). That repeal does not affect the interpretation of the word 'gypsies' in any document embodying the terms of any planning permission granted under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 before 3 November 1994: see the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994 ss 80(4), 172(4). For a discussion and criticism of the current statutory definition see Goodman 'We'll Go No More A-Roving: Seeking a New Definition of Gypsy and Traveller' [2005] JPL 1159. The following decisions have been made under the 1968 definition: (1) a person may be a gypsy within the statutory meaning if he leads a nomadic life only seasonally and regularly returns to the same site for part of each year (Greenwich London Borough Council v Powell [1989] AC 995, [1989] 1 All ER 65, HL; distinguished in Clarke-Gowan v Secretary of State for Local Government and the Regions [2002] All ER (D) 68 (Jun); and see also R v Shropshire County Council, ex p Bungay (1990) 23 HLR 195 (not perverse or irrational for council to conclude that a family still retained its nomadic habit of life notwithstanding the fact that travelling had not been in evidence during a substantial period of time)); (2) persons who are travelling showpeople are totally excluded from the statutory definition of 'gypsies'; they do not merely fall outside the definition when they are actually travelling from fair to fair (Hammond v Secretary of State for the Environment and Tandridge District Council, Smith v Secretary of State for the Environment and Runnymede Borough Council (1988) 57 P & CR 258, CA); (3) in the context of a local development plan, the term 'gypsy' does not refer to Romany gypsies as an ethnic minority; it refers, in a broader sense, to any person of nomadic habit of life, whatever their race or origin (R v Runnymede Borough Council, ex p Smith (1994) 70 P & CR 244); (4) the statutory definition as 'persons of nomadic habit of life' imports the requirement that there must be some recognisable connection between the wandering or travelling from place to place and the means whereby the persons concerned make or seek their livelihood; the statutory definition does not therefore apply to persons or individuals who move from place to place merely as the fancy takes them and without any connection between the movement and their means of livelihood (R v South Hams District Council, ex p Gibb; R v Gloucestershire CC, ex p Davies; R v Dorset CC, ex p Rolls [1995] QB 158, [1994] 4 All ER 1012, CA); (5) whether applicants for planning permission are of a 'nomadic way of life' as a matter of planning law and policy is a functional test to be applied to their way of life at the time of the determination (Wrexham County Borough Council v National Assembly for Wales [2003] EWCA Civ 835, [2003] All ER (D) 246 (Jun); Basildon District Council v First Secretary of State [2004] EWCA Civ 473, [2004] All ER (D) 478 (Mar)).

1054. Management of sites.

A local authority¹ has power to manage the sites it provides² or to lease them to some other person³. The local authority must make in respect of the use of sites managed by it, and of any services or facilities provided or made available⁴, such reasonable charges as it may determine⁵.

A local authority may make available the services and facilities so provided for those who do not normally reside in the area of the local authority as freely as for those who do⁶.

UNAUTHORISED CAMPERS/1055. Local authority's power to direct unauthorised campers to leave land.

(5) REMOVAL OF UNAUTHORISED CAMPERS

1055. Local authority's power to direct unauthorised campers to leave land.

If it appears to a local authority¹ that persons are for the time being residing² in a vehicle³ or vehicles within that authority's area on any land⁴ forming part of a highway, on any other unoccupied land or on any occupied land without the consent of the occupier⁵, the authority may give a direction that those persons and any others with them are to leave the land and remove the vehicle or vehicles and any other property they have with them on the land⁶. Such a direction operates to require persons who re-enter the land within a specified three-month period with vehicles or other property to leave and remove the vehicles or other property as it operates in relation to the persons and vehicles or other property on the land when the direction was given⁷.

Notice of such a direction must be served on the persons to whom the direction applies, but it is sufficient for this purpose for the direction to specify the land and, except where the direction applies to only one person, to be addressed to all occupants of the vehicles on the land, without naming them⁸.

If a person knowing that such a direction has been given which applies to him:

- 3970 (1) fails, as soon as practicable, to leave the land or remove from the land any vehicle or other property which is the subject of the direction; or
- 3971 (2) having removed any such vehicle or property again enters the land with a vehicle within the period of three months beginning with the day on which the direction was given, he commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale⁹.

In proceedings for an offence under these provisions it is a defence for the accused to show that his failure to leave or to remove the vehicle or other property as soon as practicable or his re-entry with a vehicle was due to illness, mechanical breakdown or other immediate emergency¹⁰.

1 For these purposes, 'local authority' means (1) in Greater London, a London borough or the Common Council of the City of London; (2) in England outside Greater London, a county council, a district council or the Council of the Isles of Scilly; (3) in Wales, a county council or a county borough council: Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994 s 77(6). As to the Council of the Isles of Scilly see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 36.

2 For these purposes, a person may be regarded as residing on any land notwithstanding that he has a home elsewhere: ibid s 77(6). For the meaning of 'land' see note 4 infra.

3 For these purposes, 'vehicle' includes (1) any vehicle, whether or not it is in a fit state for use on roads, and includes any body, with or without wheels, appearing to have formed part of such a vehicle, and any load carried by, and anything attached to, such a vehicle; and (2) a caravan as defined in the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 29(1) (see PARA 1033 ante): Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994 s 77(6).

4 For these purposes, 'land' means land in the open air: ibid s 77(6).

5 For these purposes, 'occupier' means the person entitled to possession of the land by virtue of an estate or interest held by him: ibid s 77(6).

6 Ibid s 77(1). Before giving a direction the authority should make adequate inquiries as to the effect of the eviction on the schooling of any child on the site, and on the health and welfare of any people who may be vulnerable by reason of age, infirmity, sickness or pregnancy: R v Wolverhampton Metropolitan Borough Council, ex p Dunne and Rafferty (1996) 29 HLR 745, DC. See also R (on the application of Piggott) v Bedfordshire County Council (2002) Times, 29 January (fact that applicant trespassing on site not decisive of application for pitch allocation). LICENSING AND CONTROL OF CARAVAN SITES/(5) REMOVAL OF UNAUTHORISED CAMPERS/1056. Orders for removal of persons and their vehicles unlawfully on land.

1056. Orders for removal of persons and their vehicles unlawfully on land.

On a complaint made by a local authority¹, a magistrates' court may, if satisfied that persons and vehicles² in which they are residing³ are present on land⁴ within that authority's area in contravention of a direction given under the provisions set out in the previous paragraph⁵, make an order requiring the removal of any vehicle or other property which is so present on the land and any person residing in it⁶. Such an order may authorise the local authority to take such steps as are reasonably necessary to ensure that the order is complied with and, in particular, may authorise the authority, by its officers and servants, to enter upon the land specified in the order and to take, in relation to any vehicle or property to be removed in pursuance of the order, such steps for securing entry and rendering it suitable for removal as may be so specified⁷.

The local authority must not enter upon any occupied land unless it has given to the owner and occupier⁸ at least 24 hours' notice of its intention to do so, or unless after reasonable inquiries it is unable to ascertain their names and addresses⁹.

A person who wilfully obstructs any person in the exercise of any power conferred on him by such an order commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale¹⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 1055 note 1 ante (definition applied by the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994 s 78(7)). Where a complaint is made under s 78 (see the text and notes 2-10 infra), a summons issued by the court requiring the person or persons to whom it is directed to appear before the court to answer to the complaint may be directed (1) to the occupant of a particular vehicle on the land in question; or (2) to all occupants of vehicles on the land in question, without naming him or them: s 78(5). The Magistrates' Courts Act 1980 s 55(2) (warrant for arrest of defendant failing to appear: see MAGISTRATES vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 693) does not apply to proceedings on a complaint made under these provisions: Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994 s 78(6).

- 5 Ibid s 77: see PARA 1055 ante.

1057. Service of relevant documents.

Where it is impracticable to serve a relevant document¹ on a person named in it, the document is to be treated as duly served on him if a copy of it is fixed in a prominent place to the vehicle² concerned; and where a relevant document is directed to the unnamed occupants of vehicles, it is to be treated as duly served on those occupants if a copy of it is fixed in a prominent place to every vehicle on the land³ in question at the time when service is thus effected⁴.

A local authority⁵ must take such steps as may be reasonably practicable to secure that a copy of any relevant document is displayed on the land in question, otherwise than by being fixed to a vehicle, in a manner designed to ensure that it is likely to be seen by any person camping on the land⁶.

Notice of any relevant document must be given by the local authority to the owner of the land in question and to any occupier⁷ of that land unless, after reasonable inquiries, the authority is unable to ascertain the name and address of the owner or occupier; and the owner of any such land and any occupier of such land is entitled to appear and to be heard in the proceedings⁸.

- 1 The Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994 s 79 applies in relation to the service of notice of a direction under s 77 (see PARA 1055 ante) and of a summons under s 78 (see PARA 1056 ante), referred to in s 79 as a 'relevant document': s 79(1).

(1) LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS; IN GENERAL

(i) Introduction

1072. Application of general provisions of planning legislation.

Subject to certain exceptions¹, the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 relating to:

- 3972 (1) local inquiries²;
- 3973 (2) orders as to costs of the parties where no inquiry is held³;
- 3974 (3) orders as to costs where an inquiry or a hearing does not take place⁴;
- 3975 (4) the procedure on certain appeals and applications⁵;
- 3976 (5) compliance with requirements relating to applications⁶;
- 3977 (6) the service of notices⁷;
- 3978 (7) the power to require information as to interests in land⁸;
- 3979 (8) offences by corporations⁹, and, as from a day to be appointed¹⁰, the provisions of that Act relating to:

- 3980 (a) service of notices on the Crown¹¹; and
- 3981 (b) information as to interests in Crown land¹², apply for the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 as they apply for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990¹³. The provision mentioned in head (8) above, however, does not apply to certain offences¹⁴ of causing damage to listed buildings¹⁵; and certain of the provisions¹⁶ mentioned in head (6) above do not apply to:

- 3982 (i) service of a building preservation notice¹⁷;
- 3983 (ii) service of a copy of a listed building enforcement notice¹⁸ by a planning authority;
- 3984 (iii) giving of notice¹⁹ of the exercise of powers to withdraw a listed building enforcement notice or to waive or relax any requirement of such a notice²⁰; or
- 3985 (iv) service of a listed building enforcement notice issued by the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales²¹.

Where (1) an electronic communication is used for the purpose of serving or giving a notice or other document on or to any person for the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990; and (2) the communication is received by that person outside that person's business hours, it is to be taken to have been received on the next working day; and for these purposes, 'working day' means a day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, bank holiday or other public holiday: s 91(5A) (s 91(5A) and the definitions of 'address' and 'electronic communication' in s 91(1) added in relation to England by the Town and Country Planning (Electronic Communications) (England) Order 2003, SI 2003/956, art 9(1)-(3) and in relation to Wales by the Town and Country Planning (Electronic Communications) (Wales) (No 1) Order 2004, SI 2004/3156, SI 2004/3156, art 9(1)-(3)). For these purposes, 'address', in relation to electronic communications, means any number or address used for the purpose of such communications; and 'electronic communication' has the same meaning as in the Electronic Communications Act 2000 (see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 947; TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 616): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(1) (definitions as so added).

Where an electronic communication is used by a person for the purpose of fulfilling any requirement in the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519 (as amended) (see PARA 1112 et seq post) to give or send any form, plan, notice or other document to any other person ('the recipient'), the requirement is to be taken to be fulfilled where the form, plan, notice or other document transmitted by means of the electronic communication is: (a) capable of being accessed by the recipient; (b) legible in all material respects; and (c) sufficiently permanent to be used for subsequent reference: reg 2(3), (4) (reg 2(1) renumbered, and reg 2(2)-(7) added, in relation to England by SI 2003/656 and in relation to Wales by SI 2004/3156). For these purposes, 'electronic communication' has the meaning given in the Electronic Communications Act 2000 s 15(1) (as amended) (see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 947; TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 616): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 2(1) (as so renumbered). In the 1990 Regulations, in relation to the use of electronic communications for any purpose of those Regulations which is capable of being effected electronically, the expression 'address' includes any number or address used for the purposes of such communications, except that where those regulations impose an obligation on any person to provide a name and address to any other person, the obligation is not fulfilled unless the person on whom it is imposed provides a postal address; and references to forms, plans, notices and other documents, or to copies of such documents, include references to such documents or copies of them in electronic form: reg 2(2) (as so added). In reg 2(4) (as so added) (see heads (a)-(c) supra), 'legible in all material respects' means that the information contained in the statement, notice or document is available to the recipient to no lesser extent than it would be if sent or given by means of a document in printed form: reg 2(5) (as so added). Where the electronic communication is received by the recipient outside the recipient's business hours, it is to be taken to have been received on the next working day; and for this purpose and the purposes of reg 8A(3) (as added) (see PARA 1127 note 6 post), 'working day' means a day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, bank holiday or other public holiday: reg 2(6) (as so added). A requirement in the 1990 Regulations that any document should be in writing is fulfilled where that document meets the criteria in reg 2(4) (as so added); and 'written' and cognate expressions are to be construed accordingly: reg 2(7) (as so added).

Where a person uses electronic communications for any of the following purposes: (i) making an application under reg 3, for listed building consent or conservation area consent (see PARAS 1112, 1127, 1176 post); (ii) making an application under reg 4 for the variation or discharge of conditions attached to a listed building consent or conservation area consent (see PARAS 1131, 1176 post); (iii) giving notice of appeal to the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales under reg 8 (as amended) (see PARAS 1188, 1190 post); (iv) making a claim under reg 9 for compensation, or serving a listed building purchase notice under reg 9 (see PARAS 1136-1139, 1179 post), and except where a contrary intention appears, the person making the application or claim or giving or serving the notice is to be taken to have agreed (A) to the use of electronic communications for all purposes relating to his application, appeal, claim or notice (as the case may be) which are capable of being effected using such communications; (B) that his address for the purpose of such communications is the address incorporated into, or otherwise logically associated with, his application, claim or notice; (C) that his deemed agreement under this provision is to subsist until he gives notice in writing that he wishes to revoke the agreement (and such revocation takes effect on a date specified by him but not less than seven days after the date on which the notice is given): reg 8A(6), (7) (added in relation to England by SI 2003/656 and in relation to Wales by SI 2004/3156).

8 Ie the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 330 (as amended): see PARA 53 ante. In the application of s 330 (as amended) by virtue of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 89 (as amended), references to a local authority include the Commission: s 89(3) (added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 29(2)). For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'local authority' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 3 note 3 ante) (Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(1), (2)); and 'the Commission' means the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage') (ss 1(1), 91(1)). The Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 89(1) (as so amended) had effect with the omission of the words from 'section 322' to 'held' until 2 January 1992: Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 6, Sch 4 paras 1(1)(a), Table, 1(3), 11; Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 (Appointed Day No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1991, SI 1991/2698, art 3(1). Article 3(1) has effect, however, only for the purposes of awards of costs in relation to proceedings which give rise to a hearing (art 3(2)); and nothing in art 3 applies in relation to any proceedings occasioned by an application referred to the Secretary of State or an appeal made to him before 2 January 1992, or by an order or notice submitted or sent to the Secretary of State before that date for his confirmation or approval (art 4).

1072 Application of general provisions of planning legislation

TEXT AND NOTE 10--Day now appointed: SI 2006/1281.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(1) LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS; IN GENERAL/(i) Introduction/1073. Meaning of 'local planning authority'.

1073. Meaning of 'local planning authority'.

In the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 'local planning authority' is to be construed in accordance with the provisions relating to local planning authorities in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990¹ and with the provisions of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990² which make further provision as to the exercise of functions³ thereunder⁴. Those provisions as to the exercise of functions are modified in relation to Wales⁵.

For certain statutory purposes⁶, the Broads Authority⁷ is the sole district planning authority in respect of the Broads⁸.

1 Ie the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt I (ss 1-9) (as amended): see PARA 28 et seq ante.

2 Ie the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 81, Sch 4 (as amended): see notes 4-6 infra; and PARAS 1087, 1096 notes 9, 14, 1098 note 7, 1111 note 22, 1107 note 6, 1169 note 4 post.

3 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'functions' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 2 note 1 ante): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(1), (2).

4 Ibid ss 81, 91(1). The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 1(3) (as amended) (see PARA 28 ante) has effect subject to the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Sch 4 paras 2, 4, 5 (as amended) (see note 6 infra; and PARA 1096 notes 9, 14 post); and the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 1 (as amended) and s 2 (as amended) (see PARA 30 ante) have effect subject to the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Sch 4 para 3 (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 1111 the text and notes 22-23 post): Sch 4 para 1(1) (Sch 4 para 1(1) renumbered, and Sch 4 para 1(2) added, by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 20(4)(b), Sch 6 para 25(10)).

5 The Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Sch 4 (as amended) applies in relation to Wales as if (1) Sch 4 paras 2-5 (as amended) were omitted; and (2) in Sch 4 para 7 (see PARA 1098 note 7 post), each reference to a district planning authority, or which is to be construed as such a reference, were a reference to the local planning authority: Sch 4 para 1(2) (as added: see note 4 supra).

6 le for the purposes of ibid s 3 (as amended) (see PARA 1098 post), s 4 (see PARA 1099 post), ss 7-26 (as amended) (see PARA 1109 et seq post), s 38 (as amended) (see PARA 1146 post), s 42 (as amended) (see PARA 1148 post), s 56 (see PARA 1165 post), s 66(1) (see PARA 1106 post), s 67 (as amended) (see PARA 1107 post), ss 69-75 (as amended) (see PARA 1169 et seq post), s 82 (as amended) (see PARA 1077 post), s 84 (prospectively repealed) (see PARA 1121 post) and s 88(2)(c), (d) (as amended) (see PARA 1083 post) and the provisions of s 81, Sch 4 (as amended) so far as they relate to those provisions: Sch 4 para 5.

7 As to the Broads Authority see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 101 (2009) PARA 734.

8 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Sch 4 para 5. In relation to a building or land within the Broads (1) the references to the district planning authority in s 2(1)(b)(iii) (as amended) (see PARA 1094 post) and in Sch 4 para 4(1)(c) (see PARA 1096 note 14 post), so far as Sch 4 para 4(1)(c) relates to Sch 1 para 2(3), (4) (see PARA 1096 post), includes that Authority; and (2) for the purposes of s 6 (see PARA 1095 post), s 44A (as added) (see PARA 1151 post), s 88(2)(a), (b) (as amended) (see PARA 1083 post) and s 88A (as added) (see PARA 1085 post), 'local planning authority' includes that Authority: Sch 4 para 5 (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 3 para 29). For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'building' and 'the Broads' have the same meanings as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARAS 2 note 10, 3 note 3 respectively ante): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(1), (2). Despite the application of the definition of 'building' in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 336(1) ('building' includes any structure or erection, and any part of a building, as so defined, but does not include plant or machinery comprised in a building) by virtue of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(1), (2), the context of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 does not require the term 'listed building' to include part of that building: see Shimizu (UK) Ltd v Westminster City Council [1997] 1 All ER 481, [1997] 1 WLR 168, HL. As to the implications of the judgment in that case see further PARA 1109 note 2 post. For the meaning of 'listed building' see PARA 1091 post.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(1) LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS; IN GENERAL/(i) Introduction/1074. Regulations and orders.

1074. Regulations and orders.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may make regulations under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990:

- 3986 (1) for prescribing the form of any notice, order or other document authorised or required by any of the provisions of that Act to be served, made or issued by any local authority³ or National Park authority⁴;
- 3987 (2) for any purpose for which regulations are authorised or required to be made under that Act⁵.

Any power so conferred to make regulations is exercisable by statutory instrument⁶; and any statutory instrument containing regulations so made is subject, if made by the Secretary of State, to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament⁷.

Any power conferred by that Act to make an order⁸ includes power to vary or revoke any such order by a subsequent order⁹. Regulations and orders may make different provision for different purposes¹⁰.

As from a day to be appointed¹¹, in making building regulations under the Building Act 1984¹², the Secretary of State must have regard, in particular, to the desirability of preserving the character of protected buildings¹³ that are of special historical or architectural interest¹⁴.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 93 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 1072 note 8 ante.

1074 Regulations and orders

TEXT AND NOTE 11--Day now appointed: SI 2006/224.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(1) LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS; IN GENERAL/(ii) Application of Legislation to the Crown/1075. Exercise of powers in relation to Crown land; the position before amendment by the 2004 Act.

(ii) Application of Legislation to the Crown1075. Exercise of powers in relation to Crown land; the position before amendment by the 2004 Act.

At the date at which this title states the law, the following provisions apply. Notwithstanding any interest of the Crown¹ in Crown land², but subject to the following provisions:

- 3988 (1) a building³ which for the time being is Crown land may be included in a list compiled or approved⁴ by the Secretary of State⁵ or by the National Assembly for Wales⁶;
- 3989 (2) any specified statutory restrictions imposed or statutory powers conferred⁷ apply and are exercisable in relation to Crown land to the extent of any interest in it for the time being held otherwise than by or on behalf of the Crown⁸;
- 3990 (3) any power to acquire land compulsorily⁹ may be exercised in relation to any interest in the land which is for the time being held otherwise than by or on behalf of the Crown¹⁰.

Except with the consent of the appropriate authority¹¹:

- 3991 (a) no listed building enforcement notice¹² may be issued or served in relation to land which is for the time being Crown land;
- 3992 (b) no interest in land which for the time being is Crown land may be acquired¹³ compulsorily¹⁴.

Furthermore, no listed building enforcement notice or conservation area enforcement notice may be issued in respect of works executed by or on behalf of the Crown in respect of a building which was Crown land at the time when the works were executed¹⁵.

No listed building purchase notice or conservation area purchase notice¹⁶ may be served in relation to any interest in Crown land unless:

- 3993 (i) an offer has been previously made by the owner¹⁷ of that interest to dispose¹⁸ of it to the appropriate authority on terms that the price payable for it shall be equal to the compensation which would be payable in respect of it if it were acquired in pursuance of such a notice, or, in default of agreement, shall be determined in a similar manner to that in which that compensation would be determined; and
- 3994 (ii) that offer has been refused by the appropriate authority¹⁹.

As from a day to be appointed, however²⁰, the provisions set out above are repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004²¹. The new provision made by that Act is discussed below²².

1 For these purposes, 'Crown interest' means an interest belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Crown, or belonging to a government department, or held in trust for Her Majesty for the purposes of a government department: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 83(5). Except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'government department' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 3 note 5 ante): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(1), (2). The interest of the Corporate Officer of the House of Lords, of the Corporate Officer of the House of Commons, or of those two Corporate Officers acting jointly, in any land is to be regarded as a Crown interest for these purposes: Parliamentary Corporate Bodies (Crown Immunities etc) Order 1992, SI 1992/1732, arts 1(2), 2(1)(a), (3).

The Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 applies to land in which an interest is held by or on behalf of a visiting force or headquarters and which is used for the purposes of that force or headquarters to the extent that it applies to Crown land: Visiting Forces and International Headquarters (Application of Law) Order 1999, SI 1999/1736, art 11(1). In its application to such land, the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 has effect as if any reference in that Act to: (1) 'Crown land' included a reference to such land; (2) 'the Crown' included a reference to the visiting force or headquarters; and (3) 'the appropriate authority' was a reference to the Ministry of Defence: art 11(2).

2 For these purposes, 'Crown land' means land in which there is a Crown interest or a Duchy interest; and 'Duchy interest' means an interest belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Duchy of Lancaster or belonging to the Duchy of Cornwall: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 83(5). For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1077 note 1 ante. For the purposes of the Parliamentary Corporate Bodies (Crown Immunities etc) Order 1992, SI 1992/1732, a licence is not to be regarded as an interest in land: art 1(3).

3 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante.

4 Ie under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 1: see PARA 1092 post.

5 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

6 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 83(1)(a). As to the transfer of functions under s 83, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

7 Ie any restrictions imposed or powers conferred by the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 ss 1-26 (as amended) (see PARA 1092 et seq post), ss 32-46 (as amended) (see PARA 1139 et seq post), ss 54-56 (as amended) (see PARAS 1163-1165 post), s 59 (as amended) (see PARA 1168 post), s 60 (see PARA 1101 post), s 61 (see PARA 1105 post), s 66(1) (see PARA 1106 post), s 67 (as substituted) (see PARA 1107 post), s 68 (see PARA 1108 post), s 73 (as substituted) (see PARA 1169 post) or s 76 (see PARA 1181 post) or Sch 1 (see PARA 1096 post), Sch 2 (as amended) (see PARA 1100 post) or Sch 3 (as amended) (see PARA 1199 et seq post).

8 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 83(1)(b). A person who is entitled to occupy Crown land by virtue of a licence in writing is treated as having an interest in land for the purposes of s 83(1)(b) so far as applicable to ss 1-26 (as amended), ss 38-46 (as amended), ss 54-56 (as amended), ss 59-61 (as amended), s 66(1), s 67 (as amended), s 68, s 73 (as amended) and s 76 and Sch 1, Sch 2 (as amended) or Sch 3 (as amended): s 83(6). If a Corporate Officer or the Corporate Officers is or are entitled to occupy Crown land by virtue of a licence in writing, that licence is to be regarded as a Crown interest, rather than a private interest, for these purposes: Parliamentary Corporate Bodies (Crown Immunities etc) Order 1992, SI 1992/1732, art 2(2), (3)(a).

The Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 83(1)(b) and s 83(3), (4) (see the text and notes 15-19 infra) are applied in relation to conservation areas by s 74(3), (4); and have effect in so far as so applying subject to the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 12, Sch 3 (see PARA 1174 note 5 post). The remaining provisions of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 83 do not so apply: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 12(b), Sch 3.

9 Ie under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 47 (as amended): see PARAS 1154, 1157 post.

10 Ibid s 83(1)(c).

11 For these purposes, 'the appropriate authority', in relation to any land: (1) in relation to land belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Crown and forming part of the Crown Estate, means the Crown Estate Commissioners; (2) in relation to any other land belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Crown, means the government department having the management of that land; (3) in relation to land belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Duchy of Lancaster, means the Chancellor of the Duchy; (4) in relation to land belonging to the Duchy of Cornwall, means such person as the Duke of Cornwall, or the possessor for the time being of the Duchy of Cornwall, appoints; (5) in the case of land belonging to a government department or held in trust for Her Majesty for the purposes of a government department, means that department: ibid s 83(7). If any question arises as to what authority is the appropriate authority in relation to any land, that question must be referred to the Treasury, whose decision is final: s 83(8). As to the Crown Estate see CROWN PROPERTY vol 12(1) (Reissue) PARA 278 et seq; and as to the Crown Estate Commissioners see CROWN PROPERTY vol 12(1) (Reissue) PARA 280. In relation to land which is Crown land, by virtue only of the Parliamentary Corporate Bodies (Crown Immunities etc) Order 1992, SI 1992/1732, art 2(1)(a) (see note 1 supra), 'the appropriate authority' for these purposes is the Corporate Officer or, as the case may be, the Corporate Officers in whom is vested the interest in the land: art 2(1), (2)(a). To the extent that a Corporate Officer or the Corporate Officers has or have responsibility for the management of any land in which he has or they have no interest but which forms part of the Palace of Westminster, the Corporate Officer or Corporate Officers are to be regarded as having the status of a government department for the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 83(7)(b) (see head (2) supra): Parliamentary Corporate Bodies (Crown Immunities etc) Order 1992, SI 1992/1732, art 2(4)(b). Any development carried out by or on behalf of a Corporate Officer or the Corporate Officers is to be regarded as development carried out by or on behalf of the Crown; and for these purposes references to 'development' include references to works affecting a listed building and the demolition of a building in a conservation area: art 2(1)(b), (3)(b).

13 See note 9 supra.

14 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 83(2).

15 Ibid s 83(3). As to conservation area enforcement notices see PARA 1180 post. See also note 8 supra.

16 For these purposes, 'listed building purchase notice' has the meaning given in ibid s 32(1) (as amended) (see PARA 1139 post): s 91(1). As to conservation area purchase notices see PARA 1179 post.

17 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'owner' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 17 note 1 ante) but this definition does not affect the meaning of 'owner' in the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 11 (see PARA 1113 note 3 post): s 91(1).

18 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'disposal' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 38 note 6 ante): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(1), (2).

1075 Exercise of powers in relation to Crown land; the position before amendment by the 2004 Act

TEXT AND NOTES 20, 21--Day now appointed and repeals in force: SI 2006/1281.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(1) LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS; IN GENERAL/(ii) Application of Legislation to the Crown/1076. Crown land etc; the new position after the ending of general Crown immunity.

1076. Crown land etc; the new position after the ending of general Crown immunity.

As from a day to be appointed¹, and subject to specified exceptions², the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 binds the Crown³. Particular provision is made with regard to:

- 3995 (1) applications for consent to the execution of urgent works relating to Crown land⁴;
- 3996 (2) enforcement in relation to the Crown⁵;
- 3997 (3) references to an interest in land⁶;
- 3998 (4) listed building purchase notices⁷;
- 3999 (5) applications by the Crown for listed building consent or conservation area consent⁸;
- 4000 (6) expressions relating to the Crown⁹;
- 4001 (7) rights of entry on Crown land¹⁰.

For the purposes of that Act, Crown land is land in which there is a Crown interest¹¹ or a Duchy interest¹². If any question arises as to what authority is the appropriate authority¹³ in relation to any land it must be referred to the Treasury, whose decision is final¹⁴. For the purposes of an application for listed building consent made by or on behalf of the Crown¹⁵ in respect of land which does not belong to the Crown or in respect of which it has no interest, a reference to the appropriate authority must be construed as a reference to the person who makes the application¹⁶.

Transitional provision is made by Part 2 of Schedule 4 to the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004¹⁷.

¹ ie as from a day to be appointed under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 121. At the date at which this title states the law, 6 August 2004 had been appointed for limited purposes only: see note 2 infra.

2 The excepted provisions are: (1) the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 9 (as amended) (offences: see PARA 1110 post); (2) s 11(6) (offences relating to certificates: see PARA 1113 post); (3) s 21(7) (further offences relating to certificates: see PARA 1187 post); (4) s 42(1), (5), (6) (as amended) (certain powers of entry: see PARA 1148 post); (5) s 43 (as substituted) (offence where listed building enforcement notice not complied with: see PARA 1149 post); (6) s 44A (as added) (injunctions: see PARA 1151 post); (7) s 54 (urgent preservation works: see PARA 1163 post); (8) s 55 (as amended) (recovery of expenses of works under s 54: see PARA 1164 post); (9) s 59 (as amended) (damage to listed buildings: see PARA 1168 post); and s 88A (as substituted) (warrants to enter land: see PARA 1085 post): s 82A(2) (s 82A added by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 79(2), partly as from a day to be appointed under s 121; at the date at which this title states the law, s 79(2) was in force for limited purposes only: see PARA 13 note 8 ante).

The Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 82A(2)(a) (as so added) (see head (1) supra) does not have effect to prohibit the doing of anything by or on behalf of the Crown which falls within the circumstances described in s 9(3)(a)-(d) (see PARA 1110 post) and the doing of that thing does not contravene s 7 (restriction on works: see PARA 1109 post): s 82A(3) (as so added).

3 Ibid s 82A(1) (as added: see note 2 supra).

4 See ibid s 82B (as prospectively added); and PARA 1123 post.

5 See ibid s 82D (as prospectively added); and PARA 1153 post.

6 See ibid s 82E (as prospectively added); and PARA 1153 note 14 post.

7 See ibid s 32A (as prospectively added); and PARA 1140 post.

8 See ibid s 82F (as prospectively added); and PARA 1122 post.

9 See ibid s 82C (as prospectively added); and the text and notes 11-16 infra.

10 See ibid s 88C (as prospectively added); and PARA 1084 post.

11 For these purposes, a 'Crown interest' is any of the following: (1) an interest belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Crown or in right of Her private estates; (2) an interest belonging to a government department or held in trust for Her Majesty for the purposes of a government department; (3) such other interest as the Secretary of State (or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales) specifies by order: ibid s 82C(1), (3) (s 82C added by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 79(4), Sch 3 para 7, partly as from a day to be appointed under s 121; at the date at which this title states the law, s 79(4), Sch 3 para 7 were in force for limited purposes only: see PARA 13 note 8 ante). The reference to Her Majesty's private estates must be construed in accordance with the Crown Private Estates Act 1862 s 1 (see CROWN PROPERTY vol 12(1) (Reissue) PARA 358): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 82C(10) (as so added). An order made for the purposes of head (3) supra must be made by statutory instrument; but no such order may be made by the Secretary of State unless a draft of it has been laid before and approved by resolution of each House of Parliament: s 82C(11), (12) (as so added). As to the Secretary of State and the Assembly see PARAS 19-20 ante.

12 Ibid s 82C(1), (2) (as added: see note 11 supra). A Duchy interest is (1) an interest belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Duchy of Lancaster; or (2) an interest belonging to the Duchy of Cornwall: s 82C(1), (4) (as so added). A private interest is an interest which is neither a Crown interest nor a Duchy interest: s 82C(1), (5) (as so added).

13 For these purposes, 'the appropriate authority' in relation to any land: (1) in the case of land belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Crown and forming part of the Crown Estate, means the Crown Estate Commissioners; (2) in relation to any other land belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Crown, means the government department having the management of that land; (3) in relation to land belonging to Her Majesty in right of Her private estates means a person appointed by Her Majesty in writing under the Royal Sign Manual or, if no such appointment is made, the Secretary of State; (4) in relation to land belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Duchy of Lancaster, means the Chancellor of the Duchy; (5) in relation to land belonging to the Duchy of Cornwall, means such person as the Duke of Cornwall, or the possessor for the time being of the Duchy of Cornwall, appoints; (6) in the case of land belonging to a government department or held in trust for Her Majesty for the purposes of a government department, means that department; (7) in relation to Westminster Hall and the Chapel of St Mary Undercroft, means the Lord Great Chamberlain and the Speakers of the House of Lords and the House of Commons acting jointly; (8) in relation to Her Majesty's Robing Room in the Palace of Westminster, the adjoining staircase and ante-room and the Royal Gallery, means the Lord Great Chamberlain: ibid s 82C(6) (as added: see note 11 supra). As to the Crown Estate Commissioners see CROWN PROPERTY vol 12(1) (Reissue) PARA 280.

14 Ibid s 82C(7) (as added: see note 11 supra).

15 For these purposes, the Crown includes (1) the Duchy of Lancaster; (2) the Duchy of Cornwall; (3) a person who is an appropriate authority by virtue of ibid s 82C(6)(g) and (h) (as added) (see note 13 heads (7)-(8) supra): s 82C(9) (as added: see note 11 supra).

16 Ibid s 82C(8) (as added: see note 11 supra).

17 See the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 89, Sch 4 Pt 2 (paras 7-12); and PARA 1124 post.

NOTE 11--The National Assembly for Wales Commission is to be treated as a government department for the purposes of the 1990 Act s 82C: National Assembly for Wales Commission (Crown Status) (No 2) Order 2007, SI 2007/1353, art 5(1), (3).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(1) LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS; IN GENERAL/(iii) Other Special Cases/1077. Land and works of local planning authorities.

(iii) Other Special Cases

1077. Land and works of local planning authorities.

In relation to land¹ of a local planning authority², certain specified provisions of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990³ have effect subject to such exceptions and modifications as may be prescribed⁴; and other specified provisions of that Act⁵ have effect for the purpose of applications by local planning authorities relating to the execution of works for the demolition, alteration or extension of listed buildings⁶, subject to such exceptions and modifications as may be prescribed⁷.

Regulations made under the above provisions may in particular provide:

4002 (1) for the making of applications for listed building consent⁸ to the Secretary of State⁹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁰; and 4003 (2) for the issue or service by him or by the Assembly of specified¹¹ notices¹².

1 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'land' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 2 note 10 ante): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(1), (2).

2 For the meaning of 'local planning authority' see PARA 1073 ante.

3 In the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 1(1), (2), (4) (see PARA 1092 post), s 2 (as amended) (see PARA 1094 post) and s 39(6) (see PARA 1193 post).

4 Ibid s 82(1) (amended by the Planning and Compensation 1991 s 25, Sch 3 para 24(a)). The Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 82 (as amended) is applied in relation to conservation areas by s 74(3), (4); and modified, so far as so applying, by the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 12, Sch 3: see note 7 infra.

The Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 82(1) (as so amended) had effect with the addition of '41(8)' after '39(6)' until 2 January 1992: Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 6, Sch 4 paras 1(1)(a), Table, 1(3); Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 (Appointed Day No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1991, SI 1991/2698, art 3(1). Article 3(1) has effect, however, only for the purposes of awards of costs in relation to proceedings which give rise to a hearing (art 3(2)); and nothing in art 3 applies in relation to any proceedings occasioned by an application referred to the Secretary of State or an appeal made to him before 2 January 1992, or by an order or notice submitted or sent to the Secretary of State before that date for his confirmation or approval (art 4).

For these purpose, except in relation to matters expressly required or authorised by the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 to be prescribed in some other way, 'prescribed' means prescribed by regulations thereunder: s 91(1). References in the planning Acts to any of the provisions mentioned in the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 82 (as amended) include, except where the context otherwise requires, references to those provisions as modified under s 82 (as amended): s 91(4). For the meaning of 'the planning Acts' see PARA 2 ante.

5 In ibid s 1(3), (5), (6), (see PARAS 1092, 1096 post), ss 3-5 (as amended) (see PARAS 1098-1100 post), ss 7-29 (as amended) (see PARA 1109 et seq post), ss 32-50 (as amended), except s 39(6) (see PARA 1139 et seq post), s 60(1)-(4) (see PARA 1101 post), as it applies as respects the provisions mentioned in this note, ss 62-65 (as amended) (see PARAS 1088-1090, 1195 post), s 67(2)(b), (6), (7) (now repealed), s 73(1) (as substituted) (see PARA 1169 post), Sch 1 (see PARA 1096 post), Sch 2 (as amended) (see PARA 1100 post), Sch 4 para 2 (as amended) (as it applies to Sch 1) and Sch 4 para 4(1) (as amended) (see PARA 1096 notes 9, 14 post), as it applies as respects the provisions mentioned in this note: s 82(3) (amended by the Planning and Compensation 1991 s 25, Sch 3 para 24(b)).

6 'Listed building' has the meaning given in the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 1(5) (see PARA 1091 post): s 91(1).

7 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 82(2), (3) (as amended: see note 5 supra). In exercise of the power so conferred the Secretary of State made the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 13 (as amended): see PARA 1078 post.

In their application to buildings in conservation areas the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 82(2), (3) (as so amended) and s 82(4) (see the text and notes 8-12 infra) have effect as they have effect in relation to listed buildings: (1) subject to the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 12(a) (see PARA 1174 note 5 post); (2) with the omission in the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 82(2) of the words 'alteration or extension'; and in s 82(2)-(4) (as amended) the exceptions and modifications mentioned in the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 13 (as amended) (see PARA 1078 post) and also as mentioned in reg 12, Sch 3 col 2 (see PARA 1174 note 5 post) have effect in relation to the appropriate provision mentioned in the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 82(3) (as amended) (see note 5 supra): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, Sch 3.

8 For these purposes, 'listed building consent' has the meaning given in the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 8(7) (see PARA 1109 post): s 91(1).

9 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

10 As to the transfer of functions under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 82 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

11 The notices under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 2(3) (as amended) (see PARA 1094 post) and the provisions mentioned in note 5 supra.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(1) LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS; IN GENERAL/(iii) Other Special Cases/1078. Applications by local planning authorities.

1078. Applications by local planning authorities.

In relation to applications by local planning authorities¹ relating to the execution of works for the demolition, alteration or extension of listed buildings² or for the demolition of unlisted buildings in conservation areas³, the specified statutory provisions⁴ have effect subject to the following exceptions and modifications⁵.

Where a local planning authority requires listed building consent⁶ for the demolition, alteration or extension of a listed building in its area or conservation area consent⁷ for the demolition of a building within a conservation area in its area, the authority must make application to the Secretary of State⁸ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁹ for that consent¹⁰; but any such application by the council of a county in England¹¹ to the Secretary of State, together with the accompanying documents¹², must be made to the council of the district¹³ which must forthwith send it on to the Secretary of State¹⁴.

Any such application must be in the form of an application to the local planning authority and is deemed to have been referred¹⁵ to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly¹⁶. Such an application must be accompanied by a copy of all representations duly made in relation to it¹⁷.

Where a local planning authority has so made an application for consent, it must, before sending the application to the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, to the Assembly:

4004 (1) publish in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the building is situated a notice indicating the nature of the works which are the subject of the application and naming a place within the locality where a copy of the application, and of all the plans and other documents which it is intended to submit to the Secretary of State or the Assembly with it, will be open to inspection by the public at all reasonable hours during the period of 21 days beginning with the date of publication of the notice; and 4005 (2) for not less than seven days display on or near such building a notice containing the same particulars as are required to be contained in the notice to be published in accordance with head (1) above¹⁸.

In relation to a listed building, or a building in a conservation area, belonging to a local planning authority, the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, the Welsh Assembly, may serve any notice authorised to be served by a local planning authority in relation to a listed building or a building in a conservation area¹⁹.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(1) LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS; IN GENERAL/(iii) Other Special Cases/1079. Ecclesiastical property.

1079. Ecclesiastical property.

Where, under any provisions of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990, a notice or copy of a notice is required to be served on an owner¹ of land² and the land is ecclesiastical property³, a similar notice or copy of a notice must⁴ be served on the Church Commissioners⁵.

Where the fee simple of any ecclesiastical property is in abeyance:

4006 (1) if the property is situated in England, the fee simple is treated⁶ as being vested in the Church Commissioners;

4007 (2) in any case, the fee simple is treated, for the purposes of a compulsory acquisition of the property⁷, as being vested in the Church Commissioners, and any notice to treat⁸ must be served, or is deemed to have been served, accordingly⁹.

Any compensation payable¹⁰ in respect of land which is ecclesiastical property:

4008 (a) must, in the case of land which is not diocesan glebe land, be paid to the Church Commissioners; and

4009 (b) must, in the case of diocesan glebe land, be paid to the Diocesan Board of Finance¹¹ in which the land is vested, and must, in either case, be applied by them for the purposes for which the proceeds of a sale by agreement of the land would be applicable under any enactment or Measure authorising or disposing of the proceeds of such a sale¹².

1 For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 1075 note 17 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1077 note 1 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'ecclesiastical property' means land belonging to an ecclesiastical benefice, or being or forming part of a church subject to the jurisdiction of a bishop of any diocese or the site of such a church, or being or forming part of a burial ground subject to such jurisdiction or being diocesan glebe land; and 'diocesan glebe land' has the same meaning as in the Endowments and Glebe Measure 1976: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 86(4) (s 86(3), (4) amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 70(b), Sch 15 para 31). 'Glebe land' means land vested in the incumbent of a benefice (when the benefice is full) as part of the endowments of the benefice other than parsonage land; and 'diocesan glebe land' means glebe land acquired by a Diocesan Board of Finance under any provisions of the 1976 Measure and any other land acquired by such a Board, being land which by virtue of, or of any enactment amended by, a provision of that Measure is to be held as part of the diocesan glebe land of the diocese: see the Endowments and Glebe Measure 1976 s 45(1).

1072-1209 Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(1) LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS; IN GENERAL/(iii) Other Special Cases/1081. Statutory undertakers.

1081. Statutory undertakers.

For the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990, 'statutory undertakers' generally has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990¹. However, for the purposes of certain provisions relating to listed building purchase notices and conservation area purchase notices², the expression 'statutory undertakers' is deemed to include references to an electronic communications code operator and to a former public telecommunications operator ('PTO')³; and for those purposes, for the purposes of the statutory exception for rights and apparatus of statutory undertakers⁴ and for the purposes of the provision allowing statutory undertakers to contribute to expenses incurred by a local planning authority⁵, that expression is deemed to include:

- 4010 (1) a universal service provider⁶ in connection with the provision of a universal postal service⁷;
- 4011 (2) the Civil Aviation Authority⁸;
- 4012 (3) a person who holds a licence authorising the provision of air traffic services⁹, to the extent that the person is carrying out activities authorised by the licence;
- 4013 (4) a gas transporter¹⁰;
- 4014 (5) an electricity supplier¹¹;
- 4015 (6) the Environment Agency¹²; and
- 4016 (7) every water or sewerage undertaker¹³.

1 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(3). For the meaning of 'statutory undertakers' for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 see PARA 1009 ante.

2 Ie for the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 ss 33-36 (as amended): see PARAS 1141-1144, 1179 post. As to the application of ss 33-36 to conservation areas see s 74(3), (4); the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 12, Sch 3; and PARA 1174 note 5 post.

3 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(3)(a).

4 Ie for the purposes of ibid s 51(2)(a): see PARA 1160 post.

5 Ie for the purposes of ibid s 90(2) (as amended): see PARA 1082 post.

6 For these purposes, 'universal service provider' has the same meaning as in the Postal Services Act 2000 (see POST OFFICE): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(3B) (s 91(3A), (3B) added by the Postal Services Act 2000 (Consequential Modifications No 1) Order 2001, SI 2001/1149, art 3(1), Sch 1 para 84(1), (3)).

7 For these purposes, references to the provision of a universal postal service are to be construed in accordance with the Postal Services Act 2000 (see POST OFFICE): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(3B) (as added: see note 6 supra). The undertaking of a universal service provider so far as relating to the provision of a universal postal service is to be taken to be his statutory undertaking for the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990; and references in the 1990 Act to his undertaking are to be construed accordingly: s 91(3A) (as added).

8 As to the Civil Aviation Authority see AIR LAW vol 2 (2008) PARA 50 et seq.

9 Ie a licence under the Transport Act 2000 Pt I Ch I (ss 1-40) (as amended): see AIR LAW vol 2 (2008) PARA 139 et seq.

10 Ie a public gas supplier: see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 805. References to a public gas supplier have effect as if they were references to a public gas transporter, by virtue of the Gas Act 1995 s 16(1), Sch 4 para 2(2)(j); and a reference to a public gas transporter now has effect as a reference to a gas transporter: see the Utilities Act 2000 s 76(7).

11 Ie a holder of a licence under the Electricity Act 1989 s 6 (as substituted): see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1065. References in any enactment to holders of licences under 6(2) (as substituted) now have effect as if they were references to electricity suppliers: Utilities Act 2000 s 31(3).

12 As to the Environment Agency see ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH vol 45 (2010) PARA 68 et seq.

13 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(3) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 ss 31, 84, Sch 6 para 48, Sch 19 Pt II; the Transport Act 2000 s 37, Sch 5 para 8; the Environment Act 1995 (Consequential Amendments) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/593, reg 2, Sch 1; and by the Postal Services Act 2000 (Consequential Modifications No 1) Order 2001, SI 2001/1149, Sch 1 para 84(1), (3)). As to water and sewerage undertakers see ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH vol 46 (2010) PARA 999 et seq; WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 100 (2009) PARAS 108, 134 et seq.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(1) LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS; IN GENERAL/(iv) Financial Provisions/1082. Financial provisions; in general.

(iv) Financial Provisions

1082. Financial provisions; in general.

Where (1) compensation is payable by a local authority (including a National Park authority)¹ under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 in consequence of any decision or order given or made² thereunder; and (2) the decision or order in consequence of which it is payable was given or made wholly or partly in the interest of a service which is provided by a government department³ and the cost of which is defrayed out of money provided by Parliament, the minister⁴ responsible for the administration of that service may pay to that authority a contribution of such amount as he may with the consent of the Treasury determine⁵.

Any local authority and any statutory undertakers⁶ may contribute towards any expenses incurred by a local planning authority⁷ in or in connection with the performance of any of its statutory⁸ functions⁹.

Where any expenses are incurred by a local authority in the payment of compensation¹⁰, the Secretary of State¹¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹² may, if it appears to him or to the Assembly to be expedient to do so, require any other local authority to contribute towards those expenses such sum as appears to him or to the Assembly to be reasonable, having regard to any benefit accruing to that authority by reason of the proceeding giving rise to the compensation¹³.

The council of a county¹⁴ may direct that any expenses incurred¹⁵ by it shall be treated as special expenses of a county council chargeable upon such part of the county as may be specified in the directions¹⁶.

There must be paid out of money provided by Parliament:

- 4017 (a) any sums necessary to enable the Secretary of State to make any payments becoming payable by him under certain provisions relating to compensation¹⁷;
- 4018 (b) any expenses incurred by any government department, including the Secretary of State, in the acquisition of land¹⁸ or in the payment of compensation under other specified provisions¹⁹;
- 4019 (c) any administrative expenses incurred by the Secretary of State for the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990²⁰.

Any sums received by the Secretary of State under that Act must be paid into the Consolidated Fund²¹.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 1072 note 8 ante. For the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 90(1)-(4), references to a local authority are deemed to include references to a National Park authority: Environment Act 1995 s 70, Sch 9 para 13(6).

2 Ie any decision or order given or made under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Pt I Ch I (ss 1-6) (as amended) (see PARA 1092 et seq post), Pt I Ch II (ss 7-26) (as amended) (see PARA 1109 et seq post) or Pt I Ch IV (ss 38-46) (as amended) (see PARA 1146 et seq post) or ss 32-37 (as amended) (see PARA 1139 et seq post), s 60 (see PARA 1101 post) or Sch 3 (as amended) (see PARA 1199 et seq post): s 90(1)(a).

3 For the meaning of 'government department' see PARA 1075 note 1 ante.

4 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'minister' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 3 note 5 ante): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(1), (2).

5 Ibid s 90(1).

6 For the meaning of 'statutory undertakers' see PARA 1081 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'local planning authority' see PARA 1073 ante.

8 Ie its functions under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Pt I Chs I-V (ss 1-59) (as amended) (see PARA 1092 et seq post) (other than ss 28-31) (as amended) (see PARA 1136 et seq post), s 53 (see PARA 1162 post), s 54 (see PARA 1163 post), s 55 (as amended) (see PARA 1164 post), s 57 (as amended) (see PARA 1166 post) and s 58 (see PARA 1167 post); also its functions under s 66 (as amended) (see PARA 1106 post), s 68 (see PARA 1108 post) and s 1(6), Sch 1 (see PARA 1096 post). For the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 1073 note 3 ante.

9 Ibid s 90(2) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 31, Sch 6 para 47(1)). For the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 90(2) (as so amended) and s 90(3) (see the text and notes 10-13 infra), contributions made by a local planning authority towards the expenditure of a joint advisory committee are deemed to be expenses incurred by that authority for the purposes for which that expenditure is incurred by the committee: s 90(4).

Section 90(2)-(4) (as amended) is applied in relation to conservation areas by s 74(3), (4); and has effect in so far as so applying subject to the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 12, Sch 3 (see PARA 1174 note 5 post). The remaining provisions of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 90 (as amended) do not so apply: see the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 12(b), Sch 3.

10 Ie compensation payable in consequence of anything done under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Pt I Ch I (as amended), Pt I Ch II (as amended) or Pt I Ch IV (as amended) (see PARA 1146 et seq post) or ss 32-37 (as amended) (see PARA 1139 et seq post), s 56 (see PARA 1165 post), s 59 (as amended) (see PARA 1168 post), s 60 (see PARA 1101 post), s 66(1) (see PARA 1106 post), s 67 (as amended) (see PARA 1107 post), s 68 (see PARA 1108 post) or s 73 (as amended) (see PARA 1169 post): s 90(3).

11 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

12 As to the transfer of functions under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 90(3), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

13 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 90(3). See also note 9 supra.

14 As to county councils see PARA 28 ante.

15 Ie expenses incurred under the provisions specified in the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 90(6) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 ss 25, 84(6), Sch 26, Sch 19 Pt 1): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 90(5). The specified provisions are:

- 345 (1) s 1(1)-(5) (see PARAS 1091-1092 post), s 2(1)-(3) (as amended) (see PARA 1094 post), s 51 (as amended) (see PARA 1160 post), s 52 (as amended) (see PARA 1161 post), s 64 (see PARA 1089 post), s 65 (as amended) (see PARA 1195 post), s 66(2) (see PARA 1106 post), s 82(1), (4)(b) (as amended) (see PARA 1077 ante), s 83 (prospectively repealed) (see PARA 1075 ante), s 86 (as amended) (except s 86(2)(a)) (see PARA 1079 ante), s 87 (see PARA 1080 ante), s 88 (as amended) (except s 88(3) (as amended)) (see PARA 1083 post), and s 90(1)-(4) (as amended) and any other provisions of the planning Acts in so far as they apply, or have effect for the purposes of any of those provisions; and

- 346 (2) s 1(6), s 3 (as amended) (see PARA 1098 post), s 4 (see PARA 1101 post), s 61 (see PARA 1105 post), s 66(1) (see PARA 1106 post), s 67(2)(b), (6), (7) (now repealed), s 73(1) (as substituted) (see PARA 1169 post) (so far as it applied to s 67(2)(b), (6), (7) (now repealed)), s 82(2), (3), (4)(a) (as amended) (see PARA 1077 ante) and Sch 1 (see PARA 1096 post), Sch 2 (as amended) (see PARA 1100 post) and Sch 3 (as amended) (see PARA 1199 et seq post).

For the meaning of 'the planning Acts' see PARA 2 ante.

The Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 90(6)(a) (see head (1) supra) had effect with the addition of '41(8)' after '2(1) to (3)' until 2 January 1992: Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 6, Sch 4 paras 1(1)(a), Table, 1(3), 10; Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 (Appointed Day No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1991, SI 1991/2698, art 3(1). Article 3(1) has effect, however, only for the purposes of awards of costs in relation to proceedings which give rise to a hearing (art 3(2)); and nothing in art 3 applies in relation to any proceedings occasioned by an application referred to the Secretary of State or an appeal made to him before 2 January 1992, or by an order or notice submitted or sent to the Secretary of State before that date for his confirmation or approval (art 4).

16 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 90(5), (6) (as amended: see note 15 supra). As to the special expenses of county councils see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 29(1) (Reissue) PARA 550.

17 The compensation under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 28 (see PARA 1136 post) or s 29 (see PARA 1137 post).

18 The acquisition under ibid ss 47-52 (as amended): see PARA 1154 et seq post.

19 The compensation under ibid s 51(4) (see PARA 1160 post) or s 88(7) (now repealed) or under s 90(1) (see the text and notes 1-5 supra).

20 Ibid s 90(7) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 6 para 47(2)).

(v) Rights of Entry

1083. Right of entry without warrant; in general.

Any person duly authorised in writing by the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales² may at any reasonable time enter any land³ for the purpose of surveying⁴ any building⁵ on it or any other land in connection with a proposal to include the building in, or exclude it from, a listed compiled or approved⁶ by the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, by the Assembly⁷.

Any person duly authorised in writing by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, by a local planning authority⁸ or, where the authorisation relates to a building situated in Greater London⁹, by the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')¹⁰ may at any reasonable time enter any land for any of the following purposes:

- 4020 (1) surveying it or any other land in connection with any proposal by the authority or the Secretary of State or the Assembly to make, issue or serve any order or notice under any of the specified statutory provisions¹¹;
- 4021 (2) ascertaining whether any such order or notice has been complied with in relation to the land or any other land;
- 4022 (3) ascertaining whether an offence has been, or is being, committed¹² with respect to any building on the land or any other land;
- 4023 (4) ascertaining whether any building on the land or any other land is being maintained in a proper state of repair¹³.

Any person duly authorised in writing by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, a local authority¹⁴ or, where the authorisation relates to a building situated in Greater London, the Commission may at any reasonable time enter any land for any of the following purposes:

- 4024 (a) ascertaining whether an offence has been, or is being, committed¹⁵ in relation to the land or any other land;
- 4025 (b) ascertaining whether any of the functions relating to urgent works to preserve unoccupied listed buildings¹⁶ should or may be exercised in connection with the land; or
- 4026 (c) exercising any of those functions in connection with the land or any other land¹⁷.

Any person who is an officer of the Valuation Office¹⁸ or is duly authorised in writing by a local planning authority may at any reasonable time enter any land for the purpose of surveying it, or estimating its value, in connection with a claim for compensation payable by the authority under certain statutory provisions¹⁹ in respect of any land²⁰.

Any person who is an officer of the Valuation Office or is duly authorised in writing by a local authority having power to acquire land²¹ may at any reasonable time enter any land for the purpose of surveying it, or estimating its value, in connection with any proposal to acquire that land or any other land or in connection with any claim for compensation in respect of any such acquisition²².

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 88 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1077 note 1 ante.

4 For these purposes, any power to survey land is to be construed, subject to the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 88B(8) (as substituted) (see PARA 1086 post), as including power to search and bore for the purpose of ascertaining the nature of the subsoil: s 88(6) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 25, Sch 3 para 25).

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(1) LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS; IN GENERAL/(v) Rights of Entry/1084. Rights of entry in relation to Crown land.

1084. Rights of entry in relation to Crown land.

As from a day to be appointed¹, the following provisions have effect. The rights of entry set out in the previous paragraph² apply to Crown land³ subject to the following modifications⁴. A person must not enter Crown land unless he has the relevant permission⁵; and relevant permission is the permission of:

- 4027 (1) a person appearing to the person seeking entry to the land to be entitled to give it; or
- 4028 (2) the appropriate authority⁶.

The supplementary provisions regarding rights of entry which are set out below⁷ do not apply to anything done by virtue of this right of entry onto Crown land⁸.

1 Ie as from a day to be appointed under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 121. At the date at which this title states the law, no such day had been appointed.

1084 Rights of entry in relation to Crown land

TEXT AND NOTE 1--Day now appointed: SI 2006/1281.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(1) LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS; IN GENERAL/(v) Rights of Entry/1085. Right of entry under warrant.

1085. Right of entry under warrant.

If it is shown to the satisfaction of a justice of the peace on sworn information in writing:

- 4029 (1) that there are reasonable grounds for entering any land for any of the statutory purposes¹; and
- 4030 (2) that admission to the land has been refused² or a refusal is reasonably apprehended, or the case is one of urgency, the justice may issue a warrant authorising any person duly authorised in writing by the appropriate authority³ to enter the land⁴.

A warrant authorises entry on one occasion only and that entry must be:

- 4031 (a) within one month from the date of the issue of the warrant; and
- 4032 (b) at a reasonable hour, unless the case is one of urgency⁵.

1 le for any of the purposes mentioned in the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 88 (as amended): see PARA 1083 ante. For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1077 note 1 ante.

2 For these purposes, admission is regarded as having been refused if no reply is received to a request for admission within a reasonable period: ibid s 88A(3) (s 88A substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 25, Sch 3 para 9(2)).

3 For these purposes, 'the appropriate authority' means the person who may authorise entry on the land under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 88 (as amended) for the purposes in question: s 88A(2) (as substituted: see note 2 supra).

4 Ibid s 88A(1) (as substituted: see note 2 supra).

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/(1) LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS; IN GENERAL/(v) Rights of Entry/1086. Additional rights and duties.

1086. Additional rights and duties.

A person authorised¹ to enter any land² may not demand admission as of right to any land which is occupied unless 24 hours' notice of the intended entry has been given to the occupier³; and no person may carry out any works in exercise of a statutory power⁴ unless notice of his intention to do so was included in that notice⁵.

A person authorised to enter land in pursuance of a right of entry conferred under the relevant statutory provisions⁶:

- 4033 (1) must, if so required, produce evidence of his authority and state the purpose of his entry before so entering;
- 4034 (2) may take with him such other persons as may be necessary; and
- 4035 (3) on leaving the land must, if the owner⁷ or occupier is not then present, leave it as effectively secured against trespassers as he found it⁸.

Any person who wilfully obstructs a person acting in the exercise of such a right of entry is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale⁹.

If any person who enters any land, in exercise of such a right of entry, discloses to any person any information obtained by him while on the land as to any manufacturing process or trade secret, he is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or a fine, or to both, or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum¹⁰; but this provision does not apply if the disclosure is made by a person in the course of performing his duty in connection with the purpose for which he was authorised to enter the land¹¹.

If any damage is caused to land or chattels in the exercise of such a right of entry or a power conferred¹² in connection with such a right, compensation may be recovered by any person suffering the damage from the authority which gave the written authority for the entry or, as the case may be, from the Secretary of State¹³ or, in relation to Wales, from the National Assembly for Wales¹⁴.

The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

5 'Object or structure' within the meaning of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 1(5) means a structure which is ancillary and subordinate to the principal listed building: see Debenhams plc v Westminster City Council [1987] AC 396, [1987] 1 All ER 51, HL. See also Watson-Smyth v Secretary of State for the Environment and South Oxfordshire District Council (1991) 64 P & CR 156 ('structure' is intended to convey a limitation to such structures as are ancillary to the listed building itself, either fixed to the listed building or within its curtilage).

6 See the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 1(5)(a); and Richardson Developments Ltd v Birmingham County Council [1999] JPL 1001, [1999] All ER (D) 34 ('any object or structure fixed to the building' includes extensions to listed buildings which exist at the date of the listing and those which are added afterwards, and an extension may be treated as part of the listed building if it is fixed to the building and is ancillary to it). The fact that an object is free-standing is not conclusive evidence that it is not a 'fixture' for these purposes: see Kennedy v Secretary of State for Wales [1996] EGCS 17 (carillon clock resting on floor by own 'colossal' weight; held that its removal required listed building consent).

7 For the meaning of 'curtilage' see Skerritts of Nottingham Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions (No 2) [2001] QB 59, 80 P & CR 516, CA (the curtilage of a substantial listed building is likely to extend to what are or have been, in the terms of ownership and function, ancillary buildings). See also Morris v Wrexham County Borough Council [2001] EWHC Admin 697, [2001] All ER (D) 02 (Oct), [2002] PLCR 171 (in determining whether one building is within the curtilage of another, the test is whether the two buildings are sufficiently close and accessible to one another and whether, in terms of function, one is ancillary to the other; in applying that test, the primary focus is the state of affairs existing at the time of listing); Lowe v First Secretary of State [2003] 2 P & CR 331, [2003] All ER (D) 64 (Feb) (curtilage may include stables, outbuildings and gardens, walled or not, provided that they are part of a single inclosure, but does not include all parkland, including the driveway, of an estate; ownership of the land is not determinative of the question (a decision on the meaning of 'curtilage' for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, art 3, Sch 2 Pt 1 Class A (see PARA 265 ante)). 1091 Meaning of 'listed building'

NOTE 3--SI 1990/1519 Sch 4 substituted, in relation to England: SI 2009/2711. SI 2005/1085 revoked: SI 2009/2711.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(i) Listing of Special Buildings/1092. Listing of buildings of special architectural or historic interest.

1092. Listing of buildings of special architectural or historic interest.

With a view to the guidance of local planning authorities¹ in the performance of their statutory functions² in relation to buildings³ of special architectural or historic interest⁴, the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁶ must compile lists of such buildings⁷ or approve, with or without modifications, such lists compiled by the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')⁸ or by other persons or bodies of persons⁹, and may amend any list so compiled or approved¹⁰. The Secretary of State may not, however, approve any list compiled by the Commission if the list contains any building situated outside England¹¹.

In considering whether to include a building in a list so compiled or approved, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may take into account not only the building itself but also:

- 4044 (1) any respect in which its exterior contributes to the architectural or historic interest of any group of buildings of which it forms part¹²; and
- 4045 (2) the desirability of preserving, on the ground of its architectural or historic interest, any feature of the building consisting of a man-made object or structure¹³ fixed to the building or forming part of the land¹⁴ and comprised within the curtilage¹⁵ of the building¹⁶.

Before compiling, approving (with or without modifications) or amending any such list in relation to buildings which are situated in England, the Secretary of State must consult¹⁷ with the Commission; and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, before compiling, so approving or amending any such list, consult with such other persons or bodies of persons as appear to him or to the Assembly appropriate as having special knowledge of, or interest in, buildings of architectural or historic interest¹⁸.

Historic buildings listed under these procedures are placed in one of three grades, Grade I, Grade II (starred) and Grade II (unstarred) to give an indication of their relative importance; some churches in older lists are, however, still graded under the previous system as Grades A,

B and C (which in the context of planning and listed building consent applications are all to be treated in the same way as Grade I and Grade II (starred) buildings)¹⁹. In practice, buildings are added to the statutory lists in two main ways:

- 4046 (a) as a result of systematic resurvey or review of particular areas or building types; or
- 4047 (b) following proposals from local authorities, amenity societies or other bodies or individuals that particular buildings should be added to the list (a process known as 'spot listing')²⁰.

3 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante.

4 In considering whether a building is of special architectural or historic interest, the building does not have to be viewed in isolation: Earl of Iveagh v Minister of Housing and Local Government [1964] 1 QB 395, [1963] 3 All ER 817, CA (building formed part of a terrace and the interest of the whole terrace was properly taken into account). A phrase such as 'original buildings of 1909-15 only' does not refer to the period of construction of the original buildings, but to the period of the processes of planning, conception, design and, to an extent, the realisation of the designer's work; accordingly, a building may consistently with that text be entered under the heading 'Description' as a listed building, notwithstanding that it was built after 1915: Edinburgh City Council v Secretary of State for Scotland [1998] 1 All ER 174, [1997] 1 WLR 1447, HL (a decision under the equivalent Scottish legislation).

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(i) Listing of Special Buildings/1093. Selection criteria for listing.

1093. Selection criteria for listing.

At the date at which this title states the law, the following are the main criteria against which English Heritage¹ assesses a building in England in order to decide whether or not to recommend to the Secretary of State² that it should be included in the statutory lists³:

- 4048 (1) architectural interest: the lists are meant to include all buildings which are of importance to the nation for the interest of their architectural design, decoration and craftsmanship; also important examples of particular building types and techniques, for example buildings displaying technological innovation or virtuosity, and significant plan forms;
- 4049 (2) historic interest: this includes buildings which illustrate important aspects of the nation's social, economic, cultural or military history;
- 4050 (3) close historical associations with nationally important people or events;
- 4051 (4) group value, especially where buildings comprise an important architectural or historic unity or a fine example of planning, for example squares, terraces or model villages.

Not all these criteria will be relevant to every case, but a particular building may qualify for listing under more than one of them⁴.

Age and rarity are relevant considerations, particularly where buildings are proposed for listing on the strength of their historic interest. The older a building is, and the fewer the surviving examples of its kind, the more likely it is to have historic importance. Thus, all buildings built before 1700 which survive in anything like their original condition are listed; and most buildings of about 1700 to 1840 are listed, though some selection is necessary. After about 1840, because of the greatly increased number of buildings erected and the much larger numbers that have survived, greater selection is necessary to identify the best examples of particular building types, and only buildings of definite quality and character are listed. For the same reasons, only selected buildings from the period after 1914 are normally listed. Buildings which are less than 30 years old are normally listed only if they are of outstanding quality and under threat. Buildings which are less than ten years old are not listed⁵.

The approach adopted for twentieth century listing is to identify key exemplars for each of a range of building types such as industrial, educational and residential, and to treat these exemplars as broadly defining a standard against which to judge proposals for further additions to the list⁶.

Where a building qualifies for listing primarily on the strength of its intrinsic architectural quality or its group value, the fact that there are other buildings of similar quality elsewhere is not likely to be a major consideration. But the listing of buildings primarily for historical reasons is to a greater extent a comparative exercise, and needs to be selective where a substantial number of buildings of a similar type and quality survive. In such cases the aim will be to list the best examples of the type which are of special historic interest⁷.

The external appearance of a building (both its intrinsic architectural merit and any group value) is a key consideration in judging listing proposals, but the special interest of a building will not always be reflected in obvious visual quality. Buildings which are important for reasons of technological innovation, or as illustrating particular aspects of social or economic history, may well have little external visual quality⁸.

Well-documented historical associations of national importance will increase the case for the inclusion of a building in the statutory list. They may justify a higher grading than would otherwise be appropriate, and may occasionally be the deciding factor; however there should normally be some quality or interest in the physical fabric of the building itself to justify the statutory protection afforded by listing⁹.

The emphasis in the above criteria is on national significance, though this cannot be defined precisely. For instance, the best examples of local vernacular building types will normally be listed; but many buildings which are valued for their contribution to the local scene, or for local historical associations, will not merit listing. Such buildings will often be protected by conservation area designation¹⁰. It is also open to planning authorities to draw up lists of locally important buildings, and to formulate policies for their protection, through normal development control procedures¹¹; such policies must, however, make clear that such buildings do not enjoy the full protection of statutory listing¹².

1 As to English Heritage see PARA 1058 ante.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARAS 19, 1091 note 3 ante.

3 As to the compiling of lists see PARA 1092 ante. Any member of the public may apply to English Heritage for a building to be listed: for details of the current procedure see Listing has Changed (English Heritage press release, 8 April 2005) accessible at the date at which this title states the law at www.english-heritage.org.uk. As to the status of the criteria set out below see PARA 9 ante.

7 PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 6.13.

8 PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 6.14.

9 PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 6.15. Either the building should be of some architectural merit in itself, or it should be well preserved in a form which directly illustrates and confirms its historical associations, eg because of the survival of internal features. Where otherwise unremarkable buildings have historical associations, the Secretary of State's view is that they are normally best commemorated by other means, eg by a plaque, and that listing will be appropriate only in exceptional cases: para 6.15.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(i) Listing of Special Buildings/1094. Publication of lists.

1094. Publication of lists.

As soon as possible after any list of buildings¹ of special architectural or historic interest has been compiled or approved² or any amendments of such a list have been made, a copy of so much of the list as relates to any district, Welsh county, county borough or London borough³ or, as the case may be, of so much of the amendments as so relates, certified by or on behalf of the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁵ to be a true copy, must be deposited:

- 4052 (1) in the case of a London borough, with the council of the borough and with the chief officer of the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')⁶;
- 4053 (2) in the case of a district:
- 302 64. (a) with the district council⁷;
- 65. (b) with the county planning authority⁸ whose area or any part of whose area includes the district, or any part of it; and
- 66. (c) where the district council is not the district planning authority⁹, with that authority¹⁰; and
- 303 4054 (3) in the case of a Welsh county or county borough:
- 304 67. (a) with the county council or, as the case may be, the county borough council; and
- 68. (b) with the local planning authority, if different from that council¹¹.
- 305

As soon as possible after the inclusion of any building in such a list, whether it is included when the list is compiled, approved or amended, or as soon as possible after any such list has been amended by the exclusion of any building from it¹²:

- 4055 (i) the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, the Assembly, must inform the council of the district, Welsh county, county borough or London borough in whose area the building is situated of the inclusion or exclusion; and
- 4056 (ii) the council must serve a notice in the prescribed form¹³ on every owner¹⁴ and occupier of the building, stating that the building has been included in or excluded from the list¹⁵.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must keep available for public inspection, free of charge, at reasonable hours and at a convenient place, copies of all lists and amendments of lists so compiled, approved or made by him or by the Assembly¹⁶; and every authority with which copies of any list or amendments are so deposited must similarly keep available copies of so much of any such list or amendment as relates to buildings within its area¹⁷.

1094 Publication of lists

NOTE 13--SI 1990/1519 Sch 4 substituted, in relation to England: SI 2009/2711. SI 2005/1085 revoked: SI 2009/2711.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(i) Listing of Special Buildings/1095. Issue of certificate that building not intended to be listed.

1095. Issue of certificate that building not intended to be listed.

Where (1) application has been made for planning permission¹ for any development² involving the alteration, extension or demolition of a building³; or (2) any such planning permission has been granted, the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁵ may, on the application of any person⁶, issue a certificate stating that he or, as the case may be, the Assembly, does not intend to list⁷ the building⁸.

The issue of such a certificate in respect of a building:

- 4057 (a) precludes the Secretary of State or the Assembly for a period of five years from the date of issue from exercising in relation to that building any of his or the Assembly's statutory powers⁹ to list buildings of special architectural or historic interest; and
- 4058 (b) precludes the local planning authority for that period from serving a building preservation notice¹⁰ in relation to it¹¹.

Such a certificate is known as a 'certificate of immunity' ('COI').

1 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'planning permission' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 43 note 6 ante): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(1), (2).

2 For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'development' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see s 55 (as amended); and PARA 217 et seq ante): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(1), (2). For the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 55 (as amended), the carrying out for the maintenance, improvement or other alteration of any building of works which do not materially affect the external appearance of the building do not involve development: see s 55(2)(a)(ii); and PARA 223 ante. As to the factors to be taken into account see eg Burroughs Day v Bristol City Council [1996] 1 EGLR 167, [1996] 19 EG 126.

3 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante.

4 As to the Secretary of State see PARAS 19, 1091 note 3 ante.

5 As to the transfer of functions under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 6, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 19 ante. The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

6 Notice of an application under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 6(1) must be given to the local planning authority within whose area the building is situated at the same time as the application is submitted to the Secretary of State or the Assembly: s 6(3). For these purposes, 'local planning authority', in relation to a building in Greater London, includes the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage') (Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 6(4)); and, in relation to a building or land within the Broads, includes the Broads Authority (see s 81, Sch 4 para 5 (as amended); and PARA 1073 ante). For the normal meaning of 'local planning authority' see PARA 1073 ante; and for the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1077 note 1 ante. As to English Heritage see PARA 1058 ante.

For guidance on applying for such a certificate see PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment. There is no application form and no charge: see PARA 6.31. As to the status of this guidance see PARA 9 ante.

7 As to listing see PARA 1092 ante.

8 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 6(1). As to rights of entry see PARAS 1083-1086 ante.

Because a certificate of immunity is valid for five years, a building is normally completely reassessed when an application for a certificate is made: see PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 6.29. Even if a certificate of immunity is granted, a building in a conservation area will still normally need consent for demolition: para 6.30. As to conservation area consent see PARA 1174 et seq post.

9 The powers conferred by the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 1: see PARA 1092 ante.

10 For these purposes, 'building preservation notice' has the meaning given by ibid s 3(1) (as amended) (see PARA 1098 post): s 91(1).

11 Ibid s 6(2) (as modified: see note 6 supra).

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(i) Listing of Special Buildings/1096. Buildings formerly subject to building preservation orders.

1096. Buildings formerly subject to building preservation orders.

Every building¹ which immediately before 1 January 1969 was subject to a building preservation order² but was not then included in a list compiled or approved³ by the Secretary of State⁴ is deemed to be a listed building⁵.

The Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁶ may, however, at any time direct, in the case of any building, that the above provisions⁷ shall no longer apply to it⁸; and the local planning authority⁹ in whose area a building in respect of which such a direction is given is situated must, on being notified of the direction, give notice of it to the owner¹⁰ and occupier of the building¹¹.

Before giving such a direction in relation to a building:

At the date at which this title states the law, there is no formal appeal procedure against a decision to list a building under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990¹. However, applications for delisting may be made to English Heritage² in the same way as listing applications³.

Both listed building consent and enforcement appeal procedures give appellants the right to argue that a building is not of special interest and should be removed from the list; and this is the normal way in which the issue of delisting is to be addressed⁴.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(ii) Temporary Listing/1098. Building preservation notices.

(ii) Temporary Listing

1098. Building preservation notices.

If it appears to a local planning authority¹ in Wales, or to a local planning authority in England which is not a county planning authority², that a building³ in its area which is not a listed building⁴:

- 4061 (1) is of special architectural or historic interest; and
- 4062 (2) is in danger of demolition⁵ or of alteration in such a way as to affect its character as a building of such interest, the authority may serve on the owner⁶ and occupier of the building a notice (a 'building preservation notice')⁷.

A building preservation notice served by a local planning authority must:

- 4063 (a) state that the building appears to the authority to be of special architectural or historic interest and that the authority has requested the Secretary of State⁸ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁹ to consider including it in a list compiled or approved¹⁰ by him or by the Assembly; and
- 4064 (b) explain the effect of the statutory provisions¹¹ relating to the duration and lapse of such notices¹².

A building preservation notice:

- 4065 (i) comes into force as soon as it has been served on both the owner and occupier of the building to which it relates; and
- 4066 (ii) remains in force for six months from the date when it is served or, as the case may be, last served¹³.

A building preservation notice ceases, however, to be in force if the Secretary of State or the Assembly either includes the building in a list compiled or approved by him or by the Assembly¹⁴ or notifies the local planning authority in writing that he or the Assembly does not intend to do so¹⁵.

While a building preservation notice is in force with respect to a building, and subject to an exception with regard to offences¹⁶, the provisions of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 and the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 have effect in relation to the building as if it were a listed building¹⁷.

If, following the service of a building preservation notice, the Secretary of State or the Assembly notifies the local planning authority that he or the Assembly does not propose to include the building in a list compiled or approved by him or by it, the authority must immediately give notice of that decision to the owner and occupier of the building¹⁸. Following such a notification by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly, no further building preservation notice in respect of the building may be served by the local planning authority within the period of 12 months beginning with the date of the notification¹⁹.

1 For the meaning of 'local planning authority' see PARA 1073 ante. For these purposes, the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage') has, as respects any London borough, concurrently with the council of that borough the functions of a local planning authority; and references to the local planning authority are to be construed accordingly: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 3(8). For the meaning of 'London borough' see PARA 1094 note 3 ante; and for the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 1073 note 3 ante. As to English Heritage see PARA 1058 ante.

7 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 3(1) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 20(4)(b), Sch 6 para 25(2)). In practice, service of such a notice is often a quicker and so more expedient short-term measure than asking for a building to be spot listed: PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 6.23. As to spot listing see PARA 1092 ante; and as to the status of this guidance see PARA 9 ante. As to temporary listing in urgent cases see PARA 1099 post; as to the service of notices see PARA 1072 ante at head (6) in the text (but note that electronic communications may not be used for service of the notice: see PARA 1072 note 7 ante); and as to rights of entry see PARAS 1083-1086 ante. As to district planning authorities see PARA 28 ante.

The Secretary of State may from time to time direct a district planning authority in England, and the National Assembly for Wales may direct a the local planning authority in Wales, to submit to him or to the Assembly for his or its approval, within a period specified in the direction, the arrangements which the authority proposes to make to obtain specialist advice in connection with the authority's functions under s 3 (as amended), as they may in connection with the authority's functions under s 4 (see PARA 1099 post), s 8 (as amended) (see PARA 1109 post), ss 10-26 (as amended) (see PARA 1111 et seq post), s 38 (as amended) (see PARAS 1146-1147 post), s 42 (as amended) (see PARA 1148 post), s 66(1) (see PARA 1106 post), ss 69-72 (as amended) (see PARAS 1169-1171 post), ss 74, 75 (see PARA 1174 post): see s 81, Sch 4 paras 1(2)(b), 7(1). If the Secretary of State or the Assembly is not satisfied about any such arrangements, he may direct the district planning authority, or the Assembly may direct the local planning authority, and another local planning authority specified in the direction: (1) to enter into an agreement under the Local Government Act 1972 s 113 (as amended) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 380) for the placing at the disposal of the relevant authority, for the purpose of giving it any such specialist advice, of the services of officers employed by that other authority who are qualified to give such advice; or (2) to enter into arrangements, containing terms specified in the direction or terms on lines laid down by him or by the Assembly, for the discharge by that other authority of any of those functions: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Sch 4 para 7(2). Before so giving a direction, the Secretary of State must consult with the district planning authority (and the Assembly must consult with the local planning authority) and the other authority concerned: Sch 4 para 7(3). For the meaning of 'consult' para 2 note 1 ante. See also notes 8-9 infra.

Neither the relevant government department nor English Heritage can indicate in advance whether the service of a notice in a particular case is likely to result in a listing, though obviously the same general principles of listing (see PARA 1093 ante) will apply in these cases as in others. It should not however be assumed that listing will automatically follow the inclusion of a building by English Heritage in a draft list, since that list may be corrected or amended before it is approved: see PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 6.25.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(iii) Exceptions/A. ECCLESIASTICAL EXEMPTION/1101. Exemptions for ecclesiastical buildings and redundant churches; in general.

(iii) Exceptions

A. ECCLESIASTICAL EXEMPTION

1101. Exemptions for ecclesiastical buildings and redundant churches; in general.

Specified statutory provisions relating to listed buildings¹ do not apply to any ecclesiastical building² which is for the time being used for ecclesiastical purposes³. For these purposes, however, a building used or available for use by a minister of religion wholly or mainly as a residence from which to perform the duties of his office is treated as not being an ecclesiastical building⁴.

For the purposes of the statutory control of works in respect of listed buildings⁵, a building is taken to be used for the time being for ecclesiastical purposes if it would be so used but for the works in question⁶.

The Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁸ may by order provide for restricting or excluding the operation of the above provisions in such cases as may be specified in the order⁹; and any such order may:

4069 (1) make provision for buildings generally, for descriptions of building or for particular buildings¹⁰;

4070 (2) make different provision for buildings in different areas, for buildings of different religious faiths or denominations or according to the use made of the building¹¹;

4071 (3) make such provision in relation to a part of a building, including in particular an object or structure falling to be treated as part of the building¹², as may be made in relation to a building and may make different provision for different parts of the same building¹³;

4072 (4) make different provision with respect to works of different descriptions or according to the extent of the works¹⁴;

4073 (5) make such consequential adaptations or modifications of the operation of any other provision of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act

1990 or the Town and Country Planning Act 1990, or of any instrument made under either of those Acts, as appear to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly to be appropriate¹⁵.

This power has been exercised so as to restrict ecclesiastical exemption to certain categories of buildings¹⁶.

The statutory control of works in respect of listed buildings does not apply to the execution of works for the demolition, in pursuance of a pastoral scheme¹⁷ or redundancy scheme¹⁸, of a redundant building¹⁹ or a part of such a building²⁰.

Ecclesiastical buildings which are for the time being used for ecclesiastical purposes are also excluded from the statutory control of demolition in conservation areas²¹. This exemption, which has also been restricted by subordinate legislation, is discussed below²².

1 The Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 3 (as amended) (see PARA 1098 ante), s 4 (see PARA 1099 ante), s 7 (see PARA 1109 post), s 8 (as amended) (see PARA 1109 post), s 9 (as amended) (see PARA 1110 post), s 47 (as amended) (see PARAS 1154, 1157 post), s 54 (see PARA 1163 post) and s 59 (as amended) (see PARA 1168 post): s 60(2). For the meaning of 'listed building' see PARA 1091 ante; and for the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante.

2 'Ecclesiastical building' is not defined for these purposes but cf the definition of 'ecclesiastical property' in ibid s 86(4) (see PARA 1079 note 3 ante). See also A-G (ex rel Bedfordshire County Council) v Howard United Reformed Church Trustees, Bedford [1976] AC 363, [1975] 2 All ER 337, HL (the expression 'ecclesiastical building' is not limited to buildings belonging to the Church of England; a Congregational church building which had been built as a church, had been used as a church for 200 years, and had never been used for secular purposes, was held to be an ecclesiastical building for these purposes).

3 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 60(1), (2). An ecclesiastical building cannot be being so used whilst it is being totally demolished, but it may be being so used if only part of it is being demolished: A-G (ex rel Bedfordshire County Council) v Howard United Reformed Church Trustees, Bedford [1976] AC 363, [1975] 2 All ER 337, HL; and see Re St Luke's Cheetham [1978] Fam 144, [1978] 1 All ER 1118, Consistory Court. Where a proposal which is the subject of a petition for a faculty involves the alteration of a listed church to such an extent as is likely to affect its character as a building of special architectural or historic interest, or concerns an article of particular historic, architectural, archaeological or artistic interest and involves the disposal of that article, the court has no discretion as to whether it directs that the appropriate notification, eg of English Heritage or the Council for the Care of Churches, takes place: see eg Re St Lawrence, Stratford-sub-Castle [2005] All ER (D) 207 (Mar), (2005) Times, 10 March, Salisbury Consistory Court. 1102. Buildings retaining ecclesiastical exemption; in general.

Ecclesiastical exemption¹ is retained for:

- 4074 (1) buildings² within the faculty jurisdiction of the Church of England³;
- 4075 (2) buildings subject to the Care of Cathedrals Measure 1990⁴;
- 4076 (3) buildings of the Church in Wales vested⁵ in the Representative Body of the Church in Wales or any other representative body⁶;
- 4077 (4) buildings held in trust by the diocesan trustees of a diocese of the Roman Catholic Church⁷;
- 4078 (5) buildings owned by or held in trust for or for the purposes of the Methodist Church or any connexional or local organisation of the Methodist Church⁸;

- 4079 (6) buildings held in trust for a Church in membership with the Baptist Union of Great Britain or the Baptist Union of Wales by one of the specified trust corporations⁹, whether alone or jointly with another person or persons¹⁰; and
- 4080 (7) buildings situated within one of the specified Provinces¹¹ of the United Reformed Church held on the specified¹² trusts¹³.

Ecclesiastical exemption is now excluded in respect of all buildings other than those falling within the above provisions and the provisions relating to peculiars¹⁴ and other special cases¹⁵.

1 For these purposes, 'ecclesiastical exemption' means the exemption of buildings from the provisions of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 3 (as amended) (see PARA 1098 ante), s 4 (see PARA 1099 ante), s 7 (see PARA 1109 post), s 8 (as amended) (see PARA 1109 post), s 9 (as amended) (see PARA 1110 post), s 47 (as amended) (see PARAS 1154, 1157 post), s 54 (see PARA 1163 post), s 59 (as amended) (see PARA 1168 post) and s 74 (control of demolition in conservation areas: see PARA 1174 post): Ecclesiastical Exemption (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Order 1994, SI 1994/1771, art 2(1).

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(iii) Exceptions/A. ECCLESIASTICAL EXEMPTION/1103. Extent of ecclesiastical exemption.

1103. Extent of ecclesiastical exemption.

Subject to the following provisions¹, ecclesiastical exemption² for buildings³ falling within the provisions set out in the previous paragraph⁴ is restricted, except in the case of buildings subject to the Care of Cathedrals Measure 1990⁵, to:

- 4081 (1) any church building⁶;
- 4082 (2) any object or structure within a church building⁷;
- 4083 (3) any object or structure fixed to the exterior of a church building⁸; and
- 4084 (4) any object or structure within the curtilage of a church building which, although not fixed to that building, forms part of the land⁹.

In the case of buildings subject to the 1990 Measure, ecclesiastical exemption is restricted to:

- 4085 (a) any building, object or structure within the precinct of a cathedral church for the purposes of that Measure and inclosed within the red line shown on the plan relating to that cathedral church¹⁰ and deposited with the local planning authority¹¹;
- 4086 (b) any church building, within the precinct of a cathedral church for the purposes of that Measure, which does not fall within head (a) above, and any object or structure within that church building, but excluding:
 - 306 69. (i) any object or structure fixed to the exterior of that church building; and
 - 70. (ii) any object or structure within the curtilage of that church building which, although not fixed to that building, forms part of the land¹²; and
- 307 4087 (c) any monument¹³ which:
 - 308 71. (i) does not fall within head (a) above;
 - 72. (ii) is not itself a listed building (apart from any status as a listed building which it may have solely by being treated¹⁴ as part of a cathedral church or other church building);
 - 73. (iii) is within the precinct of a cathedral church for the purposes of the 1990 Measure; and

74. (iv) is situated in a churchyard, graveyard or other land which is or has been used for the purposes of burial¹⁵.
309

Exemption from certain statutory provisions¹⁶ is restricted in respect of buildings, other than those within the faculty jurisdiction of the Church of England or subject to the 1990 Measure¹⁷:

- 4088 (A) to works carried out by or on behalf of a specified church or body¹⁸, or a constituent part of a specified church or body; or 4089 (B) where the buildings are on any premises forming part of a university, college, school, hospital or public or charitable institution, to works carried out by or on behalf of the governing body or the trustees of that institution¹⁹.

6 Ecclesiastical Exemption (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Order 1994, SI 1994/1771, art 5(1)(a). 'Church building' means a building whose primary use is as a place of worship: art 2(1).

7 Ibid art 5(1)(b).

8 Ibid art 5(1)(c). Subject to art 5(4), ecclesiastical exemption is not retained by virtue of art 5(1) in respect of: (1) any object or structure fixed to the exterior of a church building; or (2) any object or structure within the curtilage of a church building which, although not fixed to that building, forms part of the land, where that object or structure is itself a listed building (apart from any status as a listed building which it may have solely by being treated as part of the church building by virtue of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 1(5)(a) or (b) (see PARA 1091 ante)); Ecclesiastical Exemption (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Order 1994, SI 1994/1771, arts 2(1), 5(3). In art 5(3), the reference to an object or structure fixed to the exterior of a church building or within the curtilage of a church building does not include any object or structure which falls to be treated for the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 as part of that object or structure by virtue only of s 1(5)(a) or (b): Ecclesiastical Exemption (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Order 1994, SI 1994/1771, art 5(4). Specified statutory provisions relating to listed buildings¹ do not apply to any building for the time being included in the schedule of monuments compiled and maintained² under the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979³. Scheduling under the 1979 Act introduces closer controls over such matters as repairs than does listing⁴.

Buildings scheduled as ancient monuments as well as listed are for the most part unoccupied buildings, such as medieval barns or dovecotes, some bridges, and some urban buildings and industrial monuments⁵.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(iv) Special Considerations affecting Planning Functions/1107. Publicity for applications affecting setting of listed buildings.

1107. Publicity for applications affecting setting of listed buildings.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may prescribe requirements as to publicity for applications for planning permission⁴ in cases where the local planning authority⁵ thinks that the development⁶ of land⁷ would affect the setting of a listed building⁸.

Where an application for planning permission for any development of land is made to a local planning authority in England and the authority thinks that the development would affect the setting of a listed building or the character or appearance of a conservation area⁹, then subject to certain exceptions¹⁰ the local planning authority must:

- 4096 (1) publish in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the land is situated; and
- 4097 (2) for not less than seven days display on or near the land, a notice indicating the nature of the development in question and naming a place within the locality where a copy of the application, and of all plans and other documents submitted with it, will be open to inspection by the public at all reasonable hours during the period of 21 days beginning with the date of publication of the notice under head (1) above¹¹. The local planning authority must send to the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')¹² a copy of each such notice¹³. The application must not be determined by the local planning authority before both of the following periods have elapsed, namely:

- 4098 (a) the period of 21 days referred to above; and
- 4099 (b) the period of 21 days beginning with the date on which the notice required by head (2) above to be displayed was first displayed; and in determining any application for planning permission to which these provisions apply, the local planning authority must take into account any representations relating to the application which are received by it before both of those periods have elapsed¹⁴.

Where, however, a local planning authority maintains a website for the purpose of advertisement of applications, the above requirements apply with the following modifications. The local planning authority must publish in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the building is situated a notice indicating the nature of the works which are the subject of the application and:

- 4100 (i) naming a place within the locality where a copy of the application, and of all plans and other documents submitted with it, will be open to inspection by the public at all reasonable hours during the period of 21 days beginning with the date of publication of the notice; and

- 4101 (ii) stating the address of a website where a copy of the application, and of all plans and other documents submitted with it, will be open to inspection by the public at all reasonable hours during the period of 21 days beginning with the date of publication of the notice, and the place on the website where such documents may be accessed, and how they may be accessed¹⁵.

For not less than seven days it must also display on or near that building a notice containing the same particulars as are required to be contained in the notice so required to be published¹⁶. The application must not be determined by the local planning authority before the period of 21 days referred to in heads (i) and (ii) above; and in determining any application for planning permission to which these provisions apply, the local planning authority must take into account any representations relating to the application which are received by it before that period has elapsed¹⁷.

The Secretary of State¹ may² by regulations provide for any application for planning permission³ for any development⁴ in Greater London⁵ which would, in the opinion of the local planning authority⁶ to which the application is made, involve the demolition⁷, in whole or in part, or a material alteration, of a listed building⁸ to be referred to the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')⁹ before it is dealt with by the local planning authority¹⁰.

Such regulations may provide:

- 4102 (1) for the Commission to give the referring authority directions as to the manner in which an application is to be dealt with; and
- 4103 (2) that an application which satisfies such conditions as may be specified in the regulations need not be referred to the Commission¹¹.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(v) Authorisation of Works affecting Listed Buildings/A. CONTROL OF WORKS IN RESPECT OF LISTED BUILDINGS/1109. Restriction on works affecting listed buildings.

(v) Authorisation of Works affecting Listed Buildings

A. CONTROL OF WORKS IN RESPECT OF LISTED BUILDINGS

1109. Restriction on works affecting listed buildings.

No person may¹ execute or cause to be executed any works for the demolition² of a listed building³ or for its alteration⁴ or extension in any manner which would affect its character as a building⁵ of special architectural or historic interest, unless the works are authorised⁶.

Works for the alteration or extension of a listed building are authorised if:

- 4104 (1) written consent for their execution has been granted by the local planning authority⁷ or by either the Secretary of State⁸ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁹; and
- 4105 (2) they are executed in accordance with the terms of the consent and of any conditions attached to it¹⁰.

Works for the demolition of a listed building are authorised if:

- 4106 (a) such consent has been granted for their execution;
- 4107 (b) notice of the proposal to execute the works has been given to the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')¹¹ or to the Royal Commission on Ancient and Historical Monuments in Wales (Comisiwn Brenhinol Henebion Cymru)¹²;

- 4108 (c) after such notice has been given either:
 312
77. (i) for a period of at least one month following the grant of such consent, and before the commencement of the works, reasonable access to the building has been made available to members or officers of the relevant Commission for the purposes of recording it; or
78. (ii) the Secretary of the relevant Commission, or another of its officers with authority to act on its behalf for these purposes, has stated in writing that it has completed its recording of the building or that it does not wish to record it; and
- 4109 (d) the works are executed in accordance with the terms of the consent and of any conditions attached to it¹³.

Where works for the demolition of a listed building or for its alteration or extension are executed without such consent¹⁴ and written consent is granted by the local planning authority or the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, by the Assembly, for the retention of the works, the works are authorised from the grant of that consent¹⁵.

Written consent under the above provisions is referred to as 'listed building consent'¹⁶.

1 The subject to the provisions of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 ss 8-94 (as amended): see PARA 1072 et seq ante, PARA 1110 et seq post.

2 Demolition on the one hand and alteration on the other are mutually exclusive concepts; removal of part only of a listed building is not 'demolition' as the latter requires the removal of the whole or substantially the whole of the building: see Shimizu (UK) Ltd v Westminster City Council [1997] 1 All ER 481, [1997] 1 WLR 168, HL. Whether works are works of demolition or of alteration is a question of fact in each case: Shimizu (UK) Ltd v Westminster City Council supra. As to the implications of this judgment, which affects the previously long-accepted practice of interpreting the term 'listed building' throughout the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 as including 'part of a listed building' see ODPM (ex DETR) Circular 01/2001, Culture, Media and Sport Circular 01/2001 Arrangements for handling heritage applications--Notification and Directions by the Secretary of State Appendix D. Major works which comprise or include acts of demolition falling short of the complete destruction of a listed building, eg façade retention schemes, may still constitute works for demolition depending on their extent. However, many works which were previously regarded as demolition because they involved the destruction of part of the fabric of the building will now fall into the category of alterations and will require consent only if they affect the building's character as a building of special architectural or historic interest. The demolition of a curtilage building is likely to fall within this category. Further, works for the demolition of an unlisted building in a conservation area must also involve the total or substantial destruction of the building concerned. This means that many works which involve the destruction of the fabric of part only of a building will not be works of demolition and will not require conservation area consent: see Appendix D. As to the status of this guidance see PARA 9 ante; and as to conservation area consent see PARA 1174 post.

3 For the meaning of 'listed building' see PARA 1091 ante.

4 Repainting is capable of being an alteration for these purposes; but the critical question is whether the repainting has affected the character of the building as a building of special architectural or historic interest: Windsor and Maidenhead Royal Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment (1987) 86 LGR 402, 56 P & CR 427; and see eg Newport Borough Council [2003] JPL267 (8 October 2002; DCS no 32807959) (use of synthetic rather than lime-based paint represented alteration to traditional character of Grade II listed cottage).

5 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante.

6 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 7. In its application to buildings in conservation areas s 7 has effect as it has effect in relation to listed buildings with the omission of the words 'or for its alteration or extension in any manner which would affect its character as a building of special architectural or historic interest': see the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 12, Sch 3; and PARAS 1174 note 5, 1175 post. As to conservation areas see PARA 1169 et seq post. As to rights of entry see PARAS 1083-1086 ante.

The character of a listed building is not its character at the date of listing, but its character as a building of special architectural and historical interest. Notwithstanding that an object formed part of the character of a building at the time it was listed, the proposed reinstatement of an object which had been fixed to a building at the time it was listed is capable of affecting the character of that building and thus of requiring authorisation: see Imfravis Ltd v Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions [2002] EWHC 959 (Admin), [2002] All ER (D) 137 (Apr).

As to the Secretary of State's or the Assembly's power to direct the relevant local planning authority to submit for approval the arrangements which the authority proposes to make to obtain specialist advice in connection with its functions under s 8 (as amended) see PARA 1098 note 7 ante.

In its application to buildings in conservation areas, s 8 (as amended) has effect as it has effect in relation to listed buildings (1) with the omission of s 8(1), (2)(b), (c), (4)-(7) (as amended); (3) with the omission in s 8(3)(a) (see the text to note 14 infra) of the words 'or for its alteration or extension': see the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 12, Sch 3; and PARAS 1174 note 5, 1175 post.

11 As to English Heritage see PARA 1058 ante.

12 The Royal Commission on Ancient and Historical Monuments in Wales maintains an internet site on the World Wide Web where details of its composition and work and of its strategic objectives may be found; among the latter is the creation and maintenance of a National Monuments Record for Wales. At the date at which this title states the law this information was accessible at www.rcahmw.org.uk (where the Commission's title in English is given as The Royal Commission on Ancient and Historical Monuments of Wales). The Commission is subject to reform by the National Assembly for Wales but may only gain functions, and only with its own consent: see the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 28, Sch 4 Pt IV. The Commission is sponsored by the Welsh Assembly Government.

13 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 8(2), (4) (s 8(2) amended by the Authorisation of Works (Listed Buildings) (England) Order 2001, SI 2001/24, art 2). The Secretary of State or the Assembly may by order provide that the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 8(2) (as amended) is to have effect with the substitution for the references to the Royal Commission of references to such other body as may be so specified: s 8(5). Such an order (1) applies in the case of works executed or to be executed on or after such date as may be specified in the order; and (2) may apply in relation to either England or Wales, or both: s 8(6). As to the exercise of this power in relation to England see the Authorisation of Works (Listed Buildings) (England) Order 2001, SI 2001/24.

1109 Restriction on works affecting listed buildings

NOTE 6--In determining whether the character of the building has been affected, it is generally appropriate to consider the full extent of any works: East Riding of Yorkshire Council v Hobson [2008] EWHC 1003 (Admin), [2009] PTSR 561, [2008] All ER (D) 265 (Apr).

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(v) Authorisation of Works affecting Listed Buildings/A. CONTROL OF WORKS IN RESPECT OF LISTED BUILDINGS/1110. Offences.

1110. Offences.

If a person contravenes the statutory provisions restricting works on listed buildings¹, he is guilty of an offence²; and, if a person executing or causing to be executed any works in relation to a listed building under a listed building consent³ fails to comply with any condition attached to the consent, he is guilty⁴ of an offence⁵.

A person who is guilty of such an offence is liable on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or a fine, or to both, or on summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or a fine not exceeding £20,000, or to both⁶. In determining the amount of any fine to be imposed on a person convicted of such an offence, the court must in particular have regard to any financial benefit which has accrued or appears likely to accrue to him in consequence of the offence⁷.

In proceedings for any such offence it is, however, a defence to prove the following matters:

- 4110 (1) that works to the building were urgently necessary in the interests of safety or health or for the preservation of the building;
- 4111 (2) that it was not practicable to secure safety or health or, as the case may be, the preservation of the building by works of repair or works for affording temporary support or shelter;
- 4112 (3) that the works carried out were limited to the minimum measures immediately necessary; and
- 4113 (4) that notice in writing justifying in detail the carrying out of the works was given to the local planning authority⁸ as soon as reasonably practicable⁹.

It is also an offence to do or permit an act which causes or is likely to cause damage to a listed building¹⁰. That offence is discussed below¹¹.

1 le the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 7: see PARA 1109 ante. For the meaning of 'listed building' see PARA 1091 ante; and for the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante.

2 Ibid s 9(1). The offence is one of strict liability: R v Wells Street Metropolitan Stipendiary Magistrate, ex p Westminster City Council [1986] 3 All ER 4, [1986] 1 WLR 1046. It is not necessary, and may prejudice a fair trial, to adduce detailed evidence as to the state of mind and intentions or motive of the accused: see R v Sandhu [1997] JPL 853, CA. As to offences by corporations see PARA 1072 ante at head (7) in the text; and as to rights of entry see PARAS 1083-1086 ante.

The power of a magistrates' court to stay proceedings for such an offence as an abuse of process must be exercised sparingly and only for very compelling reasons: see R (on the application of Tunbridge Wells Borough Council) v Sevenoaks Magistrates' Court [2001] EWHC Admin 897, [2001] All ER (D) 432 (Oct) (letter written on behalf of building and planning control manager of local planning authority warning that enforcement action might have to be considered if further works were carried out without the benefit of listed building consent could not sensibly be construed as a clear notice of the authority's intention not to prosecute).

1072-1209 Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

1111. Making of applications; in general.

Subject to certain exceptions¹, an application for listed building consent² must be made to, and dealt with by, the local planning authority³. Provision may be made by regulations with respect to:

- 4114 (1) the form and manner in which such applications are to be made⁴;
- 4115 (2) particulars of such matters as are to be included in such applications⁵;
- 4116 (3) the documents or other materials as are to accompany such applications⁶;
- 4117 (4) requirements as to publicity in relation to such applications⁷;
- 4118 (5) the time within which they are to be dealt with by local planning authorities or, as the case may be, by the Secretary of State⁸ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly⁹ for Wales¹⁰;
- 4119 (6) requirements as to consultation in relation to such applications¹¹;
- 4120 (7) prohibiting the determination of such applications during such period as is prescribed¹²;
- 4121 (8) requirements on the local planning authority to take account of responses from persons consulted¹³.

The regulations must require that an application for listed building consent of such description as is prescribed must be accompanied by such of the following as is prescribed:

- 4122 (a) a statement about the design principles and concepts that have been applied to the works;
- 4123 (b) a statement about how issues relating to access to the building¹⁴ have been dealt with¹⁵.

As respects a building situated in an area of a National Park outside a metropolitan county in England¹⁶, however, such an application must be made to the council of the district¹⁷ which must send it on, together with all accompanying documents¹⁸, to the body authorised to exercise the functions¹⁹ relating to such application²⁰. As respects a building situated in an area of a National Park within a metropolitan county, such an application must be made to the joint planning board²¹. Where an application for listed building consent relating to land in a National Park in England falls to be determined by a National Park authority, that authority must send a copy of the application, as soon as practicable and in any event not later than seven days after the authority has received it, to any authority which would otherwise²² be the district planning authority for the area in which the land to which the application relates is situated and must, before determining the application, consult any such authority²³.

Where listed building consent is required for the purposes of proposals included in an application for an order under the Transport and Works Act 1992²⁴ and either:

- 4124 (i) the application for listed building consent has been made not later than 10 weeks after the application for the order under the 1992 Act; or
- 4125 (ii) the Secretary of State or the Assembly considers it appropriate that this provision should apply and has given a direction to that effect, the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 and regulations made under it²⁵ have effect with specified²⁶ modifications²⁷.

UPDATE

1072-1209 Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

1111 Making of applications; in general

NOTES 6, 15--In England, any application to a local planning authority for listed building consent, except where SI 1990/1519 reg 3(1A) applies, must be accompanied by a design and access statement which must include (1) an explanation as to the principles and concepts in relation to the scale, layout and appearance aspects of the works; and (2) an explanation of how such principles and concepts take account of (a) the special architectural or historic importance of the building; (b) the particular physical features of the building that justify its designation as a listed building; and (c) the building's setting: reg 3A (added by SI 2006/1063, amended by SI 2009/2262).

In Wales, any application to a local planning authority for listed building consent must be accompanied by a statement explaining the design principles and concepts that have been applied to the works and how issues relating to access to the building have been dealt with: see SI 1990/1519 reg 3B (substituted by SI 2009/1026).

NOTE 11--In England, the design and access statement must state what, if any, consultation has been undertaken and what account has been taken of the outcome of any such consultation: SI 1990/1519 reg 3A (added by SI 2006/1063).

BUILDINGS/(v) Authorisation of Works affecting Listed Buildings/B. LISTED BUILDING
CONSENT/(A) Application for Consent; in general/1112. Procedure on application.

1112. Procedure on application.

An application for listed building consent¹ must contain:

- 4126 (1) sufficient particulars to identify the building² to which it relates, including a plan³;
- 4127 (2) such other plans and drawings as are necessary to describe the works which are the subject of the application⁴; and
- 4128 (3) such other particulars as may be required by the local planning authority⁵.

The application must be made on a form issued by the local planning authority and obtainable from that authority and must, subject to the particular provision made with regard to applications in National Parks⁶, be lodged with the local planning authority together with two further copies of the form, plans and drawings⁷.

On receipt of any such application with the certificate which must accompany the application⁸, the local planning authority must send to the applicant an acknowledgment of it in the prescribed terms⁹, or substantially in those terms¹⁰. Where, after the sending of such an acknowledgment, the local planning authority forms the opinion that the application is invalid by reason of failure to comply with the above requirements¹¹ or with any other statutory requirement, it must as soon as may be notify the applicant that his application is invalid¹².

Where an application is so made in respect of any building, the authority must:

- 4129 (a) publish in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the building is situated a notice indicating the nature of the works which are the subject of the application and naming a place within the locality where a copy of the application, and of all plans and other documents submitted with it, will be open to inspection by the public at all reasonable hours during the period of 21 days beginning with the date of publication of the notice; and
- 4130 (b) for not less than seven days display on or near such building a notice containing the same particulars as are required to be contained in the notice to be published in accordance with head (a) above¹³.

Heads (a) and (b) above do not apply to the council of the London Borough of Camden¹⁴ in respect of which particular provision is made¹⁵. Further, where a local planning authority maintains a website for the purpose of advertisement of applications, heads (a) and (b) above apply with the modifications that the authority must publish in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the building is situated a notice indicating the nature of the works which are the subject of the application and:

- 4131 (i) naming a place within the locality where a copy of the application, and of all plans and other documents submitted with it, will be open to inspection by the public at all reasonable hours during the period of 21 days beginning with the date of publication of the notice; and
- 4132 (ii) stating the address of a website where a copy of the application, and of all plans and other documents submitted with it, will be open to inspection by the public during the period of 21 days beginning with the date of publication of the notice, and the place on the website where such documents may be accessed, and how they may be accessed¹⁶.

An application for listed building consent may not be determined by the local planning authority before both of the following periods have elapsed, namely:

- 4133 (A) the period of 21 days referred to in head (a) above; and
- 4134 (B) the period of 21 days beginning with the date on which the notice required by head (b) above was first displayed; and, in determining the application, the authority must take into account any representations relating to the application which are received by it before both of those periods have elapsed¹⁷. In the case of an application falling within heads (i) and (ii) above, however, there is only one 21-day period as referred to in those heads¹⁸.

12 Ibid reg 3(3).

13 Ibid reg 5(1). Regulation 5(1)-(2) (as amended) does not apply to an application for listed building consent to carry out works affecting only the interior of a building which, when last notified to the authority by the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales, as a building of special architectural or historic interest, was classified as a Grade II (unstarred) listed building: reg 5(3)(a). As to grading of listed buildings see PARA 1092 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante; as to the transfer of functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

Where the Transport and Works Applications (Listed Buildings, Conservation Areas and Ancient Monuments Procedure) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/3138, reg 3 applies (see PARA 1111 the text and notes 24-27 ante), the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 5(1) is substituted to read as follows: 'Subject to paragraph (3), where an application is made under regulation 3 or 4: (a) the applicant shall, not more than 14 days before nor later than the date of the application, publish in a local newspaper circulating in the area in which the building is situated a notice (i) indicating the nature of works which are, or are to be, the subject of the application; and (ii) naming all the places in the area (or as close as reasonably possible to that area) where a copy of the application, and of all plans, drawings, sections and other materials submitted with it, may be inspected free of charge at all reasonable hours during a period specified in the notice, being a period of not less than 42 days from the date of the application, and such notice may be combined with such notice of the concurrent application as the applicant is required, by rules made under section 6 of the Transport and Works Act 1992, to publish in a local newspaper; and (b) the local planning authority shall for not less than 7 days, during the period of 42 days prescribed by sub-paragraph (a) above, display on or near the said building a notice containing the same particulars as are required to be published in accordance with sub-paragraph (a)': Transport and Works Applications (Listed Buildings, Conservation Areas and Ancient Monuments Procedure) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/3138, reg 3(2), Sch 1 para 2(1), (3). For these purposes, and for the purposes of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 6 (see PARA 1114 post), 'concurrent application' means an application made under the Transport and Works Act 1992 s 6 (as amended) relating to proposals for the purposes of which the granting of listed building consent is required in respect of the building to which the application relates: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 5(3A) (added by the Transport and Works Applications (Listed Buildings, Conservation Areas and Ancient Monuments Procedure) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/3138, Sch 1 para 2(1), (4)).

14 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 5(1A) (reg 5(1A), (1B) added by SI 2004/2210).

15 See the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 5(1B) (as added: see note 14 supra). Where an application is made to the council of the London Borough of Camden in respect of any building, the authority must: (1) for not less than seven days display on or near the building, a notice indicating the nature of the works in question and (a) naming a place within the locality where a copy of the application, and of all plans and other documents submitted with it, will be open to inspection by the public at all reasonable hours during the period of 21 days beginning with the date of publication of the notice; and (b) where the authority maintains a website for the purpose of advertisement of applications, publish the notice on the website: reg 5(1B) (as so added).

1112 Procedure on application

TEXT AND NOTES 1-12--SI 1990/1519 reg 3 substituted in relation to England by SI 2008/551, and amended in relation to England by SI 2009/2262.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(v) Authorisation of Works affecting Listed Buildings/B. LISTED BUILDING CONSENT/(A) Application for Consent; in general/1113. Certificates as to applicant's status etc; power to make regulations.

1113. Certificates as to applicant's status etc; power to make regulations.

Regulations may provide that an application for listed building consent¹ shall not be entertained unless it is accompanied by one of the following certificates in the prescribed² form and signed by or on behalf of the applicant:

- 4135 (1) a certificate stating that, at the beginning of the period of 21 days ending with the date of the application, no person, other than the applicant, was the owner³ of any of the building⁴ to which the application relates;
- 4136 (2) a certificate stating that the applicant has given the requisite notice of the application to all the persons, other than himself, who at the beginning of that period were owners of any of the building to which the application relates;
- 4137 (3) a certificate stating:
- 314 79. (a) that the applicant is unable to issue a certificate in accordance with heads (1) or (2) above;
80. (b) that he has given the requisite notice of the application to such one or more of the persons mentioned in head (2) above as are specified in the certificate; and
81. (c) that he has taken such steps as are reasonably open to him, specifying them, to ascertain the names and addresses of the remainder of those persons but has been unable to do so;
- 315 4138 (4) a certificate stating:
- 316 82. (a) that the applicant is unable to issue a certificate in accordance with head (1) above; and

83. (b) that he has taken such steps as are reasonably open to him, specifying them, to ascertain the names and addresses of the persons mentioned in head (2) above but has been unable to do so⁵.
- 317

Where such provision is made, any such certificate as is mentioned in head (2) or head (3) above must set out:

- 4139 (i) the names of the persons to whom the applicant has given the requisite notice of the application;
- 4140 (ii) the addresses at which notice was given to them; and
- 4141 (iii) the date of service of each such notice⁶.

Such regulations may also require that, where an application is accompanied by such a certificate as is mentioned in head (2), head (3) or head (4) above, the local planning authority⁷:

- 4142 (A) is not to determine the application before the end of the period of 21 days beginning with the date appearing from the certificate to be the latest of the dates of service of notices as mentioned in the certificate, or, if later, the date of publication of a notice as so mentioned;
- 4143 (B) is to take into account, in determining the application, any representations relating to it which are made to the authority before the end of that period by any person who satisfies the authority that he is an owner of any of the building to which the application relates; and
- 4144 (C) is to give notice of its decision to every person who has made representations which it was required to take into account in accordance with head (B) above⁸.

Such regulations may also make provision as to who, in the case of any building, is to be treated as the owner for the purpose of any provision so made⁹.

If any person issues a certificate which purports to comply with the requirements of regulations so made and contains a statement which he knows to be false or misleading in a material particular or if any person recklessly issues a certificate which purports to comply with those requirements and contains a statement which is false or misleading in a material particular, he is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale¹⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'listed building consent' see PARA 1109 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 1077 note 4 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'owner' means a person who is for the time being the estate owner in respect of the fee simple or is entitled to a tenancy granted or extended for a term of years certain of which not less than seven years remain unexpired: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 11(7). For the normal meaning of 'owner' see PARA 1075 note 17 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante.

As to the application of s 11 to conservation area consent see the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 12, Sch 3; and PARAS 1174 note 5, 1176 post. As to rights of entry see PARAS 1083-1086 ante.

Such regulations may require that any such certificate as is mentioned in s 11(1)(c) or (d) (see heads (3), (4) respectively in the text) shall also contain a statement that the requisite notice of the application, as set out in the certificate, has on a date specified in the certificate, which must not be earlier than the beginning of the period mentioned in s 11(1)(a) (see head (1) in the text) been published in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the building is situated: s 11(3). In exercise of the power so conferred, and prior to the transfer of planning functions in Wales to the National Assembly for Wales (see PARA 20 ante), the Secretary of State made the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 6 (see PARA 1114 post) which came into force on 24 August 1990 (reg 1) and the Town and Country Planning (Listed Buildings in Wales and Buildings in Conservation Areas in Wales) (Welsh Forms) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1147, reg 3 which came into force on 27 June 1990 (reg 1(1)).

1072-1209 Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(v) Authorisation of Works affecting Listed Buildings/B. LISTED BUILDING CONSENT/(A) Application for Consent; in general/1114. Certificates as to applicant's status etc; contents.

1114. Certificates as to applicant's status etc; contents.

A local planning authority¹ may not entertain any application for listed building consent² unless the application is accompanied by one of the following certificates signed by or on behalf of the applicant:

4145 (1) a certificate stating that, at the beginning of the period of 21 days ending with the date of the application, no person, other than the applicant, was the owner³ of any of the building⁴ to which the application relates⁵;

4146 (2) where there is a concurrent application under the Transport and Works Act 1992⁶, a certificate stating that:

318

84. (a) notice of the concurrent application has been given in accordance with rules made under the 1992 Act⁷ to all of the persons other than the applicant who were, at the beginning of a period of 28 days ending with the date of the concurrent application, the owners of the building; and

85. (b) every such notice contains a statement that an application for listed building consent has been, or is to be, made in respect of the building⁸;

- 4147 (3) a certificate stating that the applicant has given the requisite notice of the application to all persons, other than himself, who at the beginning of that period were owners of any of the building to which the application relates, and setting out the names of those persons, the addresses at which notice of the application was given to them respectively, and the date of service of each such notice⁹;

- 4148 (4) a certificate stating that the applicant is unable to issue a certificate in accordance with either head (1) or head (3) above, that he has given the requisite notice of the application to such one or more of the persons mentioned in head (3) above as are specified in the certificate, setting out their names, the addresses at which notice of the application was given to them respectively, and the date of service of each such notice, that he has taken such steps as are reasonably open to him, specifying them, to ascertain the names and addresses of the remainder of those persons and that he has been unable to do so¹⁰;

- 4149 (5) a certificate stating that the applicant is unable to issue a certificate in accordance with head (1) above, that he has taken such steps as are reasonably open to him, specifying them, to ascertain the names and addresses of the persons mentioned in head (3) above but has been unable to do so¹¹.

Any such certificate as is mentioned in head (4) or head (5) above must also contain a statement that the requisite notice of the application, as set out in the certificate, has on a date specified in the certificate, which must not be earlier than the beginning of the period mentioned in head (1) above, been published in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the building is situated¹².

Where an application is accompanied by such a certificate as is mentioned in head (3), head (4) or head (5) above, the local planning authority:

- 4150 (i) may not determine the application before the end of the period of 21 days beginning with the date appearing from the certificate to be the latest of the dates of service of notices as mentioned in the certificate, or, if later, the date of publication of a notice as so mentioned;
- 4151 (ii) must, in determining the application, take into account any representations relating to it which are made to the authority before the end of that period by any person who satisfies it that he is an owner of any of the building to which the application relates; and
- 4152 (iii) must give notice of its decision to every person who has made representations which it was required to take into account in accordance with head (ii) above¹³.

2 I.e. an application under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 3 (as amended): see PARA 1112 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'owner' (except for the purposes of head (2) in the text) means a person who is for the time being the estate owner in respect of the fee simple or is entitled to a tenancy granted or extended for a term of years certain of which not less than seven years remain unexpired: ibid reg 6(4). For the purposes of head (2) in the text, however, reg 6 is substituted to read: 'For the purposes of this regulation, "owner" means a person, other than a mortgagee not in possession, who is for the time being entitled to dispose of the fee simple of the building (whether in possession or reversion) and includes also a person holding, or entitled to the rents and profits of the land under, a lease or agreement the unexpired term whereof exceeds three years'.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(v) Authorisation of Works affecting Listed Buildings/B. LISTED BUILDING CONSENT/(A) Application for Consent; in general/1115. Reference of certain applications to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly.

1115. Reference of certain applications to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may give directions requiring applications for listed building consent³ to be referred to him, or to the Assembly, instead of being dealt with by the local planning authority⁴; and any such direction may relate either to a particular application or to applications in respect of such buildings⁵ as may be specified in the direction⁶. An application in respect of which such a direction has effect must be referred to the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, to the Assembly accordingly⁷.

An application for listed building consent must, without any direction by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, be referred to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly instead of being dealt with by the local planning authority in any case where the consent is required in consequence of proposals included in an application for an order⁸ under the Transport and Works Act 1992⁹.

Before determining an application so referred to him or to the Assembly, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, if either the applicant or the authority so wishes, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, by the Assembly¹⁰.

The decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on any application so referred to him or to it is final¹¹.

An application for listed building consent made by a local planning authority is deemed to have been referred to the Secretary of State or the Assembly under the above provisions¹².

The Secretary of State, in exercise of the above powers, has directed that an application for listed building consent made by English Heritage¹³ in respect of the carrying out of works to any building which is in its ownership, guardianship or otherwise under its control, or of which it is the prospective purchaser, is to be referred to him¹⁴.

1116. Duty to notify the Secretary of State or the Assembly of applications.

The provisions set out below may be disapplied in certain cases by a direction given under the relevant statutory powers¹. In cases where they are not so disapplied, if a local planning authority², other than a London borough³ council, to which application is made for listed building consent⁴, or a London borough council to which such an application is made by the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')⁵, intends to grant listed building consent, it must first notify the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁷ of the application, giving particulars of the works for which the consent is required⁸. The Secretary of State or, as the case may be, the Assembly may within the period of 28 days beginning with the date of such a notification:

- 4153 (1) direct the reference of the application to him or to the Assembly⁹; or
- 4154 (2) give notice to the authority that he or, as the case may be, the Assembly requires further time in which to consider whether to require such a reference¹⁰.

The local planning authority may not grant listed building consent until:

- 4155 (a) the 28-day period¹¹ has expired without the Secretary of State or the Assembly directing the reference of the application to him or to it or giving the authority notice under head (2) above; or
- 4156 (b) the Secretary of State or the Assembly has notified the authority that he or the Assembly does not intend to require the reference of the application¹².

Duty of London borough councils to notify English Heritage.

1117. Duty of London borough councils to notify English Heritage.

The provisions set out below may be disapplied in certain cases by a direction given under the relevant statutory powers¹. In cases where they are not so disapplied, where an application for listed building consent² is made to a local planning authority³ which is a London borough⁴ council:

4157 (1) unless the authority has determined to refuse the application, it must notify the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')⁵ of the application, giving particulars of the works for which the consent is required; and 4158 (2) the authority may not grant the consent unless it is authorised or directed⁶ to do so⁷.

On receipt of such a notification, and subject to the statutory conditions⁸, the Commission may give the local planning authority directions as to the granting of the application or authorise it to determine the application as it thinks fit⁹. If the Commission intends to exercise either of these powers it must notify the Secretary of State of the application, giving particulars of the works for which the consent is required¹⁰.

Alternatively, the Commission may direct the authority to refuse the application¹¹. Where it does so, the authority may, within 28 days from the date of the direction, notify the Secretary of State of the application, giving particulars of the works for which the consent is required¹².

The Secretary of State may, within the period of 28 days beginning with the date of such a notification¹³, either direct the reference of the application to him¹⁴ or give notice to the authority which notified him or, as the case may be, to the Commission that he requires further time in which to consider whether to require such a reference¹⁵. Where, after receiving such notification, the Secretary of State directs the reference of the application to him, before determining the application, he must, if either the applicant or the authority or, as the case may be, the Commission so desires, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him¹⁶.

1072-1209 Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

1121. Application for consent in anticipation of disposal of Crown land.

At the date at which this title states the law, the following provisions have effect for the purpose of enabling Crown land¹, or an interest in Crown land, to be disposed² of with the benefit of listed building consent³ or conservation area consent⁴.

Notwithstanding the interest of the Crown in the land in question, an application for any such consent may be made:

- 4161 (1) by the appropriate authority⁵; or
- 4162 (2) by any person authorised by that authority in writing;

and all the statutory provisions⁶ relating to the making and determination of any such application apply accordingly⁷ as if the land were not Crown land⁸.

Any listed building consent or conservation area consent so granted⁹ applies only:

- 4163 (a) to works carried out after the land in question has ceased to be Crown land; and
- 4164 (b) so long as that land continues to be Crown land, to works carried out by virtue of a private interest in the land¹⁰.

The Secretary of State¹¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹², may by regulations:

- 4165 (i) modify or exclude any of the statutory provisions referred to above¹³ and any other statutory provisions in their application to consents granted or made by virtue of these provisions;

- 4166 (ii) make provision for requiring a local planning authority¹⁴ to be notified of any disposal of, or interest in, any Crown land in respect of which such an application has been made; and
- 4167 (iii) make such other provision in relation to the making and determination of such applications as he thinks necessary or expedient¹⁵.

The above provisions are not, however, to be construed as affecting any right to apply for any listed building consent or conservation area consent in respect of Crown land in a case in which such an application can be made by virtue of a private interest in the land¹⁶.

As from a day to be appointed, however¹⁷, the provisions set out above are repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004¹⁸, subject to transitional arrangements¹⁹; and the Crown may apply for listed building consent or conservation area consent regardless of whether a disposal of the land in question is anticipated²⁰.

1 The Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 83(5) (prospectively repealed) (meaning of 'Crown land': see PARA 1075 note 2 ante) applies for these purposes as it applies for the purposes of s 83 (prospectively repealed): s 84(7). For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1077 note 1 ante. As to land held by the Corporate Officers of the Houses of Parliament see PARA 1075 notes 1, 2, 8, 11 ante.

2 For these purposes, references to the disposal of an interest in Crown land include references to the grant of any interest in such land: ibid s 84(6). For the meaning of 'disposal' see PARA 1075 note 18 ante.

A person who is entitled to occupy Crown land by virtue of a licence in writing is treated for these purposes as having an interest in land; and references to the disposal or grant of an interest in Crown land and to a private interest in such land are to be construed accordingly: s 84(8). 'Private interest' means an interest which is neither a Crown interest nor a Duchy interest: s 84(6). Section 83(5) (prospectively repealed) (meanings of 'Crown interest' and 'Duchy interest' (see PARA 1075 notes 1-2 ante)) applies for these purposes as it applies for the purposes of s 83 (prospectively repealed): s 84(7). If a Corporate Officer or the Corporate Officers is or are entitled to occupy Crown land by virtue of a licence in writing, that licence is to be regarded as a Crown interest, rather than a private interest, for these purposes: see PARA 1075 note 8 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'listed building consent' see PARA 1109 ante.

4 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 84(1). For the meaning of 'conservation area consent' see PARA 1174 post. For the purposes of s 84, the Broads Authority is the sole district planning authority in respect of the Broads: see s 81, Sch 4 para 5 (as amended); and PARA 1073 ante. As to district planning authorities see PARA 28 ante.

5 Ibid s 83(7) (prospectively repealed) (meaning of 'the appropriate authority': see PARA 1075 note 11 ante) applies for these purposes as it applies for the purposes of s 83 (prospectively repealed): s 84(7).

6 For these purposes, 'statutory provisions' means provisions contained in or having effect under any enactment (ibid s 84(6)); and, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'enactment' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 2 note 11 ante) (Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 91(1), (2)).

7 Ie subject to ibid s 84(3), (4): see the text and notes 11-15 infra.

8 Ibid s 84(2). The appropriate authority must, as soon as may be, after disposing of, or disposing of an interest in, any Crown land in respect of which an application has been made by virtue of s 84(2), give notice in writing to the local planning authority of such disposal: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, regs 2, 15(2).

9 Ie by virtue of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 84.

10 Ibid s 84(3).

11 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

12 As to the transfer of functions under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 84, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

13 le any of the statutory provisions referred to in ibid s 84(2): see the text and notes 6-8 supra.

14 For the meaning of 'local planning authority' see PARA 1073 ante.

15 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 84(4). In exercise of the power so conferred, and prior to the transfer of functions in Wales to the Assembly (see note 12 supra), the Secretary of State made the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 15: see note 8 supra; and PARAS 1112 note 10, 1114 note 11 ante.

16 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 84(5).

17 le as from a day to be appointed under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 121. At the date at which this title states the law, no such day had been appointed.

18 See ibid ss 79(4), 120, Sch 3 para 18(1), Sch 9. At the date at which this title states the law, those repeals were not in force.

19 The repeal of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 84 does not affect any requirement made in pursuance of regulations made under s 84(4)(b): Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 Sch 3 para 18(2).

NOTE 4--The National Assembly for Wales Commission is to be treated as a government department for the purposes of the 1990 Act s 82C: National Assembly for Wales Commission (Crown Status) (No 2) Order 2007, SI 2007/1353, art 5(1), (2)(d).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(v) Authorisation of Works affecting Listed Buildings/B. LISTED BUILDING CONSENT/(B) Applications with respect to Crown Land/(b) Provisions introduced by the 2004 Act/1123. Urgent works relating to Crown land; application for consent.

1123. Urgent works relating to Crown land; application for consent.

Partly as from a day to be appointed¹, the following provisions apply to any works proposed to be executed in connection with any building² which is on Crown land³ if the appropriate authority⁴ certifies:

- 4168 (1) that the works are of national importance; and
- 4169 (2) that it is necessary that the works are carried out as a matter of urgency⁵.

The appropriate authority may, instead of making an application for consent to the local planning authority⁶ in accordance with the provisions of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990⁷, make an application for consent to the Secretary of State⁸ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁹ under the provisions set out below¹⁰. If the appropriate authority proposes to make the application to the Secretary of State or the Assembly it must publish in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality of the building a notice describing the proposed works and stating that the authority proposes to make the application to the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹¹. For the purposes of such an application the appropriate authority must provide to the Secretary of State or the Assembly a statement of the authority's grounds for making the application¹².

If the appropriate authority makes such an application, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may require the authority to provide him or it with such further information as he or the Assembly thinks necessary to enable him or it to determine the application¹³. As soon as practicable after he or it is provided with any document or other matter¹⁴, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must make a copy of the document or other matter available for inspection by the public in the locality of the proposed development¹⁵, except to the extent that the document or other matter is subject to a direction¹⁶ relating to national security¹⁷. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, in accordance with such requirements as may be prescribed¹⁸, publish notice of the application and of the fact that such documents and other material are available for inspection¹⁹. He or it must consult:

- 4170 (a) the local planning authority for the area to which the proposed development relates; and
- 4171 (b) such other persons as may be prescribed, about the application²⁰.

Before determining an application so referred to him or to the Assembly, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, if either the applicant or the authority so wishes, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, by the Assembly²¹.

The decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on any application so referred to him or to it is final²². Its validity may, however, be challenged on an application to the High Court²³ under the relevant statutory provisions²⁴.

1072-1209 Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

1122-1124 Provisions introduced by the 2004 Act

These provisions now in force for remaining purposes: SI 2006/1281.

1123 Urgent works relating to Crown land; application for consent

NOTE 10--Where an application under the 1990 Act s 82B(2) is made to the Secretary of State, or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales, in respect of any building, the Secretary of State or National Assembly must (1) publish in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the building is situated a notice indicating the nature of the works which are the subject of the application and (a) naming a place within the locality where a copy of the application, and of all plans and other documents submitted with it, will be open to inspection by the public at all reasonable hours during the period of 21 days beginning with the date of publication of the notice; and (b) stating the address of the website where a copy of the application, and of all plans and other documents submitted with it, will be open to inspection by the public during the period of 21 days beginning with the date of publication of the notice, and the place on the website where such documents may be accessed, and how they may be accessed; and (2) for not less than seven days display on or near the said building a notice containing the same particulars as are required to be contained in the notice to be published in accordance with head (1): Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1283, reg 5B(1) (reg 5B added by SI 2006/1283 (England), SI 2006/1388 (Wales)). SI 1990/1519 reg 5B(1) does not apply to any application for listed building consent to carry out works affecting only the interior of a building which, when last notified to the authority by the Secretary of State or National Assembly as a building of special architectural or historic interest, was classified as a Grade II (unstarred) listed building: reg 5B(2) (reg 5B as so added).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(v) Authorisation of Works affecting Listed Buildings/B. LISTED BUILDING CONSENT/(B) Applications with respect to Crown Land/(b) Provisions introduced by the 2004 Act/1124. Transitional provisions.

1124. Transitional provisions.

Schedule 4 to Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 makes transitional provision with regard to the application of planning legislation to the Crown. Part 2 of that Schedule¹ applies to works if:

- 4172 (1) they are works for which before the relevant date² no listed building consent³ is required; and
- 4173 (2) before the relevant date proposed works notice⁴ had been given to the local planning authority⁵.

If before the relevant date in pursuance of the arrangements made in relation to the development⁶ either the local planning authority or the Secretary of State⁷ has given notice to the developer that it or he, as the case may be, finds the proposed works acceptable, the notice must be treated as if it is listed building consent granted under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990⁸. If the notice is subject to conditions, the conditions have effect as if they are conditions attached to the consent⁹.

If before the relevant date the local planning authority has in pursuance of the arrangements kept a register of proposed works notices, the register must be treated as if it is part of the register kept by the authority¹⁰ in pursuance of that 1990 Act¹¹.

If either:

- 4174 (a) before the relevant date the local planning authority has notified the developer in pursuance of the arrangements that the authority does not find the works acceptable, and the matter has been referred to but not decided by the Secretary of State; or
- 4175 (b) before the relevant date the local planning authority has notified the developer in pursuance of the arrangements that it finds the works acceptable subject to conditions, and the matter has been referred to but not decided by the Secretary of State, then the Secretary of State must deal with the proposal as if it is an appeal¹² by an applicant for listed building consent¹³.

If before the relevant date proposed works notice has been given, but the local planning authority has not given notice to the developer as mentioned above¹⁴, then the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 applies as if the proposal is an application for listed building consent duly made under that Act¹⁵.

At the date at which this title states the law, however, these transitional provisions were not in force¹⁶.

1 I.e. the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 89, Sch 4 Pt 2 (paras 7-12): see the text and notes 2-15 infra.

2 For these purposes, the relevant date is the date of commencement of ibid s 79(1) (see PARA 13 ante): Sch 4 para 8(a). At the date at which this title states the law, s 79 was in force for limited purposes only (see PARA 13 note 8 ante) and s 89, Sch 4 were not in force.

3 For the meaning of 'listed building consent' see PARA 1109 ante.

4 For these purposes, 'proposed works notice' is notice of a proposal for works given by the person proposing to carry out the works ('the developer') in pursuance of arrangements made by the Secretary of State in relation to development by or on behalf of the Crown; and the developer is the Crown or a person acting on behalf of the Crown: Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 Sch 4 para 8(b), (c). 9 Ibid Sch 4 para 9(3). As to the granting of consent subject to conditions see PARA 1130 post.

10 At the date at which this title states the law, there is no statutory requirement to keep such a register under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990. The wording in the text mirrors that in the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 Sch 4 para 4(1), (2) (transitional provision with regard to proposed development notices: see PARA 457 ante), which refers to the register kept as if in pursuance of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 69 (as substituted: see PARA 466 ante).

1125. Power to decline to determine subsequent application.

As from 24 August 2005 in relation to England¹, and as from a day to be appointed in relation to Wales², and in relation only to applications received by the authority after that day³, a local planning authority⁴ may decline to determine an application for listed building consent⁵ if (1) one or more of the conditions set out below is satisfied; and (2) the authority thinks there has been no significant change in any material considerations⁶ since the relevant event⁷. The statutory conditions are:

- 4176 (a) that in the period of two years ending with the date on which the application for listed building consent is received the Secretary of State⁸ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁹ has refused a similar application¹⁰ referred¹¹ to him or to the Assembly¹²;
- 4177 (b) that in that period the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, the Assembly has dismissed an appeal against the refusal of a similar application¹³, or an appeal against the failure to give notice of a decision or of a referral¹⁴ in respect of a similar application¹⁵;
- 4178 (c) that in that period the local planning authority has refused more than one similar application¹⁶ and there has been no appeal to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly against any such refusal¹⁷.

1128. Grant or refusal of application.

The local planning authority¹ or, as the case may be, the Secretary of State² (or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³) may⁴ grant or refuse an application for listed building consent⁵ and, if it or he grants consent, may grant it subject to conditions⁶. In considering whether to grant listed building consent for any works, the local planning authority or the Secretary of State or the Assembly must have special regard to the desirability of preserving the building⁷ or its setting or any features of special architectural or historic interest which it possesses⁸.

Every such notice of decision or reference to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly must be in writing⁹. Where the local planning authority decides to grant listed building consent subject to conditions or to refuse it, the notice must state the reasons for the decision (in England, the full reasons)¹⁰ and must be accompanied by a notification in the prescribed terms¹¹, or substantially in those terms¹². In England, where the authority decides to grant listed building consent without conditions, the notice must state a summary of the reasons for the decision¹³.

Unless it otherwise provides, any listed building consent enures for the benefit of the building and of all persons for the time being interested in it¹⁴.

As to the application of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 16 to conservation area consent see the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 12, Sch 3; and PARAS 1174 note 5, 1176 post. Listed building consent may be given for the relocation of a statue: see Judge v First Secretary of State [2005] EWHC 887 (Admin), [2005] All ER (D) 409 (Apr).

As to the Secretary of State's or the National Assembly for Wales's power to direct the relevant local planning authority to submit for approval the arrangements which the authority proposes to make to obtain specialist advice in connection with its functions under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 16 see PARA 1098 note 7 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante. Preservation of the building or its setting is the paramount consideration: Bristol Meeting Room Trust Trustees v Secretary of State for the Environment [1991] JPL 152; and see PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 3.3 (general presumption in favour of the preservation of listed buildings, except where a convincing case can be made out for alteration or demolition); Planning Policy Wales (National Assembly for Wales, 2002) PARA 6.4.6. However, even if departmental policy has laid down a general rule admitting of no exceptions to the effect that a listed building can never be demolished to make way for other development if it is still capable of economic use, it is nevertheless open to the Secretary of State to make an exception to that general rule where special circumstances justify such an exception: Save Britain's Heritage v Secretary of State for the Environment [1991] 2 All ER 10; sub nom Save Britain's Heritage v Number 1 Poultry Ltd [1991] 1 WLR 153, HL.

As to the general criteria to be applied see PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 3; and as to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante. See also R (on the application of Sullivan) v Warwick District Council [2003] EWHC 606 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 236 (May), (2003) Times, 12 June (the use of the words 'where works of alteration involve the demolition of a significant part of the listed building' in PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 3.15A indicates a duty to have regard to the quality of the part of the building to be demolished and its effect on the character of the building, which is to be distinguished from the volume and proportion of the part of the building to be demolished). The preservation of façades alone, and the gutting and reconstruction of interiors, is not normally an acceptable approach to the re-use of listed buildings: it can destroy much of a building's special interest and create problems for the long-term stability of the structure: PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 3.15. Cf the observations of Lord Hope of Craighead in Shimizu (UK) Ltd v Westminster City Council [1997] 1 All ER 481 at 498, [1997] 1 WLR 168 at 185, HL ('it is now commonplace, especially in towns and cities, where the exterior of a building contributes to the architectural or historic interest of a group of buildings such as buildings in a terrace, for the façade to be left standing while clearing the remainder of the site for redevelopment. ... It seems to me to be plain that the original proposal [in that case] was for the demolition of the listed building for all practical purposes, so that a scheme of redevelopment could be carried out. It went far beyond what could reasonably be described as its alteration, as the works were so extensive and so much was to be pulled down and taken away, although the façade and the chimney breasts and chimney stacks were to be retained. The question is ultimately one of fact ...').

The demolition of any Grade I or Grade II (starred) building should be wholly exceptional and there are many outstanding buildings for which it is in practice almost inconceivable that consent for demolition would ever be granted: see PPG 15--Planning and the Historic Environment para 3.17.

TEXT AND NOTES 9-13--SI 1990/1519 reg 3 substituted: SI 2008/551 (England).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(v) Authorisation of Works affecting Listed Buildings/B. LISTED BUILDING CONSENT/(D) Decision on Application; in general/1129. Duration of listed building consent.

1129. Duration of listed building consent.

Every listed building consent¹ must be granted subject to the condition that the works to which it relates must be begun not later than the expiration of:

- 4183 (1) the specified number of years² beginning with the date on which the consent is granted³; or
- 4184 (2) such other period whether longer or shorter, beginning with that date, as the authority granting the consent may direct, being a period which the authority considers appropriate having regard to any material considerations⁴.

If, however, listed building consent is granted without such a condition⁵, the consent is deemed to have been granted subject to the condition that the works to which it relates must be begun not later than the expiration of the specified number of years⁶ beginning with the date of the grant⁷.

Subject to transitional provisions⁸, and partly as from a day to be appointed in relation to Wales⁹, if any proceedings are begun to challenge the validity of a grant of listed building consent or of a deemed grant of listed building consent¹⁰, the period before the end of which the works to which the consent relates are required to be begun in pursuance of the above provisions must be taken to be extended by one year¹¹; and nothing in the above provisions prevents the works being begun from the time the consent is granted¹².

1 For the meaning of 'listed building consent' see PARA 1109 ante.

2 I.e. three years: see the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 18(1)(a) (s 18(1)(a), (2) amended by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 51(4)(a), partly, in relation to Wales as from a day to be appointed under s 121). At the date at which this title states the law, s 51 was in force in relation to England only (see PARA 4 note 8 ante); in relation to Wales, and in relation to applications which were received by the local planning authority in England before 24 August 2005, the specified period was five years: see the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 18(1)(a) (as originally enacted); the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 51(6); and the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 (Commencement No 5 and Savings) Order 2005, SI 2005/2081, art 2.

1130. Power to impose conditions on grant of listed building consent.

The conditions subject to which listed building consent¹ may be granted may include² conditions with respect to:

- 4185 (1) the preservation of particular features of the building³, either as part of it or after severance from it;
- 4186 (2) the making good, after the works are completed, of any damage caused to the building by the works;
- 4187 (3) the reconstruction of the building or any part of it following the execution of any works, with the use of original materials so far as practicable and with such alterations of the interior of the building as may be specified in the conditions⁴.

A condition may also be imposed requiring specific details of the works, whether or not set out in the application, to be approved subsequently by the local planning authority⁵ or, in the case of consent granted either by the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁷, specifying whether such details are to be approved by the local planning authority or by him or, as the case may be, by the Assembly⁸.

Listed building consent for the demolition⁹ of a building may be granted subject to a condition that the building shall not be demolished before:

- 4188 (a) a contract for the carrying out of works of redevelopment of the site has been made; and
- 4189 (b) planning permission¹⁰ has been granted for the redevelopment for which the contract provides¹¹.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(v) Authorisation of Works affecting Listed Buildings/B. LISTED BUILDING CONSENT/(E) Grant of Consent subject to Conditions/1131. Application for variation or discharge of conditions.

1131. Application for variation or discharge of conditions.

Any person interested in a listed building¹ with respect to which listed building consent² has been granted subject to conditions³ may apply to the local planning authority⁴ for the variation or discharge of the conditions⁵.

As respects a building⁶ situated in an area of a National Park in England⁷ outside a metropolitan county⁸, however, such an application must be made to the council of the district⁹ which must send it on, together with all accompanying documents¹⁰, to the body authorised to exercise the functions¹¹ relating to such applications¹². As respects a building situated in an area of a National Park within a metropolitan county, such an application must be made to the joint planning board¹³.

The application must be made on a form issued by the local planning authority and obtainable from that authority and must¹⁴ be lodged with the local planning authority together with two further copies of the form, plans and drawings¹⁵. The application must indicate what variation or discharge of conditions is applied for¹⁶. The same prescribed requirements as to publicity¹⁷ apply as apply to an application for listed building consent¹⁸.

On such an application the local planning authority or, as the case may be, the Secretary of State¹⁹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales²⁰ may vary or discharge the conditions attached to the consent and may add new conditions consequential upon the variation or discharge, as it or he thinks fit²¹. Subject to transitional provisions²², however, and partly as from a day to be appointed in relation to Wales²³, a variation or discharge of conditions under these provisions must not:

- 4190 (1) vary a condition subject to which a consent was granted by extending the time within which the works must be started;
- 4191 (2) discharge such a condition²⁴.

Revocation and modification by local planning authority; opposed cases.

1133. Revocation and modification by local planning authority; opposed cases.

Subject to the statutory exception for unopposed cases¹, an order made by a local planning authority² for the revocation or modification of listed building consent³ does not take effect until it is confirmed by the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁵.

Where a local planning authority submits such an order to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly for confirmation, it must serve notice on:

- 4192 (1) the owner⁶ of the building⁷ affected;
- 4193 (2) the occupier of that building; and
- 4194 (3) any other person who in its opinion will be affected by the order⁸.

The notice must specify the period, which must not be less than 28 days after its service, within which any person on whom it is served may require an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly for the purpose⁹. If within that period a person on whom the notice is served so requires, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must give such an opportunity both to that person and to the local planning authority before he or the Assembly confirms the order¹⁰.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may confirm an order so submitted to him or to it either without modification or subject to such modifications as he or the Assembly considers expedient¹¹.

1134. Revocation and modification by local planning authority; unopposed cases.

Where (1) the local planning authority¹ has made an order² revoking or modifying a listed building consent³ granted by it; and (2) the owner⁴ and occupier of the land⁵ and all persons who in the authority's opinion will be affected by the order have notified the authority in writing that they do not object to the order, then, instead of submitting the order to the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁷ for confirmation, the authority must:

4195 (a) advertise in the prescribed manner⁸ the fact that the order has been made, specifying in the advertisement:

322

89. (i) the period⁹ within which persons affected by the order may give notice to the Secretary of State or the Assembly that they wish for an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by the Assembly for the purpose; and

90. (ii) the period¹⁰ at the end of which, if no such notice is given to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, the order may take effect without being confirmed by him or by the Assembly;

323

- 4196 (b) serve notice to the same effect on the person mentioned in head (2) above;

- 4197 (c) send a copy of any such advertisement to the Secretary of State or the Assembly not more than three days after its publication¹¹.

If no person claiming to be affected by the order has given notice to the Secretary of State or the Assembly as mentioned in head (a)(i) above within the specified period and the Secretary of State or the Assembly has not directed within that period that the order be submitted to him or to it for confirmation, the order takes effect at the end of the period referred to in head (a)(ii) above without being confirmed¹² by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly¹³.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(v) Authorisation of Works affecting Listed Buildings/B. LISTED BUILDING CONSENT/ (F) Revocation and Modification of Consent/1135. Revocation and modification by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly.

1135. Revocation and modification by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly.

If it appears to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² that it is expedient that an order should be made³ revoking or modifying any listed building consent⁴ granted on an application duly made⁵, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may himself or itself make such an order revoking or modifying the consent to such extent as he or it considers expedient⁶. In performing such functions⁷ the Secretary of State or the Assembly must have regard to any material considerations⁸.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may not, however, so make an order without first consulting⁹ the local planning authority¹⁰.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly proposes to make such an order, he or it must serve notice on:

- 4198 (1) the owner¹¹ of the building¹² affected;
- 4199 (2) the occupier of that building; and
- 4200 (3) any other person who in his or its opinion will be affected by the order¹³.

The notice must specify the period, which must be not less than 28 days after its service, within which any person on whom it is served may require an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly for the purpose¹⁴. If within that period a person on whom it is served so requires, before the Secretary of State or the Assembly makes the order, he or it must give such opportunity both to that person and to the local planning authority¹⁵.

The power so conferred to revoke or modify listed building consent in respect of any works may be exercised at any time before those works have been completed but the revocation or modification does not affect so much of those works as has been previously carried out¹⁶.

Such an order has the same effect as if it had been made by the local planning authority¹⁷ and confirmed¹⁸ by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly¹⁹.

1136. Revocation or modification of listed building consent.

Where listed building consent¹ is revoked or modified², then except in an unopposed case³ if, on a claim made to the local planning authority⁴ within the prescribed⁵ time and in the prescribed manner, it is shown that a person interested in the building⁶:

- 4201 (1) has incurred expenditure in carrying out works⁷ which are rendered abortive by the revocation or modification; or
- 4202 (2) has otherwise sustained loss or damage which is directly attributable to the revocation or modification, the authority must pay that person compensation in respect of that expenditure, loss or damage⁸.

Any such claim must be in writing and must be served on the local planning authority by delivering it at the offices of that authority addressed to the authority's clerk, or by sending it so addressed by prepaid post⁹; and the time within which such a claim must be made is six months from the date of the decision in respect of which the claim is made, or such longer period as the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁰ may allow in any particular case¹¹.

No compensation may, however, be paid¹² in respect of:

- 4203 (a) any works carried out before the grant of the listed building consent which is revoked or modified; or
- 4204 (b) any other loss or damage, not being loss or damage consisting of depreciation of the value of an interest in land¹³, arising out of anything done or omitted to be done before the grant of that consent¹⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'listed building consent' see PARA 1109 ante.

2 Ie by an order under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 23 (as amended) (see PARA 1132 ante), other than an order which takes effect by virtue of s 25 (see PARA 1134 ante): s 28(1).

3 Ie a case where the order takes effect by virtue of ibid s 25: see PARA 1134 ante.

4 Claims under ibid s 28 must be made to, and paid by, the local planning authority which made the order in question or, where it was made by the Secretary of State or by the National Assembly for Wales under s 26 (as amended) (see PARA 1135 ante), the local planning authority which is treated as having made it under s 26 (as amended); and references in s 28 to a local planning authority are to be construed accordingly: s 30(1)(b).

After consultation with all the authorities concerned the Secretary of State or the Assembly may direct that, where a local planning authority is liable to pay compensation under s 28 in any particular case or class of case, that authority shall be entitled to be reimbursed the whole of the compensation or such proportion of it as he or the Assembly may direct from one or more authorities specified in the direction: s 30(2) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 ss 31(4), 84(6), Sch 6 para 42(2), Sch 19 Pt II). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante; as to the transfer of functions under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 ss 26, 28, 30 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 1077 note 4 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante.

7 For these purposes, expenditure incurred in the preparation of plans for the purposes of any works, or upon other similar matters preparatory to any works, is to be taken to be included in the expenditure incurred in carrying out those works: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 28(4).

8 Ibid s 28(1), (2). As to the calculation of compensation, and as to disputed claims, see PARA 1138 post. Compensation payable under s 28 carries interest at the rate for the time being prescribed under the Land Compensation Act 1961 s 32 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 641) from the date of the order under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 23 (as amended) (see PARA 1132 ante) until payment: Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 80(1), Sch 18 Pt I. As to payments on account of compensation or interest see s 80(2), (3); and PARA 581 note 15 ante.

Compensation was also payable where, before 1 November 1990 (1) an application was made for listed building consent for the alteration or extension of a listed building; (2) the works did not constitute development, or if they did, they were permitted development under a development order; (3) consent was refused or granted subject to conditions; and (4) the refusal or imposition of conditions resulted in the depreciation in value of an interest in the land: see the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 27 (repealed); the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 31(8). Shimizu (UK) Ltd v Westminster City Council [1997] 1 All ER 481, [1997] 1 WLR 168, HL, cited in PARA 1109 note 2 ante, involved a claim for such compensation.

B. LISTED BUILDING PURCHASE NOTICES

1139. Purchase notice on refusal or conditional grant of listed building consent.

Where (1) listed building consent¹ in respect of a building² is refused, or granted subject to conditions, or is revoked or modified by an order by the local planning authority³ or by the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁴; and (2) any owner⁵ of the building claims:

- 4209 (a) that the statutory conditions set out in heads (i) to (iii) below are satisfied with respect to it and any land⁶ comprising the building, or contiguous or adjacent to it, and owned with it; and
- 4210 (b) that the use⁷ of that land is substantially inseparable from that of the building and that it ought to be treated, together with the building, as a single holding, he may, within the prescribed⁸ time and in the prescribed manner, serve on the council of the district⁹, Welsh county, county borough or London borough¹⁰ in which the building and land are situated a notice (a 'listed building purchase notice') requiring that council to purchase his interest¹¹ in the building and land¹². Such a notice may also be served on any National Park authority¹³ which is the local planning authority¹⁴ for the area in which the building and land in question are situated¹⁵.

Any such notice must be in writing and must be served on the council or authority by delivering it at the offices of that council or authority addressed to its clerk, or by sending it so addressed by prepaid post¹⁶; and the time within which such a notice must be served is 12 months from the date of the decision in respect of which the notice is given, or such longer period as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may allow in any particular case¹⁷.

The statutory conditions are:

- 4211 (i) that the building and land in respect of which the notice is served have become incapable of reasonably beneficial use in their existing state;
- 4212 (ii) in a case where listed building consent has been granted subject to conditions with respect to the execution of the works or has been modified by the imposition of such conditions, that the land cannot be rendered capable of such use by the carrying out of the works in accordance with those conditions; and
- 4213 (iii) in any case, that the land cannot be rendered capable of such use by the carrying out of any other works for which listed building consent has been granted or for which the local planning authority or, as the case may be, the Secretary of State or the Assembly has undertaken to grant such consent¹⁸.

In determining for these purposes what is or would in any particular circumstances be a reasonably beneficial use of land, no account may be taken of any prospective use which would involve the carrying out of development¹⁹ or any works requiring listed building consent which might be executed to the building, other than works for which the local planning authority or, as the case may be, the Secretary of State or the Assembly, has undertaken to grant such consent²⁰.

1140 Purchase notices in respect of Crown land

TEXT AND NOTE 4--Day now appointed: SI 2006/1281.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(vi) Owners' Rights/B. LISTED BUILDING PURCHASE NOTICES/1141. Action by council or authority on which listed building purchase notice is served.

1141. Action by council or authority on which listed building purchase notice is served.

The council or National Park authority¹ on which a listed building purchase notice² is served by an owner³ must, before the end of the period of three months beginning with the date of service of the listed building purchase notice, serve on him a notice stating either:

- 4218 (1) that the council or authority is willing to comply with the purchase notice;
or
- 4219 (2) that another local authority⁴ or statutory undertakers⁵ specified in the notice has or have agreed to comply with it in its place; or
- 4220 (3) that for reasons so specified the council or authority is not willing to comply with the purchase notice and has not found any other local authority or statutory undertakers who will agree to comply with it in its place and that it has transmitted to the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁷ a copy of the purchase notice and of the notice⁸.

Where such a notice as is mentioned in heads (1) or (2) above has been duly served, the council or National Park authority or, as the case may be, the other local authority or statutory undertakers specified in the notice is or are deemed:

- 4221 (a) to be authorised to acquire the interest of the owner compulsorily⁹; and
- 4222 (b) to have served a notice to treat¹⁰ in respect of it on the date of service of that notice¹¹.

Where the council proposes to serve such a notice as is mentioned in head (3) above, it must first send to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly a copy of the proposed notice and the listed building purchase notice which was served on it¹².

1 See the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 32(4A) (as added), cited in PARA 1139 note 15 ante. As to National Park authorities see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 526 et seq.

2 For the meaning of 'listed building purchase notice' see PARA 1139 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 1075 note 17 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 1072 note 8 ante. In the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 33, 'local authority', in relation to a building or land in the Broads, includes the Broads Authority: s 91(6). This reference to a local authority is to be construed as if a National Park authority were a local authority: see s 32(4A) (as added); and PARA 1139 note 15 ante. For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante; and for the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1077 note 1 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'statutory undertakers' see PARA 1081 ante.

Procedure on reference of listed building purchase notice to the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

1142. Procedure on reference of listed building purchase notice to the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

Where a copy of a listed building purchase notice¹ is sent² to the Secretary of State³ or to the National Assembly for Wales⁴, he or the Assembly must consider whether to confirm the notice or to take other action⁵ in respect of it⁶. Before confirming such a notice or taking such other action, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must give notice of such proposed action:

- 4223 (1) to the person who served the notice;
- 4224 (2) to the council or National Park authority⁷ on which it was served;
- 4225 (3) in England outside Greater London⁸:

324

91. (a) to the county planning authority⁹ and also, where that authority is a joint planning board¹⁰, to the county council; and

92. (b) if the district council on which the purchase notice in question was served is a constituent member of a joint planning board, to that board;

325

4226 (4) in Wales, to the local planning authority¹¹ where it is a joint planning board; and 4227 (5) if the Secretary of State or the Assembly proposes to substitute any other local authority¹² or statutory undertakers¹³ for the council or authority on which the notice was served, to it or them¹⁴.

A notice so served must specify the period, which must be not less than 28 days from its service, within which any of the persons on whom it is served may require the Secretary of State or the Assembly to give him an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by the Assembly for the purpose¹⁵. If any of those persons so require, before the Secretary of State or the Assembly confirms the listed building purchase notice or takes any other action¹⁶ in respect of it, he or the Assembly must give such an opportunity to each of them¹⁷.

If, after any of those persons have appeared before, and been heard by, the appointed person, it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to be expedient to take action¹⁸ otherwise than in accordance with the notice given by him or by it, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may take that action accordingly¹⁹.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(vi) Owners' Rights/B. LISTED BUILDING PURCHASE NOTICES/1143. Action by the Secretary of State or the Assembly in relation to listed building purchase notice.

1143. Action by the Secretary of State or the Assembly in relation to listed building purchase notice.

Subject to the following provisions, if the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² is satisfied that the specified statutory conditions³ are satisfied in the case of any listed building purchase notice⁴, he or it must confirm the notice⁵. If, however, he or the Assembly is satisfied that those conditions are fulfilled only in respect of part of the land⁶, he or the Assembly must confirm the notice only in respect of that part and the notice has effect accordingly⁷.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may not confirm the notice unless he or it is satisfied that the land comprises such land contiguous or adjacent to the building⁸ as is in his or its opinion required for preserving the building or its amenities⁹ or for affording access to it¹⁰ or for its proper control or management¹¹.

If it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to be expedient to do so, he or it may, instead of confirming the notice:

- 4228 (1) in the case of a notice served on account of the refusal of listed building consent¹² for any works, grant such consent for those works;
- 4229 (2) in the case of a notice served on account of such consent being granted subject to conditions, revoke or amend those conditions so far as it appears to him or to the Assembly to be required in order to enable the land to be rendered capable of reasonably beneficial use¹³ by the carrying out of those works;
- 4230 (3) in the case of a notice served on account of such consent being revoked by an order by the local planning authority¹⁴ or, as the case may be, by the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁵, cancel the order revoking the consent; or
- 4231 (4) in the case of a notice served on account of such consent being modified by such an order by the imposition of conditions, revoke or amend those conditions so far as appears to him or to the Assembly to be required in order to enable the land to be rendered capable of reasonably beneficial use by the carrying out of the works in respect of which the consent was granted¹⁶.

If it appears to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly that the land, or any part of it, could be rendered capable of reasonably beneficial use within a reasonable time by the carrying out:

- 4232 (a) of any other works for which listed building consent ought to be granted; or
- 4233 (b) of any development¹⁷ for which planning permission¹⁸ ought to be granted, he or the Assembly may, instead of confirming the listed building purchase notice, or confirming it so far as it relates to that part, direct that, if an application is made for such consent for those works or, as the case may be, for planning permission for that development, it shall be granted¹⁹.

If it appears to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly, having regard to the probable ultimate use of the building or its site, that it is expedient to do so, he or the Assembly may, if confirming the notice, modify it either in relation to the whole or any part of the land, by substituting another local authority²⁰ or statutory undertakers²¹ for the council or National Park authority²² on which the notice was served²³.

1072-1209 Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/15. LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(vi) Owners' Rights/B. LISTED BUILDING PURCHASE NOTICES/1144. Effect of Secretary of State's or Assembly's action in relation to listed building purchase notice.

1144. Effect of Secretary of State's or Assembly's action in relation to listed building purchase notice.

Where the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² confirms a listed building purchase notice³, the council or National Park authority⁴ on which the notice was served⁵ is deemed:

- 4234 (1) to be authorised to acquire the owner's interest⁶ in the land compulsorily⁷; and
- 4235 (2) to have served a notice to treat⁸ in respect of it on such date as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may direct⁹.

If, before the end of the relevant period¹⁰, the Secretary of State or the Assembly has neither:

- 4236 (a) confirmed the listed building purchase notice; nor
- 4237 (b) notified the owner by whom it was served that he or the Assembly does not propose to confirm it; nor
- 4238 (c) taken any specified action¹¹ in respect of it,

the notice is deemed to be confirmed at the end of that period and the council or authority on which it was served is deemed to have been authorised as mentioned in head (1) above and to have served a notice to treat in respect of the owner's interest at the end of that period¹².

Where any decision by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly to confirm or not to confirm a listed building purchase notice, including any decision to confirm the notice only in respect of part of the land, or to give any direction as to the granting of listed building consent¹³ or planning permission¹⁴, is quashed¹⁵, the notice is treated as cancelled but the owner may serve a further notice¹⁶ in its place¹⁷.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 36, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. The administrative functions of the National Assembly for Wales with regard to listed buildings and conservation areas are exercised by Cadw: Welsh Historic Monuments which is an executive agency operating within the Welsh Assembly Government. As to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'listed building purchase notice' see PARA 1139 ante.

4 See the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 32(4A) (as added), cited in PARA 1139 note 15 ante.

5 Where a listed building purchase notice is modified under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 35(6) (see PARA 1143 ante) by the substitution of another local authority or statutory undertakers for the council on which the notice was served, the reference to that council is to that other local authority or those statutory undertakers: s 36(4). For the meaning of 'statutory undertakers' see PARA 1081 ante; and for the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 1072 note 8 ante. References to a local authority in s 36 are to be construed as including a National Park authority: see PARA 1139 note 15 ante. In s 36 'local authority', in relation to a building or land in the Broads, includes the Broads Authority: s 91(6). For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 1073 note 8 ante; and for the meaning of 'land' see PARA 1077 note 1 ante.

If the Secretary of State or the Assembly so provides by order, in relation to an urban development corporation specified in the order and to land in that corporation's area, s 36(4) has effect as if (1) after the word 'undertakers' in the first place where it occurs there were inserted the words 'or an urban development corporation'; and (2) in the second place where it occurs there were inserted the words 'or that corporation': Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 149(3)(b), Sch 29 Pt II para 13 (respectively amended and substituted by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1980 s 4, Sch 2 paras 44(6)(c), 44(13)). See also the Local Government, Planning and Act 1980 Sch 29 Pt II para 14 (as substituted), cited in PARA 1141 note 8 ante. As to urban development corporations see PARA 1426 et seq post.

6 For these purposes, where a listed building purchase notice is confirmed in respect of only part of the land, references to the owner's interest in the land are references to the owner's interest in that part: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 36(3). For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 1075 note 17 ante; and for the meaning of references to the land for these purposes see PARA 1143 note 6 ante.

7 le in accordance with ibid s 47 (as amended): see PARAS 1154, 1157 post.

8 For the meaning of words importing a reference to service of a notice to treat see PARA 1079 note 8 ante.

9 Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 36(1). As to the application of s 36 to conservation area purchase notices see the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 12, Sch 3; and PARAS 1174 note 5, 1179 post.

10 For these purposes, 'the relevant period' means (1) the period of nine months beginning with the date of the service of the listed building purchase notice; or (2) if it ends earlier, the period of six months beginning with the date on which a copy of the notice was sent to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly: Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 36(5). The relevant period does not, however, run if the Secretary of State or the Assembly has before him or it at the same time both (a) a copy of the listed building purchase notice sent to him or to it under s 33(4) (see PARA 1141 ante); and (b) a notice of appeal under s 20 (as amended) (see PARA 1186 post) or s 39 (as amended) (see PARAS 1191, 1193 post) relating to any of the land to which the listed building purchase notice relates: s 36(6).

11 le any such action as is mentioned in ibid s 35(4) or (5): see PARA 1143 ante.

12 Ibid 36(2).

13 For the meaning of 'listed building consent' see PARA 1109 ante.

14 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 1095 note 1 ante.

15 le under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 63 (as amended): see PARA 1090 ante.

16 For the purpose of determining whether such a further notice has been served within the period prescribed for the service of listed building purchase notices, the decision concerning listed building consent on account of which the notice has been served is treated as having been made on the date on which the Secretary of State's or the Assembly's decision was quashed: ibid s 36(8). For the prescribed period see PARA 1139 ante; and for the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 1077 note 4 ante.

LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS/ (2) LISTED BUILDINGS/(vii) Enforcement/A. ENFORCEMENT BY LOCAL PLANNING AUTHORITIES/1146. Power to issue listed building enforcement notice.

(vii) Enforcement

A. ENFORCEMENT BY LOCAL PLANNING AUTHORITIES

1146. Power to issue listed building enforcement notice.

Where it appears to the local planning authority¹:

4239 (1) that any works have been or are being executed to a listed building² in its area; and

4240 (2) that the works are such as to involve a contravention of the statutory controls³ on works affecting such buildings, it may, if it considers it expedient to do so having regard to the effect of the works on the character of the building as one of special architectural or historic interest, issue a notice (a 'listed building enforcement notice')⁴.

Such a notice must specify the alleged contravention and require such steps as may be specified in the notice to be taken:

4241 (a) for restoring the building to its former state; or

- 4242 (b) if the authority considers that such restoration would not be reasonably practicable or would be undesirable, for executing such further works⁵ specified in the notice as it considers necessary to alleviate the effect of the works which were carried out without listed building consent⁶; or
- 4243 (c) for bringing the building to the state in which it would have been if the terms and conditions of any listed building consent which has been granted for the works had been complied with⁷.

A listed building enforcement notice must specify:

- 4244 (i) the date on which it is to take effect and takes effect⁸ on that date; and
- 4245 (ii) the period within which any steps are required to be taken and may specify different periods for different steps⁹.

A copy of the listed building enforcement notice must be served, not later than 28 days after the date of its issue and not later than 28 days before the date specified in it as the date on which it is to take effect:

- 4246 (A) on the owner¹⁰ and on the occupier of the building to which it relates; and
- 4247 (B) on any other person having an interest in that building which in the opinion of the authority is materially affected by the notice¹¹.

Electronic communications may not be used for such service of the copy notice¹².

1 As to the exercise in England and outside Greater London of the functions of a local planning authority under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 38 (as amended) (see the text and notes 2-11 infra; and PARA 1147 post) see PARA 1096 note 9 ante. For the purposes of s 38 (as amended), the Broads Authority is the sole district planning authority in respect of the Broads: see Sch 4 para 5 (as amended); and PARA 1073 ante. As to district planning authorities see PARA 28 ante.

As respects any London borough the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage') has concurrently with the council of that borough the functions of a local planning authority under ss 38-43 (as amended) (see the text and notes 2-11 infra; and PARA 1147 et seq post); and references to the local planning authority in ss 38-43 (as amended) are to be construed accordingly: s 45. 4 Ibid s 38(1). A listed building enforcement notice may be served where the building, albeit dismantled, has extant component parts and may be served on the owners of those parts requiring restoration: R v Leominster District Council, ex p Antique Country Buildings Ltd [1988] JPL 554.

As to appeals against listed building enforcement notices see PARA 1191 et seq post; and as to rights of entry see PARAS 1083-1086 ante.

5 The provision for further works is not designed to enable a local planning authority to require steps to be taken that would be more burdensome than those which could previously have been required but is designed to enable the authority to require steps to be carried out different from those that could have otherwise been required in order to alleviate the effect of the works carried out without consent: Bath City Council v Secretary of State for the Environment (1983) 47 P & CR 663.
